ARCHBISHOP PARKER'S

PREFACE.

OF all the ſentences pronounced by our Saviour Chriſt in his whole doctrine, none is more ſerious, or more worthy to be borne in remembrance, than that which he ſpake openly in his goſpel, ſaying, "Scrutamini ſcripturas, quia vos putatis in ipſis vitam æternam habere, & illæ ſunt, quæ teſtimonium perhibent de me." "Search ye the ſcriptures; for in them ye think to have eternal life, and thoſe they be which bear witneſs of me." Theſe words were firſt ſpoken unto the Jews by our Saviour; but by him in his doctrine meant to all. For they concern all of what nation, of what tongue, of what profeſſion ſoever any man be. For to all belongeth it to be called unto eternal life, ſo many as by the witneſs of the ſcriptures deſire to find eternal life. No man, woman, or child, is excluded from this ſalvation; and therefore to every one of them is this ſpoken; proportionally yet, and in their degrees and ages, and as the reaſon and congruity of their vocation may aſk. For not ſo lieth in charge to the worldly artificer to ſearch, or to any other private man ſo exquiſitely to ſtudy, as it lieth to the charge of the public teacher to ſearch in the ſcriptures, to be the more able to walk in the houſe of God ("which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of truth") to the eſtabliſhing of the true doctrine of the ſame, and to the impugning of the falſe. And though whatſoever difference there may be betwixt the preacher in office, and the auditor in his vocation, yet to both it is ſaid, "Search ye the ſcriptures," whereby ye may find eternal life, and gather witneſſes of that ſalvation, which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord.

John 5.
1 Tim. 3.

For although the prophet of God, Moſes, biddeth the king, when he is once ſet in the throne of his kingdom, to deſcribe before his eyes the volume of God's law, according to the example which he ſhould receive of the prieſts of the Levitical tribe, to have it with him, and to read in it all the days of his life, to the end that he might learn to fear the Lord his God, and to obſerve his laws, that his heart be not advanced in pride over his brethren, nor to ſwerve either on the right hand, or on the left; yet the reaſon of this precept, for that it concerneth all men, may reaſonably be thought to be commanded to all men, and all men may take it to be ſpoken to themſelves in their degree. Though Almighty God ſpake to his ſervant Joſhua in preciſe words, "Non recedat volumen legis hujus ab ore tuo, ſed meditaberis in eo diebus ac noctibus," &c. "Let not the volume of this book depart from thy mouth, but muſe therein both days and nights, that thou mayeſt keep and perform all things which be written in it, that thou mayeſt direct well thy way, and underſtand the ſame:" yet as well ſpake Almighty God this precept to all his people in the direction of their ways to himward, as he meant it to Joſhua. For he that hath care of all, he accepteth no man's perſon; his will is, that all men ſhould be ſaved; his will is, that all men ſhould come to the way of truth*. How could this be more conveniently declared by God to man, than when Chriſt his well-beloved Son, our moſt loving Saviour, the way, the truth, and the life of us all, did bid us openly, "Search the ſcriptures," aſſuring us herein to find eternal life; to find full teſtification of all his graces and benefits towards us, in the treaſure thereof.

Deut. 17.
The ſcriptures to be read by all.

John 14.

Therefore it is moſt convenient, that we ſhould all ſuppoſe, that Chriſt ſpake to us all in this his precept of ſearching the ſcriptures. If this celeſtial Doctor (ſo authoriſed by the Father of heaven, and commanded, as his only Son, to be heard of us all) biddeth us buſily to "ſearch the ſcripture," of what ſpirit can it proceed, to forbid the reading and ſtudying of the ſcriptures? If the groſs Jews uſed to read them, as ſome men think, that our Saviour Chriſt did ſhew, by ſuch kind of ſpeaking, their uſage, with their opinion they had therein to find eternal life, and were not of Chriſt rebuked or diſproved, either for their ſearching, or their opinion they had therein to find eternal life, how ſuperſtitiouſly, or ſuperficially ſoever ſome of them uſed to expound the ſcriptures; how much more unadviſedly do ſuch as boaſt themſelves either to be Chriſt's vicars, or to be of his guard, to loath chriſtian men from reading, by their covert ſlanderous reproaches of the ſcriptures, or in their authority by law or ſtatute to contract this liberty of ſtudying the word of eternal ſalvation? Chriſt calleth them not only to the ſingle reading of ſcriptures (ſaith Chryſoſtom) but ſendeth them to the exquiſite ſearching of them, for in them is eternal life to be found, and they be (ſaith himſelf) the witneſs of me: for they declare out his office, they commend his benevolence towards us, they record his whole works wrought for us, to our ſalvation. Antichriſt therefore he muſt be, that, under whatſoever colour, would give contrary precept or counſel, to that which Chriſt did give unto us. Very little do they reſemble Chriſt's loving Spirit, moving us to ſearch for our comfort, that will diſcourage us from ſuch ſearching, or that would wiſh ignorance or forgetfulneſs of his benefit to reign in us; ſo that they might by our ignorance reign the more frankly in our conſciences, to the danger of our ſalvation. Who can take the light from us in this miſerable vale of blindneſs, and mean not to have us ſtumble in the paths of perdition, to the ruin of our ſouls? Who will envy us this bread of life, prepared and ſet on the table, for our eternal ſuſtenence, and mean not to famiſh us, or inſtead thereof, with their corrupt traditions, and doctrines of man, to infect 2 Tim. 3. us? All the whole ſcripture, ſaith the holy apoſtle St. Paul, inſpired from God above, is profitable to teach, to reprove, to reform, to inſtruct in righteouſneſs, that the man of God may be ſound and perfect, inſtructed to every good work.

Search therefore, good Reader (in God's name) as Chriſt biddeth thee, the holy ſcripture, wherein thou mayeſt find thy ſalvation. Let not the volume of this book (by God's own warrant) depart from thee; but occupy thyſelf therein in the whole journey of this thy worldly law of God both day and night: Remember, that he calleth him BLESSED, which walketh in the way of the Lord, which will ſearch diligently his teſtimonies, and will in their whole heart ſeek the ſame. Let not the covert ſuſpicious inſinuations of the adverſaries drive thee from the ſearch of the holy ſcriptures, either for the obſcurity which they ſay is in them, or for the inſcrutable hidden myſteries they talk to be compriſed in them, or for the ſtrangeneſs and homelineſs of the phraſes they would charge God's book with. Chriſt exhorteth thee therefore Heb. 5. the rather for the difficulty of the ſame, to ſearch them diligently. St. Paul willeth thee to many things may be difficult to thee to underſtand, impute it rather to thy dull hearing and reading, than to think that the ſcriptures be inſuperable to them which with diligent ſearching prayer, ſeek with purity of life, knock with perpetual perſeverance, and cry to that good Spirit of Chriſt the Comforter. And ſurely to every ſuch aſker it will be given, ſuch ſearchers muſt heavenly wiſdom will not enter. For all perverſe cogitations will ſeparate us from God. And then how buſily ſoever we ſearch this holy table of the ſcripture, yet will it then be a table to Pſalm 68. ſuch to their own ſnare, a trap, a ſtumbling block, and a recompence to themſelves. We ought therefore to ſearch to find out the truth, not to oppreſs it; we ought to ſeek Chriſt, not as Herod did, under the pretence of worſhipping him to deſtroy him; or as the Phariſees ſearched the ſcriptures to diſprove Chriſt, and to diſcredit him, and not to follow him; but to embrace the ſalvation which we may learn by them.

Nor yet is it enough ſo to acknowledge the ſcriptures, as ſome of the Jews did, of the holieſt of them, who uſed ſuch diligence, that they could number preciſely, not only every verſe, but every word and ſyllable, how often every letter of the alphabet was repeated in the whole ſcriptures.
They had ſome of them ſuch reverence to that book, that they would not ſuffer in a great heap of books, any other to lay over them; they would not ſuffer the book to fall to the ground as nigh as they could; they would coſtly bind the books of holy ſcriptures, and cauſe them to be exquiſitely and ornately written. Which devotion yet, though it were not to be diſcommended, yet was it not for that intent why Chriſt commended the ſcriptures, nor they thereof allowed before God. For they did not call upon God in a true faith, they were not charitable to their neighbours; but in the midſt of all this devotion, they did ſteal, they were adulterers, they were ſlanderers and backbiters: even much like many of our chriſtian men and women now-a-days, who glory much that they read the ſcriptures, that they ſearch them and love them, that they frequent the public ſermons in an outward ſhew of all honeſty and perfection: yea, they can pick out of the ſcriptures virtuous ſentences, and godly precepts to lay before other men. And though theſe manner of men do not much err from ſuch ſearching and ſtudying, yet they ſee not the ſcope, and principal ſtate of the ſcriptures: which is, as Chriſt declareth it, to find Chriſt as their Saviour, to cleave to his ſalvation and merits, to be brought to the low repentance of their lives, and to amend themſelves, to raiſe up their faith to our Saviour Chriſt, ſo to think of him, as the ſcriptures do teſtify of him. Theſe be the principal cauſes, why Chriſt did ſend the Jews to ſearch the ſcriptures. "For to this end were they written," ſaith St. John.
John 20. "Hæc ſcripta ſunt ut credatis, & ut credentes vitam habeatis æternam." "Theſe were written to this intent, that ye ſhould believe, and that through your belief ye ſhould have everlaſting life."

And here, good Reader, great cauſe we have to extol the wonderous wiſdom of God, and with great thanks to praiſe his providence, conſidering how he hath preſerved and renewed from age to age, by ſpecial miracle, the incomparable treaſure of his church. For firſt he did inſpire Moſes, as John Chryſoſtom doth teſtify, to write the ſtony tables, and kept him in the Heb. 5. mountain forty days, to give him his law. After him he ſent the prophets; but they ſuffered many thouſand adverſities; for battles did follow, all were ſlain, were deſtroyed, books were burnt up. He then inſpired again another man to repair theſe miraculous ſcriptures, Eſdras I mean, who of their leavings ſet them again together. After that, he provided that the ſeventy Interpreters ſhould take them in hand. At the laſt came Chriſt himſelf: the apoſtles did receive them, and ſpread them throughout all nations. Chriſt wrought his miracles and wonders; and what followed? After theſe great volumes, the apoſtles alſo did write, as St. Paul doth ſay,
1 Cor. 10. "Theſe be written to the inſtruction of us, that be come into the end of the world." And Matt. 22. Chriſt doth ſay, "Ye therefore do err, becauſe ye know not the ſcriptures, nor the power of God."

God." And Paul did ſay, "Let the word of Chriſt be plentiful among you." And again ſaith David, "Oh! how ſweet be thy words to my throat, above the honey, or the honey-comb to my mouth." Yea Moſes ſaith, "Thou ſhalt meditate in them evermore, when thou riſeſt, and when thou ſitteſt down, when thou goeſt to ſleep, continue in them," he ſaith; and a thouſand places more: And yet after ſo many teſtimonies thus ſpoken, there be ſome perſons that do not yet ſo much as know what the ſcriptures be. Whereupon nothing is in good ſtate amongſt us, nothing worthily is done amongſt us. In things which pertain to this life, we make very great haſte, but of ſpiritual goods we have no regard.' Thus far John Chryſoſtom.

Col. 3.
Deut. 16.

It muſt needs ſignify ſome great thing to our underſtanding, that Almighty God hath had ſuch care to preſcribe theſe books thus unto us: I ſay, not preſcribe them only, but to maintain them, and defend them againſt the malignity of the devil and his miniſters, who always went about to deſtroy them. And yet could theſe never be ſo deſtroyed, but that he would have them continue whole and perfect unto this day, to our ſingular comfort and inſtruction, where other books of mortal wiſe men have periſhed in great numbers. It is recorded, that Ptolomæus Philadelphus, king of Egypt, had gathered together in one library at Alexandria, by his great coſt and diligence, ſeven hundred thouſand books, whereof the principal where the books of Moſes; which, reſerved not much more than by the ſpace of two hundred years, were all burnt and conſumed in that battle, when Cæſar reſtored Cleopatra again after her expulſion. At Conſtantinople periſhed under Zenon, by one common fire, a hundred and twenty thouſand books. At Rome, when Lucius Aurelius Antonius did reign, his notable library, by a lightning from heaven, was quite conſumed. Yea it is recorded, that Gregory I. did cauſe a library of Rome, containing only certain Painim's work to be burned, to the intent that the ſcriptures of God ſhould be more read and ſtudied. What other great libraries have there been conſumed, but of late days? And what libraries have of old, throughout this realm, almoſt in every abbey of the ſame, been deſtroyed at ſundry ages, beſides the loſs of other men's private ſtudies, it were too long to rehearſe.

Johan. Sariſberienſ. in Polycratico. lib. 8. cap. 19.
W. de regibus.

Whereupon, ſeeing Almighty God, by his divine providence, hath preſerved theſe books of the ſcriptures ſafe and ſound, and that in their native languages they were firſt written in, the great ignorance that reigned in theſe tongues, and contrary to all other caſualties, chanced upon all other books, in maugre of all worldly wits, who would ſo fain have had them deſtroyed; and yet he by his mighty hand, would have them extant as witneſſes and interpreters of his will toward mankind. We may ſoon ſcan cauſe moſt reverently to embrace theſe divine teſtimonies of his will, to ſtudy them, and to ſearch them, to inſtruct our blind nature, ſo ſore corrupted and fallen from the knowledge in which firſt we were created; yet having occaſion given ſomewhat to recover our fall, and to return again to that divine nature, wherein we were once made, and at the laſt to be inheritors in the celeſtial habitation with God Almighty, after the end of our mortality here, brought to his duſt again. Theſe books, I ſay, being of ſuch eſtimation and authority, ſo much reverenced of them, who had any mean taſte of them, could never be put out of the way; neither by the ſpite of any tyrant, as that tyrant Maximian deſtroyed all the whole ſcriptures, whereſoever they could be found, and burnt them in the midſt of the market; neither the hatred of any Porphyrian philoſopher or rhetorician, neither by the envy of the Romaniſts, and of ſuch hypocrites, who from time to time did ever bark againſt them: ſome of them not in open ſort of condemnation, but more cunningly under ſubtle pretences; for that, as they ſay, they were ſo hard to underſtand, and eſpecially, for that they affirm it to be a perilous matter to tranſlate the text of the holy ſcripture, and therefore it cannot be well tranſlated.

Galfride. Mon.

And we may behold the endeavour of ſome men's cavillations, who labour all they can to ſlaunder the Tranſlators, to find fault in ſome words of the tranſlation: but themſelves will never ſet pen to the book, to ſet out any tranſlation at all. They can in their conſtitutions provincial, under pain of excommunication, inhibit all other men to tranſlate them without the Ordinaries, or the Provincial Council, agree thereunto. But they will be well aware never to agree, or give counſel to ſet them out; which their ſubtle compaſs, in effect, tendeth but to bewray what inwardly they mean, if they could bring it about, that is, utterly to ſuppreſs them. Being in this their judgment far unlike the old fathers in the primitive church, who have exhorted indifferently all perſons, as well men as women, to exerciſe themſelves in the ſcriptures, which, by St. Hierome's authority, be the ſcriptures of the people. Yea, they be far unlike their old forefathers, that have ruled in this realm, who in their times, and in divers ages, did their diligence to tranſlate whole books of the ſcriptures to the erudition of the laity; as yet at this day be to be ſeen divers books tranſlated into the vulgar tongue, ſome by kings of the realm, ſome by biſhops, ſome by abbots, ſome by other devout godly fathers. So deſirous they were of old time to have the lay ſort edified in godlineſs, by reading in their vulgar tongue, that very many books may be yet extant, though for the age of the ſpeech and ſtrangeneſs of the character of many of them, almoſt worn out of knowledge. In which books may be ſeen evidently, how it was uſed among the Saxons, to have in their churches read the four goſpels, ſo diſtributed and picked out in the body of the evangeliſts books, that to every Sunday and feſtival day in the year, they were ſorted out to the common miniſters of the church in their Common Prayers, to be read to their people. Now as of the moſt antient fathers the prophets, St. Peter teſtifies, that theſe holy men of God had the impulſion of the Holy Ghoſt, to ſpeak out theſe divine teſtimonies: ſo it is not to be doubted, but that theſe latter holy fathers of the Engliſh church had the impulſion of the Holy Ghoſt, to ſet out theſe ſacred books in their vulgar language, to the edification of the people, by the help whereof they might the better follow the example of the godly chriſtians in the beginning of the church; who not only received the word with all readineſs of heart, but alſo did ſearch diligently in the ſcriptures, whether the doctrine of the apoſtles were agreeable to the ſame ſcriptures. And theſe were not of the raſcal ſort, ſaith the divine ſtory, but they were of the beſt and of moſt noble birth among the Theſſalonians, Birrhenſes by name. Yea, the prophets themſelves in their days, writeth St. Peter, were diligent ſearchers to enquire out this ſalvation by Chriſt, "Searching when, and at what article of time, this grace of Chriſt's diſpenſation ſhould appear to the world."

What meant the fathers of the church in their writings, but the advancing of theſe holy books? Where ſome do attribute no certainty of undoubted verity, but to the canonical ſcriptures. Some do affirm it to be a fooliſh raſh boldneſs to believe him, who proveth not by the ſcriptures, that which he affirmeth in his word. Some do accurſe all that is delivered by tradition, not found in the legal and evangelical ſcriptures. Some ſay, That our faith muſt needs ſtagger, if it be not grounded upon the authority of the ſcripture. Some teſtify that Chriſt and his church ought to be avouched out of the ſcriptures, and do contend in diſputation, that the true church cannot be known, but only by the holy ſcriptures: for all other things, ſaith the ſame author, may be found among the heretics. Some affirm it to be a ſinful tradition, that is obtruded without the ſcripture. Some plainly pronounce, that not to know the ſcriptures, is not to know Chriſt.

The Reformation.

Concil Bracar. ſecundum.

Wherefore, let men extol out of the church practices as highly as they can; and let them ſet out their traditions and cuſtoms, their deciſions in ſynods and councils, with vaunting the preſence of the Holy Ghoſt among them really; as ſome do affirm it in their writing, let the grounds and their demonſtrations, their foundations be as ſtable and as ſtrong as they blaze them out; yet will we be bold to ſay with St. Peter, "Habemus nos firmiorem ſermonem propheticum:" We have for our part a more ſtable ground, the prophetical words (of the ſcriptures) and doubt not to be commended therefore of the ſame St. Peter, with theſe words, "Cui dum attenditis, ſeu lucernæ apparenti in obſcuro loco, rectè facitis, donec dies illuceſcat," &c. "Whereunto, ſaith he, while ye do attend as to a light ſhining in a dark place, ye do well, until the day-light appear, and till the bright ſtar do ariſe in our hearts." For this we know, that all the prophetical ſcripture ſtandeth not in any private interpretation of vain names, of ſeveral churches and catholic and univerſal ſees, of ſingular and wilful heads, which will challenge by cuſtom all deciſion to pertain to them only: who by working ſo much for their vain ſuperiority, that they be not aſhamed now to be of that number, "Qui dixerunt, linguam noſtram magnificabimus, labia noſtra nobis ſunt, Quis noſter dominus eſt?" "Which have ſaid, with our tongue will we prevail, we are they that ought to ſpeak. Who is Lord over us?" And while they ſhall thus contend for their ſtrange-claimed authority, we will proceed in the reformation begun, and doubt no more, by the help of Chriſt his grace, of the true unity of Chriſt's catholic church, and of the uprightneſs of our faith in this province, than the Spaniſh clergy once gathered together in council (only by the commandment of their king) before which time the Pope was not ſo acknowledged in his authority which he now claimeth) I ſay, as ſurely dare we truſt, as they did truſt of their faith and unity.

Yea, no leſs confidence have we to profeſs that, which the fathers of the Univerſal Council at Carthage in Africa, as they write themſelves, did profeſs in their epiſtle writ to Pope Celeſtin, laying before his face the foul corruption of himſelf (as two other of his predeceſſors did the like error) in falſifying the canons of Nicene council, for his wrong challenge of his new claimed authority. Thus writing, "Prudentiſſimè enim juſtiſſiméque providerunt (Nicena & Africana decreta) quæcunque negotia in ſuis locis (ubi orta ſunt) finienda; nec unicuique provinciæ gratiam Sancti Spiritus defuturam, qua æquitas à Chriſti ſacerdotibus & prudenter videatur, & conſtantiſſimè teneatur: Maximè quia unicuique conceſſum eſt, ſi judicio offenſus fuerit cognitorum, ad concilia ſuæ provinciæ, vel etiam univerſale, provocare." "That the (Nicene and African decrees) have moſt prudently and juſtly provided for all manner of matters to be ended in their territories, where they had their beginning. And they truſted, that not to any one Province ſhould want the grace of the Holy Ghoſt, whereby both the truth or equity might prudently be ſeen of the chriſtian prelates of Chriſt, and might be alſo by them moſt conſtantly defended; eſpecially, for that it is granted to every man (if he be grieved) the judgment of the cauſe once known, to appeal to the councils of his own Province, or elſe to the Univerſal." Except there be any man which may believe, that our Lord God would inſpire the righteouſneſs of examination to any one ſingular perſon, and to deny the ſame to prieſts gathered together into council without number, &c. And there they do require the biſhop of Rome, to ſend none of his clerks to execute ſuch provincial cauſes, leſt elſe, ſay they, might be brought in the vain pride of the world into the church of Chriſt.

The antiquity of the chriſtian catholic church of England. Inter leges Edwardi.

Ex archivis de ſtatu Landavenſ. eccleſiæ in vita archiepiſc. Dubritii. & in J. Capgrav.

In this antiquity may we, in this chriſtian catholic church of England, repoſe ourſelves, knowing our own annals of ancient record, that king Lucius, whoſe conſcience was much touched with the miracles which the ſervants of Chriſt wrought in divers nations, thereupon being in great love with the true faith, ſent unto Eleutherius then biſhop of Rome, requiring of him the chriſtian religion: but Eleutherius did readily give over that care to king Lucius, in his epiſtle: 'For that the king, as he writeth, is the vicar of God in his own kingdom, and for that he had received the faith of Chriſt, and for that he had alſo both Teſtaments in his realm, he willed him to draw out of them by the grace of God, and by the council of his wiſe men, his laws, and by that law of God to govern his realm of Britain; and not ſo much to deſire the Roman and emperor's laws, in the which ſome default might be found, ſaith he, but in the laws of God nothing at all.' With which anſwer the king's legates, Eluanus and Medwinus, ſent as meſſengers by the king to the Pope, returned to Britain again, Eluanus being made a biſhop, and Medwinus allowed a public teacher. Who, for the eloquence and knowledge they had in the holy ſcriptures, repaired home again to king Lucius; and by their holy preachings, Lucius, and the noblemen of the whole Britain, received their baptiſm, &c. Thus far in the ſtory.

And yet may it be true that William of Malmſbury writeth, that Phaganus and Deravianus were ſent after, as coadjutors with theſe learned men, to the preaching of the goſpel, which was never extinguiſhed in Britain from Joſeph of Arimathea his time: As to St. Auſtin the firſt biſhop of Canterbury they do openly avouch.

Rom 15.

Now therefore knowing and believing with St. Paul, "Quod quæcunque præſcripta ſunt, ad noſtram doctrinam præſcripta ſunt, ut per patientiam & conſolationem ſcripturarum ſpem habeamus:" "Whatſoever is afore written, is written before for our inſtruction, that we, through the patience and comfort of ſcriptures, might have hope;" the only ſurety to our faith and conſcience is to ſtick to the ſcriptures. Whereupon while this eternal word of God be our rock and anchor to ſtick to, we will have patience with all the vain inventions of men, who labour ſo highly to magnify their tongues, to exalt themſelves above all that is God. We will take comfort by the holy ſcriptures againſt the maledictions of the adverſaries, and doubt not to nouriſh our hope continually therewith; ſo to live and die in this comfortable hope, and doubt not to pertain to the elect number of Chriſt's church, how far ſoever we be excommunicated out of the ſynagogue of ſuch, who ſuppoſe themſelves to be the univerſal lords of all the world, lords of our faith and conſciences at pleaſure.

What is done in this tranſlation. Cranmer's Preface.

Finally to commend further unto thee, good Reader, the cauſe in part before intreated, it ſhall be the leſs needful, having ſo nigh followed that learned preface, which ſometime was ſet out by the diligence of that godly father, Thomas Cranmer, late biſhop in the ſee of Canterbury; which he cauſed to be prefixed before the tranſlation of the Bible, that was then ſet out. And for that the copies thereof be ſo waſted, that very many churches do want their convenient Bibles, it was thought good to ſome well diſpoſed men, to recognize the ſame Bible again into this form as it is now come out, with ſome further diligence in the printing, and with ſome more light added partly in the tranſlation, and partly in the order of the text; as not condemning the former tranſlation, which was followed moſtly of any other tranſlation, excepting the original text, from which as little variance was made, as was thought meet to ſuch as took pains therein. Deſiring thee, good Reader, if ought be eſcaped, either by ſuch as had the expending of the books, or by the overſight of the Printer, to correct the ſame in the ſpirit of charity; calling to remembrance what diverſity hath been ſeen in men's judgments in the tranſlation of theſe books before theſe days: though all directed their labours to the glory of God, to the edification of the church, to the comfort of their chriſtian brethren. And always as God did further open unto them, ſo evermore deſirous they were to reform their former human overſights, rather than in a ſtubborn wilfulneſs to reſiſt the gift of the Holy Ghoſt, who from time to time is reſident, as that heavenly Teacher, and Leader into all truth; by whoſe direction the church is ruled and governed.

Eccleſ. 11. Sapi. 9.

De Doctrin. Chriſtian.

The Papiſts corrupters of ſcripture.

Hoſius in Confeſſione Cathol. Fidei, de Sacram. Pœnitentiæ. Idem Hoſius de Spe & Oratione.

And let all men remember in themſelves, how error and ignorance is created with our nature. Let frail man confeſs with that great wiſe man, that the cogitations and inventions of mortal men be very weak, and our opinions ſoon deceived. For the body, ſo ſubject to corruption, doth oppreſs the ſoul, that it cannot aſpire ſo high, as of duty it ought. Men we be all, and that which we know, is not the thouſandth part of that we know not. Whereupon, ſaith St. Auſtin, "Otherwiſe to judge than the truth is, this temptation riſeth of the frailty of man. A man ſo to love and ſtick to his own judgment, or to envy his brothers, to the peril of diſſolving the chriſtian communion, or to the peril of ſchiſm, and of hereſy, this is diabolical preſumption. But ſo to judge in every matter, as the truth is, this belongeth only to the angelical perfection." Notwithſtanding, good Reader, thou mayeſt be well aſſured nothing to be done in this tranſlation, either of malice or willful meaning in altering the text, either by putting more or leſs to the ſame, as of purpoſe to bring in any private judgment by falſification of the words, as ſome certain men have been overbold ſo to do, little regarding the Majeſty of God in his ſcripture; but ſo to make it ſerve to their corrupt error. As in alledging the ſentence of St. Paul to the Romans, the ſixth, one certain writer, to prove his ſatisfaction, was bold to turn the word of Sanctificationem, into the word of Satisfactionem, thus; "Sicut exhibeamus antea membra noſtra ſervire immunditiæ & iniquitati, ad iniquitatem; ita deinceps exhibeamus membra noſtra ſervire juſtitiæ, in ſatisfactionem." That is, "As we have given our members to uncleanneſs, from iniquity to iniquity, even ſo from henceforth let us give our members to ſerve righteouſneſs into ſatisfaction." Where the true word is, "into ſanctification." Even ſo likewiſe for the advantage of his cauſe, to prove that men may have in their prayer faith upon ſaints, corruptly alledgeth St. Paul's text, Ad Philemonem, thus, "Fidem quam habes in Domino Jeſu, & in omnes ſanctos:" leaving out the word Charitatem, which would have rightly diſtributed into Omnes Sanctos; as Fidem unto, In Domino Jeſu. Where the text is, "Audiens charitatem tuam, & fidem quam habes in Domino Jeſu, & in omnes ſanctos," &c. It were too long to bring in many examples, as may openly be found in ſome men's writings in theſe days, who would not be counted the chief pillars of the catholic faith, or to note how corruptly they of purpoſe abuſe the text to the commodity of their cauſe.

Cenſurers of its tranſlation.

What manner of tranſlation may men think to look for at their hands, if they ſhould tranſlate the ſcriptures, to the comfort of God's elect, which they never did, nor be not like to purpoſe it; but be rather ſtudious only to ſeek quarrels in other men's well-doings, to pick fault where none is: and where any is eſcaped through human negligence, there to cry out with their tragical exclamations, but in no wiſe to amend by the ſpirit of charity and lenity, that which might be more aptly ſet. Whereupon, for frail man (compaſſed himſelf with infirmity) it is moſt reaſonable, not to be too ſevere in condemning his brother's knowledge or diligence, where he doth err, not of malice but of ſimplicity, and eſpecially in handling theſe ſo divine books, ſo profound in ſenſe, ſo far paſſing our natural underſtanding. And with charity it ſtandeth the Reader not to be offended with the diverſity of tranſlators, nor with the ambiguity of tranſlations. For, as St. Auſtin doth witneſs, 'By God's providence it is brought about, that the holy ſcriptures, which be the ſalves for every man's ſore, though at the firſt they came from one language, and thereby have been ſpread all over the whole world; now by diverſity of many languages, the Tranſlators ſhould ſpread the ſalvation that is contained in them, to all nations, by ſuch words of utterance as the Reader might perceive the mind of the Tranſlator: and ſo conſequently to come to the knowledge of God his will and pleaſure: And though many raſh Readers be deceived in the obſcurities and ambiguities of their tranſlations, while they take one thing for another, and while they uſe much labour to extricate themſelves out of the obſcurities of the ſame; yet I think, ſaith he, this is not wrought without the providence of God, both to tame the proud arrogancy of man by his ſuch labour of ſearching, and alſo to keep his mind from loathſomneſs and contempt, where if the ſcriptures univerſally were too eaſy, he would leſs regard them. And though, ſaith he, in the primitive church the late Interpreters, which did tranſlate the ſcriptures, be innumerable, yet wrought this rather an help, than an impediment to the readers, if they be not too negligent. For, ſaith he, divers tranſlations have made many times the harder and darker ſentences, the more open and plain.'

Articulo 17. contr. Luth.

So that of congruence, no offence can juſtly be taken for this new labour, nothing prejudicing any other man's judgment by this doing: nor yet hereby profeſſing this to be ſo abſolute a tranſlation, as that hereafter might follow no other that might ſee that, which as yet was not underſtanded. In this point it is convenient to conſider the judgment that John once biſhop of Rocheſter was in, who thus wrote: 'It is not unknown, but that many things have been more diligently diſcuſſed, and more clearly underſtanded by the wits of theſe latter days, as well concerning the goſpels, as other ſcriptures, than in old time they were. The cauſe whereof is, ſaith he, for that to the old men the ice was not broken, or for that their age was not ſufficient exquiſitely to expend the whole main ſea of the ſcriptures; or elſe, for that in this large field of the ſcriptures, a man may gather ſome ears untouched after the harveſt-men, how diligent ſoever they were. For there be, ſaith he, in the goſpels, very many dark places, which without all doubt to the poſterity ſhall be made much more open. For why ſhould we deſpair herein, ſeeing the goſpel, writeth he, was delivered to this intent, that it might be utterly underſtanded by us, yea, to the very inch? Wherefore, for as much as Chriſt ſheweth no leſs love to his church now, than hitherto he hath done, the authority whereof is as yet no wit diminiſhed; and foraſmuch as that Holy Spirit, and perpetual keeper and guardian of the ſame church, whoſe gifts and graces do flow as continually, and as abundantly, as from the beginning; who can doubt, but that ſuch things as remain yet unknown in the goſpel, ſhall be hereafter made open to the latter wits of our poſterity, to their clear underſtanding?' Thus far this writer.

Sapi. 9.

Only, good Readers, let us oft call upon the Holy Spirit of God, our heavenly Father, by the mediation of our Lord and Saviour, with the words of the octonory Pſalm of David, who did ſo importunely crave of God, to have the underſtanding of his laws and teſtament. Let us humbly on our knees pray to Almighty God, with that wiſe king Solomon in his very words, ſaying thus:

A prayer for the readers of ſcripture. Pſ. 119.

"O GOD of my fathers, and Lord of mercies, thou haſt made all things with thy word,
" and didſt ordain man through thy wiſdom, that he ſhould have dominion over thy creatures,
" which thou haſt made, and that he ſhould order the world according to holineſs and righteouſneſs,
" and that he ſhould execute judgment with a true heart: Give me wiſdom which is ever
" about thy ſeat, and put me not out from among thy children. For I thy ſervant and ſon of " thine hand-maiden, am a feeble perſon, of a ſhort time, and too weak to the underſtanding of " thy judgments and laws. And though a man be never ſo perfect among the children of men,
" yet if thy wiſdom be not with him, he ſhall be of no value. O! ſend her out, therefore, from
" thy holy heavens, and from the throne of thy Majeſty, that ſhe may be with me, and labour
" with me, that I may know what is acceptable in thy ſight. For ſhe knoweth and under-
" ſtandeth all things. And ſhe ſhall lead me ſoberly in my works, and preſerve me in her power.
" So ſhall my works be acceptable by Chriſt our Lord. To whom with the Father and the

How to take Profit by Reading of the Holy Scriptures.

Whoſoever mindeth to take profit by reading the ſcriptures, muſt,

1. Earneſtly and uſually pray unto God that he will vouchſafe to teach the way of his ſtatutes, give underſtanding, and direct in the path of his commandments, Pſalm 119.

2. Diligently keep ſuch order of reading the ſcriptures, and prayer, as may ſtand with his calling and ſtate of life; ſo that at the leaſt twice every day this exerciſe be kept, Deut. 11. 19: the time once appointed hereunto after a good entry, be no otherwiſe employed, Luke 9. 62: ſuperſtition to be avoided, Iſa. 29. 36: at one other time that be done, which is left undone at any time, Epheſ. v. 16.

3. Underſtand to what end and purpoſe the ſcriptures ſerve, which were written, to teach, that we may learn truth: improve, that we may be kept from error: correct, that we may be driven from vice, 2 Tim. 3. 16, 17: inſtruct, that we may be ſettled in the way of well doing: comfort, that in trouble we may be confirmed in patient hope, Rom. 15. 4.

4. Remember that ſcriptures contain matter concerning, 1. Religion and the right worſhipping of God, as Faith in one God, Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt: the ſtate of mankind by creation, fall and ſin, and regeneration in Chriſt: the church and government thereof before and ſince Chriſt: the word of God written in the Old and New Teſtament: ſacraments before and ſince Chriſt: and the end and general judgment of the good and wicked. 2. Commonwealths and government of people by good and evil magiſtrates, peace and war, proſperity and plagues, and quiet and diſordered ſubjects. 3. Families, and things that belong to houſhold, in which are godly and bleſſed, ungodly and plagued huſbands, wives, parents and children, maſters and ſervants. 4. The private life and doings of every man in wiſdom and folly, love and hatred, ſoberneſs and incontinence, mirth and ſorrow, ſpeech and ſilence, pride and humility, covetouſneſs and liberality. 5. The common life of all men, as riches, poverty, nobility, favour, labour and idleneſs.

5. Refuſe all ſenſe of ſcripture contrary to the articles of the Chriſtian faith, contained in the common creed, and the firſt and ſecond table of God's commandments.

6. Mark and conſider, 1. The coherence of the text, how it hangeth together. 2. The courſe of times and ages, with ſuch things as belong unto them. 3. The manner of ſpeech proper to the ſcriptures. And, 4. The agreement that one place of ſcripture hath with another, whereby that which ſeemeth dark in one is made eaſy in another.

7. Take opportunity to read interpreters, if he be able: confer with ſuch as can open the ſcriptures, Acts 8. 30, 31, &c: hear preaching, and to prove by the ſcriptures that which is taught, Acts 17. 11.

THE FIRST BOOK OF MOSES,

CALLED

GENESIS,*

* This word ſignifieth the beginning and generation of the creatures.

THE ARGUMENT.

Moſes in effect declareth three things, which are in this book chiefly to be conſidered: Firſt, that the world, and all things therein, were created by God; and that man being placed in this great tabernacle of the world to behold God's wonderful works, and to praiſe his name for the infinite graces wherewith he had endued him, fell willingly from God through diſobedience, who yet for his own mercies ſake reſtored him to life, and confirmed him in the ſame by his promiſe of Chriſt to come, by whom he ſhould overcome ſatan, death and hell. Secondly, that the wicked, unmindful of God's moſt excellent benefits, remained ſtill in their wickedneſs, and ſo falling moſt horribly from ſin to ſin, provoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) at length to deſtroy the whole world. Thirdly, he aſſureth us by the examples of Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob, and the reſt of the patriarchs, that his mercies never fail them whom he chuſeth to be his church, and to profeſs his name in earth, but in all their afflictions and perſecutions he ever aſſiſteth them, ſendeth comfort and delivereth them. And becauſe the beginning, increaſe, preſervation, and ſucceſs thereof might be only attributed to God, Moſes ſheweth by the examples of Cain, Iſhmael, Eſau, and others, which were noble in man's judgment, that this church dependeth not on the eſtimation and nobility of the world: and alſo by the fewneſs of them, which have at all times worſhipped him purely according to his word, that it ſtandeth not in the multitude, but in the poor and deſpiſed, in the ſmall flock and little number, that man in his wiſdom might be confounded, and the name of God evermore praiſed.

CHAP. I.

1 God created the heaven and the earth, 3 The light and the darkneſs, 8 The firmament. 9 He ſeparateth the water from the earth. 16 He createth the ſun, the moon, and the ſtars. 21 He createth the fiſh, birds, beaſts. 26 He createth man, and giveth him rule over all creatures, 29 And provideth nurture for man and beaſt.

* Pſ. 33. 6. and 136. 5. Eccleſ. 18. 1. Acts 14. 15. and 17. 24.

‡ Or, waſte.

IN the [a] beginning * God created the heaven and the earth.

2 And the earth was [b] ‡ without form and void, and [c] darkneſs was upon the deep, and the Spirit of God [d] moved upon the waters.

* Heb. 11. 3.

3 Then God ſaid, * Let there be light: and there was [e] light.

† Heb. between the light, and between the darkneſs.

† Heb. So was the evening, ſo was the morning.

4 And God ſaw the light that it was good, and God ſeparated † the light from the darkneſs.

5 And God called the light, Day, and the darkneſs he called Night. † So the evening and the morning were the firſt day.

Before Chriſt 4004.

* Pſ. 33. 6. and 136. 5. Jer. 10. 12. and 51. 15.

‡ Or, ſpreading over, and air.

* Pſ. 148. 4.

6 ¶ Again God ſaid, * Let there be a ‡ firmament in the midſt of the waters: and let it ſeparate the waters from the waters.

7 Then God made the firmament, and ſeparated the waters, which were [f] under the firmament, from the waters which were * above the firmament: and it was ſo.

8 And God called the firmament, [g] Heaven. So the evening and the morning were the ſecond day.

* Pſ. 33. 7. and 89. 11. and 136. 6. Job 38. 4.

9 ¶ God ſaid again, * Let the waters under the heaven be gathered into one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was ſo.

10 And God called the dry land, Earth: and he called the gathering together of the waters, Seas: and God ſaw that it was good.

11 Then God ſaid, [h] Let the earth bud forth the bud of the herb, that ſeedeth ſeed, the fruitful tree, which beareth fruit according to his kind, which hath his ſeed in itſelf upon the earth: and it was ſo.

12 And the earth brought forth the bud of the herb, that ſeedeth ſeed according to his kind, alſo the tree that beareth fruit, which hath his ſeed in itſelf according to his kind: and God [i] ſaw that it was good.

[a] Firſt of all, and before that any creature was, God made heaven and earth of nothing.

[b] As a rude lump, and without any creature in it: for the waters covered all.

[c] Darkneſs covered the deep waters: for as yet the light was not created.

[d] He maintained this confuſed heap by his ſecret power.

[e] The light was made before either ſun or moon was created: therefore we muſt not attribute that to the creatures that are God's inſtruments, which only appertaineth to God.

[f] As the ſea and rivers, from thoſe waters that are in the clouds, which are upholden by God's power, leſt they ſhould overwhelm the world.

[g] That is, the region of the air, and all that is above us.

[h] So that we ſee it is the only power of God's word that maketh the earth fruitful, which elſe naturally is barren.

[i] This ſentence is ſo oft repeated, to ſignify that God made all his creatures to ſerve to his glory, and to the profit of man; but for ſin they were accurſed, yet to the elect, by Chriſt, they are reſtored, and ſerve to their wealth.

Bef. Chr. 4004.

13 So the evening and the morning were the third day.

* Pſ. 136. 7. Deut. 4. 19.

14 ¶ And God ſaid, * Let there be [k] lights in the firmament of the heaven, to [l] ſeparate the day from the night, and let them be for [m] ſigns, and for ſeaſons, and for days and years.

15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven, to give light upon the earth: and it was ſo.

16 God then made two [n] great lights: the greater light [o] to rule the day, and the leſſer light to ruſe the night: he made alſo the ſtars.

17 And God ſet them in the firmament of the heaven, to ſhine upon the earth,

* Jer. 31. 35.

18 And to * rule in the day, and in the night, and to ſeparate the light from the darkneſs: and God ſaw that it was good.

19 So the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

20 Afterward God ſaid, Let the waters bring forth in abundance every [p] creeping thing that hath life: and let the fowl fly upon the earth in the ‡ open firmament of the heaven.

21 Then God created the great whales, and every thing living and moving, which the [q] waters brought forth in abundance according to their kind, and every feathered fowl according to his kind: and God ſaw that it was good.

22 Then God [r] bleſſed them, ſaying, Bring forth fruit and multiply, and fill the waters in the ſeas, and let the fowl multiply in the earth.

23 So the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

24 ¶ Moreover God ſaid, Let the earth bring forth the † living thing according to his kind, cattle, and that which creepeth, and the beaſt of the earth, according to his kind, and it was ſo.

25 And God made the beaſt of the earth according to his kind, and the cattle according to his kind, and every creeping thing of the earth according to his kind. And God ſaw that it was good.

* Ch. 5. 1. and 9. 6. 1 Cor. 11. 7. Col. 3. 10.

26 Furthermore God ſaid, * [s] Let us make man in our [t] image according to our likeneſs, and let them rule over the fiſh of the ſea, and over the fowl of the heaven, and over the beaſts, and over all the earth, and over every thing that creepeth and moveth on the earth.

* Mat. 19. 4.

27 Thus God created the man in his image: in the image of God created he him: he created them * male and female.

* Chap. 8. 17. & 9. 1.

28 And God [u] bleſſed them, and God ſaid to them, * Bring forth fruit and multiply, and fill the earth, and ſubdue it, and rule over the fiſh of the ſea, and over the fowl of the heaven, and over every beaſt that moveth upon the earth.

* Ch. 9. 3.

29 And God ſaid, Behold, I have given unto you [w] every herb bearing ſeed, which is upon all the earth, and every tree, wherein is the fruit of a tree bearing ſeed: * that ſhall be to you for meat.

30 Likewiſe to every beaſt of the earth, and to every fowl of the heaven, and to every thing that moveth upon the earth, which hath life in itſelf, every green herb ſhall be for meat: and it was ſo.

* Exod. 31. 17. Mark 7. 37.

31 * And God ſaw all that he had made, and lo it was very good. So the evening and the morning were the ſixth day.

CHAP. II.

2 God reſteth the ſeventh day, and ſanctifieth it. 15 He ſetteth man in the garden. 22 He createth the woman. 24 Marriage is ordained.

THUS the heavens and the earth were finiſhed, and all the [x] hoſt of them.

* Exod. 20. 11. and 31. 17. Deut. 5. 14. Heb. 4. 4.

2 For in the ſeventh day God ended his work which he had made, * and the ſeventh day he reſted [y] from all his work, which he had made.

3 So God bleſſed the ſeventh day, and [z] ſanctified it, becauſe that in it he had reſted from all his work, which God had created and made.

4 ¶ Theſe are the ‡ generations of the heavens and of the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens,

† Or, tree, as ch. 21 15.

* 1 Cor. 15. 45.

7 ¶ The Lord God alſo ‡ made the man [b] of the duſt of the ground, and breathed in his face breath of life, * and the man was a living ſoul.

CHAP. III.

1 The woman ſeduced by the ſerpent, 6 enticeth her huſband to ſin. 8 They both flee from God. 14 They three are puniſhed. 15 Chriſt is promiſed. 19 Man is duſt. 22 Man is caſt out of Paradiſe.

NOW the ſerpent was more ſubtil [o] than any beaſt of the field, which the Lord God had made: and he [p] ſaid to the woman, Yea, hath God indeed ſaid, Ye ſhall not eat of every tree of the garden?

2 And the woman ſaid unto the ſerpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden,

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midſt of the garden, God hath ſaid, Ye ſhall not eat of it, neither ſhall ye touch it, [q] leſt ye die.

4 Then * the ſerpent ſaid to the woman, Ye ſhall not die [r] † at all.

* 2 Cor. 11. 3.
† Heb. die the death.

5 But God doth know that when ye ſhall eat thereof, your eyes ſhall be opened, and ye ſhall be as gods, [s] knowing good and evil.

6 So the woman (ſeeing that the tree was good for meat, and that it was pleaſant to the eyes, and a tree to be deſired to get knowledge) took of the fruit thereof, and did * eat, and gave alſo to her huſband with her, and he [t] did eat.

[h] So that man might know there was a ſovereign Lord, to whom he owed obedience.

[i] By this death he meaneth the ſeparation of man from God, who is our life and chief felicity: and alſo that our diſobedience is the cauſe thereof.

[l] Signifying, that mankind was perfect, when the woman was created, which before was like an unperfect building.

[m] So that marriage requireth a greater duty of us toward our wives, than otherwiſe we are bound to ſhew to our parents.

[n] For before ſin entered, all things were honeſt and comely.

[o] As ſatan can change himſelf into an angel of light, ſo did he abuſe the wiſdom of the ſerpent to deceive man.

[p] God ſuffered ſatan to make the ſerpent his inſtrument, and to ſpeak in him.

[q] In doubting of God's threatening, ſhe yielded to ſatan.

[r] This is ſatan's chiefeſt ſubtilty, to cauſe us not to fear God's threatenings.

13 And the Lord God ſaid to the woman, Why haſt thou done this? And the woman ſaid, [z] The ſerpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

14 ¶ Then the Lord God ſaid to the ſerpent, [a] Becauſe thou haſt done this, thou art curſed above all cattle, and above every beaſt of the field: upon thy belly ſhalt thou go, and [b] duſt ſhalt thou eat all the days of thy life.

17 ¶ Alſo to Adam he ſaid, Becauſe thou haſt obeyed the voice of thy wife, and haſt eaten of the tree, (whereof I commanded thee, ſaying, Thou ſhalt not eat of it) [g] curſed is the earth for thy ſake: in ſorrow ſhalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life.

18 [h] Thorns alſo and thiſtles ſhall it bring forth to thee, and thou ſhalt eat the herb of the field.

19 In the ſweat of thy face ſhalt thou eat bread, till thou return to the earth: for out of it waſt thou taken, becauſe thou art duſt, and to duſt ſhalt thou return.

20 (And the man called his wife's name Eve, becauſe ſhe was the mother of all living.)

21 Unto Adam alſo and to his wife did the Lord God [i] make coats of ſkins, and clothed them.

22 ¶ And the Lord God ſaid, [k] Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil. And now leſt he put forth his hand, and [l] take alſo of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever, 23 Therefore the Lord God ſent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the earth, whence he was taken.

24 Thus he caſt out man, and at the Eaſt ſide of the garden of Eden he ſet the cherubims, and the blade of a ſword ſhaken, to keep the way of the tree of life. Bef. Chr. 4003.

CHAP. IV.

1 The generation of mankind. 3 Cain and Abel offer ſacrifice. 8 Cain killeth Abel. 23 Lamech a tyrant encourageth his fearful wives. 26 True religion is reſtored.

AFterward the man knew Eve his wife, which [m] conceived and bare Cain, and ſaid, I have obtained a man [n] by the Lord.

2 And again ſhe brought forth his brother Abel, and Abel was a keeper of ſheep, and Cain was a tiller of the ground.

3 ¶ And in proceſs of time it came to paſs, that Cain brought an [o] oblation unto the Lord, of the fruit of the ground.

4 And Abel alſo himſelf brought of the firſt fruits of his ſheep, and of the fat of them, and the Lord had reſpect unto * Abel, and to his * Heb. 11. 4.

5 But unto Cain and his offering he had no [p] regard: wherefore Cain was exceeding wroth, and his countenance fell down.

6 Then the Lord ſaid unto Cain, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance caſt down?

7 If thou do well, ſhalt thou not be [q] accepted? and if thou doeſt not well, ſin lieth at the [r] door: alſo unto thee his [s] deſire ſhall be ſubject, and thou ſhalt rule over him.

8 ¶ Then Cain ſpake unto Abel his brother.
And * when they were in the field, Cain roſe up * Matt. 23. 35.
againſt Abel his brother, and ſlew him. 1 John 3. 12. Jude 11.

9 Then the Lord ſaid unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? Who anſwered, I cannot tell. [t] Am I my brother's keeper?

10 Again he ſaid, What haſt thou done? the [u] voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the earth.

11 Now therefore thou art curſed [w] from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thine hand.

12 When thou ſhalt till the ground, it ſhall not henceforth yield unto thee her ſtrength: a [x] vagabond and a runnagate ſhalt thou be in the earth.

13 Then

[y] His wickedneſs and lack of true repentance appeareth in this, that he burdeneth God with his fault, becauſe he had given him a wife.

[z] Inſtead of confeſſing her ſin, ſhe increaſeth it by accuſing the ſerpent.

[a] He aſked the reaſon of Adam and his wife, becauſe he would bring them to repentance, but he aſketh not the ſerpent, becauſe he would ſhew him no mercy.

[b] As a vile and contemptible beaſt. Iſa. 65. 25.

[c] He chiefly meaneth ſatan, by whoſe motion and craft the ſerpent deceived the woman.

[d] That is, the power of ſin and death.

[e] Satan ſhall ſting Chriſt and his members, but not overcome them.

[f] The Lord comforteth Adam by the promiſe of the bleſſed ſeed, and alſo puniſheth the body for the ſin which the ſoul ſhould have been puniſhed for, that the ſpirit, having conceived hope of forgiveneſs, might live by faith.

[g] The tranſgreſſion of God's commandment was the cauſe that both mankind and all other creatures were ſubject to the curſe.

[h] Theſe are not the natural fruits of the earth, but proceed of the corruption of ſin.

[i] Or gave them knowledge to make themſelves coats.

[k] By this deriſion he reproacheth Adam's miſery, whereinto he was fallen by ambition.

[l] Adam deprived of life, loſt alſo the ſign thereof.

[m] Man's nature, the ſtate of marriage, and God's bleſſing, were not utterly aboliſhed through ſin, but the quality or condition thereof was changed.

[n] That is, according to the Lord's promiſe, as chap. 3. 15. Some read, To the Lord, as rejoicing for the ſon which ſhe had borne, whom ſhe would offer to the Lord as the firſt fruits of her birth.

[o] This declareth that the father inſtructed his children in the knowledge of God, and alſo how God gave them ſacrifices to ſignify their ſalvation: albeit they were deſtitute of the ſacrament of the tree of life.

[p] Becauſe he was an hypocrite, and offered only for an outward ſhew without ſincerity of heart.

[q] Both thou and thy ſacrifice ſhall be acceptable to me.

[r] Sin ſhall ſtill torment thy conſcience.

[s] The dignity of the firſt born is given to Cain over Abel.

[t] This is the nature of the reprobate, when they are reproved of their hypocriſy, even to neglect God, and deſpite him.

[u] God revengeth the wrongs of his ſaints, though none complain; for the iniquity itſelf crieth for vengeance.

[w] The earth ſhall be a witneſs againſt thee, which mercifully received that blood which thou moſt cruelly ſheddedſt.

[x] Thou ſhalt never have reſt: for thine heart ſhall be in continual fear and care.

Bef. Chr. 4004.

13 Then Cain ſaid unto the Lord, [y] ‡ My puniſhment is greater than I can bear.

‡ Or, my ſin is greater than can be pardoned.

14 Behold, thou haſt caſt me out this day from † the earth, and from thy face ſhall I be hid, and ſhall be a vagabond, and a runnagate in the earth, and whoſoever findeth me, ſhall ſlay me.

15 Then the Lord ſaid unto him, Doubtleſs, whoſoever ſlayeth Cain, he ſhall be [z] puniſhed ſevenfold. And the Lord ſet a [a] mark upon Cain, leſt any man finding him ſhould kill him.

16 Then Cain went out from the preſence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod toward the Eaſt ſide of Eden.

17 Cain alſo knew his wife, which conceived and bare Enoch: and he built a [b] city, and called the name of the city by the name of his ſon, Enoch.

18 And to Enoch was born Irad, and Irad begat Mehujael, and Mehujael begat Methuſhael, and Methuſhael begat Lamech.

19 ¶ And Lamech took to him [c] two wives: the name of the one was Adah, and the name of the other Zillah.

20 And Adah bare Jabal, who was the ‡ father of ſuch as dwell in the tents, and of ſuch as have cattle.

21 And his brother's name was Jubal, who was the father of all that play on the harp and ‡ organs.

‡ Or, flutes and pipes.

22 And Zillah alſo bare Tubal-cain, who wrought cunningly every craft of braſs and of iron: and the ſiſter of Tubal-Cain was Naamah.

23 Then Lamech ſaid unto his wives Adah and Zillah, Hear my voice, ye wives of Lamech: hearken unto my ſpeech: [d] for I would ſlay a man in my wound, and a young man in mine hurt.

24 If Cain ſhall be avenged ſevenfold, truly Lamech [e] ſeventy times ſeven fold.

25 ¶ And Adam knew his wife again, and ſhe bare a ſon, and ſhe called his name Seth: for God, ſaid ſhe, hath appointed me another ſeed for Abel, becauſe Cain ſlew him.

26 And to the ſame Seth alſo there was born a ſon, and he called his name Enos. Then began men to [f] call upon the name of the Lord.

[y] He burdeneth God as a cruel judge, becauſe he did puniſh him ſo ſharply.

[e] He mocked at God's ſufferance in Cain, jeſting, as though God would ſuffer none to puniſh him, and yet give him licenſe to murder others.

[k] He proveth Adam's generation by them which came of Seth, to ſhew which is the true church, and alſo what care God had over the ſame from the beginning, in that he continued ever his graces toward it by a continual ſucceſſion.

[l] The chief cauſe of long life in the firſt age, was the multiplication of mankind, that according to God's commandment at the beginning, the world might be increaſed with people, which might univerſally praiſe his name.

27 So all the days of Methuſelah were nine hundred ſixty and nine years: and he died.

28 ¶ Then Lamech lived an hundred eighty and two years, and begat a ſon,

4 For ſeven days hence I will cauſe it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights, and all the ſubſtance that I have made, will I deſtroy from off the earth.

* Matt. 24. 37. Luke 17. 26. 1 Pet. 3. 20.

5 * Noah therefore did according unto all that the Lord commanded him.

6 And Noah was ſix hundred years old, when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 ¶ So Noah entered and his ſons, and his wife, and his ſons wives with him into the ark, becauſe of the waters of the flood.

8 Of the clean beaſts, and of the unclean beaſts, and of the fowls, and of all that creepeth upon the earth,

9 There [f] came two and two unto Noah into the ark, male and female, as God had commanded Noah.

10 And ſo after ſeven days the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 ¶ In the ſix hundredth year of Noah's life, in the [g] ſecond month, the ſeventeenth day of the month, in the ſame day were all the [h] fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 In the ſelf ſame day entered Noah with Shem, and Ham, and Japheth, the ſons of Noah, and Noah's wife, and the three wives of his ſons with them into the ark.

14 They and every beaſt after his kind, and all cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth and moveth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, even every bird of every feather.

15 For they came to Noah into the ark, two and two, [i] of all fleſh wherein is the breath of life.

‡ Or, ſhut it upon him.

16 And they entering in, came male and female of all fleſh, as God had commanded him: and the Lord [k] ‡ ſhut him in.

17 Then the flood was forty days upon the earth, and the waters were increaſed, and bare up the ark, which was lift up above the earth.

18 The waters alſo waxed ſtrong, and were increaſed exceedingly upon the earth, and the ark went upon the waters.

† Heb. waxed very mighty.

19 The waters † prevailed ſo exceedingly upon the earth, that all the high mountains that are under the whole heaven were covered.

20 Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail, when the mountains were covered.

21 Then all fleſh periſhed that moved upon the earth, both fowl and cattle, and beaſt, and every thing that creepeth and moveth upon the earth, and every man.

22 Every thing in whoſe noſtrils the ſpirit of life did breathe, whatſoever they were in the dry land, they died.

23 So [l] he deſtroyed every thing that was upon the earth, from man to beaſt, to the creeping thing, and to the fowl of the heaven: they were even deſtroyed from the earth. And Noah only [m] remained, and they that were with him in the ark.

24 And the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days.

13 The flood ceaſeth. 16 Noah is commanded to come forth of the ark with his. 20 He ſacrificeth to the Lord. 22 God promiſeth that all things ſhall continue in their firſt order.

NOW God [n] remembered Noah, and [o] every beaſt, and all the cattle that was with him in the ark: therefore God made a wind to paſs upon the earth, and the waters ceaſed.

2 The fountains alſo of the deep, and the windows of heaven were ſtopped, and the rain from heaven was reſtrained.

3 And the waters returned from above the earth, going and returning: and after the end of the hundred and fiftieth day the waters abated.

4 And in the [p] ſeventh month, in the ſeventeenth day of the month, the ark ‡ reſted upon the mountains of ‡ Ararat.

8 Again he ſent a dove from him, that he might ſee if the waters were diminiſhed from off the earth.

9 But the dove found no reſt for the ſole of her foot: therefore ſhe returned unto him into the ark (for the waters were upon the whole earth) and he [r] put forth his hand, and received her, and took her to him into the ark.

10 And he abode yet other ſeven days, and again he ſent forth the dove out of the ark.

13 ¶ And in the ſix hundredth and one year, in the firſt day of the [t] firſt month, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Noah removed the covering of the ark, and looked, and behold, the upper part of the ground was dry.

14 And in the ſecond month, in the ſeven and twentieth day of the month, was the earth dry.

15 ¶ Then God ſpake to Noah, ſaying,

16 [u] Go forth of the ark, thou and thy wife, and thy ſons, and thy ſons wives with thee.

17 Bring forth with thee every beaſt that is with thee, of all fleſh, both fowl and cattle, and every thing that creepeth and moveth upon the earth, that they may breed abundantly in the earth, * and bring forth fruit and increaſe upon the earth.

20 ¶ Then Noah [w] built an altar to the Lord, and took of every clean beaſt, and of every clean fowl, and offered burnt-offerings upon the altar.

21 And the Lord ſmelled a ‡ [x] ſavour of reſt, and the Lord ſaid in his heart, I will henceforth curſe the ground no more for man's cauſe: for the imagination of man's * heart is evil, even from his youth: neither will I ſmite any more all things living, as I have done.

[t] Called in Hebrew Abib, containing part of March, and part of April.

[u] Noah declareth his obedience in that he would not depart out of the ark without God's expreſs commandment, as he did not enter in without the ſame: the ark being a figure of the church, wherein nothing muſt be done without the word of God.

[w] For ſacrifices, which were as an exerciſe of their faith, whereby they uſed to give thanks to God for his benefits.

[x] That is, thereby he ſheweth himſelf appeaſed, and his anger to reſt.

[y] The order of nature deſtroyed by the flood, is reſtored by God's promiſe.

[a] God increaſed them with fruit, and declared unto them his counſel as touching the repleniſhing of the earth.

[a] By virtue of this commandment beaſts rage not ſo much againſt man as they would, yea, and many ſerve to his uſe thereby.

[b] By this permiſſion man may with a good conſcience uſe the creatures of God for his neceſſity.

[c] That is, living creatures and the fleſh of beaſts that are ſtrangled: and hereby all cruelty is forbidden.

[d] That is, I will take vengeance for your blood.

[e] Not only by the magiſtrate, but oft-times God raiſeth up one murderer to kill another.

[f] Therefore to kill man is to deface God's image, and ſo injury is not only done to man, but alſo to God.

[g] To aſſure you that the world ſhall be no more deſtroyed by a flood.

[h] The children which are not yet born, are comprehended in God's covenant made with their fathers.

[i] Hereby we ſee that ſigns or ſacraments ought not to be ſeparated from the word.

[k] When men ſhall ſee my bow in the heaven, they ſhall know that I have not forgotten my covenant with them.

[l] God doth repeat this the oftener, to confirm Noah's faith ſo much the more.

[m] This declareth what was the virtue of God's bleſſing, when he ſaid, "Increaſe and bring forth," Chap. 1. 28.

Bef. Chr. 2347.

‡ Or, Noah began again.

20 ‡ Noah alſo began to be an huſbandman, and planted a vineyard.

22 And when Ham the father [o] of Canaan ſaw the nakedneſs of his father, [p] he told his two brethren without.

23 Then took Shem and Japheth a garment, and put it upon both their ſhoulders, and went backward, and covered the nakedneſs of their father with their faces backward: ſo they ſaw not their father's nakedneſs.

24 Then Noah awoke from his wine, and knew what his younger ſon had done unto him,

25 And ſaid, [q] Curſed be Canaan: a [r] ſervant of ſervants ſhall he be unto his brethren.

3 And the ſons of Gomer, Aſhkenaz, and Riphath, and Togarmah.

4 Alſo the ſons of Javan, Eliſhah and Tarſhiſh, Kittim, and Dodanim.

5 Of theſe were the [w] iſles of the Gentiles divided in their lands, every man after his tongue, and after their families in their nations.

6 ¶ Moreover, the ſons of Ham were [x] Cuſh, and Mizraim, and Phut, and Canaan.

7 And the ſons of Cuſh, Seba, and Havilah, and Sabtah, and Raamah, and Sabtecha: alſo the ſons of Raamah were Sheba and Dedan.

8 And Cuſh begat Nimrod, who began to be [y] mighty in the earth.

20 Theſe are the ſons of Ham, according to their families, according to their tongues in their countries, and in their nations.

24 Alſo Arphaxad begat Salah, and Salah begat Eber.

25 Unto Eber alſo were born two ſons: the name of the one was Peleg: for in his days was the earth [e] divided: and his brother's name was Joktan.

26 Then Joktan begat Almodad and Sheleph, and Hazarmaveth, and Jerah,

27 And Hadoram, and Uzal, and Diklah,

28 And Obal, and Abimael and Sheba,

29 And Ophir, and Havilah, and Jobab: all theſe were the ſons of Joktan.

[s] He declareth that the Gentiles which came of Japheth, and were ſeparate from the church, ſhould be joined to the ſame by the perſuaſion of God's Spirit, and preaching of the goſpel.

[t] Theſe generations are here recited, partly to declare the marvellous increaſe in ſo ſmall a time; and alſo to ſet forth their great forgetfulneſs of God's graces towards their fathers.

[u] Of Madai and Javan came the Medes and Greeks.

[w] The Jews ſo call all countries which are ſeparate from them by ſea, as Greece, Italy, &c. which were given to the children of Japheth, of whom came the Gentiles.

[x] Of Cuſh and Mizraim came the Ethiopians and Egyptians.

3 And they ſaid one to another, Come, let us make brick, and burn it in the fire. So they had brick for ſtone, and ſlime had they inſtead of morter.

4 Alſo they ſaid, Go to, let us [k] build us a city and a tower, whoſe top may reach unto the heaven, that we may get us a name, leſt we be ſcattered upon the whole earth.

5 But the Lord [l] came down to ſee the city and tower which the ſons of men builded.

7 Come on, [n] let us go down, [o] and there confound their language, that every one perceive not another's ſpeech.

8 So the Lord ſcattered them from thence upon all the earth, and they left off to build the city.

4 So Abram departed, even as the Lord ſpake unto him, and Lot went with him. (And Abram was ſeventy and five years old, when he departed out of Haran)

5 Then Abram took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's ſon, and all their ſubſtance that they poſſeſſed, and the ſouls [y] that they had gotten in Haran, and they departed, to go to the land of Canaan: and to the land of Canaan they came.

7 And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and ſaid, Unto thy ſeed will I give this land. And there builded he an [b] altar unto the Lord, which appeared unto him.

8 Afterward removing [c] thence unto a mountain eaſtward from Beth-el, he pitched his tent having Beth-el on the weſt-ſide, and Hai on the eaſt: and there he built an [d] altar unto the Lord, and called on the name of the Lord.

9 [e] Again Abram went forth going and journeying toward the ſouth.

10 ¶ Then there came [f] a famine in the land: therefore Abram went down into Egypt to ſojourn there: for there was a great famine in the land.

11 And when he drew near to enter into Egypt, he ſaid to Sarai his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a fair woman to look upon:

12 Therefore it will come to paſs, that when the Egyptians ſee thee, they will ſay, She is his wife: ſo will they kill me, but they will keep thee alive.

19 Why ſaidſt thou, She is my ſiſter, that I ſhould take her to be my wife? Now therefore behold thy wife, take her, and go thy way.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abram departeth out of Egypt. 4 He calleth upon the name of the Lord. 11 Lot departeth from him. 13 The wickedneſs of the Sodomites. 14 The promiſe made to Abram is renewed. 18 Abram buildeth an altar to the Lord.

THEN [l] Abram went up from Egypt, he and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him toward the ſouth.

2 And Abram was very rich in cattle, in ſilver and in gold.

3 And he went on his journey from the ſouth toward [m] Beth-el, to the place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Beth-el and Hai,

4 Unto the place of the * altar, which he had made there at the firſt: and there Abram called on the name of the Lord.

5 ¶ And Lot alſo, who went with Abram, had ſheep, and cattle, and tents;

6 So that the land could not [n] bear them, that they might dwell together: for their * ſubſtance was great, ſo that they could not dwell together.

* Ch. 36. 7.

7 Alſo there was debate between the herdmen of Abrams cattle, and the herdmen of Lot's cattle (and the [o] Canaanites and the Perizzites dwelt at that time in the land.)

8 Then ſaid Abram unto Lot, Let there be no [p] ſtrife, I pray thee, between thee and me, neither between mine herdmen and thine herdmen: for we be brethren.

9 Is not the whole land before thee? depart, I pray thee, from me: if thou wilt [q] take the left hand, then I will go to the right: or if thou go to the right hand, then I will take the left.

10 So when Lot lifted up his eyes, he ſaw that all the plain of Jordan was watered every where: (for before the Lord deſtroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, it was as the [r] garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou goeſt unto Zoar.)

[g] By this we may learn not to uſe unlawful means, nor to put others in danger to ſave ourſelves, read verſe 20. albeit it may appear that Abram feared not ſo much death, as that if he ſhould die without iſſue, God's promiſe ſhould not have taken place, wherein appeared a weak faith.

AND in the evening there came two [r] angels to Sodom: and Lot ſat at the gate of Sodom, and Lot ſaw them, and roſe up to meet them, and he bowed himſelf with his face to the ground:

2 And he ſaid, See, my lords, I pray you, turn in now into your ſervant's houſe, and tarry all night, and waſh * your feet, and ye ſhall riſe up early and go your ways. Who ſaid, Nay, but we will abide in the ſtreet all night.

* Ch. 18. 4.

3 Then [s] he preſſed upon them earneſtly, and they turned in to him, and came to his houſe, and he made them a feaſt, and did bake unleavened bread, and they did [t] eat.

4 But before they went to bed, the men of the city, even the men of Sodom compaſſed the houſe round about, from the young even to the old, [u] all the people from all quarters.

5 Who crying unto Lot, ſaid to him, Where are the men, which came to thee this night? bring them out unto us that we may know them.

6 Then Lot went out at the door unto them, and ſhut the door after him,

7 And ſaid, I pray you, my brethren, do not ſo wickedly.

8 Behold now, I have two [w] daughters, which have not known man: them will I bring out now unto you, and do to them as ſeemeth you good: only unto theſe men do nothing: [x] for therefore are they come under the ſhadow of my roof.

9 Then they ſaid, Away hence: and they ſaid, He is come alone as a ſtranger, and ſhall he judge and rule? we will now deal worſe with thee than with them. So they preſſed ſore upon Lot * himſelf, and came to break the door.

* 2 Pet. 2. 7.

10 But the men put forth their hand, and pulled Lot into the houſe to them, and ſhut to the door.

11 Then they ſmote the men that were at the door of the houſe with blindneſs, both ſmall and great, ſo that they were weary in † ſeeking the door.

12 ¶ Then the men ſaid unto Lot, Whom haſt thou yet here? either ſon-in-law, or thy ſons, or thy daughters, or whatſoever thou haſt in the city, bring it out of this place.

13 For [y] we will deſtroy this place, becauſe the * cry of them is great before the Lord, and the Lord hath ſent us to deſtroy it.

Bef. Chr. 1898. * Ch. 18. 20.

14 Then Lot went out and ſpake unto his ſons-in-law, which ‡ married his daughters, and ſaid, Ariſe, get you out of this place: for the Lord will deſtroy the city: but he ſeemed to his ſons-in-law as though he had mocked.

‡ Or, ſhould marry.

15 ¶ And when the morning aroſe, the angels haſted Lot, ſaying, Ariſe, take thy wife and thy two daughters † which are here, leſt thou be deſtroyed in the puniſhment of the city.

16 And as he [z] prolonged the time, the men caught both him and his wife, and his two daughters by the hands (the Lord being merciful unto him) and they brought him forth, and ſet him without the city.

17 ¶ And when they had brought them out, the angel ſaid, Eſcape for thy life: [a] look not behind thee, neither tarry thou in all the plain: eſcape into the mountain, leſt thou be deſtroyed.

18 And Lot ſaid unto them, Not ſo, I pray thee, my Lord.

19 Behold now, thy ſervant hath found grace in thy ſight, and thou haſt magnified thy mercy, which thou haſt ſhewed unto me in ſaving my life: and I cannot eſcape in the mountain, leſt ſome evil take me, and I die.

20 See now this city here by to flee unto, which is a little one: Oh let me eſcape thither: is it not a [b] little one? and my ſoul ſhall live.

21 Then he ſaid unto him, Behold, I have received † thy requeſt alſo concerning this thing, that I will not overthrow this city, for the which thou haſt ſpoken.

22 Haſt thee, ſave thee there: for I can do [c] nothing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the city was called [d] Zoar.

23 ¶ The ſun did riſe upon the earth, when Lot entered into Zoar.

26 ¶ Now his wife behind him looked back, and ſhe became a [e] pillar of ſalt.

27 ¶ And Abraham riſing up early in the morning, went to the place, where he had ſtood before the Lord,

28 And looking toward Sodom and Gomorrah, and toward all the land of the plain, behold, he ſaw the ſmoke of the land mounting up as the ſmoke of a furnace.

32 Come, we will make our father [h] drink wine, and lie with him, that we may preſerve ſeed of our father.

33 So they made their father drink wine that night, and the elder went and lay with her father: but he perceived not, neither when ſhe lay down, neither when ſhe roſe up.

37 And the elder bare a ſon, and ſhe called his name Moab: the ſame is the father of the [k] Moabites unto this day.

38 And the younger bare a ſon alſo, and ſhe called his name [l] Ben-ammi; the ſame is the father of the Ammonites unto this day.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a ſtranger in the land of Gerar. 2 Abimelech taketh away his wife. 3 God reproveth the king. 9 And the king Abraham. 11 Sarah is reſtored with great gifts. 17 Abraham prayeth, and the king and his are healed.

AFterward Abraham departed thence toward the ſouth country, and dwelt between Kadeſh and [m] Shur, and ſojourned in Gerar.

2 And Abraham ſaid of Sarah his wife, [n] She is my ſiſter. Then Abimelech king of Gerar ſent and took Sarah.

3 But God came to Abimelech in a dream by night, and ſaid to him, Behold, [o] thou art but dead, becauſe of the woman which thou haſt taken: for ſhe is a man's wife.

4 (Notwithſtanding Abimelech had not yet come near her) And he ſaid, Lord wilt thou ſlay even [p] the righteous nation?

5 Said not he unto me, She is my ſiſter? yea, and ſhe herſelf ſaid, He is my brother: with an upright [q] mind, and [r] innocent hands have I done this.

Bef. Chr. 1897.

6 And God ſaid unto him by a dream, I know that thou didſt this even with an upright mind, and I [s] kept thee alſo, that thou ſhouldeſt not ſin againſt me: therefore ſuffered I thee not to touch her.

7 Now then deliver the man his wife again: for he is a [t] prophet, and he [u] ſhall pray for thee that thou mayeſt live: but if thou deliver her not again, be ſure that thou ſhalt die the death, thou, and all that thou haſt.

10 So Abimelech ſaid unto Abraham, What ſaweſt thou, that thou haſt done this thing?

11 Then Abraham anſwered, Becauſe I thought thus, Surely the [x] fear of God is not in this place, and they will ſlay me for my wife's ſake.

12 Yet in very deed ſhe is my [y] ſiſter: for ſhe is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, and ſhe is my wife.

13 Now when God cauſed me to wander out of my father's houſe, I ſaid then to her, This is thy kindneſs that thou ſhalt ſhew unto me in all places where we come, * Say thou of me, He is my brother.

* Ch. 12.13.

14 Then took Abimelech ſheep and beeves, and men ſervants, and women ſervants, and gave them unto Abraham, and reſtored unto him Sarah his wife.

15 And Abimelech ſaid, Behold, my land is ‡ before thee: dwell where it pleaſeth thee.

16 Likewiſe to Sarah he ſaid, Behold, I have given thy brother a thouſand pieces of ſilver: behold he is the [z] veil of thine eyes to all that are with thee, and to all others: and ſhe was [a] thus reproved.

17 ¶ Then Abraham prayed unto God, and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his women ſervants: and they bare children.

2 Iſaac is born. 9 Iſhmael mocketh Iſaac. 14 Hagar is caſt out with her ſon. 17 The angel comforteth Hagar. 22 The covenant between Abimelech and Abraham. 33 Abraham called upon the Lord.

NOW the Lord viſited Sarah, as he had ſaid, and did unto her * according as he had promiſed.

*Ch. 17. 19. and 18. 10.

2 For Sarah * conceived, and bare Abraham a ſon in his old [c] age, at the ſame ſeaſon that God told him.

*Matt. 1. 2. Acts 7. 8. Gal. 4. 23. Heb. 11. 11.

3 And Abraham called his ſon's name that was born unto him, which Sarah bare him, Iſaac.

4 Then Abraham circumciſed Iſaac his ſon, when he was eight days old, * as God had commanded him.

*Ch. 17. 12.

5 So Abraham was an hundred years old, when his ſon Iſaac was born unto him.

6 ¶ Then Sarah ſaid, God hath made me to rejoice: all that hear will rejoice with me.

7 Again ſhe ſaid, [d] Who would have ſaid to Abraham, that Sarah ſhould have given ſuck? for I have borne him a ſon in his old age.

8 Then the child grew and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feaſt the ſame day that Iſaac was weaned.

9 ¶ And Sarah ſaw the ſon of Hagar the Egyptian (which ſhe had borne unto Abraham) [e] mocking.

10 Wherefore ſhe ſaid unto Abraham, * Caſt out this bond-woman and her ſon: for the ſon of this bond-woman ſhall not be heir with my ſon Iſaac.

*Gal. 4. 30.

11 And this thing was very grievous in Abraham's ſight, becauſe of his ſon.

12 ¶ But God ſaid unto Abraham, Let it not be grievous in thy ſight for the child, and for thy bond-woman: in all that Sarah ſhall ſay unto thee, hear her voice: for in Iſaac ſhall thy ſeed be [f] called.

13 As for the ſon of the bond-woman, I will make him [g] a nation alſo, becauſe he is thy ſeed.

14 So Abraham aroſe up early in the morning, and took bread, and a bottle of water, and gave it unto Hagar, putting it on her ſhoulder, and the child alſo, and [h] ſent her away: who departing, wandered in the wilderneſs of Beerſheba.

15 And when the water of the bottle was ſpent, ſhe caſt the child under a certain tree.

16 Then ſhe went and ſat her over-againſt him afar off about a bow-ſhot: for ſhe ſaid, I will not ſee the death of the child, and ſhe ſat down over-againſt him, and lift up her voice and wept.

Bef. Chr. 1892.

17 Then God [i] heard the voice of the child, and the angel of God called to Hagar from heaven, and ſaid unto her, What aileth thee, Hagar? fear not, for God hath heard the voice of the child where he is.

18 Ariſe, take up the child, and hold him in thine hand: for I will make of him a great people.

19 And God [k] opened her eyes, and ſhe ſaw a well of water: ſo ſhe went and filled the bottle with water, and gave the boy drink.

20 So God was [l] with the child, and he grew and dwelt in the wilderneſs, and was an ‡ archer.

‡ Or, ſhot in the bow, and was an hunter.

21 And he dwelt in the wilderneſs of Paran, and his mother took him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 ¶ And at the ſame time Abimelech and Phichol his chief captain ſpake unto Abraham, ſaying, God is with thee in all that thou doeſt.

23 Now therefore ſwear unto me here by God, that thou wilt not † hurt me, nor my children, nor my childrens children: thou ſhalt deal with me, and with the country where thou haſt been a ſtranger, according unto the kindneſs that I have ſhewed thee.

† Heb. deal falſly with me, or lie.

24 Then Abraham ſaid, I will [m] ſwear.

25 And Abraham rebuked Abimelech for a well of water, which Abimelech's ſervants had violently taken away.

26 And Abimelech ſaid, [n] I know not who hath done this thing: alſo thou toldeſt me not, neither heard I of it but this day.

27 Then Abraham took ſheep and beeves, and gave them unto Abimelech: and they two made a covenant.

28 And Abraham ſet ſeven lambs of the flock by themſelves.

29 Then Abimelech ſaid unto Abraham, What mean theſe ſeven lambs, which thou haſt ſet by themſelves?

30 And he anſwered, Becauſe thou ſhalt receive of mine hand theſe ſeven lambs, that it may be a witneſs unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore the place is called ‡ Beerſheba, becauſe there they both ſware.

‡ Or, Well of the oath, or of ſeven, meaning lambs.

32 Thus made they a [o] covenant at Beerſheba: afterward Abimelech and Phichol his chief captain roſe up, and turned again unto the land of the Philiſtines.

8 Then Abraham anſwered, My ſon, God will [t] provide him a lamb for a burnt-offering: ſo they went both together.

30 ¶ And when Iſaac had made an end of bleſſing Jacob, and Jacob was ſcarce gone out from the preſence of Iſaac his father, then came Eſau his brother from his hunting.

31 And he alſo prepared ſavoury meat, and brought it to his father, and ſaid unto his father, Let my father ariſe, and eat of his ſon's veniſon, that thy ſoul may bleſs me.

35 Who anſwered, Thy brother came with ſubtlety, and hath taken away thy bleſſing.

36 Then he ſaid, Was not he juſtly called [q] Jacob? for he hath deceived me theſe two times: he took my birthright, and lo, now hath he taken my bleſſing. Alſo he ſaid, Haſt thou not reſerved a bleſſing for me?

37 Then Iſaac anſwered, and ſaid unto Eſau, Behold, I have made him [r] thy lord, and all his brethren have I made his ſervants: alſo with wheat and wine have I furniſhed him, and unto thee now what ſhall I do, my ſon?

16 Now Laban had two daughters, the elder called Leah, and the younger called Rachel.

‡ Or, blear-eyed.

22 Wherefore Laban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a feaſt.

23 But [q] when the evening was come, he took Leah his daughter, and brought her to him, and he went in unto her.

24 And Laban gave his maid Zilpah to his daughter Leah, to be her ſervant.

25 But when the morning was come, behold, it was Leah. Then ſaid he to Laban, Wherefore haſt thou done thus to me? did I not ſerve thee for Rachel? wherefore then haſt thou beguiled me?

26 And Laban anſwered, It is not the [r] manner of this place, to give the younger before the elder.

27 Fulfil ſeven years for her, and we will alſo give thee this for the ſervice which thou ſhalt ſerve me yet ſeven years more.

28 Then Jacob did ſo, and fulfilled her ſeven years, ſo he gave him Rachel his daughter to be his wife.

29 Laban alſo gave to Rachel his daughter, Bilhah his maid to be her ſervant.

30 So entered he in to Rachel alſo, and loved alſo Rachel more than Leah, and ſerved him yet ſeven years more.

31 ¶ When the Lord ſaw that Leah was deſpiſed, he † made her [s] fruitful: but Rachel was barren.

AND when Rachel ſaw that ſhe bare Jacob no children, Rachel envied her ſiſter, and ſaid unto Jacob, Give me children, or elſe I die.

19 Then Leah conceived again, and bare Jacob the ſixth ſon.

20 Then Leah ſaid, God hath endued me with a good dowry: now will mine huſband dwell with me, becauſe I have borne him ſix ſons: and ſhe called his name Zebulon.

21 After that, ſhe bare a daughter, and ſhe called her name Dinah.

32 I will paſs through all thy flocks this day, ‡ and ſeparate from them all the ſheep with little ſpots and great ſpots, and all black ‡ lambs among the ſheep, and the great ſpotted and little ſpotted among the goats [e]: and it ſhall be my wages.

37 ¶ Then Jacob took [g] rods of green poplar, and of haſel, and of the cheſnut-tree, and pilled white ſtrakes in them, and made the white appear in the rods.

38 Then he put the rods which he had pilled, in the gutters and watering troughs, when the ſheep came to drink, before the ſheep (for they were in heat when they came to drink):

39 And the ſheep ‡ were in heat before the rods, and afterward brought forth young of party-colour, and with ſmall and great ſpots.

40 And Jacob parted theſe lambs, and turned the faces of the flock toward theſe lambs party-coloured and all manner of black, among the ſheep of Laban: ſo he put his own flocks by themſelves, and put them not with Laban's flock.

41 And in every ramming time of the [h] ſtronger ſheep, Jacob laid the rods before the eyes of the ſheep in the gutters, that they might conceive before the rods.

42 But when the ſheep were feeble, he put them not in: and ſo the feebler were Laban's, and the ſtronger Jacob's.

† Heb. as yeſterday and before yeſterday.

6 And ye know that I have ſerved your Father with all my might.

7 But your father hath deceived me, and changed my wages ten ‡ times: but God ſuffered him not to hurt me.

‡ Or, many times.

8 If he thus ſaid, The ſpotted ſhall be thy wages, then all the ſheep bare ſpotted: and if he ſaid thus, The party-coloured ſhall be thy reward, then bare all the ſheep party-coloured.

9 Thus hath [l] God taken away your father's ‡ ſubſtance, and given it me.

‡ Or, cattle.

10 ¶ For in ramming time I lifted up mine eyes and ſaw in a dream, and behold, the he-goats leaped upon the ſhe-goats that were party-coloured with little and great ſpots ſpotted.

11 And the angel of God ſaid to me in a dream, Jacob. And I anſwered, Lo I am here.

12 And he ſaid, Lift up now thine eyes, and ſee all the he-goats leaping upon the ſhe-goats that are party-coloured, ſpotted with little and great ſpots: for I have ſeen all that Laban doth unto thee.

13 [m] I am the God of Beth-el where thou * anointedſt the pillar, where thou vowedſt a vow unto me. Now ariſe, get thee out of this country, and return unto the land where thou waſt born.

* Ch. 28. 18.

14 Then anſwered Rachel and Leah, and ſaid unto him, Have we any more portion and inheritance in our father's houſe?

15 Doth not he count us as ſtrangers? for he hath [n] ſold us, and hath eaten up and conſumed our money.

16 Therefore all the riches which God hath taken from our father, is ours and our childrens: now then whatſoever God hath ſaid unto thee, do it.

17 ¶ Then Jacob roſe up, and ſet his ſons and his wives upon camels.

18 And he carried away all his flocks, and all his ſubſtance which he had gotten, to wit, his riches which he had gotten in Padan-aram, to go to Iſaac his father unto the land of Canaan.

19 When Laban was gone to ſhear his ſheep, then Rachel ſtole her father's [o] idols.

20 Thus Jacob ‡ ſtole away the heart of Laban the Aramite: for he told him not that he fled.

‡ Or, went away privately from Laban.

21 So fled he with all that he had, and he roſe up, and paſſed the ‡ river, and ſet his face toward mount Gilead.

‡ Or, Euphrates.

22 And the third day after was it told Laban, that Jacob fled.

23 Then he took his ‡ brethren with him, and followed after him ſeven days journey, and ‡ overtook him at mount Gilead.

‡ Or, kinſfolks and friends.

‡ Or, joined with him.

24 And God came to Laban the Aramite in a dream by night, and ſaid unto him, Take heed that thou ſpeak not to Jacob † aught ſave good.

Bef. Chr. 1739.

† Heb. from good to evil.

25 ¶ Then Laban overtook Jacob, and Jacob had pitched his tent in the mount: and Laban alſo, with his brethren, pitched upon mount Gilead.

26 Then Laban ſaid to Jacob, What haſt thou done? ‡ thou haſt even ſtolen away mine heart, and carried away my daughters, as though they had been taken captives with the ſword.

‡ Or, conveyed thyſelf away privily.

27 Wherefore didſt thou flee ſo ſecretly and ſteal away from me, and didſt not tell me, that I might have ſent thee forth with mirth and with ſongs, with timbrel and with harp?

28 But thou haſt not ſuffered me to kiſs my ſons and my daughters: now thou haſt done fooliſhly in doing ſo.

29 I am † able to do you evil: but the [p] God of your father ſpake unto me yeſternight, ſaying, Take heed that thou ſpeak not to Jacob aught ſave good.

† Heb. power is in mine hand.

30 Now though thou wenteſt thy way becauſe thou greatly longeſt after thy father's houſe, yet wherefore haſt thou ſtolen my gods?

31 Then Jacob anſwered, and ſaid to Laban, Becauſe I was afraid, and thought that thou wouldeſt have taken thy daughters from me.

32 But with whom thou findeſt thy gods, ‡ let him not live. Search thou before our brethren what I have of thine and take it to thee, (but Jacob wiſt not that Rachel had ſtolen them).

‡ Or, let him die.

33 Then came Laban into Jacob's tent, and into Leah's tent, and into the two maids tents, but found them not. So he went out of Leah's tent, and entered into Rachel's tent.

34 (Now Rachel had taken the idols, and put them in the camels ‡ litter, and ſat down upon them) and Laban ſearched all the tent, but found them not.

‡ Or, ſtraw, or ſaddle.

35 Then ſaid ſhe to her father, † My lord, be not angry that I cannot riſe up before thee: for the cuſtom of women is upon me: ſo he ſearched, but found not the idols.

† Heb. let not anger be in the eyes of my lord.

36 ¶ Then Jacob was wroth, and chode with Laban: Jacob alſo anſwered and ſaid to Laban, What have I treſpaſſed? what have I offended, that thou haſt purſued after me?

37 Seeing thou haſt ſearched all my ſtuff, what haſt thou found of all thine houſhold-ſtuff? put it here before my brethren, and thy brethren, that they may judge between us both.

38 This twenty years I have been with thee: thine ewes and thy goats have not ‡ caſt their young: and the rams of thy flock have I not eaten.

39 † Whatſoever was torn of beaſts, I brought it not unto thee, but made it good myſelf: * of mine hand didſt thou require it, were it ſtolen by day or ſtolen by night.

† Heb. the torn, or taken by prey.

* Exod. 22. 12.

40 I was in the day conſumed with heat, and with froſt in the night, and my ‡ ſleep departed from mine eyes.

‡ Or, I ſlept not.

41 Thus have I been twenty years in thine houſe,

[m] This angel was Chriſt, which appeared to Jacob in Bethel: and hereby appeareth he had taught his wives the fear of God: for he talketh as though they knew this thing.

[n] For they were given to Jacob in recompence of his ſervice, which was a kind of ſale.

houſe, and ſerved thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and ſix years for thy ſheep, and thou haſt changed my wages ten times.

42 Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, and the [q] fear of Iſaac had been with me, ſurely thou hadſt ſent me away now empty: but God beheld my tribulation, and the labour of mine hands, and rebuked thee yeſternight.

43 Then Laban anſwered, and ſaid unto Jacob, Theſe daughters are my daughters, and theſe ſons are my ſons, and theſe ſheep are my ſheep, and all that thou ſeeſt is mine, and what can I do this day unto theſe my daughters, or to their ſons which they have borne?

44 Now therefore [r] come and let us make a covenant, I and thou, which may be a witneſs between me and thee.

45 Then took Jacob a ſtone, and ſet it up as a pillar:

46 And Jacob ſaid unto his brethren, Gather ſtones: who brought ſtones and made an heap, and they did eat there upon the heap.

‡ Or, the heap of witneſs.

47 And Laban called it ‡ Jegar-ſahadutha, and Jacob called it [s] Galeed.

48 For Laban ſaid, This heap is witneſs between me and thee this day: therefore he called the name of it Galeed.

49 Alſo he called it ‡ Mizpah, becauſe he ſaid, The Lord [t] look between me and thee, when we ſhall be ‡ departed one from another.

50 If thou ſhalt vex my daughters, or ſhalt take [u] wives beſides my daughters: there is no man with us, behold, God is witneſs between me and thee.

51 Moreover Laban ſaid to Jacob, Behold this heap, and behold the pillar which I have ſet up between me and thee,

52 This heap ſhall be witneſs, and the pillar ſhall be witneſs, that I will not come over this heap to thee, and that thou ſhalt not paſs over this heap and this pillar unto me for evil.

53 The God of Abraham, and the God of [w] Nahor, and the God of their father be judge between us: But Jacob ſware by the [x] fear of his father Iſaac.

‡ Or, meat.

54 Then Jacob did offer a ſacrifice upon the mount, and called his brethren to eat ‡ bread, and they did eat bread, and tarried all night in the mount.

55 And early in the morning Laban roſe up and kiſſed his ſons and his [y] daughters, and bleſſed them, and Laban departing, went unto his place again.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 God comforteth Jacob by his angels. 9, 10 He prayeth unto God, confeſſing his unworthineſs. 13 He ſendeth preſents unto Eſau. 24, 28 He wreſtleth with the angel, who nameth him Iſrael.

*Ch. 48. 16.

NOW Jacob went forth on his journey, and the * angels of God met him.

2 And when Jacob ſaw them, he ſaid, [z] This is God's hoſt, and called the name of the ſame place ‡ Mahanaim.

‡ Or, tents.

3 Then Jacob ſent meſſengers before him to Eſau his brother, unto the land of Seir into the country of Edom:

4 To whom he gave commandment, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye ſpeak to my [a] lord Eſau: Thy ſervant Jacob ſaith thus, I have been a ſtranger with Laban, and tarried unto this time.

5 I have beeves alſo and aſſes, ſheep, and men ſervants, and women ſervants, and have ſent to ſhew my lord, that I may find grace in thy ſight.

6 ¶ So the meſſengers came again to Jacob, ſaying, We came unto thy brother Eſau, and he alſo cometh againſt thee and four hundred men with him.

7 Then Jacob was greatly [b] afraid, and was ſore troubled, and divided the people that was with him, and the ſheep and the beeves, and the camels into two companies.

8 For he ſaid, If Eſau come to the one company and ſmite it, the other company ſhall eſcape.

*Ch. 31. 13.

9 ¶ Moreover Jacob ſaid, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Iſaac: Lord, which * ſaidſt unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy kindred, and I will do thee good, † Heb. I am leſs than all thy mercies.

10 I am not † worthy of the leaſt of all the mercies, and all the truth, which thou haſt ſhewed unto thy ſervant: for with my [c] ſtaff came I over this Jordan, and now have I gotten two bands.

11 I pray thee, deliver me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Eſau, for I fear him, leſt he will come and ſmite me, and the [d] mother upon the children.

12 For thou ſaidſt, I will ſurely do thee good, and make thy ſeed as the ſand upon the ſea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.

13 ¶ And he tarried there the ſame night, and took of that which came to hand, a [e] preſent for Eſau his brother:

14 Two hundred ſhe-goats, and twenty he-goats, two hundred ewes and twenty rams:

15 Thirty milch camels with their colts, forty kine, and ten bullocks, twenty ſhe-aſſes, and ten foles.

16 So he delivered them into the hand of his ſervants: every drove by themſelves, and ſaid unto his ſervants, Paſs before me, and put a ſpace between drove and drove.

17 And he commanded the foremoſt, ſaying, If Eſau my brother meet thee, and aſk thee, ſaying, Whoſe ſervant art thou? And whither goeſt thou? And whoſe are theſe before thee?

18 Then thou ſhalt ſay, They be thy ſervant Jacob's: it is a preſent ſent unto my lord Eſau: and behold, he himſelf alſo is behind us.

19 So likewiſe commanded he the ſecond and the third, and all that followed the droves, ſaying, After this manner ye ſhall ſpeak unto Eſau, when ye find him.

20 And ye ſhall ſay moreover, Behold, thy ſervant Jacob cometh after us (for he thought, I [e] will appeaſe his wrath with the preſent that goeth before me, and afterward I will ſee his face: it may be that he will † accept me.)

† Heb. receive my face.

21 So went the preſent before him: but he tarried that night with the company.

22 And he roſe up the ſame night, and took his two wives, and his two maids, and his eleven children, and went over the ford Jabbok.

23 And he took them, and ſent them over the river, and ſent over that he had.

24 ¶ Now when Jacob was left himſelf alone, there wreſtled a [f] man with him unto the breaking of the day.

25 And he ſaw that he could not [g] prevail againſt him, therefore he touched the hollow of his thigh, and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was looſed, as he wreſtled with him.

* Hoſ. 12. 4.

* Ch. 35. 10.

28 Then ſaid he, * Thy name ſhall be called Jacob no more, but Iſrael: becauſe thou haſt had [h] power with God, thou ſhalt alſo prevail with men.

29 Then Jacob demanded, ſaying, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he ſaid, Wherefore now doſt thou aſk my name? and he bleſſed him there.

30 And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for, ſaid he, I have ſeen God face to face, and ‡ my life is preſerved.

31 And the ſun roſe to him as he paſſed Peniel, and he [i] halted upon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Iſrael eat not of the ſinew that ſhrank in the hollow of the thigh, unto this day: becauſe he touched the ſinew that ſhrank in the hollow of Jacob's thigh.

CHAP. XXXIII.

4 Eſau and Jacob meet and are agreed. 11 Eſau receiveth his gifts. 19 Jacob buyeth a poſſeſſion, 20 and buildeth an altar.

AND as Jacob lift up his eyes, and looked, behold, Eſau came: and with him four hundred men: and he [k] divided the children to Leah, and to Rachel, and to the two maids.

2 And he put the maids and their children foremoſt, and Leah and her children after, and Rachel and Joſeph hindermoſt.

3 So he went before them, and [l] bowed himſelf to the ground ſeven times, until he came near to his brother.

4 Then Eſau ran to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kiſſed him, and they wept.

5 And he lift up his eyes, and ſaw the women, and the children, and ſaid, Who are theſe with thee? And he anſwered, They are the children whom God of his grace hath given thy ſervant.

6 Then came the maids near, they and their children, and [m] bowed themſelves.

7 Leah alſo with her children came near and made obeiſance: and after Joſeph and Rachel drew near, and did reverence.

8 Then he ſaid, What meaneſt thou by all this drove, which I met? Who anſwered, I have ſent it, that I may find favour in the ſight of my lord.

9 And Eſau ſaid, I have enough, my brother: keep that thou haſt to thyſelf.

10 But Jacob anſwered, Nay, I pray thee, if I have found grace now in thy ſight, then receive my preſent at mine hand: for [n] I have ſeen thy face, as though I had ſeen the face of God, becauſe thou haſt accepted me.

11 I pray thee, take my ‡ bleſſing, that is brought thee: for God hath had mercy on me, and therefore I have all things: ſo he [o] compelled him, and he took it.

‡ Or, gifts.

12 And he ſaid, Let us take our journey and go, and I will go before thee.

13 Then he anſwered him, My lord knoweth that the children are tender, and the ewes and kine with young under mine hand: and if they ſhould overdrive them one day, all the flock would die.

14 Let now my lord go before his ſervant, and I will drive ſoftly, according to the pace of the cattle which is before me, and as the children be able to endure, until I [p] come to my lord unto Seir.

15 Then Eſau ſaid, I will leave then ſome of my folk with thee. And he anſwered, What needeth this? let me find grace in the ſight of my lord.

16 ¶ So Eſau returned, and went his way that ſame day unto Seir.

17 And Jacob went forward toward Succoth, and built him an houſe, and made booths for his cattle: therefore he called the name of the place ‡ Succoth.

‡ Or, tents.

18 ¶ Afterward Jacob came ſafe to Shechem, a city which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from ‡ Padan-aram, and pitched before the city.

‡ Or, Meſopotamia.

19 And there he bought a parcel of ground, where he pitched his tent, at the hand of the ſons of Hamor, Shechem's father, for an hundred ‡ pieces of money.

‡ Or, lambs, or money ſo marked.

20 And he ſet up there an altar, and called [q] it, The mighty God of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXXIV.

2 Dinah is raviſhed. 8 Hamor aſketh her in marriage for his ſon. 22 The Shechemites are circumciſed at the requeſt of Jacob's ſons, and the perſuaſion of Hamor. 25 The whoredom is revenged. 28 Jacob reproveth his ſons.

THEN Dinah the daughter of Leah, which ſhe bare unto Jacob, [r] went out to ſee the daughters of that country.

2 Whom when Shechem the ſon of Hamor the Hivite lord of that country ſaw, he took her, and lay with her, and † defiled her.

3 So his heart clave unto Dinah the daughter of Jacob: and he loved the maid, and † ſpake kindly unto the maid.

† Heb. ſpake to the heart of the maid.

4 Then ſaid Shechem to his father Hamor, ſaying, [s] Get me this maid to wife.

5 (Now Jacob heard that he had defiled Dinah his daughter, and his ſons were with his cattle in the field: therefore Jacob held his peace until they were come.)

6 ¶ Then Hamor the father of Shechem went out unto Jacob to commune with him.

7 And when the ſons of Jacob were come out of the field, and heard it, it grieved the men, and they were very angry, becauſe he had wrought ‡ villainy in Iſrael, in that he had lien with Jacob's daughter: † which thing ought not to be done.

‡ Or, folly.

† Heb. and it ſhall not be ſo done.

8 And Hamor communed with them, ſaying, The ſoul of my ſon Shechem longeth for your daughter: give her him to wife, I pray you.

9 So make ‡ affinity with us: give your daughters unto us, and take our daughters unto you.

10 And ye ſhall dwell with us, and the land ſhall be before you: dwell, and do your buſineſs in it, and have your poſſeſſions therein.

11 Shechem alſo ſaid unto her father, and unto her brethren, ‡ Let me find favour in your eyes, and I will give whatſoever ye ſhall appoint me.

‡ Or, grant my requeſt.

12 † Aſk of me abundantly both dowry and gifts, and I will give as ye appoint me, ſo that ye give me the maid to wife.

† Heb. multiply greatly the dowry.

13 Then the ſons of Jacob anſwered Shechem and Hamor his father, talking deceitfully, becauſe he had defiled Dinah their ſiſter,

14 And they ſaid unto them, [t] We cannot do this thing, to give our ſiſter to an uncircumciſed man: for that were a [u] reproof unto us:

15 But in this we will conſent unto you, if ye will be as we are, that every man child among you be [w] circumciſed:

16 Then will we give our daughters to you, and we will take your daughters to us, and we will dwell with you, and be one people.

17 But if ye will not hearken unto us to be circumciſed, then will we take our daughter and depart.

18 Now their words pleaſed Hamor, and Shechem, Hamor's ſon.

19 And the young man deferred not to do the thing, becauſe he loved Jacob's daughter: he was alſo the ‡ moſt ſet by of all his father's houſe.

20 ¶ Then Hamor and Shechem his ſon went unto the [x] gate of their city, and communed with the men of their city, ſaying,

21 Theſe men are [y] peaceable with us: and that they may dwell in the land, and do their affairs therein (for behold, the land hath room enough for them) let us take their daughters to wives, and give them our daughters.

22 Only herein will the men conſent unto us for to dwell with us, and to be one people, if all the men children among us be circumciſed as they are circumciſed.

23 Shall not [z] their flocks and their ſubſtance, and all their cattle, be ours? only let us conſent herein unto them, and they will dwell with us.

24 And unto Hamor, and Shechem his ſon, hearkened all that went out of the gate of his city: and all the men children were circumciſed, even all that went out of the gate of his city.

25 And on the third day (when they were ſore) two of the ſons of Jacob, [a] Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brethren, took either of them his ſword, and went into the city boldly, and * ſlew [b] every male.

* Ch. 49. 6.

26 They ſlew alſo Hamor and Shechem his ſon with the † edge of the ſword, and took Dinah out of Shechem's houſe, and went their way.

27 Again the other ſons of Jacob came upon the dead, and ſpoiled the city, becauſe they had defiled their ſiſter.

28 They took their ſheep, and their beeves, and their aſſes, and whatſoever was in the city, and in the fields.

29 Alſo they carried away captive and ſpoiled all their goods, and all their children, and their wives, and all that was in the houſes.

30 Then Jacob ſaid to Simeon and Levi, Ye have troubled me, and made me ‡ ſtink among the inhabitants of the land, as well the Canaanites, as the Perizzites, and I being few in number, they ſhall gather themſelves together againſt me, and ſlay me, and ſo ſhall I and my houſe be deſtroyed.

‡ Or, to the abhorred.

31 And they anſwered, Should he abuſe our ſiſter as a whore?

THEN [c] God ſaid to Jacob, Ariſe, go up to Beth-el, and dwell there, and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee, * when thou fleddeſt from Eſau thy brother.

* Ch. 28. 13.

2 Then ſaid Jacob unto his houſhold, and to all that were with him, Put away the ſtrange gods that are among you, and [d] cleanſe yourſelves, and change your garments:

3 For we will riſe and go up to Beth-el, and I will make an altar there unto God, which heard me in the day of my tribulation, and was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gave unto Jacob all the ſtrange gods, which were in their hands, and all their [e] ear-rings which were in their ears, and Jacob hid them under an oak, which was by Shechem.

5 Then they went on their journey, and the [f] fear of God was upon the cities that were round about them; ſo that they did not follow after the ſons of Jacob.

6 ¶ So came Jacob to Luz, which is in the land of Canaan: (the ſame is Beth-el) he and all the people that was with him.

7 And he built there an altar, and * called the place, The God of Beth-el, becauſe that God appeared unto him there, when he fled from his brother.

* Ch. 28. 19.

8 Then Deborah Rebekah's nurſe died, and was buried beneath Beth-el under an oak: and he called the name of it ‡ Allon Bachuth.

‡ Or, oak of lamentation.

9 ¶ Again God appeared unto Jacob after he came out of Padan-aram, and bleſſed him.

10 Moreover God ſaid unto him, Thy name is Jacob: thy name ſhall be no more called Jacob, but * Iſrael ſhall be thy name: and he called his name Iſrael.

* Ch. 32. 28.

11 Again God ſaid unto him, I am God ‡ all-ſufficient: grow, and multiply, a nation and a multitude of nations ſhall ſpring out of thee, and kings ſhall come out of thy loins.

‡ Or, Almighty.

12 Alſo I will give the land, which I gave to Abraham and Iſaac, unto thee: and unto thy ſeed after thee will I give that land.

13 So God [g] aſcended from him in the place where he had talked with him.

14 And Jacob ſet up a pillar in the place where he talked with him, a pillar of ſtone, and poured drink-offering thereon: alſo he poured oil thereon.

15 And Jacob called the name of the place where God ſpake with him, Beth-el.

16 ¶ Then they departed from Beth-el, and when there was [h] about half a day's journey of ground to come to Ephrath, Rachel travailed, and in travailing ſhe was in peril.

19 Thus * died Rachel, and was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Bethlehem.

* Ch. 48. 7.

20 And Jacob ſet a [i] pillar upon her grave: This is the pillar of Rachel's grave unto this day.

2 The wives of Eſau. 7 Jacob and Eſau are rich. 9 The genealogy of Eſau. 24 The finding of mules.

NOW theſe are the [l] generations of Eſau, which is Edom.

* 1 Chron. 1. 35.

10 Theſe are the names of Eſau's ſons: * Eliphaz, the ſon of Adah, the wife of Eſau: and Reuel the ſon of Baſhemath, the wife of Eſau.

11 And the ſons of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, Zepho, and Gatam, and Kenaz.

12 And Timna was concubine to Eliphaz Eſau's ſon, and bare unto Eliphaz, Amalek: theſe be the ſons of Adah Eſau's wife.

13 ¶ And theſe are the ‡ ſons of Reuel: Nahath and Zerah, Shammah and Mizzah: theſe were the ſons of Baſhemath Eſau's wife.

14 ¶ And theſe were the ſons of Aholibamah the daughter of Anah, ‡ daughter of Zibeon Eſau's wife: for ſhe bare unto Eſau, Jeuſh, and Jaalam, and Korah.

‡ Or, chief men.

15 ¶ Theſe were ‡ [o] dukes of the ſons of Eſau: the ſons of Eliphaz, the firſt-born of Eſau: duke Teman, duke Omar, duke Zepho, duke Kenaz,

‡ Or, nephews.

18 ¶ Likewiſe theſe were the ſons of Aholibamah Eſau's wife: duke Jeuſh, duke Jaalam, duke Korah: theſe dukes came of Aholibamah, the daughter of Anah Eſau's wife.

19 Theſe are the chidren of Eſau, and theſe are the dukes of them: This Eſau is Edom.

23 And the ſons of Shobal were theſe: Alvan, and Manahath, and Ebal, Shepho, and Onam.

24 And theſe are the ſons of Zibeon: both Ajah, and Anah: this was Anah that found [q] mules in the wilderneſs, as he fed his father Zibeon's aſſes.

25 And the children of Anah were theſe: Diſhon, and Aholibamah the daughter of Anah.

Bef. Chr. 1780.

31 ¶ And theſe are the [r] kings that reigned in the land of Edom, before there reigned any king over the children of Iſrael.

32 Then Bela the ſon of Beor reigned in Edom, and the name of his city was Dinhabah.

33 And when Bela died, Jobab the ſon of Zerah of Bozrah reigned in his ſtead.

34 When Jobab alſo was dead, Huſham of the land of Temani reigned in his ſtead.

35 And after the death of Huſham, Hadad the ſon of Bedad, which ſlew Midian in the field of Moab, reigned in his ſtead, and the name of his city was Avith.

36 When Hadad was dead, then Samlah of Maſrekah reigned in his ſtead.

37 When Samlah was dead, Saul of [s] Rehoboth by the river reigned in his ſtead.

38 When Saul died, Baal-hanan the ſon of Achbor reigned in his ſtead.

father's wives. And Joſeph brought unto their father their ‡ [w] evil ſaying.

3 Now Iſrael loved Joſeph more than all his ſons, becauſe he begat him in his old age, and he made him a coat of many ‡ colours.

‡ Or, pieces.

4 So when his brethren ſaw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, then they hated him, and could not ſpeak peaceably unto him.

5 ¶ And Joſeph [x] dreamed a dream, and told his brethren, who hated him ſo much the more.

6 For he ſaid unto them, Hear, I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed.

7 Behold now, we were binding ſheaves in the midſt of the field: and lo, my ſheaf aroſe, and alſo ſtood upright, and behold, your ſheaves compaſſed round about, and did reverence to my ſheaf.

8 Then his brethren ſaid to him, What, ſhalt thou reign over us, and rule us? or ſhalt thou have altogether dominion over us? And they [y] hated him ſo much the more, for his dreams, and for his words.

9 ¶ Again he dreamed another dream, and told it his brethren, and ſaid, Behold, I have had one dream more, and behold, the ſun and the moon, and eleven ſtars did reverence to me.

10 Then he told it unto his father, and to his brethren, and his father [z] rebuked him, and ſaid unto him, What is this dream, which thou haſt dreamed? Shall I, and thy mother, and thy brethren come indeed, and fall on the ground before thee?

11 And his brethren envied him, but his father ‡ [a] noted the ſaying.

‡ Or, kept diligently.

12 ¶ Then his brethren went to keep their father's ſheep in Shechem.

13 And Iſrael ſaid unto Joſeph, Do not thy brethren keep in Shechem? come, and I will ſend thee to them.

14 And he anſwered him, I am here. Then he ſaid unto him, Go now, ſee whether it be well with thy brethren, and how the flocks proſper, and bring me word again: ſo he ſent him from the vale of Hebron, and he came to Shechem.

15 ¶ Then a man found him: for lo, he was wandering in the field, and the man aſked him, ſaying, What ſeekeſt thou?

16 And he anſwered, I ſeek my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they keep ſheep.

17 And the man ſaid, They are departed hence: for I heard them ſay, Let us go unto Dothan. Then went Joſeph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they ſaw him afar off, even before he came at them, they [b] conſpired againſt him for to ſlay him.

19 For they ſaid one to another, Behold, this ‡ dreamer cometh.

‡ Or, maſter of dreams.

20 Come now therefore, and let us ſlay him, and caſt him into ſome pit, and we will ſay, A wicked beaſt hath devoured him: then we ſhall ſee what will come of his dreams.

21 * But when Reuben heard that, he delivered him out of their hands, and ſaid, † Let us not kill him.

* Ch. 42. 22.

22 Alſo Reuben ſaid unto them, Shed not blood, but caſt him into this pit that is in the wilderneſs, and lay no hand upon him. Thus he ſaid, that he might deliver him out of their hand, and reſtore him to his father again.

23 ¶ Now when Joſeph was come unto his brethren, they ſtript Joſeph out of his coat, his party-coloured coat that was upon him.

24 And they took him, and caſt [c] him into a pit, and the pit was empty without water in it.

25 Then they ſat them down to eat bread: and they lift up their eyes and looked, and behold, there came a company of Iſhmaelites from Gilead, and their camels laden with ſpicery, and ‡ balm, and myrrh, and were going to carry it down into Egypt.

‡ Or, roſin, turpentine, or treacle.

26 Then Judah ſaid unto his brethren, What availeth it, if we ſlay our brother, though we keep his blood ſecret?

27 Come and let us ſell him to the Iſhmaelites, and let not our hands be upon him: for he is our brother, and our fleſh: and his brethren obeyed.

28 Then the * Midianites merchant-men paſſed by, and they drew forth and lift Joſeph out of the pit, and ſold Joſeph unto the [d] Iſhmaelites for twenty pieces of ſilver: who brought Joſeph into Egypt.

* Pſ. 105. 17.

29 ¶ Afterward Reuben returned to the pit, and behold, Joſeph was not in the pit: then he rent his clothes,

30 And returned to his brethren, and ſaid, The child is not yonder, and I, whither ſhall I go?

31 And they took Joſeph's coat, and killed a kid of the goats, and dipped the coat in the blood.

32 So they ſent that party-coloured coat, [e] and they brought it unto their father, and ſaid, This have we found: ſee now whether it be thy ſon's coat, or no.

33 Then he knew it, and ſaid, It is my ſon's coat: a wicked beaſt hath * devoured him: Joſeph is ſurely torn in pieces.

* Ch. 44. 28.

34 And Jacob rent his clothes, and put ſackcloth about his loins, and ſorrowed for his ſon a long ſeaſon.

35 Then all his ſons, and all his daughters roſe up to comfort him, but he would not be comforted, but ſaid, ‡ Surely I will go down into the grave unto my ſon mourning: ſo his father wept for him.

‡ Or, I will mourn for him ſo long as I live.

36 And the Midianites ſold him into Egypt unto Potiphar [f] an eunuch of Pharaoh's, and his ‡ chief Steward.

‡ Or, captain of the guard.

AND at that time [g] Judah went down from his brethren, and turned in to a man called Hirah an Adullamite.

* 1 Chron. 2. 3.

2 And Judah ſaw there the daughter of a man called * Shuah a [h] Canaanite: and he took her to wife, and went in unto her.

3 So ſhe conceived and bare a ſon, and he called his name Er.

* Num. 26. 19.

4 * And ſhe conceived again, and bare a ſon, and ſhe called his name Onan.

5 Moreover ſhe bare yet a ſon, whom ſhe called Shelah: and Judah was at Chezib when ſhe bare him.

6 Then Judah took a wife to Er his firſt-born ſon, whoſe name was Tamar.

* Num. 26. 19.

7 * Now Er the firſt-born of Judah was wicked in the ſight of the Lord: therefore the Lord ſlew him.

8 Then Judah ſaid to Onan, Go in unto thy brother's wife, and do the office of a kinſman unto her, and raiſe up [i] ſeed unto thy brother.

9 And Onan knew that the ſeed ſhould not be his: therefore when he went in unto his brother's wife, he ſpilled it on the ground, leſt he ſhould give ſeed unto his brother.

10 And it was wicked in the eyes of the Lord, which he did: wherefore he ſlew him alſo.

11 Then ſaid Judah to Tamar his daughter-in-law, [k] Remain a widow in thy father's houſe, till Shelah my ſon grow up (for he thought thus, Leſt he die as well as his brethren.) So Tamar went and dwelt in her father's houſe.

† Heb. was comforted.

12 ¶ And in proceſs of time alſo, the daughter of Shuah Judah's wife died. Then Judah, when he † had left mourning, went up to his ſheep-ſhearers to Timnath, he and his neighbour Hirah the Adullamite.

13 And it was told Tamar, ſaying, Behold, thy father-in-law goethup to Timnath, to ſhear his ſheep.

‡ Or, in the door of the fountains, or, where were two ways.

14 Then ſhe put her widow's garments off from her, and covered her with a vail, and wrapped herſelf, and ſat down in ‡ Pethah-enaim, which is by the way to Timnath, becauſe ſhe ſaw that Shelah was grown, and ſhe was not given unto him to wife.

15 When Judah ſaw her, he judged her an whore: for ſhe had covered her face.

16 And he turned to the way towards her, and ſaid, Come, I pray thee, let me lie with thee: (for he [l] knew not that ſhe was his daughter-in-law.) And ſhe anſwered, What wilt thou give me for to lie with me?

Bef. Chr. 1727.

17 Then ſaid he, I will ſend thee a kid of the goats from the flock: and ſhe ſaid, Well, if thou wilt give me a pledge, till thou ſend it.

‡ Or, tyre of thine head.

18 Then he ſaid, What is the pledge that I ſhall give thee? And ſhe anſwered, Thy ſignet, and thy ‡ cloak, and thy ſtaff that is in thine hand. So he gave it her, and lay by her, and ſhe was with child by him.

19 Then ſhe roſe, and went and put her veil from her, and put on her widow's raiment.

20 Afterward Judah ſent a kid of the goats by the hand of his [m] neighbour the Adullamite, for to receive his pledge from the woman's hand: but he found her not.

21 Then aſked he the men of that place, ſaying, Where is the whore that ſat in Enaim, by the way-ſide? And they anſwered, There was no whore here.

22 He came therefore to Judah again, and ſaid, I cannot find her: and alſo the men of the place ſaid, There was no whore there.

† Heb. in contempt.

23 Then Judah ſaid, Let her take it to her, leſt we be † [n] aſhamed: behold, I ſent this kid, and thou haſt not found her.

24 ¶ Now after three months, one told Judah, ſaying, Tamar thy daughter-in-law hath played the whore, and lo, with playing the whore, ſhe is great with child. Then Judah ſaid, Bring ye her forth, and let her be [o] burnt.

25 When ſhe was brought forth, ſhe ſent to her father-in-law, ſaying, By the man unto whom theſe things pertain, am I with child: and ſaid alſo, Look, I pray thee, whoſe theſe are, the ſeal, and the cloak, and the ſtaff.

26 Then Judah knew them, and ſaid, She is [p] more righteous than I: for ſhe hath done it becauſe I gave her not to Shelah my ſon. So he lay with her [q] no more.

27 ¶ Now when the time was come that ſhe ſhould be delivered, behold, there were twins in her womb.

28 And when ſhe was in travail, the one put out his hand: and the midwife took and bound a red thread about his hand, ſaying, This is come out firſt.

* 1 Chron. 2. 4. Matt. 1. 3.

29 But when he [r] plucked his hand back again, lo, his brother came out, and the midwife ſaid, How haſt [s] thou broken the breach upon thee? and his name was called * Pharez.

30 And afterward came out his brother that had the red thread about his hand, and his name was called Zarah.

1 Joſeph is ſold to Potiphar. 2 God proſpereth him. 7 Potiphar's wiſe tempteth him. 13, 20 He is accuſed and caſt into priſon. 21 God ſheweth him favour.

NOW Joſeph was brought down into Egypt: and Potiphar [t] an eunuch of Pharaoh's (and his chief ſteward, an Egyptian) bought him at the hand of the Iſhmaelites, which had brought him thither.

2 And the [u] Lord was with Joſeph, and he was a man that proſpered, and was in the houſe of his maſter the Egyptian.

3 And his maſter ſaw that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to proſper in his hand.

4 So Joſeph found favour in his ſight, and ſerved him: and he made him [w] ruler of his houſe, and put all that he had in his hand.

5 And from that time that he had made him ruler over his houſe, and over all that he had, the Lord [x] bleſſed the Egyptian's houſe for Joſeph's ſake: and the bleſſing of the Lord was upon all that he had in the houſe, and in the field.

6 Therefore he left all that he had in Joſeph's hand, [y] and took account of nothing that was with him, ſave only of the bread which he did eat. And Joſeph was a fair perſon, and well favoured.

7 ¶ Now therefore after theſe things, his maſter's wife caſt her eyes upon Joſeph, and ſaid, [z] Lie with me.

8 But he refuſed, and ſaid to his maſter's wife, Behold, my maſter knoweth not what he hath in the houſe with me, but hath committed all that he hath to mine hand.

9 There is no man greater in this houſe than I: neither hath he kept any thing from me, but only thee, becauſe thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedneſs, and ſo ſin againſt [a] God?

10 And albeit ſhe ſpake to Joſeph day by day, yet he hearkened not unto her to lie with her, or to be in her company.

11 Then on a certain day Joſeph entered into the houſe to do his buſineſs: and there was no man of the houſhold in the houſe.

12 Therefore ſhe caught him by his garment, ſaying, Sleep with me: but he left his garment in her hand, and fled, and gat him out.

13 Now when ſhe ſaw that he had left his garment in her hand and was fled out.

14 She called unto the men of her houſe, and told them, ſaying, Behold, he hath brought in an Hebrew unto us ‡ to mock us: who came in to me for to have ſlept with me: but I [b] cried with a loud voice.

‡ Or, to do us villainy and ſhame.

15 And when he heard that I lift up my voice and cried, he left his garment with me, and fled away, and gat him out.

16 So ſhe laid up his garment by her, until her lord came home.

17 Then ſhe told him ‡ according to theſe words, ſaying, The Hebrew ſervant, which thou haſt brought unto us, came in to me, to mock me.

‡ Or, after this manner.

18 But as ſoon as I lift up my voice and cried, he left his garment with me, and fled out.

19 Then when his maſter heard the words of his wife, which ſhe told him, ſaying, After this manner did thy ſervant to me, his anger was kindled.

20 And Joſeph's maſter took him and put him in † [c] priſon, in the place where the king's priſoners lay bound: and there he was in priſon.

21 ¶ But the Lord was with Joſeph, and † ſhewed him mercy, and gat him favour in the ſight of the ‡ maſter of the priſon.

† Heb. inclined mercy unto him.

22 And the keeper of the priſon committed to Joſeph's hand all the priſoners that were in the priſon, and [d] whatſoever they did there, that did he.

23 And the keeper of the priſon looked unto nothing that was under his hand, ſeeing that the Lord was with him: for whatſoever he did, the Lord made it to proſper.

8 The interpretation of dreams is of God. 12, 19 Joſeph expoundeth the dreams of the two priſoners. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

AND after theſe things, the butler of the king of Egypt and his baker offended their lord the king of Egypt.

2 And Pharaoh was angry againſt his two ‡ officers, againſt the chief butler, and againſt the chief baker.

‡ Or, eunuchs, the word ſignifieth them that were in high eſtate, or them that were gelded.

3 Therefore he put them in ward in his chief ſteward's houſe, in the priſon and place where [e] Joſeph was bound.

4 And the chief ſteward gave Joſeph charge over them, and he ſerved them: and they continued a ſeaſon in ward.

5 ¶ And they both dreamed a dream, either of them his dream in one night, [f] each one according to the interpretation of his dream, both the butler and the baker of the king of Egypt, which were bound in the priſon.

6 And when Joſeph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, behold, they were ſad.

7 And he aſked Pharaoh's officers, that were with him in his maſter's ward, ſaying, Wherefore † look ye ſo ſadly to-day?

† Heb. why are your faces evil?

8 Who anſwered him, We have dreamed each one a dream, and there is none to interpret the ſame. Then Joſeph ſaid unto [g] them, Are not interpretations of God? tell them me now.

Bef. Chr. 1718.

10 And in the vine were three branches, and as it budded, her flower came forth: and the cluſters of the grapes waxed ripe.

11 And I had Pharaoh's cup in mine hand, and I took the grapes, and wrung them into Pharaoh's cup, and I gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand.

12 Then Joſeph ſaid unto him, This [h] is the interpretation of it: The three branches are three days.

13 Within three days ſhall Pharaoh lift up thine head, and reſtore thee unto thine † office, and thou ſhalt give Pharaoh's cup into his hand after the old manner, when thou waſt his butler.

14 But have me in remembrance with thee, when thou art in good caſe, and ſhew mercy, I pray thee, unto me, and [i] make mention of me to Pharaoh, that thou mayeſt bring me out of this houſe.

15 For I was ſtolen away by theft out of the land of the Hebrews, and here alſo have I done nothing, wherefore they ſhould put me ‡ in the dungeon.

‡ Or, in the pit.

16 And when the chief baker ſaw that the interpretation was good, he ſaid unto Joſeph, Alſo methought in my dream, that I had three [k] white baſkets on mine head.

17 And in the uppermoſt baſket there was of all manner baken meats for Pharaoh: and the birds did eat them out of the baſket upon mine head.

18 Then Joſeph anſwered, and ſaid, [l] This is the interpretation thereof: The three baſkets are three days.

19 Within three days ſhall Pharaoh take thine head from thee, and ſhall hang thee on a tree, and the birds ſhall eat thy fleſh from off thee.

20 ¶ And ſo the third day, which was Pharaoh's [m] birth-day, he made a feaſt unto all his ſervants: and he lifted up the head of the chief butler, and the head of the chief baker among his ſervants.

21 And he reſtored the chief butler unto his butlerſhip, who gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand, 22 But he hanged the chief baker, as Joſeph had interpreted unto them.

23 Yet the chief butler did not remember Joſeph, but forgat him.

CHAP. XLI.

26 Pharaoh's dreams are expounded by Joſeph. 40 He is made ruler over all Egypt. 43 Joſeph's name is changed. 50 He hath two ſons, Manaſſeh and Ephraim. 54 The famine beginneth throughout the world.

AND † two years after, Pharaoh alſo [n] dreamed, and behold, he ſtood by a river, † Heb. at the end of two years of days.

2 And lo, there came out of the river ſeven ‡ goodly kine and fat fleſhed, and they fed in a ‡ meadow:

Bef. Chr. 1715.

‡ Or, fair to behold.

‡ Or, flaggy places.

3 And lo, ſeven other kine came up after them out of the river, evil favoured and lean fleſhed, and ſtood by the other kine upon the brink of the river.

4 And the evil favoured and lean fleſhed kine did eat up the ſeven well favoured and fat kine: ſo Pharaoh awoke.

5 Again he ſlept, and dreamed the [o] ſecond time: and behold, ſeven ears of corn grew upon one ſtalk, rank and goodly.

6 And lo, ſeven thin ears, and blaſted with the Eaſt wind, ſprang up after them.

7 And the thin ears devoured the ſeven rank and full ears: then Pharaoh awaked, and lo, it was a dream.

8 Now when the morning came, his ſpirit was [p] troubled: therefore he ſent and called all the ſoothſayers of Egypt, and all the wiſe men thereof, and Pharaoh told them his dreams: but [q] none could interpret them to Pharaoh.

9 Then ſpake the chief butler unto Pharaoh, ſaying, I [r] call to mind my faults this day.

10 Pharaoh being angry with his ſervants, put me in ward in the chief ſteward's houſe, both me and the chief baker.

11 Then we dreamed a dream in one night, both I, and he: we dreamed each man according to the interpretation of his dream.

12 And there was with us a young man, an Hebrew, ſervant unto the chief ſteward, whom when we told, he declared our dreams to * us, to every one he declared according to his dream.

* Read ch. 40. 5.

13 And as he declared unto us, ſo it came to paſs: for he reſtored me to mine office, and hanged him.

14 * Then ſent Pharaoh, and [s] called Joſeph, and they brought him haſtily out of priſon, and he ſhaved him, and changed his raiment, and came to Pharaoh.

* Pſ. 135. 20.

15 Then Pharaoh ſaid to Joſeph, I have dreamed a dream, and no man can interpret it, and I have heard ſay of thee, that when thou heareſt a dream thou canſt interpret it.

16 And Joſeph anſwered Pharaoh, ſaying, [t] Without me God ſhall † anſwer for the wealth of Pharaoh.

17 And Pharaoh ſaid unto Joſeph, In my dream, behold, I ſtood by the bank of the river:

18 And lo, there came up out of the river ſeven fat fleſhed and well favoured kine, and they fed in the meadow.

19 Alſo lo, ſeven other kine came up after them, poor and very † evil favoured, and lean fleſhed: I never ſaw the like in all the land of Egypt, for evil favoured.

20 And the lean and evil favoured kine did eat up the firſt ſeven fat kine.

[h] He was aſſured by the Spirit of God, that his interpretation was true.

[i] He refuſed not the means to be delivered, which he thought God had appointed.

[k] That is, made of white twigs, or, as ſome read, baſkets full of holes.

[l] He ſheweth that the miniſters of God ought not to conceal that which God revealeth unto them.

[m] Which was an occaſion to appoint his officers, and ſo to examine them that were in priſon.

[n] This dream was not ſo much for Pharaoh, as to be a means to deliver Joſeph, and to provide for God's church.

[o] All theſe means God uſeth to deliver his ſervant, and to bring him into favour and authority.

[p] This fear was enough to teach him, that this viſion was ſent of God.

[q] The wiſe of the world underſtand not God's ſecrets, but to his ſervants his will is revealed.

[r] He confeſſeth his fault againſt the king, before he ſpake of Joſeph.

[s] The wicked ſeek to the prophets of God in their neceſſity, whom in their proſperity they abhor.

[t] As though he would ſay, If I interpret thy dream, it cometh of God, and not of me.

Bef. Chr. 1715.

21 And when they † had eaten them up, it could not be known that they had eaten them, but they were ſtill as evil favoured as they were at the beginning: ſo did I awake.

† Heb. were gone into their inward parts.

22 Moreover, I ſaw in my dream, and behold, ſeven ears ſprang out of one ſtalk, full and fair.

23 And lo, ſeven ears, withered, thin, and blaſted with the eaſt wind, ſprang up after them.

24 And the thin ears devoured the ſeven good ears. Now I have told the ſoothſayers, and none can declare it unto me.

25 ¶ Then Joſeph anſwered Pharaoh, Both Pharaoh's dreams are [w] one. God hath ſhewed Pharaoh what he is about to do.

26 The ſeven good kine are ſeven years, and the ſeven good ears are ſeven years: this is one dream.

27 Likewiſe the ſeven thin and evil favoured kine, that came out after them, are ſeven years: and the ſeven empty ears blaſted with the eaſt wind are ſeven years of famine.

28 This is the thing which I have ſaid unto Pharaoh, that God hath ſhewed unto Pharaoh what he is about to do.

29 Behold, there come ſeven years of great ‡ plenty in all the land of Egypt.

‡ Or, abundance and ſaturity.

30 Again, there ſhall ariſe after them ſeven years of famine, ſo that all the plenty ſhall be forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine ſhall conſume the land:

31 Neither ſhall the plenty ‡ be known in the land, by reaſon of this famine that ſhall come after: for it ſhall be exceeding great.

‡ Or, they ſhall remember no more the plenty.

32 And therefore the dream was doubled unto Pharoah the ſecond time, becauſe the thing is eſtabliſhed by God, and God haſteth to perform it.

33 Now therefore let Pharaoh [x] provide for a man of underſtanding and wiſdom, and ſet him over the land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaoh make and appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the ſeven plenteous years.

35 Alſo let them gather all the food of theſe good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh for food in the cities, and let them keep it.

36 So the food ſhall be for the proviſion of the land, againſt the ſeven years of famine which ſhall be in the land of Egypt, that the land periſh not by famine.

37 ¶ And the ſaying pleaſed Pharaoh, and all his ſervants.

38 Then ſaid Pharaoh unto his ſervants, Can we find ſuch a man as this, in whom is the [y] Spirit of God?

39 Then Pharaoh ſaid to Joſeph, Foraſmuch as God hath ſhewed thee all this, there is no man of underſtanding or of wiſdom like unto thee.

40 * Thou ſhalt be over mine houſe, and at thy † [z] word ſhall all my people be armed, only in the king's throne will I be above thee.

* Pſ. 105. 21. Acts 7. 10.
† Heb. mouth.

Bef. Chr. 1708.

41 Moreover, Pharaoh ſaid to Joſeph, Behold, I have ſet thee over all the land of Egypt.

42 And Pharaoh took off his ‡ ring from his hand, and put it upon Joſeph's hand, and arrayed him in garments of fine linen, and put a golden chain about his neck.

43 So he ſet him upon the † beſt chariot that he had, ſave one: and they cried before him, [a] Abrech, and placed him over all the land of Egypt.

† Heb. ſecond chariot.

44 Again Pharaoh ſaid unto Joſeph, I am Pharaoh, and without thee ſhall no man lift up his hand or his foot in all the land of Egypt.

45 And Pharaoh called Joſeph's name ‡ Zaphnath-paaneah: and he gave him to wife Aſenath the daughter of Poti-pherah ‡ prince of On. Then went Joſeph abroad in the land of Egypt.

‡ Or, the expounder of ſecrets.
‡ Or, prieſt.

46 ¶ And Joſeph was [b] thirty years old when he ſtood before Pharaoh king of Egypt: and Joſeph departing from the preſence of Pharaoh, went throughout all the land of Egypt.

47 And in the ſeven plenteous years the earth † brought forth ſtore.

† Heb. made for gatherings.

48 And he gathered up all the food of the ſeven plenteous years, which were in the land of Egypt, and laid up food in the cities: the food of the field, that was round about every city, laid he up in the ſame.

49 So Joſeph gathered wheat, like unto the ſand of the ſea, in multitude out of meaſure, until he left numbering: for it was without number.

50 Now unto Joſeph were born * two ſons (before the years of famine came) which Aſenath the daughter of Poti-pherah prince of On bare unto him.

* Ch. 46. 20. and 48. 5.

51 And Joſeph called the name of the firſtborn Manaſſeh: for God, ſaid he, hath made me forget all my labour, and all [c] my father's houſhold.

52 Alſo he called the name of the ſecond, Ephraim: for God, ſaid he, hath made me fruitful in the land of mine affliction.

53 ¶ So the ſeven years of plenty that was in the land of Egypt were ended.

54 * Then began the ſeven years of famine to come, according as Joſeph had ſaid: and the famine was in all lands, but in all the land of Egypt was ‡ bread.

* Pſ. 105. 16.
‡ Or, food.

55 At the length all the land of Egypt was famiſhed, and the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh ſaid unto all the Egyptians, Go to Joſeph: what he ſaith to you, do ye.

56 When the famine was upon all the land, Joſeph opened all places wherein the ſtore was, and ſold unto the Egyptians: for the famine waxed ſore in the land of Egypt.

57 And all countries ‡ came to Egypt to buy corn of Joſeph, becauſe the famine was ſore in all lands.

‡ Or, came to Egypt to Joſeph.

THEN [d] Jacob ſaw that there was ‡ food in Egypt, and Jacob ſaid unto his ſons, Why [e] gaze ye one upon another?

* Acts 7. 12.

2 And he ſaid, Behold, I have heard that there is food in Egypt, * Get you down thither, and buy us food thence, that we may live and not die.

4 But Benjamin Joſeph's brother, would not Jacob ſend with his brethren: for he ſaid, Leſt death ſhould befall † him.

5 And the ſons of Iſrael came to buy food among them that came: for there was famine in the land of Canaan.

6 Now Joſeph was governor of the land, who ſold to all the people of the land: then Joſeph's brethren came, and bowed their face to the ground before him.

7 And when Joſeph ſaw his brethren, he knew them, and made [f] himſelf ſtrange toward them, and ſpake to them roughly, and ſaid unto them, Whence come ye? Who anſwered, Out of the land of Canaan, to buy victuals.

9 And Joſeph remembered the * dreams which he dreamed of them) And he ſaid unto them, Ye are ſpies, and are come to ſee the † weakneſs of the land.

† Heb. nakedneſs, or filthineſs.

10 But they ſaid unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy victuals thy ſervants are come.

11 We are all one man's ſons: we mean truly, and thy ſervants are no ſpies.

12 But he ſaid unto them, Nay, but ye are come to ſee the weakneſs of the land.

13 And they ſaid, We thy ſervants are twelve brethren, the ſons of one man in the land of Canaan: and behold, the youngeſt is this day with our father, and one ‡ is not.

‡ Or, is dead.

14 Again Joſeph ſaid unto them, This is it that I ſpake unto you, ſaying, Ye are ſpies.

15 Hereby ye ſhall be proved: [g] by the life of Pharaoh, ye ſhall not go hence, except your youngeſt brother come hither.

16 Send one of you which may fetch your brother, and ye ſhall be kept in priſon, that your words may be proved, whether there be truth in you: or elſe by the life of Pharaoh ye are but ſpies.

17 So he put them in ward three days.

18 Then Joſeph ſaid unto them the third day, This do, and live: for I [h] fear God.

* Ch. 37. 22.

22 And Reuben anſwered them, ſaying, Warned I not you, ſaying, * Sin not againſt the child, and ye would not hear? and lo, [k] his blood is now required.

24 Then he turned from them, and [l] wept, and turned to them again, and communed with them, and took Simeon from among them, and bound him before their eyes.

25 ¶ So Joſeph commanded that they ſhould fill their ſacks with wheat, and put every man's money again in his ſack, and give them victuals for the journey: and thus did he unto them.

26 And they laid their victuals upon their aſſes, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his ſack for to give his aſs provender in the inn, he eſpied his money: for lo, it was in the ſack's mouth.

28 Then he ſaid unto his brethren, My money is reſtored: for lo, it is even in my ſack. And their heart failed † them, and they were [m] aſtoniſhed, and ſaid one to another, What is this that God hath done unto us?

† Heb. went out.

29 And they came unto Jacob their father unto the land of Canaan, and told him all that had befallen them, ſaying,

34 And bring your youngeſt brother unto me, that I may know that ye are no ſpies, but true men: ſo will I deliver you your brother, and ye ſhall occupy in the land.

35 ¶ And as they emptied their ſacks, behold, every man's bundle of money was in his ſack: and when they and their father ſaw the bundles of their money, they were afraid.

36 Then Jacob their father ſaid to them, Ye have robbed me of my children: Joſeph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin: all theſe things ‡ are againſt [n] me.

13 Then they [b] rent their clothes, and laded every man his aſs, and went again into the city.

14 ¶ So Judah and his brethren came to Joſeph's houſe (for he was yet there): and they fell before him on the ground.

1 Joſeph maketh himſelf known to his brethren. 8 He ſheweth that all was done by God's providence. 18 Pharaoh commandeth him to ſend for his father. 24 Joſeph exhorteth his brethren to concord. 27 Jacob rejoiceth.

THEN Joſeph could not refrain himſelf before all that ſtood by him, but he cried, [h] Have forth every man from me. And there tarried not one with him, while Joſeph uttered himſelf unto his brethren.

2 And he wept, and cried, ſo that the Egyptians heard: the houſe of Pharaoh heard alſo.

3 Then Joſeph ſaid unto his brethren, I am Joſeph: doth my father yet live? But his brethren could not anſwer him, for they were aſtoniſhed at his preſence.

4 Again, Joſeph ſaid to his brethren, Come near, I pray you, to me. And they came near. And he ſaid, * I am Joſeph your brother, whom ye ſold into Egypt.

* Acts 7.13.

5 Now therefore be not [i] ſad, neither grieved with yourſelves, that ye ſold me hither: * for God did ſend me before you for your preſervation.

* Ch. 50.20.

6 For now two years of famine have been through the land, and five years are behind, wherein neither ſhall be earing nor harveſt.

7 Wherefore God ſent me before you to preſerve your poſterity in this land, and to ſave you alive by a great deliverance.

8 Now then you ſent not me hither, but [k] God, who hath made me a father unto Pharaoh, and lord of all his houſe, and ruler throughout all the land of Egypt.

9 Haſte you and go up to my father, and tell him, Thus ſaith thy ſon Joſeph, God hath made me lord of all Egypt: come down to me, tarry not.

10 And thou ſhalt dwell in the land of Goſhen, and ſhalt be near me, thou and thy children, and thy childrens children, and thy ſheep, and thy beaſts, and all that thou haſt.

11 Alſo I will nouriſh thee there (for yet remain five years of famine) leſt thou periſh through poverty, thou and thy houſhold, and all that thou haſt.

12 And behold, your eyes do ſee, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin, that [l] my mouth ſpeaketh to you.

13 Therefore tell my father of all mine honour in Egypt, and of all that ye have ſeen, and make haſte, and bring my father hither.

14 Then he fell on his brother Benjamin's neck, and wept, and Benjamin wept on his neck. Bef. Chr. 1707.

15 Moreover, he kiſſed all his brethren, and wept upon them: and afterward his brethren talked with him.

18 And take your father, and your houſhold, and come to me, and I will give you the [m] beſt of the land of Egypt, and ye ſhall eat of the [n] fat of the land.

19 And I command thee, Thus do ye, take you chariots out of the land of Egypt for your children, and for your wives, and bring your father and come.

23 And unto his father ‡ likewiſe he ſent ten he-aſſes laden with the beſt things of Egypt, and ten ſhe-aſſes laden with wheat, and bread and meat for his father by the way.

‡ Or, he ſent as much, to wit, ſilver, as verſe 22, and ten aſſes.

24 So ſent he his brethren away, and they departed: and he ſaid unto them, [o] Fall not out by the way.

25 ¶ Then they went up from Egypt, and came unto the land of Canaan, unto Jacob their father,

26 And told him, ſaying, Joſeph is yet alive, and he alſo is governor over all the land of Egypt, and Jacob's heart [p] failed: for he believed them not.

27 And they told him all the words of Joſeph, which he had ſaid unto them: but when he ſaw the chariots which Joſeph had ſent to carry him, then the ſpirit of Jacob their father revived.

15 So when money failed in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, then all the Egyptians came unto Joſeph, and ſaid, Give us bread: for why ſhould we die before thee? for our money is ſpent.

16 Then ſaid Joſeph, Bring your cattle, and I will give you for your cattle, if your money be ſpent.

17 So they brought their cattle unto Joſeph, and Joſeph gave them bread for the horſes, and for the flocks of ſheep, and for the herds of cattle, and for the aſſes: ſo he fed them with bread for all their cattle that year.

18 But when the year was ended, they came unto him the next year, and ſaid unto him, We will not hide from my lord, that ſince our money is ſpent, and my lord hath the herds of the cattle, there is nothing left in the ſight of my lord, but our bodies and our ground.

19 Why ſhall we periſh in thy ſight, both we and our [c] land? buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be bound to Pharaoh: therefore give us ſeed, that we may live and not die, and that the land go not to waſte.

24 And of the increaſe ye ſhall give the fifth part unto Pharaoh, and four parts ſhall be yours for the ſeed of the field, and for your meat, and for them of your houſholds, and for your children to eat.

25 Then they anſwered, Thou haſt ſaved our lives: let us find grace in the ſight of my lord, and we will be Pharaoh's ſervants.

26 Then Joſeph made it a law over the land of Egypt unto this day, that Pharaoh ſhould have the fifth part, [e] except the land of the prieſts only, which was not Pharaoh's.

27 ¶ And Iſrael dwelt in the land of Egypt, in the country of Goſhen: and they had their poſſeſſions therein, and grew and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreover, Jacob lived in the land of Egypt ſeventeen years, ſo that the whole age of Jacob was an hundred forty and ſeven years.

29 Now when the time drew near that Iſrael muſt die, he called his ſon Joſeph, and ſaid unto him, If I have now found grace in thy ſight, * put thine hand now under my thigh, and deal mercifully and truly with me: bury me not, I pray thee, in Egypt.

27 ¶ Benjamin ſhall ravin as a wolf: in the morning he ſhall devour the prey, and at night he ſhall divide the ſpoil.

28 ¶ All theſe are the twelve tribes of Iſrael, and thus their father ſpake unto them, and bleſſed them: every one of them bleſſed he with a ſeveral bleſſing.

29 And he charged them, and ſaid unto them, I am ready to be gathered unto my people: * bury me with my fathers in the cave that is in the field of Ephron the Hittite, Bef. Chr. 1689. * Ch. 47. 30.

32 The purchaſe of the field and the cave that is therein, was bought of the children of Heth.

33 Thus Jacob made an end of giving charge to his ſons, and [o] plucked up his feet into the bed, and gave up the ghoſt, and was gathered to his people.

THEN Joſeph fell upon his father's face and wept upon him, and kiſſed him.

6 Then Pharaoh ſaid, Go up and bury thy father, [r] as he made thee to ſwear.

7 ¶ So Joſeph went up to bury his father, and with him went all the ſervants of Pharaoh, both the elders of his houſe, and all the elders of the land of Egypt.

16 Therefore they ſent unto Joſeph, ſaying, Thy father commanded before his death, ſaying,

* Num. 32, 29.

24 And Joſeph ſaid unto his brethren, * I am ready to die, and God will ſurely viſit you, and bring you out of this land, unto the land which he ſware unto Abraham, unto Iſaac, and unto Jacob.

* Heb. 11, 22.

25 And Joſeph took an oath of the children of Iſrael, ſaying, * [x] God will ſurely viſit you, and ye ſhall carry my bones hence.

* Exod. 13, 19.

26 So Joſeph died, when he was an hundred and ten years old: and they embalmed him, and put him in a cheſt in Egypt.

[x] He ſpeaketh this by the ſpirit of prophecy, exhorting his brethren to have full truſt in God's promiſe for their deliverance.

The Second Book of Moſes, called EXODUS.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Jacob, by God's commandment, Gen. 46. 3. had brought his family into Egypt, where they remained for the ſpace of four hundred years, and of ſeventy perſons grew to an infinite number, ſo that the king and the country grudged and endeavoured both by tyranny and cruel ſlavery to ſuppreſs them: the Lord, according to his promiſe, Gen. 15. 14. had compaſſion of his church, and delivered them, but plagued their enemies in moſt ſtrange and ſundry ſorts. And the more that the tyranny of the wicked enraged againſt his church, the more did his heavy judgments increaſe againſt them, till Pharaoh and his army were drowned in the red Sea, which gave an entry and paſſage to the children of God. But as the ingratitude of man is great, ſo did they immediately forget God's wonderful benefits: and albeit he had given them the paſſover to be a ſign and memorial of the ſame, yet they fell to diſtruſt, and tempted God with ſundry murmurings and grudgings againſt him and his miniſters: ſometimes moved with ambition, ſometimes for lack of drink or meat to content their luſts, ſometimes by idolatry, or ſuch like. Wherefore God viſited them with ſharp rods and plagues, that by his corrections they might ſeek to him for remedy againſt his ſcourges, and earneſtly repent them for their rebellions and wickedneſs. And becauſe God loveth them to the end, whom he hath once begun to love, he puniſhed them not according to their deſerts, but dealt with them in great mercies, and ever with new benefits laboured to overcome their malice: for he ſtill governed them, and gave them his word and law, both concerning the manner of ſerving him, and alſo the form of judgments and civil policy: to the intent that they ſhould not ſerve God after their own inventions, but according to that order which his heavenly wiſdom had appointed.

CHAP. I.

2 The children of Jacob that came into Egypt. 8 The new Pharaoh oppreſſeth them. 12 The providence of God toward them. 15 The king's commandment to the midwives. 22 The ſons of the Hebrews are commanded to be caſt into the river.

* Gen. 46. 8.

NOW *[a] theſe are the names of the children of Iſrael, which came into Egypt (every man and his houſhold came thither with Jacob.)

2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah,

3 Iſſachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin,

4 Dan, and Naphtali, Gad, and Aſher.

‡ Or, perſons. * Gen. 46. 27. Deut. 10. 22.

5 So all the ‡ ſouls that came out of the loins of Jacob, were * ſeventy ſouls: Joſeph was in Egypt already.

6 Now Joſeph died, and all his brethren, and that whole generation.

* Acts 7. 17. ‡ Or, did grow.

7 ¶ And the * children of Iſrael ‡ brought forth fruit, and increaſed in abundance, and were multiplied, and were exceeding mighty, ſo that the [b] land was full of them.

8 Then there roſe up a new king in Egypt, who [c] knew not Joſeph.

9 And he ſaid unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Iſrael are greater and mightier than we.

‡ Or, go up out of the land.

10 Come, let us work wiſely with them, leſt they multiply, and it come to paſs, that if there be war, they join themſelves alſo unto our enemies, and fight againſt us, and [d] ‡ get them out of the land.

‡ Or, corn and proviſion.

11 Therefore did they ſet taſk-maſters over them, to keep them under with burdens; and they built the cities Pithom and Raamſes, for the ‡ treaſures of Pharaoh.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they multiplied and grew: therefore [e] they were more grieved againſt the children of Iſrael.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by cruelty cauſed the children of Iſrael to ſerve.

† Heb. wherewith they ſerved themſelves of them by cruelty.

14 Thus they made them weary of their lives by ſore labour in clay and in brick, and in all work in the field, with all manner of bondage, † which they laid upon them moſt cruelly.

15 ¶ Moreover the king of Egypt commanded the midwives of the Hebrew women (of which the one's name was [f] Shiphrah, and the name of the other Puah)

‡ Or, ſeats whereupon they ſat in travel.

16 And ſaid, When ye do the office of a midwife to the women of the Hebrews, and ſee them on their ‡ ſtools, if it be a ſon, then ye ſhall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then let her live.

17 Notwithſtanding the midwives feared God, and did not as the king of Egypt commanded them, but preſerved alive the men children.

18 Then the king of Egypt called for the midwives, and ſaid unto them, Why have ye done thus, and have preſerved alive the men children?

Bef. Chr. 1571.

19 And the midwives anſwered Pharaoh, Becauſe the [g] Hebrew women are not as the women of Egypt; for they are lively, and are delivered ere the midwife come at them.

20 God therefore proſpered the midwives, and the people multiplied and were very mighty.

21 And becauſe the midwives feared God, therefore he [h] made them houſes.

22 Then Pharaoh charged all his people, ſaying, Every man-child that is born, [i] caſt ye into the river, but reſerve every maid-child alive.

CHAP. II.

2 Moſes is born, and caſt into the flags. 5 He is taken up of Pharaoh's daughter, and kept. 12 He killeth the Egyptian. 15 He fleeth and marrieth a wife. 23 The Iſraelites cry unto the Lord.

THEN there went a [k] man of the houſe of Levi, and took to wife a daughter of Levi.

* Num. 26. 59. 1 Chron. 23. 13. Acts 7. 20 Heb. 11. 23.

2 And the woman conceived and bare a ſon: and when ſhe ſaw that he was fair, * ſhe hid him three months.

3 But when ſhe could no longer hide him, ſhe took for him an ark made of reed, and daubed it with ſlime and with pitch, and [l] laid the child therein, and put it among the bulruſhes by the river's brink.

4 Now his ſiſter ſtood afar off, to wit what would come of him.

5 ¶ Then the daughter of Pharaoh came down to waſh her in the river; and her maidens walked by the river's ſide: and when ſhe ſaw the ark among the bulruſhes, ſhe ſent her maid to fetch it.

6 Then ſhe opened it, and ſaw it was a child: and behold, the babe wept: ſo ſhe had compaſſion on it, and ſaid, This is one of the Hebrews children.

7 Then ſaid his ſiſter unto Pharaoh's daughter, Shall I go and call unto thee a nurſe of the Hebrew women to nurſe the child?

8 And Pharach's daughter ſaid to her, Go. So the maid went and called the [m] child's mother.

9 To whom Pharaoh's daughter ſaid, Take this child away, and nurſe it for me, and I will reward thee. Then the woman took the child and nurſed him.

10 Now the child grew, and ſhe brought him unto Pharaoh's daughter, and he was as her ſon, and ſhe called his name Moſes, becauſe, ſaid ſhe, I drew him out of the water.

11 ¶ And in thoſe days, when Moſes was [n] grown, he went forth unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: alſo he ſaw an Egyptian ſmiting an Hebrew, one of his brethren.

4 And when the [x] Lord ſaw that he turned aſide to ſee, God called unto him out of the midſt of the buſh, and ſaid, Moſes, Moſes. And he anſwered, I am here.

8 Therefore I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land into a good land and a large, into a land that [c] floweth with milk and honey, even into the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebuſites.

12 And he anſwered, [f] Certainly I will be with thee: and this ſhall be a token unto thee, that I have ſent thee, After that thou haſt brought the people out of Egypt, ye ſhall ſerve God upon this mountain.

13 Then Moſes ſaid unto God, Behold, when I ſhall come unto the children of Iſrael, and ſhall ſay unto them, The God of your fathers hath ſent me unto you: if they ſay unto me, What is his name? what ſhall I ſay unto them?

14 Then God anſwered Moſes, I AM THAT I AM. Alſo he ſaid, Thus ſhalt thou ſay unto the children of Iſrael, I AM hath ſent me unto you.

15 And God ſpake further unto Moſes, Thus ſhalt thou ſay unto the children of Iſrael, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob, hath ſent me unto you: this is my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all ages.

THEN Moſes anſwered, and ſaid, [k] But lo, they will not believe me, nor hearken unto my voice: for they will ſay, The Lord hath not appeared unto thee.

2 And the Lord ſaid unto him, What is that in thine hand? And he anſwered, A rod.

3 Then ſaid he, Caſt it on the ground. So he caſt it on the ground, and it was turned into a ſerpent: and Moſes fled from it.

4 Again the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail. Then he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it was turned into a rod in his hand.

2 Thou ſhalt ſpeak all that I commanded thee: and Aaron thy brother ſhall ſpeak unto Pharaoh, that he ſuffer the children of Iſrael to go out of his land.

3 But I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and multiply my miracles and my wonders in the land of Egypt.

4 And Pharaoh ſhall not hearken unto you, that I may lay mine hand upon Egypt, and bring out mine armies, even my people, the children of Iſrael, out of the land of Egypt, by great [s] judgments.

5 Then the Egyptians ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſtretch forth mine hand upon Egypt, and bring out the children of Iſrael from among them.

6 So Moſes and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, even ſo did they.

7 (Now Moſes was [t] fourſcore years old, and Aaron fourſcore and three, when they ſpake unto Pharaoh)

11 Then Pharaoh called alſo for the wiſe men and [u] ſorcerers: and thoſe charmers alſo of Egypt did in like manner with their enchantments,

12 For they caſt down every man his rod, and they were turned into ſerpents: but Aaron's rod devoured their rods.

14 ¶ The Lord then ſaid unto Moſes, Pharaoh's heart is ‡ obſtinate, he refuſeth to let the people go.

‡ Or, heavy and dull.

16 And thou ſhalt ſay unto him, The Lord God of the Hebrews hath ſent me unto thee, ſaying, Let my people go, that they may ſerve me in the wilderneſs: and behold, hitherto thou wouldeſt not hear.

17 Thus ſaith the Lord, In this thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord: behold, I will ſmite with the rod that is in mine hand upon the water that is in the river, and it ſhall be turned to blood.

18 And the fiſh that is in the river ſhall die, and the river ſhall ſtink, and it ſhall ‡ grieve the Egyptians to drink of the water of the river.

‡ Or, they ſhall be weary, and abhor to drink.

19 ¶ The Lord then ſpake to Moſes, Say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and ſtretch out thine hand over the waters of Egypt, over their ſtreams, over their rivers, and over their ponds, and over all pools of their waters, and they ſhall be ‡ blood, and there ſhall be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, both in veſſels of wood, and of ſtone.

CHAP. VIII.

6 Frogs are ſent. 13 Moſes prayeth, and they die. 17 Lice are ſent, whereby the ſorcerers acknowledge God's power. 24 Egypt is plagued with noiſome flies. 30 Moſes prayeth again. 32 But Pharaoh's heart is hardened.

AFterward the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Go unto Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Let my people go, that they may ſerve me:

2 And if thou wilt not let them go, behold, I will ſmite all thy country with [z] frogs:

3 And the river ſhall ſcrall full of frogs, which ſhall go up and come into thine houſe, and into thy chamber, where thou ſleepeſt, and upon thy bed, and into the houſe of thy ſervants, and upon thy people, and into thine ovens, and ‡ into thy kneading troughs.

‡ Or, upon thy dough, or into thine ambries.

4 Yea, the frogs ſhall climb up upon thee, and on thy people, and upon all thy ſervants.

5 ¶ Alſo the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Say thou unto Aaron, Stretch out thine hand with thy rod upon the ſtreams, upon the rivers, and upon the ponds, and cauſe frogs to come up upon the land of Egypt.

6 Then Aaron ſtretched out his hand upon the waters of Egypt, and the ‡ frogs came up, and covered the land of [a] Egypt.

‡ The ſecond plague.

7 And the ſorcerers did likewiſe with their ſorceries, and brought frogs up upon the land of Egypt.

8 Then Pharaoh called for Moſes and Aaron,

[s] To ſtrengthen Moſes's faith, God promiſeth again to puniſh moſt ſharply the oppreſſion of his church.

[t] Moſes lived in affliction and baniſhment forty years before he enjoyed his office to deliver God's people.

[u] It ſeemeth that theſe were Jannes and Jambres, read 2 Tim. 3. 8. and ſo, ever the wicked maliciouſly reſiſt the truth of God.

[y] In outward appearance, and after that the ſeven days were ended.

ron, and ſaid, [b] Pray ye unto the Lord, that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people, and I will let the people go, that they may do ſacrifice unto the Lord.

† Heb. have this honour over me. ‡ Or, ſpeak plain unto me.

9 And Moſes ſaid unto Pharaoh, † Concerning me, even ‡ command when I ſhall pray for thee, and for thy ſervants, and for thy people, to deſtroy the frogs from thee, and from thine houſes, that they may remain in the river only.

† Heb. according to thy word.

10 Then he ſaid, To-morrow. And he anſwered, Be it † as thou haſt ſaid, that thou mayeſt know, that there is none like unto the Lord our God.

11 So the frogs ſhall depart from thee, and from thine houſes, and from thy ſervants, and from thy people: only they ſhall remain in the river.

‡ Or, laid upon.

12 Then Moſes and Aaron went out from Pharaoh: and Moſes cried unto the Lord concerning the frogs, which he had ‡ ſent unto Pharaoh.

13 And the Lord did according to the ſaying of Moſes: ſo the frogs [c] died in the houſes, in the towns, and in the fields.

14 And they gathered them together by heaps, and the land ſtank of them.

‡ Or, made his heart heavy.

15 But when Pharaoh ſaw that he had reſt given him, he ‡ hardened his heart, and hearkened not unto them, as the Lord had ſaid.

‡ The third plague.

16 ¶ Again the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Say unto Aaron, Stretch out thy rod, and ſmite the duſt of the earth, that it may be turned to ‡ lice throughout all the land of Egypt.

17 And they did ſo: for Aaron ſtretched out his hand with his rod, and ſmote the duſt of the earth: and lice came upon man and upon beaſt: all the duſt of the earth was lice throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 Now the enchanters aſſayed likewiſe with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they [d] could not. So the lice were upon man and upon beaſt.

19 Then ſaid the enchanters unto Pharaoh, This is [e] the finger of God. But Pharaoh's heart remained obſtinate, and he hearkened not unto them, as the Lord had ſaid.

20 ¶ Moreover the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Riſe up early in the morning, and ſtand before Pharaoh (lo, he will come forth unto the water) and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Let my people go, that they may ſerve me.

‡ Or, a multitude of venomous beaſts, as ſerpents, &c.

21 Elſe, if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I will ſend ‡ ſwarms of flies both upon thee, and upon thy ſervants, and upon thy people, and into thine houſes: and the houſes of the Egyptians ſhall be full of ſwarms of flies, and the ground alſo whereon they are.

‡ Or, I will ſeparate. ‡ Or, land of Egypt.

22 But the land of Goſhen, where my people are, will I cauſe to be ‡ wonderful in that day, ſo that no ſwarms of flies ſhall be there, that thou mayeſt know that I am the Lord in the midſt of the ‡ earth.

23 And I will make a deliverance of my people from thy people: to-morrow ſhall this miracle be.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

‡ The fourth plague.

24 And the Lord did ſo: for there came ‡ great ſwarms of flies into the houſe of Pharaoh, and into his ſervants houſes, ſo that through all the land of Egypt the earth was corrupt by the ſwarms of flies.

25 Then Pharaoh called for Moſes and Aaron, and ſaid, Go, do ſacrifice unto your God in this land.

26 But Moſes anſwered, It is not meet to do ſo: for then we ſhould offer unto the Lord our God that which is an [f] abomination unto the Egyptians. Lo, can we ſacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and they not ſtone us?

* Ch. 3. 18.

27 Let us go three days journey in the deſert, and ſacrifice unto the Lord our God, * as he hath commanded us.

28 And Pharaoh ſaid, I will let you go, that ye may ſacrifice unto the Lord your God in the wilderneſs: but [g] go not far away, pray for me.

29 And Moſes ſaid, Behold, I will go out from thee, and pray unto the Lord, that the ſwarms of flies may depart from Pharaoh, from his ſervants, and from his people to-morrow: but let Pharaoh from henceforth [h] deceive no more, in not ſuffering the people to ſacrifice unto the Lord.

30 So Moſes went out from Pharaoh, and prayed unto the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to the ſaying of Moſes, and the ſwarms of flies departed from Pharaoh, from his ſervants, and from his people, and there remained not one.

32 Yet Pharaoh [i] hardened his heart at this time alſo, and did not let the people go.

CHAP. IX.

3 The murrain of beaſts. 10 The plague of botches and ſores. 23 The horrible hail, thunder, and the lightning. 26 The land of Goſhen is ever excepted. 27 Pharaoh confeſſeth his wickedneſs. 33 Moſes prayeth for him. 35 Yet he is obſtinate.

THEN the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Go to Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus ſaith the Lord God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may ſerve me.

2 But if thou refuſe to let them go, and wilt yet hold them ſtill,

‡ The fifth plague.

3 Behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thy flock which is in the field: for upon the horſes, upon the aſſes, upon the camels, upon the cattle, and upon the ſheep ſhall be a ‡ mighty great murrain.

4 And the Lord ſhall do [k] wonderfully between the beaſts of Iſrael, and the beaſts of Egypt: ſo that there ſhall nothing die, of all that pertaineth to the children of Iſrael.

5 And the Lord appointed a time, ſaying,

---

[b] Not love, but fear cauſeth the very infidels to ſeek unto God.

[c] In things of this life God oft-times heareth the prayers of the juſt for the ungodly.

[d] God confounded their wiſdom and authority in a thing moſt vile.

[e] They acknowledged that this was done by God's power, and not by ſorcery, Luke 11. 20.

[f] For the Egyptians worſhipped divers beaſts, as the ox, the ſheep, and ſuch-like, which the Iſraelites offered in ſacrifice; which thing the Egyptians abhorred to ſee.

[g] So the wicked preſcribe unto God's meſſengers how far they ſhall go.

[h] He could not judge his heart, but yet he chargeth him to do this unfeignedly.

[i] Where God giveth not faith, no miracles can prevail.

[k] He ſhall declare his heavy judgment againſt his enemies, and his favour toward his children.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

To-morrow the Lord ſhall finiſh this thing in this land.

6 So the Lord did this thing on the morrow, and all the cattle of Egypt died: but of the cattle of the children of Iſrael died not one.

7 Then Pharaoh [l] ſent, and behold, there was not one of the cattle of the Iſraelites dead: and the heart of Pharaoh was obſtinate, and he did not let the people go.

‡ Or, embers.

8 ¶ And the Lord ſaid to Moſes, and to Aaron, take your hand full of ‡ aſhes of the furnace, and Moſes ſhall ſprinkle them toward the heaven in the ſight of Pharaoh,

9 And they ſhall be turned to duſt in all the land of Egypt: and it ſhall be as a ſcab breaking out into bliſters upon man, and upon beaſt, throughout all the land of Egypt.

‡ The ſixth plague.

10 Then they took aſhes of the furnace, and ſtood before Pharaoh: and Moſes ſprinkled them toward the heaven, and there came ‡ a ſcab breaking out into bliſters upon man, and upon beaſt.

11 And the ſorcerers could not ſtand before Moſes, becauſe of the ſcab: for the ſcab was upon the enchanters, and upon all the Egyptians.

* Ch. 4. 21.

12 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he hearkened not unto them, * as the Lord had ſaid unto Moſes.

13 ¶ Alſo the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Riſe up early in the morning, and ſtand before Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus ſaith the Lord God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may ſerve me.

14 For I will at this time ſend all my plagues upon [m] thine heart, and upon thy ſervants, and upon thy people, that thou mayeſt know that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For now I will ſtretch out mine hand, that I may ſmite thee and thy people with the peſtilence: and thou ſhalt periſh from the earth.

* Rom. 9. 17.
‡ Or, ſet thee up.
‡ Or, to ſhew thee.

16 And indeed, * for this cauſe have ‡ I appointed thee, to ‡ ſhew my power in thee, and to declare my [n] name throughout all the world.

17 Yet thou exalteſt thyſelf againſt my people, and letteſt them not go.

18 Behold, to-morrow this time I will cauſe to rain a mighty great hail, ſuch as was not in Egypt, ſince the foundation thereof was laid, unto this time.

19 Send therefore now, and [o] gather thy cattle, and all that thou haſt in the field: for upon all the men, and the beaſts, which are found in the field, and not brought home, the hail ſhall fall upon them, and they ſhall die.

20 Such then as feared the word of the Lord among the ſervants of Pharaoh, made his ſervants and his cattle flee into the houſes:

21 But ſuch as † regarded not the [p] word of the Lord, left his ſervants and his cattle in the field.

22 ¶ And the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be hail in all the land of Egypt, upon man, and upon beaſt, and upon all the herbs of the field in the land of Egypt.

Bef. Chr. 1491.
‡ The 7th plague.

23 Then Moſes ſtretched out his rod toward heaven, and the Lord ſent thunder and ‡ hail, and † lightning upon the ground: and the Lord cauſed hail to rain upon the land of Egypt.

‡ Or, ſince it was inhabited.

24 So there was hail, and fire mingled with the hail, ſo grievous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, ‡ ſince it was a nation.

25 And the hail ſmote throughout all the land of Egypt all that was in the field, both man and beaſt: alſo the hail ſmote all the herbs of the field, and broke to pieces all the trees of the field.

26 Only in the land of Goſhen (where the children of Iſrael were) was no hail.

27 Then Pharaoh ſent and called for Moſes and Aaron, and ſaid unto them, I [q] have now ſinned: the Lord is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.

† Heb. voice of God.

28 Pray ye unto the Lord (for it is enough) that there be no more † mighty thunders and hail, and I will let you go, and ye ſhall tarry no longer.

* Pſ. 24. 1.

29 Then Moſes ſaid unto him, As ſoon as I am out of the city, I will ſpread mine hands unto the Lord, and the thunder ſhall ceaſe, neither ſhall there be any more hail, that thou mayeſt know that * the earth is the Lord's.

30 As for thee and thy ſervants, I know [r] afore I pray, ye will not fear before the face of the Lord God.

31 (And the flax, and the barley were ſmitten: for the barley was eared, and the flax was bolled.

32 But the wheat and the rye were not ſmitten: for they were ‡ hid in the ground)

33 Then Moſes went out of the city from Pharaoh, and ſpread his hands to the Lord, and the thunder and the hail ceaſed, neither rained it upon the earth.

34 And when Pharaoh ſaw that the rain and the hail and the thunder were ceaſed, he ſinned again, and hardened his heart, both he and his ſervants.

35 So the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: neither would he let the children of Iſrael go, as the Lord had ſaid † by Moſes.

CHAP. X.

AGAIN the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Go to Pharaoh: for * I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his ſervants, that I might work theſe my miracles ‡ in the midſt of his realm,

4 But if thou refuſe to let my people go, behold, to-morrow will I bring ‡ graſhoppers into thy coaſts.

‡ Or locuſts.

5 And they ſhall cover the face of the earth, that a man cannot ſee the earth: and they ſhall eat the reſidue which remaineth unto you, and hath eſcaped from the hail: and they ſhall eat all your trees that bud in the field.

6 And they ſhall fill thine houſes, and all thy ſervants houſes, and the houſes of all the Egyptians, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers have ſeen, ſince the time they were upon the earth unto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaoh's ſervants ſaid unto him, How long ſhall he be ‡ an [u] offence unto us? let the men go, that they may ſerve the Lord their God: wilt thou firſt know that Egypt is deſtroyed?

‡ Or, ſnare.

8 So Moſes and Aaron were brought again unto Pharaoh, and he ſaid unto them, Go ſerve the Lord your God, but who are they that ſhall go?

9 And Moſes anſwered, We will go with our young, and with our old, with our ſons, and with our daughters, with our ſheep, and with our cattle will we go: for we muſt celebrate a feaſt unto the Lord.

10 And he ſaid unto them, Let [w] the Lord ſo be with you, as I will let you go and your children: behold, for [x] evil is before your face.

11 It ſhall not be ſo: now go ye that are men, and ſerve the Lord: for that was your deſire. Then they were thruſt out from Pharaoh's preſence.

12 ¶ After, the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Stretch out thine hand upon the land of Egypt for the graſhoppers, that they may come upon the land of Egypt, and eat all the herbs of the land, even all that the hail hath left.

13 Then Moſes ſtretched forth his rod upon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought an Eaſt wind upon the land all that day, and all that night: and in the morning the Eaſt wind brought the ‡ graſhoppers.

‡ The 8th plague.

14 So the graſhoppers went up upon all the land of Egypt, and ‡ remained in all quarters of Egypt: ſo grievous graſhoppers like to theſe were never before, neither after them ſhall be ſuch.

‡ Or, he cauſed them to remain.

15 For they covered all the face of the earth, ſo that the land was dark: and they did eat all the herbs of the land, and all the fruits of the trees, which the hail had left: ſo that there was no green thing left upon the trees, nor among the herbs of the field throughout all the land of Egypt.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

16 Therefore Pharaoh called for [y] Moſes and Aaron in haſte, and ſaid, I have ſinned againſt the Lord your God, and againſt you.

17 And now forgive me my ſin only this once, and pray unto the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death only.

18 Moſes then went out from Pharaoh, and prayed unto the Lord.

19 And the Lord turned a mighty ſtrong Weſt wind, and took away the graſhoppers, and violently caſt them into the [z] Red ſea, ſo that there remained not one graſhopper in all the coaſt of Egypt.

20 But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not let the children of Iſrael go.

21 ¶ Again the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Stretch out thine hand toward heaven, that there may be upon the land of Egypt darkneſs, even darkneſs that may be [a] felt.

22 Then Moſes ſtretched forth his hand toward heaven, and there was a ‡ black darkneſs in all the land of Egypt three days.

‡ The ninth plague.

23 No man ſaw another, neither roſe up from the place where he was for three days: but all the children of Iſrael had light where they dwelt.

24 Then Pharaoh called for Moſes, and ſaid, Go, ſerve the Lord: only your ſheep and your cattle ſhall abide, and your children ſhall go with you.

25 And Moſes ſaid, Thou muſt give us alſo ſacrifices, and burnt-offerings, that we may do ſacrifice unto the Lord our God.

26 Therefore our cattle alſo ſhall go with us: there ſhall not an [b] hoof be left, for thereof muſt we take to ſerve the Lord our God: neither do we know [c] how we ſhall ſerve the Lord, until we come thither.

27 (But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he would not let them go)

28 And Pharaoh ſaid unto him, Get thee from me: look thou ſee my face no more: for whenſoever thou comeſt in my ſight, thou ſhalt [d] die.

29 Then Moſes ſaid, Thou haſt ſaid well: from henceforth I will ſee thy face no more.

3 Speak ye unto all the congregation of Iſrael, ſaying, In the tenth of this month let every man take unto him a lamb, according to the houſe of the [l] fathers, a lamb for an houſe.

5 Your lamb ſhall be without blemiſh, a male of a year old: ye ſhall take it of the lambs, or of the kids.

6 And ye ſhall keep it until the fourteenth day of this month: then [n] all the multitude of the congregation of Iſrael ſhall kill it † at even.

9 Eat not thereof raw, boiled nor ſodden in water, but roaſt with fire, both his [o] head, his feet, and his purtenance.

10 And ye ſhall reſerve nothing of it unto the morning: but that which remaineth of it unto the morrow, ſhall ye burn with fire.

11 ¶ And thus ſhall ye eat it, Your loins girded, your ſhoes on your feet, and your ſtaves in your hands, and ye ſhall eat it in haſte: for [p] it is the Lord's paſſover.

12 For I will paſs through the land of Egypt the ſame night, and will ſmite all the firſt-born in the land of Egypt, both man and beaſt, and I will execute judgment upon all the ‡ gods of Egypt. I am the Lord.

13 And the blood ſhall be a token for you upon the houſes where ye are: ſo when I ſee the blood, I will paſs over you, and the plague ſhall not be upon you to deſtruction, when I ſmite the land of Egypt.

14 And this day ſhall be unto you a [q] remembrance: and ye ſhall keep it an holy feaſt unto the Lord, throughout your generations: ye ſhall keep it holy by an ordinance [r] for ever.

15 Seven days ſhall ye eat unleavened bread, and in any caſe ye ſhall put away leaven the firſt day out of your houſes: for whoſoever eateth leavened bread from the firſt day until the ſeventh day, that perſon ſhall be cut off from Iſrael.

‡ Or, calling together of the people to ſerve God.

17 Ye ſhall keep alſo the feaſt of unleavened bread: for that ſame day I will bring your armies out of the land of Egypt: therefore ye ſhall obſerve this day throughout your poſterity, by an ordinance for ever.

20 Ye ſhall eat no leavened bread: but in all your habitations ſhall ye eat unleavened bread.

21 ¶ Then Moſes called all the Elders of Iſrael, and ſaid unto them, Chuſe out and take you for every of your houſholds a lamb, and kill the paſſover.

27 Then ye ſhall ſay, It is the ſacrifice of the Lord's paſſover, which paſſed over the houſes of the children of Iſrael in Egypt, when he ſmote the Egyptians, and preſerved our houſes. Then the people [w] bowed themſelves, and worſhipped.

28 So the children of Iſrael went, and did as the Lord had commanded Moſes and Aaron: ſo did they.

* Ch. 11. 4.
‡ The tenth plague.

29 ¶ Now at * midnight the Lord ‡ ſmote all the firſt-born in the land of Egypt, from the firſt-born of Pharaoh that ſat on his throne, unto the firſt-born of the captive that was in priſon, and all the firſt-born of beaſts.

30 And Pharaoh roſe up in the night, he, and all his ſervants, and all the Egyptians: and there was a great cry in Egypt: for there was [x] no houſe where there was not one dead.

31 And he called to Moſes and to Aaron by night, and ſaid, Riſe up, get you out from among my people, both ye, and the children of Iſrael, and go ſerve the Lord as ye have ſaid.

32 Take alſo your ſheep and your cattle, as ye have ſaid, and depart, and [y] bleſs me alſo.

33 And the Egyptians did force the people, becauſe they would ſend them out of the land in haſte: for they ſaid, We die all.

34 Therefore the people took their dough before it was leavened, even their dough bound in clothes upon their ſhoulders.

* Ch. 3. 22. and 11. 2.

35 And the children of Iſrael did according to the ſaying of Moſes, and they aſked of the Egyptians * jewels of ſilver, and jewels of gold, and raiment.

‡ Or, lent them.

36 And the Lord gave the people favour in the ſight of the Egyptians: and they ‡ granted their requeſt: ſo they ſpoiled the Egyptians.

37 Then the * children of Iſrael took their journey from [z] Rameſes to Succoth about ſix hundred thouſand men of foot, beſide children.

38 And [a] a great multitude of ſundry ſorts of people went out with them, and ſheep, and beeves, and cattle in great abundance.

39 And they baked the dough which they brought out of Egypt, and made unleavened cakes: for it was not leavened, becauſe they were thruſt out of Egypt, neither could they tarry, nor yet prepare them victuals.

41 And when the [b] four hundred and thirty years were expired, even the ſelf-ſame day departed all the hoſts of the Lord out of the land of Egypt.

42 It is a night to be kept holy to the Lord, becauſe he brought them out of the land of Egypt: this is that night of the Lord, which all the children of Iſrael muſt keep throughout their generations.

43 Alſo the Lord ſaid unto Moſes and Aaron, This is the law of the paſſover: [c] no ſtranger ſhall eat thereof.

44 But every ſervant that is bought for money, when thou haſt circumciſed him, then ſhall he eat thereof.

45 A ſtranger or an hired ſervant ſhall not eat thereof.

48 But if a ſtranger dwell with thee, and will obſerve the paſſover of the Lord, let him circumciſe all the males that belong unto him, and then let him come and obſerve it, and he ſhall be as one that is born in the land: for none uncircumciſed perſon ſhall eat thereof.

49 One [d] law ſhall be to him that is born in the land, and to the ſtranger that dwelleth among you.

50 Then all the children of Iſrael did as the Lord commanded Moſes and Aaron: ſo did they.

12 Did not we tell thee this thing in Egypt, ſaying, Let [x] us be in reſt, that we may ſerve the Egyptians? for it had been better for us to ſerve the Egyptians, than that we ſhould die in the wilderneſs.

13 Then Moſes ſaid to the people, Fear ye not, ſtand ſtill, and behold ‡ the ſalvation of the Lord which he will ſhew to you this day. For the Egyptians, whom ye have ſeen this day, ye ſhall never ſee them again. ‡ Or, deliverance.

14 The Lord ſhall fight for you: therefore [y] hold you your peace.

17 And I, behold, I will harden the heart of the Egyptians, that they may follow them, and I will get me honour upon Pharaoh, and upon all his hoſt, upon his chariots, and upon his horſemen.

23 And the Egyptians purſued and went after them to the midſt of the ſea, even all Pharaoh's horſes, his chariots, and his horſemen.

24 Now in the morning [b] watch, when the Lord looked unto the hoſt of the Egyptians, out of the fiery and cloudy pillar, he ſtruck the hoſt of the Egyptians with fear.

25 For he took off their chariot wheels, and they drove them with ‡ much ado: ſo that the Egyptians every one ſaid, I will flee from the face of Iſrael: for the Lord fighteth for them againſt the Egyptians. ‡ Or, heavily.

26 ¶ Then the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Stretch thine hand upon the ſea, that the waters may return upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots, and upon their horſemen.

27 Then Moſes ſtretched forth his hand upon the ſea, and the ſea returned to his force early in the morning, and the Egyptians fled againſt it: but the Lord [c] overthrew the Egyptians in the midſt of the ſea.

28 So the water returned and covered the chariots and the horſemen, even all the hoſt of Pharaoh that came unto the ſea after them: there remained not one of them.

29 But the children of Iſrael walked upon dry land through the midſt of the ſea, and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand and on their left.

30 Thus the Lord ſaved Iſrael the ſame day out of the hand of the Egyptians, and Iſrael ſaw the Egyptians dead upon the ſea-bank.

2 The length of one curtain ſhall be eight and twenty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: every one of the curtains ſhall have one meaſure.

3 Five curtains ſhall be coupled one to another: and the other five curtains ſhall be coupled one to another.

4 And thou ſhalt make ſtrings of blue ſilk upon the edge of the one curtain, which is in the ſelvedge [h] of the coupling: and likewiſe ſhalt thou make in the edge of the other curtain in the ſelvedge, in the ſecond coupling.

5 Fifty ſtrings ſhalt thou make in one curtain, and fifty ſtrings ſhalt thou make in the edge of the curtain which is in the [i] ſecond coupling: the ſtrings ſhall be one right againſt another.

‡ Or, hooks.

‡ Or, partition.

6 Thou ſhalt make alſo fifty ‡ taches of gold, and couple the curtains one to another with the taches, and it ſhall be one ‡ tabernacle.

7 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make curtains of goats hair to be a [k] covering upon the tabernacle: thou ſhalt make them to the number of eleven curtains.

8 The length of a curtain ſhall be thirty cubits, and the breadth of a curtain four cubits: the eleven curtains ſhall be of one meaſure.

9 And thou ſhalt couple five curtains by themſelves, and the ſix curtains by themſelves: but thou ſhalt double the [l] ſixth curtain upon the fore-front of the covering.

10 And thou ſhalt make fifty ſtrings in the edge of one curtain, in the ſelvedge of the coupling, and fifty ſtrings in the edge of the other curtain in the ſecond coupling.

‡ Or, hooks.

11 Likewiſe thou ſhalt make fifty ‡ taches of braſs, and faſten them on the ſtrings, and ſhalt couple the covering together that it may be one.

12 And the [m] remnant that reſteth in the curtains of the covering, even the half-curtain that reſteth, ſhall be left at the back ſide of the tabernacle,

13 That the cubit on the one ſide, and the cubit on the other ſide of that which is left in the length of the curtains of the covering, may remain on either ſide of the tabernacle to cover it.

14 Moreover, for that covering thou ſhalt make a [n] covering of rams ſkins died red, and a covering [o] of badgers ſkins above.

---

[d] To ſet the bread upon.

[e] It ſhall not be molten, but beaten out of the lump of gold with the hammer.

[f] This was the talent weight of the temple, and weighed 120 pounds.

[g] That is, of moſt cunning or fine work.

[h] On the ſide, that the curtains might be tied together.

[i] In tying together both the ſides.

[k] Leſt rain and weather ſhould mar it.

[l] That is, five on the one ſide, and five on the other, and the ſixth ſhould hang over the door of the tabernacle.

[m] For theſe curtains were two cubits longer than the curtains of the tabernacle, ſo that they were wider by a cubit on both ſides.

[n] To be put upon the covering that was made of goats hair.

[o] This was the third covering of the tabernacle.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

15 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make boards for the tabernacle of Shittim wood to ſtand up.

16 Ten cubits ſhall be the length of a board, and a cubit and an half cubit the breadth of one board.

17 Two tenons ſhall be in one board ſet in order as the feet of a ladder, one againſt another: thus ſhalt thou make for all the boards of the tabernacle.

18 And thou ſhalt make boards for the tabernacle, even twenty boards on the ſouth ſide, even full ſouth.

‡ Or, baſs pieces, wherein were the mortices for the tenons.

19 And thou ſhalt make forty ‡ ſockets of ſilver under the twenty boards, two ſockets under one board for his two tenons, and two ſockets under another board for his two tenons.

20 In like manner on the other ſide of the tabernacle toward the north ſide ſhall be twenty boards.

21 And their forty ſockets of ſilver, two ſockets under one board, and two ſockets under another board.

22 And on the ſide of the tabernacle, toward the weſt, ſhalt thou make ſix boards.

23 Alſo two boards ſhalt thou make in the corners of the tabernacle in the two ſides.

24 Alſo they ſhall be [p] joined beneath, and likewiſe they ſhall be joined above to a ring: thus ſhall it be for them two: they ſhall be for the two corners.

25 So they ſhall be eight boards having ſockets of ſilver, even ſixteen ſockets, that is, two ſockets under one board, and two ſockets under another board.

26 ¶ Then thou ſhalt make five bars of Shittim wood for the boards of one ſide of the tabernacle, 27 And five bars for the boards of the other ſide of the tabernacle: alſo five bars for the boards of the ſide of the tabernacle toward the weſt ſide.

28 And the middle bar ſhall go through the midſt of the boards, from end to end.

29 And thou ſhalt cover the boards with gold, and make their rings of gold, for places for the bars, and thou ſhalt cover the bars with gold.

* Ch. 25. 29. 40. Heb. 8. 5. Acts 7. 44.

30 So thou ſhalt rear up the tabernacle, * according to the faſhion thereof, which was ſhewed thee in the mount.

31 ¶ Moreover, thou ſhalt make a vail of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen: thou ſhalt make it of broidered work with cherubims.

32 And thou ſhalt hang it upon four pillars of Shittim wood covered with gold, (whoſe [q] hooks ſhall be of gold) ſtanding upon four ſockets of ſilver.

33 Afterward thou ſhalt hang the vail † on the hooks, that thou mayeſt bring in thither, that is, within the vail, the ark of the teſtimony: and the vail ſhall make you a ſeparation between the holy place and the [r] moſt holy place.

34 Alſo thou ſhalt put the mercy-ſeat upon the ark of the teſtimony in the moſt holy place.

35 And thou ſhalt ſet the table [s] without the vail, and the candleſtick overagainſt the table on the ſouth ſide of the tabernacle, and thou ſhalt ſet the table on the north ſide.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

36 Alſo thou ſhalt make an [t] hanging for the door of the tabernacle of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine-twined linen wrought with needle.

37 And thou ſhalt make for the hanging five pillars of Shittim, and cover them with gold: their heads ſhall be of gold, and thou ſhalt caſt five ſockets of braſs for them.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The altar of the burnt-offering. 9 The court of the tabernacle. 20 The lamps continually burning.

MOreover thou ſhalt make the [u] altar of Shittim wood, five cubits long and five cubits broad (the altar ſhall be four ſquare) and the height thereof three cubits.

2 And thou ſhalt make it horns in the four corners thereof: the horns ſhall be of [w] itſelf, and thou ſhalt cover it with braſs.

‡ Or, fire-pans.

3 Alſo thou ſhalt make his aſh-pans for his aſhes, and his beſoms, and his baſons, and his fleſh-hooks, and his ‡ cenſers: thou ſhalt make all the inſtruments thereof of braſs.

4 And thou ſhalt make unto it a grate, like net-work of braſs: alſo upon that † grate ſhalt thou make four braſen rings upon the four corners thereof.

5 And thou ſhalt put it under the compaſs of the altar beneath, that the grate may be in the midſt of the altar.

6 Alſo thou ſhalt make bars for the altar, bars, I ſay, of Shittim wood, and ſhalt cover them with braſs.

7 And the bars thereof ſhall be put in the rings, the which bars ſhall be upon the two ſides of the altar to bear it.

8 Thou ſhalt make the altar hollow between the boards: as God ſhewed thee in the mount, ſo ſhall they make it.

9 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make the [x] court of the tabernacle in the ſouth ſide, even full ſouth: the court ſhall have curtains of fine twined linen, of an hundred cubits long, for one ſide.

10 And it ſhall have twenty pillars, with their twenty ſockets of braſs: the heads of the pillars, and their [y] fillets ſhall be ſilver.

11 Likewiſe on the north ſide in length there ſhall be hangings of an hundred cubits long, and the twenty pillars thereof with their twenty ſockets of braſs: the heads of pillars and the fillets ſhall be ſilver.

12 ¶ And the breadth of the court, on the weſt ſide, ſhall have curtains of fifty cubits, with their ten pillars, and their ten ſockets.

13 And the breadth of the court, eaſtward full eaſt, ſhall have [z] fifty cubits.

14 Alſo hangings of fifteen cubits ſhall be on the one [a] ſide, with their three pillars and their three ſockets.

17 All the pillars of the court ſhall have fillets of ſilver round about, with their heads of ſilver, and their ſockets of braſs.

† Heb. fifty in fifty.

‡ Or, aſcend up.

21 In the tabernacle of the congregation without the vail, which is before the teſtimony, ſhall Aaron and his ſons dreſs them from evening to morning before the Lord, for a ſtatute unto their generations, to be obſerved by the children of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The Lord calleth Aaron and his ſons to the prieſthood. 4 Their garments. 13, 29 Aaron entereth into the ſanctuary in the name of the children of Iſrael. 30 Urim and Thummim. 38 Aaron beareth the iniquity of the Iſraelites offerings.

AND cauſe thou thy brother Aaron to come unto thee and his ſons with him, from among the children of Iſrael, that he may ſerve me in the prieſt's office: I mean, Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar, Aaron's ſons.

2 Alſo thou ſhalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, [d] glorious and beautiful.

3 Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeak unto all † cunning men, whom I have filled with the ſpirit of wiſdom, that they make Aaron's garments to [e] conſecrate him, that he may ſerve me in the prieſt's office.

† Heb. wiſe in heart.

4 Now theſe ſhall be the garments which they ſhall make, a breaſt-plate, and an [f] ephod, and a robe, and a broidered coat, a mitre, and a girdle: ſo theſe holy garments ſhall they make for Aaron thy brother, and for his ſons, that he may ſerve me in the prieſt's office.

5 Therefore they ſhall take gold and blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine linen.

6 ¶ And they ſhall make the ephod of gold, blue ſilk, and purple, ſcarlet, and fine twined linen of broidered work.

7 The two ſhoulders thereof ſhall be joined together by their two edges: ſo ſhall it be cloſed.

8 And the [g] embroidered gard of the ſame ephod, which ſhall be upon him, ſhall be of the ſelf-ſame work and ſtuff, even of gold, blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 And thou ſhalt take two onix ſtones, and grave upon them the names of the children of Iſrael.

10 Six names of them upon the one ſtone, and the ſix names that remain upon the ſecond ſtone, according [h] to their generations.

11 Thou ſhalt cauſe to grave the two ſtones according to the names of the children of Iſrael, by a graver of ſignets that worketh and graveth in ſtone, and ſhalt make them to be ſet and emboſſed in gold.

12 And thou ſhalt put the two ſtones upon the ſhoulders of the ephod, as ſtones of [i] remembrance of the children of Iſrael: for Aaron ſhall bear their names before the Lord upon his two ſhoulders for a remembrance.

13 So thou ſhalt make boſſes of gold,

14 ¶ And two chains of fine gold [k] at the end, of wreathen work ſhalt thou make them, and ſhalt faſten the wreathen chains upon the boſſes.

15 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make the breaſt-plate of [l] judgment with broidered work: like the work of the ephod ſhalt thou make it: of gold, blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen ſhalt thou make it.

16 [m] Fourſquare it ſhall be and double, an hand breadth long, and an hand breadth broad.

17 Then thou ſhalt ſet it full of places for ſtones, even four rows of ſtones: the order ſhall be this, a ‡ ruby, a topaz, and a ‡ carbuncle, in the firſt row.

‡ Or, ſardoine.
‡ Or, emerald.

18 And in the ſecond row thou ſhalt ſet an ‡ emerald, a ſapphire, and a ‡ diamond.

‡ Or, carbuncle.
‡ Or, jaſper.

19 And in the third row a turkeis, an agate, and an hematite.

20 And in the fourth row a † chryſolite, an onyx, and a jaſper: and they ſhall be ſet in gold in their emboſſments.

† Heb. Tarſhiſh.

21 And the ſtones ſhall be according to the names of the children of Iſrael, twelve, according to their names, graven in ſignets, every one after his name, and they ſhall be for the twelve tribes.

22 ¶ Then thou ſhalt make upon the breaſt-plate two chains at the ends, of wreathen work of pure gold.

23 Thou ſhalt make alſo upon the breaſt-plate two rings of gold, and put the two rings on [n] the two ends of the breaſt-plate.

24 And thou ſhalt put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings in the ends of the breaſt-plate.

25 And the other two ends of the two wreathen chains, thou ſhalt faſten in the two emboſſments, and ſhalt put them upon the ſhoulders of the ephod upon the fore-ſide of it.

26 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make two rings of gold, which thou ſhalt put in the [o] two other ends ends of the breaſt-plate, upon the border thereof, toward the inſide of the ephod.

27 And two other rings of gold thou ſhalt make, and put them on the two ſides of the ephod, beneath in the fore part of it over-againſt the coupling of it upon the broidered gard of the ephod.

28 Thus ſhall they bind the breaſt-plate by his rings upon the rings of the ephod, with a lace of blue ſilk, that it may be faſt upon the broidered gard of the ephod, and that the breaſt-plate be not looſed from the ephod.

29 So Aaron ſhall [p] bear the names of the children of Iſrael in the breaſt-plate of judgment upon his heart, when he goeth into the holy place for a remembrance continually before the Lord.

30 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt put in the breaſt-plate of judgment, the [q] urim and the thummim, which ſhall be upon Aaron's heart, when he goeth in before the Lord. And Aaron ſhall bear the judgment of the children of Iſrael upon his heart before the Lord continually.

31 ¶ And thou ſhalt make the robe of the ephod altogether of blue ſilk.

32 And the hole for his head ſhall be in the midſt of it, having an edge of woven work round about the collar of it: ſo ſhall it be as the collar of an habergeon, that it rent not.

33 ¶ And beneath upon the ſkirts thereof thou ſhalt make pomegranates of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, round about the ſkirts thereof, and bells of gold between them round about:

34 That is, a golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bell and a pomegranate, round about upon the ſkirts of the robe.

35 So ſhall it be upon Aaron, when he miniſtreth, and his ſound ſhall be heard, when he goeth into the holy place before the Lord, and when he cometh out, and he ſhall not die.

36 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave thereon, as ſignets are graven, [r] HOLINESS TO THE LORD.

37 And thou ſhalt put it on a blue ſilk lace, and it ſhall be upon the mitre: even upon the forefront of the mitre ſhall it be.

38 So ſhall it be upon Aaron's forehead, that Aaron may [s] bear the iniquity of the offerings, which the children of Iſrael ſhall offer in all their holy offerings: and it ſhall be always upon his forehead, to make them acceptable before the Lord.

39 Likewiſe thou ſhalt embroider the fine linen coat, and thou ſhalt make a mitre of fine linen, but thou ſhalt make a girdle of needlework.

40 Alſo thou ſhalt make for Aaron's ſons coats, and thou ſhalt make them girdles, and bonnets ſhalt thou make them for glory and comelineſs.

41 And thou ſhalt put them upon Aaron thy brother, and on his ſons with him, and ſhalt anoint them, and [t] fill their hands, and ſanctify them, that they may miniſter unto me in the prieſt's office.

42 Thou ſhalt alſo make them linen breeches to cover their privities: from the loins unto the thighs ſhall they reach.

43 And they ſhall be for Aaron and his ſons when they come into the tabernacle ‡ of the congregation, or when they come unto the altar to miniſter in the holy place, that they [u] commit not iniquity, and ſo die. This ſhall be a law for ever unto him, and to his ſeed after him.

‡ Or, of witneſs.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The manner of conſecrating the prieſts. 38 The continual ſacrifice. 45 The Lord promiſeth to dwell among the children of Iſrael.

THIS thing alſo ſhalt thou do unto them when thou conſecrateſt them to be my prieſts. * Take a young calf, and two rams without blemiſh,

* Levit. 9. 2.

2 And unleavened bread and cakes unleavened tempered with oil, and wafers unleavened anointed with oil: (of fine wheat flour ſhalt thou make them)

3 Then thou ſhalt put them in one baſket, and [w] preſent them in the baſket with the calf and the two rams,

4 And ſhalt bring Aaron and his ſons unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and waſh them with water.

5 Alſo thou ſhalt take the garments, and put upon Aaron the tunicle, and the [x] robe of the ephod, and the ephod, and the breaſt-plate, and ſhalt cloſe them to him with the broidered gard of the ephod.

6 Then thou ſhalt put the mitre upon his head, and ſhalt put the holy * crown upon the mitre.

* Ch. 28. 36.

7 And thou ſhalt take the anointing * oil, and ſhalt pour upon his head and anoint him,

* Ch. 30. 25.

8 And thou ſhalt bring his ſons, and put coats upon them.

9 And ſhalt gird them with girdles, both Aaron and his ſons: and ſhalt put the bonnets on them, and the prieſt's office ſhall be theirs for a perpetual law: thou * ſhalt alſo ‡ fill the hands of Aaron, and the hands of his ſons.

* Ch. 28. 41.
‡ Or, conſecrate them.

10 After, thou ſhalt preſent the calf before the tabernacle of the congregation, * and Aaron and his ſons ſhall [y] put their hands upon the head of the calf.

* Levit. 1. 4.

11 So ſhalt thou kill the calf before the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

12 Then thou ſhalt take of the blood of the calf, and put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and ſhalt pour all the reſt of the blood at the foot of the altar.

13 * Alſo thou ſhalt take all the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caul that is on the liver, and the two kidnies, and the fat that is upon them, and ſhalt burn them upon the altar.

* Levit. 3. 3.

[p] Aaron ſhall not enter into the holy place in his own name, but in the name of all the children of Iſrael.

[q] Urim ſignifieth light; and Thummim perfection: declaring that the ſtones of the breaſt-plate were moſt clear, and of perfect beauty. By Urim alſo is meant knowledge, and by Thummim holineſs, ſhewing what virtues are required in the prieſts.

[r] Holineſs appertaineth to the Lord: for he is moſt holy, and nothing unholy may appear before him.

[s] Their offerings could not be ſo perfect, but ſome fault would be therein: which ſin the high-prieſt bare and pacified God.

[t] That is, conſecrate them, by giving them things to offer, and thereby admit them to their office.

[u] In not hiding their nakedneſs.

[w] To offer them in ſacrifice.

[x] Which was next under the ephod.

[y] Signifying that the ſacrifice was alſo offered for them, and that they did approve it.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

14 But the fleſh of the calf, and his ſkin, and his dung ſhalt thou burn with fire without the hoſt: it is a † ſin-offering.

† Heb. ſin, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

15 ¶ Thou ſhalt alſo take one ram, and Aaron and his ſons ſhall put their hands upon the head of the ram.

16 Then ſhalt thou kill the ram, and take his blood, and ſprinkle it round about upon the altar.

17 And thou ſhalt cut the ram in pieces, and waſh the inwards of him and his legs, and ſhalt put them upon the pieces thereof, and upon his head.

18 So thou ſhalt burn the whole ram upon the altar: for it is a burnt-offering unto the Lord [z] for a ſweet ſavour: it is an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

19 ¶ And thou ſhalt take the other ram, and Aaron and his ſons ſhall put their hands upon the head of the ram.

20 Then ſhalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood and put it [a] upon the lap of Aaron's ear, and upon the lap of the right ear of his ſons, and upon the thumb of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foot, and ſhalt ſprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.

21 And thou ſhalt take of the blood that is [b] upon the altar, and of the anointing oil, and ſhalt ſprinkle it upon Aaron, and upon his garments, and upon his ſons, and upon the garments of his ſons with him: ſo he ſhall be hallowed, and his cloaths, and his ſons, and the garments of his ſons with him.

22 Alſo thou ſhalt take of the rams the fat and the rump, even the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caul of the liver, and the two kidnies, and the fat that is upon them, and the right ſhoulder (for it is the [c] ram of conſecration.)

23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of bread tempered with oil, and one wafer, out of the baſket of the unleavened bread that is before the Lord:

24 And thou ſhalt put all this in the hands of Aaron, and in the hands of his ſons, and ſhalt ſhake them to and fro before the Lord.

25 Again, thou ſhalt receive them of their hands, and burn them upon the altar beſides the burnt-offering for a ſweet ſavour before the Lord: for this is an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

26 Likewiſe thou ſhalt take the breaſt of the ram of the conſecration, which is for Aaron, and ſhalt ſhake it to [d] and fro before the Lord, and it ſhall be thy part.

27 And thou ſhalt ſanctify the breaſt of the ſhaken offering, and the ſhoulder of the [e] heave-offering, which was ſhaken to and fro, and which was heaved up of the ram of the conſecration, which was for Aaron, and which was for his ſons.

28 And Aaron and his ſons ſhall have it by a ſtatute for ever, of the children of Iſrael: for it is an heave-offering, and it ſhall be an heave-offering of the children of Iſrael, of their [f] peace-offerings, even their heave-offering to the Lord.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

29 ¶ And the holy garments, which appertain to Aaron, ſhall be his ſons after him, to be anointed therein, and to be conſecrated therein.

30 That ſon that ſhall be prieſt in his ſtead, ſhall put them on ſeven days, when he cometh into the tabernacle of the congregation to miniſter in the holy place.

31 ¶ So thou ſhalt take the ram of the conſecration, and ſeethe his fleſh in the holy place.

32 * And Aaron and his ſons ſhall eat the fleſh of the ram, and the bread that is in the baſket, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

* Levit. 8. 31. & 24. 9. Matt. 12. 4.

33 So they ſhall eat theſe things, [g] whereby their atonement was made, to conſecrate them, and to ſanctify them: but a ſtranger ſhall not eat thereof, becauſe they are holy things.

34 Now if ought of the fleſh of the conſecration, or of the bread, remain unto the morning, then thou ſhalt burn the reſt with fire: it ſhall not be eaten, becauſe it is an holy thing.

35 Therefore ſhalt thou do thus unto Aaron, and unto his ſons, according to all things which I have commanded thee: ſeven days ſhalt thou † conſecrate them,

36 And ſhalt offer every day a calf for a ſin-offering, for [h] reconciliation: and thou ſhalt cleanſe the altar, when thou haſt offered upon it for reconciliation, and ſhalt anoint it, to ſanctify it.

37 Seven days ſhalt thou cleanſe the altar, and ſanctify it, ſo the altar ſhall be moſt holy: and whatſoever toucheth the altar ſhall be holy.

38 ¶ * Now this is that which thou ſhalt preſent upon the altar: even two lambs of one year old, day by day continually.

* Numb. 28. 3.

39 The one lamb thou ſhalt preſent in the morning, and the other lamb thou ſhalt preſent at even.

40 And with the one lamb a [i] tenth part of fine flour mingled with the fourth part of an [k] hin of beaten oil, and the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drink-offering.

41 And the other lamb thou ſhalt preſent at even: thou ſhalt do thereto according to the offering of the morning, and according to the drink-offering thereof, to be a burnt-offering for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

42 This ſhall be a continual burnt-offering in your generations at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord, where I will ‡ make appointment with you to ſpeak there unto thee.

‡ Or, declare myſelf to you.

43 There I will appoint with the children of Iſrael, and the place ſhall be ſanctified by [l] my glory.

44 And I will ſanctify the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar: I will ſanctify alſo Aaron and his ſons to be my prieſts.

* Levit. 26. 12. 2 Cor. 6. 16.

45 And I will * dwell among the children of Iſrael, and will be their God.

46 Then ſhall they know that I am the Lord their God, that brought them out of the land of Egypt, that I might dwell among them: [m] I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The altar of incenſe. 13 The ſum that the Iſraelites ſhould pay to the tabernacle. 18 The braſen laver. 33 The anointing oil. 34 The making of the perfume.

FUrthermore, thou ſhalt make an altar [n] for ſweet perfume, of Shittim wood thou ſhalt make it.

2 The length thereof a cubit, and the breadth thereof a cubit (it ſhall be four-ſquare) and the height thereof two cubits: the horns thereof ſhall be [o] of the ſame.

‡ Or, a circle and border.

3 And thou ſhalt overlay it with fine gold, both the top thereof and the ſides thereof round about, and his horns: alſo thou ſhalt make unto ‡ it a crown of gold round about.

4 Beſides this, thou ſhalt make under this crown two golden rings on either ſide: even on every ſide ſhalt thou make them, that they may be as places for the bars to bear it withal.

5 The which bars thou ſhalt make of Shittim wood, and ſhalt cover them with gold.

6 After thou ſhalt ſet it [p] before the vail that is near the ark of the teſtimony, before the mercy ſeat that is upon the teſtimony where I will appoint with thee.

7 And Aaron ſhall burn thereon ſweet incenſe every morning: when he [q] dreſſeth the lamps thereof, ſhall he burn it.

8 Likewiſe at even, when Aaron ſetteth up the lamps thereof, he ſhall burn incenſe: this perfume ſhall be perpetually before the Lord, throughout your generations.

9 Ye ſhall offer no [r] ſtrange incenſe thereon, nor burnt-ſacrifice, nor offering, neither pour any drink-offering [s] thereon.

10 And Aaron ſhall make reconciliation upon the horns of it once in a year with the blood of the ſin-offering in the day of reconciliation: once in the year ſhall he make reconciliation upon it throughout your generations: this is moſt holy unto the Lord.

11 ¶ Afterward the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

* Num. 1. 2, 5.

12 * When thou takeſt the ſum of the children of Iſrael after their number, then they ſhall give every man [t] a redemption of his life unto the Lord, when thou telleſt them, that there be no plague among them when thou counteſt them.

* Levit. 27. 25. Num. 3. 47. Ezek. 45. 12.

13 This ſhall every man give, that goeth into the number, half a ſhekel, after the [u] ſhekel of the ſanctuary: (* a ſhekel is twenty gerahs) the half ſhekel ſhall be an offering to the Lord.

14 All that are numbered from twenty years old and above, ſhall give an offering unto the Lord.

15 The rich ſhall not paſs, and the poor ſhall not diminiſh from half a ſhekel, when ye ſhall give an offering unto the Lord, [w] for the redemption of your lives.

16 So thou ſhalt take the money of the redemption of the children of Iſrael, and ſhalt put it unto the uſe of the tabernacle of the congregation, that it may be a memorial unto the children of Iſrael before the Lord, for the redemption of your lives.

17 ¶ Alſo the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

18 Thou ſhalt alſo make a laver of braſs, and his foot of braſs to waſh, and ſhalt put it between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and ſhalt put water therein.

19 For Aaron and his ſons ſhall [x] waſh their hands and their feet thereat.

20 When they go into the tabernacle of the congregation, or when they go unto the altar to miniſter, and to make the perfume of the burnt-offering to the Lord, they ſhall waſh themſelves with water, leſt they die.

21 So they ſhall waſh their hands and their feet, that they die not: and this ſhall be to them an ordinance [y] for ever, both to him and to his ſeed throughout their generations.

22 ¶ Alſo the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

23 Take thou alſo unto thee principal ſpices: of the moſt pure myrrh five hundred [z] ſhekels, of ſweet cinnamon half ſo much, that is, two hundred and fifty, and of ſweet [a] calamus, two hundred and fifty:

24 Alſo of Caſſia five hundred, after the ſhekel of the ſanctuary, and of oil olive an * hin.

* Ch. 29. 40.

25 So thou ſhalt make of it the oil of holy ointment, even a moſt precious ointment after the art of the apothecary: this ſhall be the oil of holy ointment.

26 And thou ſhalt anoint the [b] tabernacle of the congregation therewith, and the ark of the teſtimony:

27 Alſo the table, and all the inſtruments thereof, and the candleſtick, with all the inſtruments thereof, and the altar of incenſe:

28 Alſo the altar of burnt-offering with all his inſtruments, and the laver and his foot.

29 So thou ſhalt ſanctify them, and they ſhall be moſt holy: all that ſhall touch them, ſhall be holy.

30 Thou ſhalt alſo anoint Aaron and his ſons, and ſhalt conſecrate them, that they may miniſter unto me in the prieſt's office.

31 Moreover, thou ſhalt ſpeak unto the children of Iſrael, ſaying, This ſhall be an holy ointing oil unto me, throughout your generations.

32 None ſhall anoint [c] man's fleſh therewith, neither ſhall ye make any compoſition like unto it: for it is holy, and ſhall be holy unto you.

33 Whoſoever ſhall make the like ointment,

34 And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Take unto thee theſe ſpices, pure myrrh and [e] clear gum and galbanum, theſe odours with pure frankincenſe of each like weight.

35 Then thou ſhalt make of them perfume compoſed after the art of the apothecary, mingled together, pure and holy.

36 And thou ſhalt beat it to powder, and ſhalt put of it before the ark of the teſtimony in the tabernacle of the congregation, where I will make appointment with thee: it ſhall be unto you moſt holy.

37 And ye ſhall not make unto you any compoſition like this perfume, which thou ſhalt make: it ſhall be unto thee holy for the [f] Lord.

38 Whoſoever ſhall make like unto that to ſmell thereto, even he ſhall be cut off from his people.

CHAP. XXXI.

2 God maketh Bezaleel and Aholiab meet for his work. 13 The ſabbath-day is the ſign of our ſanctification. 18 The tables written by the finger of God.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Behold, I [g] have called by name Bezaleel the ſon of Uri, the ſon of Hur, of the tribe of Judah,

3 Whom I have filled with the Spirit of God, in wiſdom, and in underſtanding, and in knowledge, and in all [h] workmanſhip:

4 To find out curious works to work in gold, and in ſilver, and in braſs.

5 Alſo in the art to ſet ſtones, and to carve in timber, and to work in all manner of workmanſhip.

6 And behold, I have joined him with Aholiab the ſon of Ahiſamach of the tribe of Dan, and in the hearts of all that are [i] wiſe hearted have I put wiſdom to make all that I have commanded thee:

7 That is, the tabernacle of the congregation, and the ark of the teſtimony, and the mercy-ſeat that ſhall be thereupon, with all the inſtruments of the tabernacle:

8 Alſo the table and the inſtruments thereof, and the [k] pure candleſtick with all his inſtruments, and the altar of perfume:

9 Likewiſe the altar of burnt-offering with all his inſtruments, and the laver with his foot:

10 Alſo the garments of the miniſtration, and the holy garments for Aaron the prieſt, and the garments of his ſons, to miniſter in the prieſt's office,

11 And the [l] anointing oil, and ſweet perfume for the ſanctuary: according to all that I have commanded thee, ſhall they do.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

12 ¶ Afterward the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

13 Speak thou alſo unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay, [m] Notwithſtanding keep ye my ſabbaths: for it is a ſign between me and you in your generations, that ye may know that I the Lord do ſanctify you.

14 * Ye ſhall therefore keep the [n] ſabbath: for it is holy unto you: he that defileth it, ſhall die the death: therefore whoſoever worketh therein, the ſame perſon ſhall be even cut off from among his people.

* Ch. 20. 8. Ezek. 20. 12.

15 Six days ſhall men work, but in the ſeventh day is the ſabbath of the holy reſt to the Lord: whoſoever doth any work in the ſabbath day, ſhall die the death.

16 Wherefore the children of Iſrael ſhall keep the ſabbath, that they may obſerve the ‡ reſt throughout their generations for an everlaſting covenant.

‡ Or, ſabbath.

17 It is a ſign between me and the children of Iſrael for ever: * for in ſix days the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and in the ſeventh day [o] he ceaſed, and reſted.

* Gen. 31. and 22.

18 Thus (when the Lord had made an end of communing with Moſes upon mount Sinai *) he gave him two tables [p] of the teſtimony, even tables of ſtone, written with the finger of God.

4 The Iſraelites impute their deliverance to the calf. 14 God is appeaſed by Moſes's prayer. 19 Moſes breaketh the tables. 27 He ſlayeth the idolaters. 32 Moſes's zeal for the people.

BUT when the people ſaw that Moſes tarried long ere he came down from the mountain, the people gathered themſelves together againſt Aaron, and ſaid unto him, Up, [q] make us gods to go before us: for of this Moſes (the man that brought us out of the land of Egypt) we know not what is become of him.

2 And Aaron ſaid unto them, [r] Pluck off the golden ear-rings which are in the ears of your wives, of your ſons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me.

3 Then all the people plucked from themſelves [s] the golden ear-rings which were in their ears, and they brought them unto Aaron,

4 * Who received them at their hands, and faſhioned it with the graving tool, and made of it a [t] molten calf: then they ſaid, * Theſe be thy gods, O Iſrael, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

7 ¶ Then the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, * Go, get thee down: for thy people which thou haſt brought out of the land of Egypt hath corrupted their ways.

* 1 Kings 12. 28.

8 They [u] are ſoon turned out of the way which I commanded them: for they have made them a molten calf, and have worſhipped it, and have offered thereto, ſaying, * Theſe be thy gods, O Iſrael, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

* Ch. 33. 3. Deut. 9. 13.

9 Again, the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, * I have ſeen this people, and behold, it is a ſtiff-necked people.

10 Now [w] therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot againſt them, for I will conſume them: but I will make of thee a mighty people.

* Pſ. 106. 23.

11 * But Moſes prayed unto the Lord his God, and ſaid, O Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot againſt thy people, which thou haſt brought out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand?

* Num. 14. 13.
‡ Or, blaſpheme.
‡ Or, repent.

12 * Wherefore ſhall the Egyptians ‡ ſpeak, and ſay, He hath brought them out maliciouſly for to ſlay them in the mountains, and to conſume them from the earth? turn from thy fierce wrath, and ‡ change thy mind from this evil toward thy people.

* Gen. 12. 7. and 15. 7. and 48. 16.

13 Remember [x] Abraham, Iſaac, and Iſrael thy ſervants, to whom thou ſwareſt by thine own ſelf, and ſaidſt unto them, * I will multiply your ſeed as the ſtars of heaven, and all this land that I have ſpoken of, will I give unto your ſeed, and they ſhall inherit it for ever.

14 Then the Lord changed his mind from the evil which he threatened to do unto his people.

15 So Moſes returned and went down from the mountain with the two tables of the teſtimony in his hand: the tables were written on both their ſides, even on the one ſide and on the other were they written.

16 And theſe tables were the work of God, and this [y] writing was the writing of God graven in the tables.

17 And when Joſhua heard the noiſe of the people as they ſhouted, he ſaid unto Moſes, There is a noiſe of war in the hoſt.

18 Who anſwered, It is not the noiſe of them that have the victory, nor the noiſe of them that are overcome: but I do hear the noiſe of ſinging.

19 Now, as ſoon as he came near unto the hoſt, he ſaw the calf and the dancing: ſo Moſes's wrath waxed hot, and he caſt the tables out of his hands, and brake them in pieces beneath the mountain.

* Deut. 9. 21.

20 * After, he took the calf which they had made, and burned it in the fire, and ground it unto powder, and ſtrewed it upon the water, and made the children of Iſrael [z] drink of it.

21 Alſo Moſes ſaid unto Aaron, What did this people unto thee, that thou haſt brought ſo great a ſin upon them?

22 Then Aaron anſwered, Let not the wrath of my lord wax fierce: Thou knoweſt this people, that they are even ſet on miſchief.

23 And they ſaid unto me, Make us gods to go before us: for we know not what is become of this Moſes (the man that brought us out of the land of Egypt.)

24 Then I ſaid to them, Ye that have gold pluck it off: and they brought it me, and I did caſt it into the fire, and thereof came this calf.

25 Moſes therefore ſaw that the people were [a] naked (for Aaron had made them naked unto their ſhame among their enemies)

26 And Moſes ſtood in the gate of the camp, and ſaid, Who pertaineth to the Lord? let him come to me. And all the ſons of Levi gathered themſelves unto him.

27 Then he ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael: Put every man his ſword by his ſide, go to and fro, from gate to gate, through the hoſt, and [b] ſlay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Levi did as Moſes had commanded: and there fell of the people the ſame day about three thouſand men.

29 (For Moſes had ſaid, Conſecrate your hands unto the Lord this day, even every man upon his [c] ſon, and upon his brother, that there may be given you a bleſſing this day)

30 And when the morning came, Moſes ſaid unto the people, Ye have committed a grievous crime: but now I will go up to the Lord, if I may pacify him for your ſin.

31 Moſes therefore went again unto the Lord, and ſaid, O this people have ſinned a great ſin, and have made them gods of gold.

32 Therefore now if thou pardon their ſin, thy mercy ſhall appear: but if thou wilt not, I pray thee raſe me [d] out of thy book which thou haſt written.

33 Then the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Whoſoever hath ſinned againſt me, I will put him out of my [e] book.

34 Go now therefore, bring the people unto the place which I commanded thee: behold, mine angel ſhall go before thee, but yet in the day of my viſitation I will [f] viſit their ſin upon them.

35 So the Lord plagued the people, becauſe they cauſed Aaron to make the calf which he made.

6 So the children of Iſrael laid their good raiment from them, after Moſes came down from the mount Horeb.

7 Then Moſes took his tabernacle, and pitched it without the hoſt far off from the hoſt, and called it [i] Ohel-moed. And when any did ſeek to the Lord, he went out unto the tabernacle of the congregation, which was without the hoſt.

8 And when Moſes went out unto the tabernacle, all the people roſe up, and ſtood every man at his tent door, and looked after Moſes, until he was gone into the tabernacle.

17 And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, I will do this alſo that thou haſt ſaid: for thou haſt found grace in my ſight, and I know thee by name.

18 Again he ſaid, I beſeech thee, ſhew me thy [n] glory.

19 And he anſwered, I will make all my [o] good go before thee, and I will [p] proclaim the name of the Lord before thee: * for I will ſhew [q] mercy to whom I will ſhew mercy, and will have compaſſion on whom I will have compaſſion. * Rom. 9. 15.

20 Furthermore he ſaid, Thou canſt not ſee my face, for there ſhall no man ſee me, and [r] live.

21 Alſo the Lord ſaid, Behold, There is a place by [s] me, and thou ſhalt ſtand upon the rock:

22 And while my glory paſſeth by, I will put thee in a cleft of the rock, and will cover thee with mine hand while I paſs by.

30 And Aaron and all the children of Iſrael looked upon Moſes, and behold, the ſkin of his face ſhone bright, and they were [f] afraid to come near him.

CHAP. XXXV.

2 The ſabbath. 5 The free gifts are required. 21 The readineſs of the people to offer. 30 Bezaleel and Aholiab are praiſed of Moſes.

THEN Moſes aſſembled all the congregation of the children of Iſrael, and ſaid unto them, Theſe are the words which the Lord hath commanded, that ye ſhould do them:

2 * Six days thou ſhalt work, but the ſeventh day ſhall be unto you the holy [h] ſabbath of reſt unto the Lord: whoſoever doth any work therein, ſhall die. * Ch. 20. 9.

3 Ye ſhall kindle no fire throughout all your habitations upon the ſabbath-day.

4 ¶ Again, Moſes ſpake unto all the congregation of the children of Iſrael, ſaying, This is the thing which the Lord commandeth, ſaying,

5 Take from among you an offering unto the Lord: whoſoever is of a * willing heart, let him bring this offering unto the Lord, namely, gold, and ſilver, and braſs: * Ch. 25. 2.

6 Alſo blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine linen, and goat's hair,

7 And rams ſkins died red, and badgers ſkins with Shittim wood:

8 And oil for light, and ſpices for the anointing oil, and for the ſweet incenſe,

9 And onyx ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet in the ephod, and in the breaſt-plate.

10 And all the wiſe [i] hearted among you, ſhall come and make all that the Lord hath commanded:

11 That is, the * tabernacle, the pavilion thereof, and his covering, and his taches, and his boards, his bars, his pillars, and his ſockets, * Ch. 26. 31.

12 The ark, and the bars thereof: the mercy-ſeat, and the vail that [k] covereth it,

13 The table, and the bars of it, and all the inſtruments thereof, and the ſhew bread:

14 Alſo the candleſtick of light, and his inſtruments, and his lamps, with the oil for the light:

15 * Likewiſe the altar of perfume and his bars, and the anointing oil, and the ſweet incenſe, and the vail of the door at the entering in of the tabernacle, * Ch. 30. 1.

16 The * altar of burnt-offering with his braſen grate, his bars and all his inſtruments, the laver and his foot, * Ch. 27. 1.

18 The pins of the tabernacle, and the pins of the court with their cords,

19 The [l] miniſtring garments to miniſter in the holy place, and the garments for Aaron the prieſt, and the garments of his ſons, that they may miniſter in the prieſt's office.

Bef. Chr. 1491.

20 ¶ Then all the congregation of the children of Iſrael departed from the preſence of Moſes.

21 And every one whoſe heart † encouraged him, and every one whoſe ſpirit made him willing, came and brought an offering to the Lord, for the work of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his uſes, and for the holy garments. † Heb. lifted him up.

22 Both men and women, as many as were free hearted, came and brought ‡ taches and earrings, and rings, and bracelets, all were jewels of gold: and every one that offered, offered an offering of gold unto the Lord: ‡ Or, hooks.

23 Every man alſo which had blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine linen, and goats hair, and ram's ſkins died red, and badgers ſkins, brought them.

24 All that offered an oblation of ſilver and braſs, brought the offering unto the Lord: and every one that † had Shittim wood for any manner of work for the miniſtration, brought it. † Heb. with whom was found.

25 And all the women that were [m] wiſe hearted, did ſpin with their hands, and brought the ſpun-work, even the blue ſilk, and the purple, the ſcarlet, and the fine linen.

26 Likewiſe all the women, [n] whoſe hearts were moved with knowledge, ſpun goats hair.

27 And the rulers brought onyx ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet in the ephod, and in the breaſt-plate:

28 Alſo ſpice, and oil for light, and for the * anointing oil, and for the ſweet perfume. * Ch. 30. 23.

29 Every man and woman of the children of Iſrael, whoſe hearts moved them willingly to bring for all the work which the Lord had commanded them to make [o] by the hand of Moſes, brought a free offering unto the Lord.

30 ¶ Then Moſes ſaid unto the children of Iſrael, Behold, * the Lord hath called by name Bezaleel the ſon of Uri, the ſon of Hur, of the tribe of Judah. * Ch. 31. 2.

34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teach others: both he, and Aholiab the ſon of Ahiſamach of the tribe of Dan:

35 Them hath he filled with wiſdom of heart to work all manner of [p] cunning * and broidered, and needle-work: in blue ſilk, and in purple, in ſcarlet, and in fine linen and weaving, even to do all manner of work and ſubtile inventions. * Ch. 26. 1.

† Heb. wiſe in heart.

THEN wrought Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and all † cunning men to whom the Lord gave wiſdom and underſtanding, to know how to work all manner of work for the ſervice of the [q] ſanctuary, according to all that the Lord had commanded.

2 For Moſes had called Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and all the wiſe-hearted men in whoſe hearts the Lord had given wiſdom, even as many as their hearts encouraged to come unto that work to work it.

3 And they received of Moſes all the offering which the children of Iſrael had brought for the work of the ſervice of the ſanctuary, to make it: alſo [r] they brought ſtill unto him free gifts every morning.

4 So all the wiſe men that wrought all the holy work, came every man from his work which they wrought,

5 And ſpake to Moſes, ſaying, The people bring too [s] much, and more than enough for the uſe of the work, which the Lord hath commanded to be made.

6 Then Moſes gave a commandment, and they cauſed it to be proclaimed throughout the hoſt, ſaying, Let neither man nor woman prepare any more work for the oblation of the ſanctuary. So the people were ſtayed from offering.

7 For the ſtuff they had was ſufficient for all the work to make it, and too much.

* Ch. 26. 3, 4.

8 * All the cunning men therefore among the workmen, made for the tabernacle ten curtains of fine twined linen, and of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet: [t] cherubims of broidered work made they upon them.

9 The length of one curtain was twenty and eight cubits: and the breadth of one curtain four cubits, and the curtains were all of one ſize.

10 And he coupled five curtains together, and other five coupled he together.

11 And he made ſtrings of blue ſilk by the edge of one curtain, in the ſelvedge of the coupling: likewiſe he made on the ſide of the other curtain in the ſelvedge in the ſecond coupling.

* Ch. 26. 10.

12 * Fifty ſtrings made he in the one curtain, and fifty ſtrings made he in the edge of the other curtain, which was in the ſecond coupling: the ſtrings were ſet one againſt another.

‡ Or, hooks.

13 After, he made fifty ‡ taches of gold, and coupled the curtains one to another with the taches: ſo was it one tabernacle.

‡ Or, pavilion.

14 ¶ Alſo he made curtains of goats hair for the ‡ covering upon the tabernacle: he made them to the number of eleven curtains.

15 The length of one curtain had thirty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: the eleven curtains were of one ſize.

16 And he coupled five curtains by themſelves, and ſix curtains by themſelves:

17 Alſo he made fifty ſtrings upon the edge of one curtain in the ſelvedge in the coupling, and fifty ſtrings made he upon the edge of the other curtain in the ſecond coupling.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

18 He made alſo fifty taches of braſs to couple the covering that it might be one.

19 And he made a [u] covering upon the pavilion of rams ſkins died red, and a covering of badgers ſkins above.

20 ¶ Likewiſe he made the boards for the tabernacle of Shittim wood to [w] ſtand up.

21 The length of a board was ten cubits, and the breadth of one board was a cubit and an half.

22 One board had two tenons, ſet in order as the feet of a ladder, one againſt another: thus made he for all the boards of the tabernacle.

23 So he made twenty boards for the ſouth ſide of the tabernacle, even full ſouth.

24 And forty ſockets of ſilver made he under the twenty boards, two ſockets under one board for his two tenons, and two ſockets under another board for his two tenons.

25 Alſo for the other ſide of the tabernacle toward the north, he made twenty boards.

26 And their forty ſockets of ſilver, two ſockets under one board, and two ſockets under another board.

27 Likewiſe toward the [x] weſt ſide of the tabernacle he made ſix boards.

28 And two boards made he in the corners of the tabernacle, for either ſide,

* Ch. 26. 24.

29 And they were * joined beneath, and likewiſe were made ſure above with a ring: thus he did to both in both corners.

30 So there were eight boards and their ſixteen ſockets of ſilver, under every board two ſockets.

* Ch. 26. 28. and 30. 4, 5.

31 ¶ After, he made * bars of Shittim wood, five for the boards in the one ſide of the tabernacle,

32 And five bars for the boards in the other ſide of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle on the ſide toward the weſt.

33 And he made the middle bar to ſhoot through the boards, from the one end to the other.

34 He overlaid alſo the boards with gold, and made their rings of gold for places for the bars, and covered the bars with gold.

35 ¶ Moreover he made a [y] vail of blue ſilk, and purple, and of ſcarlet, and of fine twined linen: with cherubims of broidered work made he it:

‡ Or, heads.

36 And made thereunto four pillars of Shittim, and overlaid them with gold: whoſe ‡ hooks were alſo of gold, and he caſt for them four ſockets of ſilver.

37 And he made an [z] hanging for the tabernacle door, of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen, and needle-work.

‡ Or, graven borders.

38 And the five pillars of it with their hooks, and overlaid their chapiters and their ‡ fillets with gold, but their five ſockets were of braſs.

1 The ark. 6 The mercy-ſeat. 10 The table. 17 The candleſtick. 25 The altar of incenſe.

* Ch. 25. 10. AFTER this, Bezaleel made the * ark of Shittim wood, two cubits and an half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and a cubit and an half high:

2 And overlaid it with fine gold within and without, and made a [a] crown of gold to it round about,

3 And caſt for it four rings of gold for the four corners of it: that is, two rings for the one ſide of it, and two rings for the other ſide thereof.

4 Alſo he made bars of Shittim wood, and covered them with gold,

5 And put the bars in the rings by the ſides of the ark, to bear the ark.

* Ch. 25. 17. 6 ¶ And he made the * mercy-ſeat of pure gold: two cubits and an half was the length thereof, and one cubit and an half the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two cherubims of gold, upon the two ends of the mercy-ſeat: even of work beaten with the hammer made he them.

8 One cherub on the one end, and another cherub on the other end: [b] of the mercy-ſeat made he the cherubims, at the two ends thereof.

9 And the cherubims ſpread out their wings on high, and covered the mercy-ſeat with their wings, and their faces were one towards another: toward the mercy-ſeat were the faces of the cherubims.

10 ¶ Alſo he made the table of Shittim wood: two cubits was the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and an half the height of it.

11 And he overlaid it with fine gold, and made thereto a crown of gold round about.

‡ Or, four fingers. 12 Alſo he made thereto a border of an ‡ hand breadth round about, and made upon the border a crown of gold round about.

13 And he caſt for it four rings of gold, and put the rings in the four corners that were in the four feet thereof.

14 Againſt the border were the rings, as places for the bars to bear the table.

15 And he made the bars of Shittim wood, and covered them with gold to bear the table.

* Ch. 25. 29. 16 * Alſo he made the inſtruments for the table of pure gold: diſhes for it, and incenſe cups for it, and goblets for it, and coverings for it, wherewith it ſhould be covered.

17 ¶ Likewiſe he made the candleſtick of pure gold: of work beaten out with the hammer made he the candleſtick, and his ſhaft, and his branch, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers were of one piece.

18 And ſix branches came out of the ſides thereof: three branches of the candleſtick out of the one ſide of it, and three branches of the candleſtick out of the other ſide of it.

19 In one branch three bowls made like almonds, a knop and a flower: and in another branch three bowls made like almonds, a knop and a flower: and ſo throughout the ſix branches that proceeded out of the candleſtick.

20 And upon the candleſtick were four bowls after the faſhion of almonds, the knops thereof, and the flowers thereof:

21 That is, under every two branches a knop made thereof, and a knop under the ſecond branch thereof, and a knop under the third branch thereof, according to the ſix branches coming out of it.

* Ch. 25. 31. 22 Their knops and their branches were of the ſame: it was all one * beaten work of pure gold.

23 And he made for it ſeven lamps with the ſnuffers and ſnuff-diſhes thereof of pure gold.

24 Of a [c] talent of pure gold made he it with all the inſtruments thereof.

* Ch. 30. 1, 2, 3, 4. 25 ¶ Furthermore he made the * perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it was a cubit, and the breadth of it a cubit (it was ſquare) and two cubits high, and the horns thereof were of the ſame.

26 And he covered it with pure gold, both the top and the ſides thereof round about, and the horns of it, and made unto it a crown of gold round about.

27 And he made two rings of gold for it, under the crown thereof, in the two corners of the two ſides thereof, to put bars in for to bear it therewith.

28 Alſo he made the bars of Shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold.

* Ch. 30. 23, 35. 29 And he made the holy * anointing oil, and the ſweet pure incenſe after the apothecary's art.

1 The altar of burnt-offering. 8 The braſen laver. 9 The court. 24 The ſum of that the people offered.

* Ch. 27. 1. ALSO he made the altar of burnt-offering * of Shittim wood: five cubits was the length thereof, and five cubits the breadth thereof: it was ſquare and three cubits high.

2 And he made unto it horns in the four corners thereof: the horns thereof were of the ſame, and he overlaid it with braſs.

* Ch. 27. 3. ‡ Or, fire-pans. 3 Alſo he made all the inſtruments of the altar: the * aſh-pans, and the beſoms, and the baſons, the fleſh-hooks, and the ‡ cenſers: all the inſtruments thereof made he of braſs.

4 Moreover, he made a braſen grate, wrought like a net to the altar, under the compaſs of it beneath in the [d] midſt of it,

5 And caſt four rings of braſs for the four ends of the grate to put bars in.

6 And he made the bars of Shittim wood, and covered them with braſs:

* Ch. 27. 8. 7 The which bars he put into the rings on the ſides of the altar to bear it withal, and made it * hollow within the boards.

8 ¶ Alſo he made the laver of braſs, and the foot of it of braſs of the [e] glaſſes of the women that did aſſemble and come together at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

9 ¶ Finally, he made the court on the ſouth-ſide full ſouth: the hangings of the court were of fine twined linen, having an hundred cubits.

10 Their pillars were twenty, and their braſen ſockets twenty: the hooks of the pillars, and their fillets were of ſilver.

11 And on the north ſide the hangings were an hundred cubits: their pillars twenty, and their ſockets of braſs twenty, the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of ſilver.

12 On the weſt ſide alſo were hangings of fifty cubits, their ten pillars with their ten ſockets: the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of ſilver.

13 And toward the eaſt ſide, full eaſt were hangings of fifty cubits.

14 The hangings of the one ſide were fifteen cubits, their three pillars and their three ſockets:

*Ch. 27. 14.

15 * And of the other ſide of the court gate on both ſides were hangings of fifteen cubits, with their three pillars and their three ſockets.

16 All the hangings of the court round about were of fine twined linen:

17 But the ſockets of the pillars were of braſs: the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of ſilver, and the covering of their chapiters of ſilver: and all the pillars of the court were hooped about with ſilver.

18 He made alſo the hanging of the gate of the court of needle-work, blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen, even twenty cubits long, and five cubits in height and breadth, † like the hangings of the court.

19 And their pillars were four with their four ſockets of braſs: their hooks of ſilver, and the covering of their chapiters, and their fillets of ſilver.

*Ch. 27. 19.

20 But all the * pins of the tabernacle and of the court round about were of braſs.

21 ¶ Theſe are the parts of the tabernacle, I mean, of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, which was appointed by the commandment of Moſes for the office of the [f] levites, by the hand of Ithamar ſon to Aaron the prieſt.

22 So Bezaleel the ſon of Uri the ſon of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made all that the Lord commanded Moſes.

23 And with him Aholiab the ſon of Ahiſamach of the tribe of Dan, a [g] cunning workman, and an embroiderer, and a worker of needle-work in blue ſilk, and in purple, and in ſcarlet, and in fine linen.

24 All the gold that was occupied in all the work wrought for the holy place (which was the gold of the offering) was nine and twenty talents, and ſeven hundred and thirty ſhekels, according to the ſhekel of the ſanctuary.

25 But the ſilver of them that were numbered in the congregation, was an hundred talents, and a thouſand ſeven hundred ſeventy and five ſhekels, after the ſhekel of the ſanctuary.

‡ Or, half a ſhekel.

26 A ‡ portion for a man, that is, half a ſhekel after the ſhekel of the ſanctuary, for all them that were numbered from twenty years old and above, among ſix hundred thouſand and three thouſand and five hundred and fifty men.

27 Moreover there were an hundred talents of ſilver, to caſt the ſockets of the ſanctuary, and the ſockets of the vail: an hundred ſockets of an hundred talents, a talent for a ſocket.

28 But he made the hooks for the pillars of a thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy and five ſhekels, and overlaid their chapiters, and made fillets about them.

29 Alſo the braſs of the offering was ſeventy [h] talents, and two thouſand and four hundred ſhekels,

30 Whereof he made the ſockets to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the braſen altar, and the braſen grate which was for it, with all the inſtruments of the altar,

31 And the ſockets of the court round about, and the ſockets for the court gate, and all the * pins of the tabernacle, and all the pins of the court round about.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The apparel of Aaron and his ſons. 32 All that the Lord commanded, was made and finiſhed. 43 Moſes bleſſeth the people.

MOreover, they made [i] garments of miniſtration to miniſter in the ſanctuary, of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet: they * made alſo the holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

*Ch. 31. 10. and 35. 19.

2 So he made the ephod of gold, blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they did beat the gold into thin plates, and cut it into wires, to work it in the blue ſilk, and in the purple, and in the ſcarlet, and in the fine linen, with broidered work.

4 For the which they made ſhoulders to couple together: for it was cloſed by the two edges thereof.

5 And the broidered gard of his ephod that was upon him, was of the ſame ſtuff, and of like work: even of gold, of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

6 ¶ And they wrought * two onyx ſtones cloſed in ouches of gold, and graved, as [k] ſignets are graven, with the names of the children of Iſrael,

*Ch. 28. 9.

7 And put them on the ſhoulders of the ephod, as ſtones for a * remembrance of the children of Iſrael, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

*Ch. 28. 12.

8 ¶ Alſo he made the breaſt-plate of broidered work like the work of the ephod: to wit, of gold, blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 They made the breaſt-plate double, and it was ſquare, an handbreadth long, and an handbreadth broad: it was alſo double.

10 And they filled it with four rows of ſtones. The order was thus, a ruby, a topaz, and a carbuncle in the firſt row:

11 And in the ſecond row, an emerald, a ſapphire, and a diamond:

12 Alſo in the third row, [l] a turkeis, an agate, and an amethyſt:

[k] That is, of very fine and curious workmanſhip.

[l] Or, a ligure, which ſtone authors write that it cometh of the urine of the beaſt called lynx.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

13 Likewiſe in the fourth row, a chryſolite, an onyx, and a jaſper: cloſed and ſet in ouches of gold.

14 So the ſtones were according to the names of the children of Iſrael, even twelve [m] after their names, graven like ſignets every one after his name, according to the twelve tribes.

15 After, they made upon the breaſt-plate chains at the ends, of wreathen work and pure gold.

16 They made alſo two boſſes of gold, and two gold rings, and put the two rings in the two corners of the breaſt-plate.

17 And they put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings, in the corners of the breaſt-plate.

18 Alſo the two other ends of the two wreathen chains, they faſtened in the two boſſes, and put them on the ſhoulders of the ephod upon the fore-front of it.

19 Likewiſe they made two rings of gold, and put them in the two other corners of the breaſt-plate upon the edge of it which was on the inſide of the ephod.

20 They made alſo two other golden rings, and put them on the two ſides of the ephod, beneath on the foreſide of it, and over-againſt his coupling above the broidered gard of the ephod.

21 Then they faſtened the breaſt-plate by his rings unto the rings of the ephod, with a lace of blue ſilk, that it might be faſt upon the broidered gard of the ephod, and that the breaſt-plate ſhould not be looſed from the ephod, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

22 ¶ Moreover, he made the robe of the [n] ephod of woven work, altogether of blue ſilk.

23 And [o] the hole of the robe was in the midſt of it, as the collar of an habergeon, with an edge about the collar, that it ſhould not rent.

24 And they made upon the ſkirts of the robe pomegranates of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, and fine linen twined.

* Ch. 28. 33.

25 They made alſo * bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates upon the ſkirts of the robe round about between the pomegranates.

26 A bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate round about the ſkirts of the robe to miniſter in, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

27 ¶ After, they made coats of fine linen, of woven work, for Aaron and for his ſons.

* Ch. 28. 42.

28 And the mitre of fine linen, and goodly bonnets of fine linen, * breeches of fine twined linen.

29 ¶ And the girdle of fine twined linen, and of blue ſilk, and purple, and ſcarlet, even of needle-work, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

30 ¶ Finally, they made the plate for the holy crown of fine gold, and wrote upon it a ſuperſcription like to the graving of a ſignet, * HOLINESS TO THE LORD.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

* Ch. 28. 36.

31 And they tied unto it a lace of blue ſilk, to faſten it on high upon the mitre, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

* Ch. 27. 21.

32 ¶ Thus was all the work of the tabernacle, even of the * tabernacle of the congregation finiſhed: and the children of Iſrael did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moſes: ſo did they.

33 ¶ Afterward they brought the tabernacle unto Moſes, the tabernacle and all his inſtruments, his taches, his boards, his bars, and his pillars, and his ſockets,

34 And the covering of rams ſkins died red, and the coverings of badgers ſkins, and the [p] covering vail,

35 The ark of the teſtimony, and the bars thereof, and the mercy-ſeat,

36 The table, with all the inſtruments thereof, and the ſhew bread,

37 The pure candleſtick, the lamps thereof, even the lamps [q] ſet in order, and all the inſtruments thereof, and the oil for light:

38 Alſo the golden altar, and the anointing-oil, and the ſweet incenſe, and the hanging of the tabernacle door,

39 The braſen altar with his grate of braſs, his bars, and all his inſtruments, the laver and his foot,

40 The curtains of the court with his pillars, and his ſockets, and the hanging to the court-gate, and his cords, and his pins, and all the inſtruments of the ſervice of the tabernacle, called the tabernacle of the congregation.

41 Finally, the miniſtring garments to ſerve in the ſanctuary, and the holy garments for Aaron the prieſt, and his ſons garments to miniſter in the prieſt's office.

42 According to every point that the Lord had [r] commanded Moſes, ſo the children of Iſrael made all the work.

43 And Moſes beheld all the work, and behold, they had done it as the Lord had commanded: ſo had they done: and Moſes [s] bleſſed them.

CHAP. XL.

4 Alſo thou ſhalt bring in the * table, and ſet it in order as it doth require: thou ſhalt alſo bring in the candleſtick, and light his lamps,

[t] After that Moſes had been forty days and forty nights in the mount, that is, from the beginning of Auguſt to the tenth of September, he came down and cauſed this work to be done: which being finiſhed, was ſet up in Abib, which month containeth half March and half April.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

5 And thou ſhalt ſet the incenſe altar [u] of gold before the ark of the teſtimony, and put the [w] hanging at the door of the tabernacle.

6 Moreover, thou ſhalt ſet the burnt-offering altar before the door of the tabernacle, called, The tabernacle of the congregation.

7 And thou ſhalt ſet the laver between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and put water therein.

8 Then thou ſhalt appoint the court round about, and hang up the hanging at the court-gate.

9 After, thou ſhalt take the anointing-oil, and anoint the tabernacle, and all that is therein, and hallow it with all the inſtruments thereof, that it may be holy.

10 And thou ſhalt anoint the altar of the burnt-offering, and all his inſtruments, and ſhalt ſanctify the altar, that it may be an altar moſt holy.

11 Alſo thou ſhalt anoint the laver, and his foot, and ſhalt ſanctify it.

12 Then thou ſhalt bring Aaron and his ſons unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and waſh them with water.

13 And thou ſhalt put upon Aaron the holy garments, and ſhalt anoint him, and ſanctify him, that he may miniſter unto me in the prieſt's office.

14 Thou ſhalt alſo bring his ſons, and clothe them with garments,

15 And ſhalt anoint them as thou didſt anoint their father, that they may miniſter unto me in the prieſt's office: for their anointing ſhall be a ſign that the prieſthood [x] ſhall be everlaſting unto them throughout their generations.

16 So Moſes did according to all that the Lord had commanded him: ſo did he.

* Num. 7. 1.

17 ¶ * Thus was the tabernacle reared up the firſt day of the firſt month, in [y] the ſecond year.

18 Then Moſes reared up the tabernacle, and faſtened his ſockets, and ſet up the boards thereof, and put in the bars of it, and reared up his pillars.

19 And he ſpread the covering over the tabernacle, and put the covering of that covering on high above it, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

20 ¶ And he took and put the [z] teſtimony in the ark, and put the bars in the rings of the ark, and ſet the mercy-ſeat on high upon the ark.

21 He brought alſo the ark into the tabernacle, and hanged up the * covering vail, and covered the ark of the teſtimony, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

* Ch. 35. 12.

22 ¶ Furthermore he put the table in the tabernacle of the congregation in the north-ſide of the tabernacle, without the vail,

23 And ſet the bread in order before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

24 ¶ Alſo he put the candleſtick in the tabernacle of the congregation, over-againſt the table toward the ſouth-ſide of the tabernacle.

25 And he ‡ lighted the lamps before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

‡ Or, ſet up.

26 ¶ Moreover, he ſet the golden altar in the tabernacle of the congregation before the vail,

27 And burnt ſweet incenſe thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

28 ¶ Alſo he hanged up the vail at the [a] door of the tabernacle.

29 After, he ſet the burnt-offering altar without the door of the tabernacle, called the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered the burnt-offering and the ſacrifice thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

30 ¶ Likewiſe he ſet the laver between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and poured water therein to waſh with.

31 So Moſes and Aaron, and his ſons waſhed their hands and their feet thereat.

32 When they went into the tabernacle of the congregation, and when they approached to the altar, they waſhed, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

33 Finally, he reared up the court round about the tabernacle and the altar, and hanged up the vail at the court-gate: ſo Moſes finiſhed the work.

* Num. 9. 15. 1 Kings 8. 10.

34 ¶ * Then the cloud covered the tabernacle of the congregation, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle.

35 So Moſes could not enter into the tabernacle of the congregation, becauſe the cloud abode thereon, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle.

36 Now when the cloud aſcended up from the tabernacle, the children of Iſrael went forward in all their journies.

37 But if the cloud aſcended not, then they journeyed not till the day that it aſcended.

38 For [b] the cloud of the Lord was upon the tabernacle by day, and fire was in it by night in the ſight of all the houſe of Iſrael, throughout all their journies.

The Third Book of Moſes, called LEVITICUS *.

* Becauſe in this book is chiefly intreated of the levites, and of things pertaining to their office.

THE ARGUMENT.

As God daily by moſt ſingular benefits declareth himſelf to be mindful of his church: ſo he would not that they ſhould have any occaſion to truſt either in themſelves, or to depend upon others, either for lack of temporal things, or ought that belonged to his divine ſervice and religion. Therefore he ordained divers kinds of oblations and ſacrifices, to aſſure them of forgiveneſs of their offences (if they offered them in true faith and obedience). Alſo he appointed their prieſts and levites, their apparel, offices, converſation and portion: he ſhewed what feaſts they ſhould obſerve, and in what times. Moreover, he declared by theſe ſacrifices and ceremonies that the reward of ſin is death, and that without the blood of Chriſt, the innocent Lamb, there can be no forgiveneſs of ſins. And becauſe they ſhould give no place to their own inventions (which thing God moſt deteſteth, as appeareth by the terrible example of Nadab and Abihu) he preſcribed even to the leaſt things, what they ſhould do, as what beaſts they ſhould offer and eat: what diſeaſes were contagious and to be avoided: what order they ſhould take for all manner of filthineſs and pollution to purge it: whoſe company they ſhould flee: what marriages were lawful: and what politic laws were profitable. Which things declared, he promiſed favour and bleſſing to them that kept his laws, and threatened his curſe to them that tranſgreſſed them.

CHAP. I.

2 Of burnt-offerings for particular perſons. 3, 10 and 14 The manner to offer burnt-offerings as well of bullocks, as of ſheep and birds.

NOW [a] the Lord called Moſes, and ſpake unto him out of the tabernacle of the congregation, ſaying,

2 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay unto them, If any of you offer a ſacrifice unto the Lord, ye ſhall offer your ſacrifice of [b] cattle, as of beeves and of the ſheep.

* Exod. 29. 10.

3 * If his ſacrifice be a burnt-offering of the herd, he ſhall offer a male without blemiſh, preſenting him of his own voluntary will at the door of the [c] tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord.

† Heb. to him.

4 And he ſhall put his hand upon the head of the burnt-offering, and it ſhall be accepted † to the Lord, to be his atonement.

5 And [d] he ſhall kill the bullock before the Lord, and the prieſts Aaron's ſons ſhall offer the blood, and ſhall ſprinkle it round about upon the [e] altar that is by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

6 Then ſhall he ſlay the burnt-offering, and cut it in pieces.

7 So the ſons of Aaron the prieſt ſhall put fire upon the altar, and lay the wood in order upon the fire.

‡ Or, the body of the beaſt, or the fat.

8 Then the prieſts Aaron's ſons ſhall lay the parts in order, the head and the caul ‡, upon the wood that is in the fire which is upon the altar.

9 But the inwards thereof and the legs thereof he ſhall waſh in water, and the prieſt ſhall burn all on the altar: for it is a burnt-offering, an oblation made by fire, for a ſweet ſavour [f] unto the Lord.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

10 ¶ And if his ſacrifice for the burnt-offering be of the flocks (as of the ſheep, or of the goats) he ſhall offer a male without blemiſh,

11 [g] And he ſhall kill it on the north ſide of the altar [h] before the Lord, and the prieſts Aaron's ſons ſhall ſprinkle the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

† Heb. into his pieces.
‡ Or, fat.

12 And he ſhall cut it in † pieces, ſeparating his head and his ‡ caul, and the prieſt ſhall lay them in order upon the wood that lieth in the fire which is on the altar:

13 But he ſhall waſh the inwards and the legs with water, and the prieſt ſhall offer the whole and burn it upon the altar: for it is a burnt-offering, an oblation made by fire for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

14 ¶ And if his ſacrifice be a burnt-offering to the Lord of the fowls, then ſhall he offer his ſacrifice of his turtle doves, or of the young pigeons.

‡ Or, ſtrained, or, preſſed.

15 And the prieſt ſhall bring it unto the altar, and [i] wring the neck of it aſunder, and burn it on the altar: and the blood thereof ſhall be ‡ ſhed upon the ſide of the altar.

16 And he ſhall pluck out his maw with his feathers, and caſt them beſide the altar on the [k] eaſt part in the place of the aſhes.

17 And he ſhall cleave it with his wings, but not divide it aſunder: and the prieſt ſhall burn it upon the altar upon the wood that is in the fire: for it is a burnt-offering, an oblation made by fire for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

[a] Hereby Moſes declareth that he taught nothing to the people, but that which he received of God.

1 The meat-offering is of three ſorts: of fine flour unbaken. 4 Of bread baken, 14 And of corn in the ear.

AND when any will offer a [l] meat-offering unto the Lord, his offering ſhall be of fine flour, and he ſhall pour oil upon it, and put incenſe thereon,

2 And ſhall bring it unto Aaron's ſons the prieſts, and [m] he ſhall take thence his handful of the flour, and of the oil with all the incenſe, and the prieſt ſhall burn it for a [n] memorial upon the altar: for it is an offering made by fire for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

* Eccleſ. 7. 31. 3 * But the remnant of the meat-offering ſhall be Aaron's and his ſons: for it is [o] moſt holy of the Lord's offering made by fire.

4 ¶ If thou bring alſo a meat-offering baken in the oven, it ſhall be an unleavened cake of fine flour mingled with oil, or an unleavened wafer anointed with oil.

5 ¶ But if thy [p] meat-offering be an oblation of the frying-pan, it ſhall be of fine flour unleavened, mingled with oil.

6 And thou ſhalt part it in pieces, and pour oil thereon: for it is a meat-offering.

7 ¶ And if thy meat-offering be an oblation made in the caldron, it ſhall be made of fine flour with oil.

8 After, thou ſhalt bring the meat-offering (that is made of theſe things) unto the Lord, and ſhalt preſent it unto the prieſt, and he ſhall bring it to the altar,

* Ver. 2. * Exod. 29. 18. 9 And the prieſt ſhall take from the meat-offering a * memorial of it, and ſhall burn it upon the altar: for it is an oblation * made by fire for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

10 But that which is left of the meat-offering ſhall be Aaron's and his ſons: for it is moſt holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire.

11 All the meat-offerings which ye ſhall offer unto the Lord, ſhall be made without leaven: for ye ſhall neither burn leaven nor honey in any offering of the Lord made by fire.

12 ¶ In the oblation of the firſt-fruits ye ſhall offer [q] them unto the Lord, but they ſhall not be burnt [r] upon the altar for a ſweet ſavour.

* Mark 9. 49. 13 (All the meat-offerings alſo ſhalt thou ſeaſon with * ſalt, neither ſhalt thou ſuffer the ſalt of the [s] covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat-offering, but upon all thine oblations thou ſhalt offer ſalt.)

15 After, thou ſhalt put oil upon it, and lay incenſe thereon: for it is a meat-offering.

16 And the prieſt ſhall burn the memorial of it, even of that that is beaten, and of the oil of it, with all the incenſe thereof: for it is an offering unto the Lord made by fire.

CHAP. III.

1 The manner of peace-offerings, and beaſts for the ſame. 17 The Iſraelites may neither eat fat nor blood.

ALSO if his oblation be a [t] peace-offering, if he will offer of the drove (whether it be male or female) he ſhall offer ſuch as is without blemiſh, before the Lord,

2 And ſhall put his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aaron's ſons the prieſts ſhall ſprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.

3 So he ſhall offer [u] part of the peace-offerings as a ſacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, even the * fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards. * Exod. 29. 22.

4 He ſhall alſo take away the two kidnies, and the fat that is on them, and upon ‡ the flanks, and the caul on the liver with the kidnies. ‡ Or, the which kidnies are near the flanks.

5 And Aaron's ſons ſhall burn it on the altar, with the burnt-offering which is upon the wood that is on the fire: this is a ſacrifice made by fire for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

6 ¶ Alſo if his oblation be a peace-offering unto the Lord out of the flock (whether it be [w] male or female) he ſhall offer it without blemiſh.

7 If he offer a lamb for his oblation, then he ſhall bring it before the Lord,

8 And lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and ſhall kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation, and Aaron's ſons ſhall ſprinkle the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

9 After, of the peace-offerings he ſhall offer [x] an offering made by fire unto the Lord: he ſhall take away the fat thereof, and the rump altogether, hard by the back-bone, and the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards.

10 Alſo he ſhall take away the two kidnies, with the fat that is upon them and upon the * flanks, and the caul upon the liver with the kidnies. * Ver. 4.

11 Then the prieſt ſhall burn it upon the altar, as the meat of an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

12 ¶ Alſo, if his offering be a goat, then ſhall he offer it before the Lord,

13 And ſhall put his hand upon the head of it, and kill it before the [y] tabernacle of the congregation,

CHAP. V.

1 Of him that teſtifieth not the truth, if he hear another ſwear falſely. 4 Of him that voweth raſhly. 15 Of him that by ignorance withdraweth any thing dedicate to the Lord.

† Heb. a ſoul.
‡ Or, if the judge had taken an oath of any other.

ALSO if † any have ſinned, that is, ‡ if he has heard the voice of another, and he can be a witneſs, whether he hath ſeen or [n] known of it, if he do not utter it, he ſhall bear his iniquity:

2 Either if one touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carrion of an unclean beaſt, or a carrion of unclean cattle, or a carrion of unclean creeping things, and is not aware of it, yet he is unclean, and hath offended:

Bef. Chr. 1490.

3 Either if he touch any uncleanneſs of man (whatſoever uncleanneſs it be that he is defiled with) and is not aware of it, and after cometh to the knowledge of it, he hath ſinned.

4 Either if any [o] ſwear and pronounce with his lips to do evil, or to do good (whatſoever it be that a man ſhall pronounce with an oath) and it be hid from him, and after knoweth that he hath offended in one of theſe points,

5 When he hath ſinned in any of theſe [p] things, then he ſhall confeſs that he hath ſinned therein.

6 Therefore ſhall he bring his treſpaſs-offering unto the Lord for his ſin which he hath committed, even a female from the flock, be it a lamb or a ſhe-goat for a ſin-offering, and the prieſt ſhall make an atonement for him concerning his ſin.

† Heb. if his hand cannot touch, meaning, for his poverty.

7 But † if he be not able to bring a ſheep, he ſhall bring for his treſpaſs which he hath committed, two turtle doves, or two young pigeons unto the Lord, one for a ſin-offering, and the other for a burnt-offering.

* Ch. 1. 15.

8 So he ſhall bring them unto the prieſt, who ſhall offer the ſin-offering firſt, and * wring the neck of it aſunder, but not pluck it clean off.

‡ Or, poured.

9 After he ſhall ſprinkle of the blood of the ſin-offering upon the ſide of the altar, and the reſt of the blood ſhall be ‡ ſhed at the foot of the altar: for it is a ſin-offering.

‡ Or, according to the law.

10 Alſo he ſhall offer the ſecond for a burnt-offering ‡ as the manner is: ſo ſhall the prieſt [q] make an atonement for him (for his ſin which he hath committed) and it ſhall be forgiven him.

* Ver. 7.

11 ¶ But if he * be not able to bring two turtle doves, or two young pigeons, then he that hath ſinned ſhall bring for his offering, the tenth part of an [r] ephah of fine flower for a ſin-offering, he ſhall put none [s] oil thereto, neither put any incenſe thereon: for it is a ſin-offering.

* Ch. 2. 2.
* Ch. 4. 35.

12 Then he ſhall bring it to the prieſt, and the prieſt ſhall take his handful of it for the * remembrance thereof, and burn it upon the altar * with the offerings of the Lord made by fire: for it is a ſin-offering.

13 So the prieſt ſhall make an atonement for him, as touching his ſin that he hath committed in one of theſe points, and it ſhall be forgiven him: and the remnant ſhall be the prieſt's, as the meat-offering.

14 And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

15 If any perſon tranſgreſs and ſin through ignorance, [t] by taking away things conſecrated unto the Lord, he ſhall then bring for his treſpaſs-offering unto the Lord a ram without blemiſh out of the flock, worth two ſhekels of ſilver [u] by the eſtimation after the ſhekel of the ſanctuary, for a treſpaſs offering.

8 ¶ Then the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

10 And the prieſt ſhall put on his linen garment, and ſhall put on his linen breeches upon [b] his fleſh, and take away the aſhes when the fire hath conſumed the burnt-offering upon the altar, and he ſhall put them beſide the [c] altar.

11 After, he ſhall put off his garments, and put on other raiment, and carry the aſhes forth without the hoſt unto a clean place.

Bef. Chr. 1490. 12 But the fire upon the altar ſhall burn thereon and never be put out: wherefore the prieſt ſhall burn wood in it every morning, and lay the burnt-offering in order upon it, and he ſhall burn thereon the fat of the peace-offerings.

CHAP. VII.

1 The law of the treſpaſs offering. 11 Alſo of the peace-offerings. 24 The fat and the blood may not be eaten.

Likewiſe this is the law of the [k] treſpaſs-offering, it is moſt holy.

2 In the place [l] where they kill the burnt-offering, ſhall they kill the treſpaſs-offering, and the blood thereof ſhall he ſprinkle round about upon the altar.

3 All the fat thereof alſo ſhall [m] he offer, the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards.

4 After he ſhall take away the two kidnies, with the fat that is on them and upon the flanks, and the caul on the liver, with the kidnies.

6 All the males among the prieſts ſhall eat thereof, it ſhall be eaten in the holy place, for it is moſt holy.

7 As the ſin-offering is, ſo is the treſpaſs-offering, one [n] law ſerveth for both: [o] that wherewith the prieſt ſhall make atonement ſhall be his.

8 Alſo the prieſt that offereth any man's burnt-offering, ſhall have the ſkin of the burnt-offering which he hath offered.

9 And all the meat-offering that is baken in the oven, and that is dreſſed in the pan, and in the frying-pan, ſhall be the prieſt's that offereth it.

10 And every meat-offering mingled with oil, and that is [p] dry, ſhall pertain unto all the ſons of Aaron, to all alike.

11 Furthermore, this is the law of the peace-offerings, which he ſhall offer unto the Lord.

12 [q] If he offer it to give thanks, then he ſhall offer for his thanks-offering, unleavened cakes mingled with oil, and unleavened wafers anointed with oil, and fine flour fried with the cakes mingled with oil.

13 He ſhall offer alſo his offering with cakes of leavened bread for his peace-offerings, to give thanks.

14 And of all the ſacrifice he ſhall offer one cake for an heave-offering unto the Lord, and it ſhall be the prieſt's that ſprinkleth the blood of the peace-offerings.

15 Alſo the fleſh of his peace-offerings for thankſgiving ſhall be eaten the ſame day that it is offered: he ſhall leave nothing thereof until the morning.

16 But if the ſacrifice of his offering be a [r] vow, or a free-offering, it ſhall be eaten the ſame day that he offereth his ſacrifice: and ſo in the morning the reſidue thereof ſhall be eaten.

17 But as much of the offered fleſh as remaineth unto the third day, ſhall be burnt with fire.

18 For if any of the fleſh of his peace-offerings be eaten in the third day, he ſhall not be accepted that offereth it, neither ſhall it be reckoned unto him, but ſhall be an abomination: therefore the perſon that eateth of it ſhall [s] bear his iniquity.

19 The fleſh alſo that toucheth any unclean [t] thing, ſhall not be eaten, but burnt with fire: but of [u] this fleſh all that be clean ſhall eat thereof.

20 But if any eat of the fleſh of the peace-offerings that pertaineth to the Lord, having his * uncleanneſs upon him, even the ſame perſon ſhall be cut off from his people. * Ch. 15. 3.

21 Moreover, when any toucheth any unclean thing, as the uncleanneſs of man, or of an unclean beaſt, or of any filthy abomination, and eat of the fleſh of the peace-offerings, which pertaineth unto the Lord, even that perſon ſhall be cut off from his people.

22 ¶ Again, the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

23 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay, * Ye ſhall eat no fat of beeves, nor of ſheep, nor of goats: * Ch. 3. 17.

24 Yet the fat of the dead beaſt, and the fat of that which is torn with beaſts, ſhall be occupied to any uſe, but ye ſhall not eat of it.

25 For whoſoever eateth the fat of the beaſt, of the which he ſhall offer an offering made by fire to the Lord, even the perſon that eateth ſhall be cut off from his people.

26 Neither * ſhall ye eat any blood, either of fowl, or of beaſt, in all your dwellings. * Gen. 9. 4. Ch. 17. 14.

27 Every perſon that eateth any blood, even the ſame perſon ſhall be cut off from his people.

28 ¶ And the Lord talked with Moſes, ſaying,

29 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay, He that offereth his peace-offerings unto the Lord, ſhall bring his gift unto the Lord of his peace-offerings:

30 His [w] hands ſhall bring the offerings of the Lord made by fire: even the fat with the breaſt ſhall he bring, that the breaſt may be * ſhaken to and fro before the Lord. * Exod. 29. 24.

CHAP. VIII.

12 The anointing of Aaron and his ſons, with the ſacrifice concerning the ſame.

AFterward the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

* Exod. 28. 1, 4. * Exod. 30. 24. 2 * Take Aaron and his ſons with him, and the garments, and the * anointing oil, and a bullock for the ſin-offering, and two rams, and a baſket of unleavened bread,

4 So Moſes did as the Lord had commanded him, and the company was aſſembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

* Exod. 29. 4. 5 Then Moſes ſaid unto the company, * This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded to do.

6 And Moſes brought Aaron, and his ſons, and waſhed them with water,

7 And put upon him the coat, and girded him with a girdle, and cloathed him with the robe, and put the ephod on him, which he girded with the broidered gard of the ephod, and bound it unto him therewith.

* Exod. 28. 30. 8 After he put the breaſt-plate thereon, and put in the breaſt-plate * the urim and thummim.

9 Alſo he put the mitre upon his head, and put upon the mitre on the fore-front the golden plate, and the [z] holy crown, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

10 (Now Moſes had taken the anointing oil, and anointed the [a] tabernacle and all that was therein, and ſanctified them,

11 And ſprinkled thereof upon the altar ſeven times, and anointed the altar and all his inſtruments, and the laver, and his foot, to ſanctify them)

12 * And he poured of the anointing oil upon Aaron's head, and anointed him, to ſanctify him. Bef. Chr. 1490. * Pſ. 133. 2.

13 After, Moſes brought Aaron's ſons, and put coats upon them, and girded them with girdles, and put bonnets upon their heads, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

14 * Then he brought the bullock for the ſin-offering, and Aaron and his ſons put their hands upon the head of the bullock for the ſin-offering. * Exod. 29. 1. Ch. 9. 2.

15 And Moſes ſlew him, and took the blood, which he put upon the horns of the [b] altar round about with his finger, and purified the altar, and poured the reſt of the blood at the foot of the altar: ſo he ſanctified [c] it, to make reconciliation upon it.

16 Then he took all the fat that was upon the inwards: and the caul of the liver, and the two kidnies, with their fat, which Moſes burned upon the altar.

17 But the bullock and his [d] hide, and his fleſh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the hoſt, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

18 ¶ Alſo he brought the ram for the burnt-offering, and Aaron and his ſons put their hands upon the head of the ram.

19 So Moſes killed it, and ſprinkled the blood upon the altar round about,

20 And Moſes cut the ram in pieces, and burnt the head with the pieces, and the fat,

21 And waſhed the inwards and the legs in water: ſo Moſes burnt the ram every whit upon the altar: for it was a burnt-offering for a ſweet ſavour, which was made by fire unto the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

22 ¶ * After, he brought the other ram, the ram of conſecrations, and Aaron and his ſons laid their hands upon the head of the ram, * Exod. 29. 31.

23 Which Moſes [e] ſlew, and took of the blood of it, and put it upon the lap of Aaron's right ear, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

24 Then Moſes brought Aaron's ſons, and put of the blood on the lap of their right ears, and upon the thumbs of their right hands, and upon the great toes of their right feet, and Moſes ſprinkled the reſt of the blood upon the altar round about. * Exod. 29. 24.

25 And he took the fat and the rump, and all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul of the liver, and the two kidnies with their fat, and the right ſhoulder.

26 Alſo he took of the baſket of the unleavened bread that was before the Lord, one unleavened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right ſhoulder.

27 So he put * all in Aaron's hands, and in his ſons hands, and ſhook it to and fro before the Lord. * Exod. 29. 24.

28 After, Moſes took them out of their hands, and burnt them upon the altar for a burnt-offering: for theſe were conſecrations for a ſweet ſavour which were made by fire unto the Lord.

30 Alſo Moſes took of the anointing oil, and of the blood which was upon the altar, and ſprinkled it upon Aaron, upon his garments, and upon his ſons, and on his ſons garments with him: ſo he ſanctified Aaron, his garments, and his ſons, and his ſons garments with him.

31 ¶ Afterward Moſes ſaid unto Aaron and his ſons, Seethe the fleſh at the door of the [f] tabernacle of the congregation, and there * eat it with the bread that is in the baſket of conſecrations, as I commanded, ſaying, Aaron and his ſons ſhall eat it.

* Exod. 29. 32. Ch. 24. 9.

32 But that which remaineth of the fleſh and of the bread, ſhall ye burn with fire.

33 And ye ſhall not depart from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation ſeven days, until the days of your conſecrations be at an end: for * ſeven days, ſaid the Lord, ſhall he † conſecrate you.

* Exod. 29. 35. † Heb. fill your hands. ‡ Or, as I have done.

34 As ‡ he hath done this day: ſo the Lord hath commanded to do, to make an atonement for you.

35 Therefore ſhall ye abide at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation day and night, ſeven days, and ſhall keep the watch of the Lord, that ye die not: for ſo I am commanded.

36 So Aaron and his ſons did all things which the Lord had commanded by the [g] hand of Moſes.

CHAP. IX.

8 The firſt offerings of Aaron. 22 Aaron bleſſeth the people. 23 The glory of the Lord is ſhewed. 24 The fire cometh from the Lord.

AND in the [h] eighth day Moſes called Aaron and his ſons, and the elders of Iſrael:

* Exod. 29. 1.

2 * Then he ſaid unto Aaron, Take thee a young calf for a [i] ſin-offering, and a ram for a burnt-offering, both without blemiſh, and bring them before the Lord.

3 And unto the children of Iſrael thou ſhalt ſpeak, ſaying, Take ye an he-goat for a ſin-offering, and a calf, and a lamb, both of a year old, without blemiſh, for a burnt-offering:

4 Alſo a bullock and a ram for peace-offerings, to offer before the Lord, and a meat-offering mingled with oil: for to-day the Lord will appear unto you.

5 ¶ Then they brought that which Moſes commanded before the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the aſſembly drew near and ſtood before the [k] Lord.

6 (For Moſes had ſaid, This is the thing which the Lord commanded that ye ſhould do, and the glory of the Lord ſhall appear unto you)

7 Then Moſes ſaid unto Aaron, Draw near to the altar, and offer thy ſin-offering, and thy burnt-offering, and make an atonement for [l] thee and for the people: offer alſo the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them, as the Lord hath commanded.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

8 ¶ Aaron therefore went unto the altar, and killed the calf of the ſin-offering, which was for himſelf.

9 And the ſons of Aaron brought the blood unto him, and he dipt his finger in the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar, and poured the reſt of the blood at the foot of the altar.

10 But the fat and the kidnies, and the caul of the liver of the ſin-offering, he [m] burnt upon the altar, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

11 The fleſh alſo and the hide he burnt with fire without the hoſt.

12 After, he ſlew the burnt-offering, and Aaron's ſons brought unto him the blood, which he ſprinkled round about upon the altar.

13 Alſo they brought the burnt-offering unto him with the pieces thereof, and the head, and he burnt them upon the altar.

14 Likewiſe he did waſh the inwards and the legs, and [n] burnt them upon the burnt-offering on the altar.

15 ¶ Then he offered the people's offering, and took a goat, which was the ſin-offering for the people, and ſlew it: and offered it for ſin, as the firſt:

16 So he offered the burnt-offering, and prepared it, according to the manner.

17 He preſented alſo the meat-offering, and filled his hand thereof, and * beſide the burnt-ſacrifice of the morning, he burnt this upon the altar.

* Exod. 29. 38.

18 He ſlew alſo the bullock, and the ram for the peace-offerings, that was for the people, and Aaron's ſons brought unto him the blood, which he ſprinkled upon the altar round about,

19 With the fat of the bullock, and of the ram, the rump, and that which covereth the inwards, and the kidnies, and the caul of the liver.

20 So they laid the fat upon the breaſts, and he burnt the fat upon the altar.

21 But the [o] breaſts and the right ſhoulder Aaron ſhook to and fro before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

22 So Aaron lift up his hand toward the people, and bleſſed them, and [p] came down from offering of the ſin-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings.

23 After, Moſes and Aaron went into the tabernacle of the congregation, and came out, and [q] bleſſed the people, and the glory of the Lord appeared to all the people.

24 * And there came a fire out from the Lord, and conſumed upon the altar the burnt-offering and the fat: which when all the people ſaw, they ‡ gave thanks, and fell on their faces.

* Gen. 4. 4. 1 Kings 18. 38. 2 Chron. 7. 1. ‡ Or, gave a ſhout for joy.

CHAP. X.

2 Nadab and Abihu are burnt. 6 Iſrael mourneth for them, but the prieſts might not. 9 The prieſts are forbidden wine.

* Num. 3. 4. and 26. 61. 1 Chron. 24. 2.

BUT * Nadab and Abihu, the ſons of Aaron, took either of them his cenſer, and put fire therein, and put incenſe thereupon, and offered [r] ſtrange fire before the Lord, which he had not commanded them.

2 Therefore a fire went out from the Lord, and devoured them: ſo they died before the Lord.

3 Then Moſes ſaid unto Aaron, This is it that the Lord ſpake, ſaying, I will be [s] ſanctified in them that come near me, and before all the people I will be glorified: but Aaron held his peace.

4 And Moſes called Miſhael and Elzaphan, the ſons of Uzziel, the uncle of Aaron, and ſaid unto them, Come near, carry your ‡ brethren from before the ſanctuary out of the hoſt.

‡ Or, couſins.

5 Then they went, and carried them in their coats out of the hoſt, as Moſes had commanded.

6 After, Moſes ſaid unto Aaron and unto Eleazar and Ithamar his ſons, [t] Uncover not your heads, neither rend your clothes, leſt ye die, and leſt wrath come upon all the people: but let your brethren, all the houſe of Iſrael, bewail the burning which the Lord hath [u] kindled.

7 And go not ye out from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, leſt ye die: for the anointing oil of the Lord is upon you: and they did according to Moſes's commandment.

8 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Aaron, ſaying,

9 Thou ſhalt not drink wine nor ‡ ſtrong drink, thou, nor thy ſons with thee, when ye come into the tabernacle of the congregation, leſt ye die: this is an ordinance for ever throughout your generations,

12 ¶ Then Moſes ſaid unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar and to Ithamar his ſons that were left, Take the meat-offering that remaineth of the offerings of the Lord made by fire, and eat it without leaven beſide the altar: for it is moſt holy:

13 And ye ſhall eat it in the holy place, becauſe it is thy duty, and thy ſons duty, of the offerings of the Lord made by fire: for ſo I am commanded.

14 Alſo the * ſhaken breaſt, and the heave-ſhoulder ſhall ye eat in a ‡ clean place: thou, and thy ſons, and thy [w] daughters with thee: for they are given as thy ‡ duty and thy ſons duty, of the peace-offerings of the children of Iſrael.

16 ¶ And Moſes ſought the goat that was offered for ſin, and lo, it was burnt: therefore he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, the ſons of Aaron, which were [x] left alive, ſaying,

17 Wherefore have ye not eaten the ſin-offering in the holy place, ſeeing it is moſt holy? and God hath given it you, to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make an atonement for them before the Lord.

18 Behold, the blood of it was not brought within the holy place: ye ſhould have eaten it in the holy place, * as I commanded.

* Ch. 6. 26.

19 And Aaron ſaid unto Moſes, Behold, this day [y] have they offered their ſin-offering, and their burnt-offering before the Lord, and ſuch things as thou knoweſt are come unto me: if I had eaten the ſin-offering to-day, ſhould it have been accepted in the ſight of the Lord?

20 So when Moſes heard it, he was [z] content.

CHAP. XI.

1 Of beaſts, fiſhes, and birds, which be clean, and which be unclean.

AFTER, the Lord ſpake unto Moſes and to Aaron, ſaying unto them,

2 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay, * Theſe are the beaſts which ye [a] ſhall eat, among all the beaſts that are on the earth.

* Gen. 7. 2. Deut. 14. 4. Acts 10. 14.

3 Whatſoever parteth the [b] hoof, and is cloven footed, and cheweth the cud, among the beaſts, that ſhall ye eat:

4 But of them that chew the cud, or divide the hoof only, of them ye ſhall not eat: as the camel, becauſe he cheweth the cud, and divideth not the hoof, he ſhall be unclean unto you.

5 Likewiſe the coney, becauſe he cheweth the cud, and divideth not the hoof, he ſhall be unclean to you.

6 Alſo the hare, becauſe he cheweth the cud, and divideth not the hoof, he ſhall be unclean to you.

7 And the ſwine, becauſe he parteth the hoof and is cloven-footed, but cheweth not the cud, he ſhall be unclean to you.

8 Of their [c] fleſh ſhall ye not eat, and their carcaſe ſhall ye not touch: for they ſhall be unclean to you.

[b] He noteth four ſorts of beaſts: ſome chew the cud only, and ſome have only the foot cleft: others, neither chew the cud, nor have the hoof cleft: the fourth both chew the cud, and have the hoof divided, which may be eaten.

[c] God would that hereby for a time they ſhould be diſcerned as his people from the Gentiles.

9 ¶ Theſe ſhall ye eat, of all that are in the waters: whatſoever hath fins and ſcales in the waters, in the ſeas, or in the rivers, them ſhall ye eat.

10 But all that have not fins nor ſcales in the ſeas, or in the rivers, of all that [d] moveth in the waters, and of all [e] living things that are in the waters, they ſhall be an abomination unto you.

11 They, I ſay, ſhall be an abomination to you: ye ſhall not eat of their fleſh, but ſhall abhor their carcaſe.

12 Whatſoever hath not fins nor ſcales in the waters, that ſhall be abomination unto you.

‡ Or, griffin, as in the Greek.

13 ¶ Theſe ſhall ye have alſo in abomination among the fowls, they ſhall not be eaten, for they are an abomination: the eagle, and the ‡ goſhawk, and the oſpray:

14 Alſo the vulture, and the kite after his kind:

15 And all ravens after their kind:

‡ Or, cuckow.

16 The oſtrich alſo, and the night-crow, and the ‡ ſea-mew, and the hawk after his kind:

17 The little owl alſo, and the cormorant, and the great owl:

‡ Or, porphiry.

18 Alſo the ‡ redſhank, and the pelican, and the ſwan:

19 The ſtork alſo, the heron after his kind, and the lapwing, and the bat:

20 Alſo every fowl that creepeth and goeth upon all four, ſuch ſhall be an abomination unto you.

‡ Or, have no bowings in their feet.

21 Yet theſe ſhall ye eat: of every fowl that creepeth, and goeth upon all four, which ‡ have their feet and legs all of one, to leap withal upon the earth,

22 Of them ye ſhall eat theſe, the graſhopper after his kind, and the [f] ſolean after his kind, the hargol after his kind, and the hagab after his kind.

23 But all other fowls that creep and have four feet, they ſhall be an abomination unto you.

24 For by ſuch ye ſhall be polluted: whoſoever toucheth their carcaſe, ſhall be unclean unto the evening.

25 Whoſoever alſo [g] beareth of their carcaſe, ſhall waſh his clothes, and be unclean until even.

‡ Or, hath not his foot cloven in two.

26 Every beaſt that hath claws divided, and is ‡ not cloven-footed, nor cheweth the cud, ſuch ſhall be unclean unto you.: every one that toucheth them ſhall be unclean.

27 And whatſoever goeth upon his paws among all manner of beaſts that goeth on all four, ſuch ſhall be unclean unto you: who ſo doth touch their carcaſe ſhall be unclean until the even.

28 And he that beareth their carcaſe, ſhall waſh his clothes, and be unclean until the even: for ſuch ſhall be unclean unto you.

‡ Or, crocodile.

29 ¶ Alſo theſe ſhall be unclean to you among the things that creep and move upon the earth, the weaſel, and the mouſe, and the [h] ‡ frog, after his kind:

30 Alſo the rat, and the lizard, and the cameleon, and the ſtellio, and the mole.

31 Theſe ſhall be unclean to you among all that creep: whoſoever doth touch them when they be dead, ſhall be unclean until the even.

32 Alſo whatſoever any of the dead carcaſes of them doth fall upon, ſhall be unclean, whether it be veſſel of wood, or raiment, or [i] ſkin, or ſack: whatſoever veſſel it be that is occupied, it ſhall be put in the water as unclean until the even, and ſo be purified.

* Chap. 6, 23.

33 But every earthen veſſel, whereinto any of them falleth, whatſoever is within it ſhall be unclean, and * ye ſhall break it.

34 All meat alſo that ſhall be eaten, if any ſuch water come upon it, ſhall be unclean: and all drink that ſhall be drunk in all ſuch veſſels, ſhall be unclean.

35 And every thing that their carcaſe fall upon ſhall be unclean: the furnace or the pot ſhall be broken: for they are unclean unto you.

36 Yet the fountains and wells where there is plenty of water ſhall be clean: but that which [k] toucheth their carcaſes, ſhall be unclean.

37 And if there fall of the dead carcaſe upon any ſeed which uſeth to be ſown, it ſhall be unclean.

38 But if any [l] water be poured upon the ſeed, and there fall of their dead carcaſe thereon, it ſhall be unclean unto you.

39 If alſo any beaſt, whereof ye may eat, die, he that toucheth the carcaſe thereof ſhall be unclean until the even.

40 And he that eateth of the carcaſe of it, ſhall waſh his clothes, and be unclean until the even: he alſo that beareth the carcaſe of it, ſhall waſh his clothes, and be unclean until the even.

41 Every creeping thing therefore that creepeth upon the earth, ſhall be an abomination, and not be eaten.

42 Whatſoever goeth upon the breaſt, and whatſoever goeth upon all four, or that hath many feet among all creeping things that creep upon the earth, ye ſhall not eat of them, for they ſhall be abomination.

43 Ye ſhall not pollute yourſelves with any thing that creepeth, neither make yourſelves unclean with them, neither defile yourſelves thereby: ye ſhall not, I ſay, be defiled by them.

44 For I am the Lord your God: be ſanctified therefore, and be [m] holy, for I am holy, defile not yourſelves with any creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

45 For I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God, and that you ſhould be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the law of beaſts, and of fowls, and of every living thing that moveth in the waters, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth.

47 That there may be a difference between the unclean and clean, and between the beaſt that

2 What conſiderations the prieſt ought to obſerve in judging the leproſy. 28 The black ſpot, or ſcab. 47 And the leproſy of the garment.

MOreover the Lord ſpake unto Moſes and to Aaron, ſaying,

2 The man that ſhall have in the ſkin of his fleſh a ſwelling or a ſcab, or a white ſpot, ſo that in the ſkin of his fleſh [t] it be like the plague of leproſy, then he ſhall be brought unto Aaron the prieſt, or unto one of his ſons the prieſts,

3 And the prieſt ſhall look on the ſore in the ſkin of his fleſh: if the hair in the ſore be turned into white, and the ſore ſeem to be [u] lower than the ſkin of his fleſh, it is a plague of leproſy: therefore the prieſt ſhall look on him, and † pronounce him unclean.

† Heb. ſhall pollute him.

4 But if the white ſpot be in the ſkin of his fleſh, and ſeem not to be lower than the ſkin, nor the hair thereof be turned unto white, then the prieſt ſhall ſhut up him that hath the plague, ſeven days.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

5 After, the prieſt ſhall look upon him the ſeventh day: and if the plague ſeem † to him to abide ſtill, and the plague grow not in the ſkin, the prieſt ſhall ſhut him up yet ſeven days more.

† Heb. in his eye.

6 Then the prieſt ſhall look on him again the ſeventh day; and if the plague be [w] dark, and the ſore grow not in the ſkin, then the prieſt ſhall † pronounce him clean, for it is a ſcab: therefore he ſhall waſh his clothes and be clean.

† Heb. ſhall cleanſe him.

7 But if the ſcab grow more in the ſkin, after that he is ſeen of the prieſt for to be purged, he ſhall be ſeen of the prieſt yet again.

8 Then the prieſt ſhall conſider, and if the ſcab ‡ grow in the ſkin, then the prieſt ſhall pronounce him [x] unclean: for it is leproſy.

‡ Or, be ſpread abroad.

9 ¶ When the plague of leproſy is in a man, he ſhall be brought unto the prieſt,

10 And the prieſt ſhall ſee him: and if the ſwelling be white in the ſkin, and have made the hair white, and there be raw fleſh in the ſwelling,

11 It is an old leproſy in the ſkin of his fleſh: and the prieſt ſhall pronounce him unclean, and ſhall not ſhut him up, for he is unclean.

12 Alſo if the leproſy ‡ break out in the ſkin, and the leproſy cover all the ſkin of the plague, from his head even to his feet, whereſoever the prieſt looketh,

‡ Or, bud.

13 Then the prieſt ſhall conſider: and if the leproſy cover all his fleſh, he ſhall pronounce the plague to be [y] clean, becauſe it is all turned into whiteneſs: ſo he ſhall be clean.

14 But if there be raw fleſh on him when he is ſeen, he ſhall be unclean.

15 For the prieſt ſhall ſee the raw fleſh, and declare him to be unclean: for the raw fleſh is [z] unclean, therefore it is the leproſy.

16 Or if the raw fleſh change and be turned into white, then he ſhall come to the prieſt,

17 And the prieſt ſhall behold him: and if the ſore be changed into white, then the prieſt ſhall pronounce the plague clean, for it is clean.

18 ¶ The fleſh alſo in whoſe ſkin there is ‡ a bile, and is healed,

‡ Or, impoſthume.

19 And in the place of the bile there be a white ſwelling, or a white ſpot ſomewhat reddiſh, it ſhall be ſeen of the prieſt.

20 And when the prieſt ſeeth it, if it appear lower than the ſkin, and the hair thereof be changed into white, the prieſt then ſhall pronounce him [a] unclean: for it is a plague of leproſy, broken out in the bile.

21 But if the prieſt look on it, and there be no white hairs therein, and if it be not lower than the ſkin, but be darker, then the prieſt ſhall ſhut him up ſeven days.

22 And if it ſpread abroad in the fleſh, the prieſt ſhall pronounce him unclean, for it is a ſore.

23 But if the ſpot continue in his place, and grow not, it is a burning bile: therefore the prieſt ſhall declare him to be clean.

24 ¶ If there be any fleſh, in whoſe ſkin there is an hot burning, and the quick fleſh of the burning have a [b] white ſpot ſomewhat reddiſh or pale,

25 Then the prieſt ſhall look upon it: and if the hair in that ſpot be changed into white, and it appear lower than the ſkin, it is a leproſy broken out in the burning: therefore the prieſt ſhall pronounce him unclean: for it is the plague of leproſy.

26 But if the prieſt look on it, and there be no white hair in the ſpot, and it be no lower than the other ſkin, but be darker, then the prieſt ſhall ſhut him up ſeven days.

27 After, the prieſt ſhall look on him the ſeventh day: if it be grown abroad in the ſkin, then the prieſt ſhall pronounce him unclean: for it is the plague of leproſy.

‡ Or, ſwelling.

28 And if the ſpot abide in his place, not growing in the ſkin, but is dark, it is a ‡ riſing of the burning: the prieſt ſhall therefore declare him clean, for it is the drying up of the burning.

29 ¶ If alſo a man or woman hath a ſore on the head or in the beard,

30 Then the prieſt ſhall ſee the ſore: and if it appear lower than the ſkin, and there be in it a ſmall yellow [c] hair, then the prieſt ſhall pronounce him unclean: for it is a black ſpot, and leproſy of the head or of the beard.

31 And if the prieſt look on the ſore of the black ſpot, and if it ſeem not lower than the ſkin, nor have any black hair in it, then the prieſt ſhall ſhut up him that hath the ſore of the black ſpot, ſeven days.

32 After, in the ſeventh day the prieſt ſhall look on the ſore: and if the black ſpot grow not, and there be in it no yellow hair, and the black ſpot ſeem not lower than the ſkin,

33 Then he ſhall be ſhaven, but the place of the black ſpot ſhall he not ſhave: but the prieſt ſhall ſhut up him that hath the black ſpot, ſeven days more.

34 And the ſeventh day the prieſt ſhall look on the black ſpot, and if the black ſpot grow not in the ſkin, nor ſeem lower than the other ſkin, then the prieſt ſhall cleanſe him, and he ſhall waſh his cloaths, and be clean.

35 But if the black ſpot grow abroad in the fleſh after his cleanſing,

36 Then the prieſt ſhall look on it: and if the black ſpot grow in the ſkin, the prieſt ſhall not [d] ſeek for the yellow hair: for he is unclean.

37 But if the black ſpot ſeem to him to abide, and that black hair grow therein, the black ſpot is healed, he is clean, and the prieſt ſhall declare him to be clean.

38 ¶ Furthermore if there be many white ſpots in the ſkin of the fleſh of man or woman,

39 Then the prieſt ſhall conſider: and if the ſpots in the ſkin of their fleſh be ſomewhat dark and white withal, it is but a white ſpot broken out in the ſkin: therefore he is clean.

40 And the man whoſe hair is fallen off his head, and is bald, is clean.

41 And if his head loſe the [e] hair on the fore part, and be bald before, he is clean.

42 But if there be in the bald head, or in the bald forehead a white reddiſh ſore, it is a leproſy ſpringing in his bald head, or in his bald forehead.

43 Therefore the prieſt ſhall look upon it, and if the riſing of the ſore be white reddiſh in his bald head, or in his bald forehead, appearing like leproſy in the ſkin of the fleſh,

44 He is a leper and unclean: therefore the prieſt ſhall pronounce him altogether unclean: for the ſore is in his head.

50 Then the prieſt ſhall ſee the plague, and ſhut up it that hath the plague, ſeven days,

51 And ſhall look on the plague the ſeventh day: if the plague grow in the garment, or in the warp, or in the woof, or in the ſkin, or in any thing that is made of ſkin, that plague is a fretting leproſy and unclean.

52 And he ſhall burn the garment, or the warp, or the woof, whether it be woollen or linen, or any thing that is made of ſkin, wherein the plague is: for it is a fretting leproſy, therefore it ſhall be burnt in the fire.

53 If the prieſt yet ſee that the plague [i] grow not in the garment, or in the woof, or in whatſoever thing of ſkin it be,

54 Then the prieſt ſhall command them to waſh the thing wherein the plague is, and he ſhalt ſhut it up ſeven days more.

55 Again the prieſt ſhall look on the plague after it is waſhed: and if the plague have not changed his [k] colour, though the plague have ſpread no further, it is unclean: thou ſhalt burn it in the fire, for it is a fret inward, [l] whether the ſpot be in the bare place of the whole, or in part thereof.

3 The cleanſing of the leper, 3 And of the houſe that he is in.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

* Matt. 8. 2. Mark 1. 40. Luke 5. 12.

2 * This is the [n] law of the leper in the day of his cleanſing: that is, he ſhall be brought unto the prieſt,

3 And the prieſt ſhall go out of the camp, and the prieſt ſhall conſider him: and if the plague of leproſy be healed in the leper,

‡ Or, little birds.

4 Then ſhall the prieſt command to take for him that is cleanſed, two ‡ ſparrows alive and [o] clean, and cedar-wood, and a ſcarlet lace, and hyſſop.

5 And the prieſts ſhall command to kill one of the birds over [p] pure water in an earthen veſſel.

6 After, he ſhall take the live ſparrow with the cedar-wood, and the ſcarlet lace, and the hyſſop, and ſhall dip them and the living ſparrow in the blood of the ſparrow ſlain, over the pure water,

7 And he ſhall ſprinkle upon him that muſt be cleanſed of his leproſy, ſeven times, and cleanſe him, and ſhall [q] let go the live ſparrow into the broad field.

8 Then he that ſhall be cleanſed ſhall waſh his cloaths, and ſhave off all his hair, and waſh himſelf in water, ſo he ſhall be clean: after that ſhall he come into the hoſt, but ſhall tarry without his tent ſeven days.

9 So in the ſeventh day he ſhall ſhave off all his hair, both his head, and his beard, and his eye-brows: even all his hair ſhall he ſhave, and ſhall waſh his cloaths, and ſhall waſh his fleſh in water: ſo he ſhall be clean.

10 Then in the eighth day he ſhall take two he-lambs without [r] blemiſh, and an ewe-lamb of a year old without blemiſh, and three tenth deals of fine flour for a meat-offering, mingled with oil, [s] and a pint of oil.

11 And the prieſt that maketh him clean, ſhall bring the man which is to be made clean, and thoſe things before the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

* Exod. 29. 24.

12 Then the prieſt ſhall take one lamb, and offer him for a treſpaſs-offering, and the pint of oil, and * ſhake them to and fro before the Lord.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

* Chap. 7. 7.

13 And he ſhall kill the lamb in the place where the ſin-offering and the burnt-offering are ſlain, even in the holy place: for as the * ſin-offering is the prieſt's, ſo is the treſpaſs-offering: for it is moſt holy.

14 So the prieſt ſhall take of the blood of the treſpaſs-offering, and put it upon the lap of the right ear of him that ſhall be cleanſed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

15 The prieſt ſhall alſo take of the pint of oil, and pour it into the palm of his left hand,

18 But the remnant of the oil that is in the prieſt's hand, he ſhall pour upon the head of him that is to be cleanſed: ſo the prieſt ſhall make an atonement for him before the Lord.

19 And the prieſt ſhall offer the ſin-offering, and make an atonement for him that is to be cleanſed of his uncleanneſs: then after ſhall he kill the burnt-offering.

20 So the prieſt ſhall offer the burnt-offering and the meat-offering upon the altar, and the prieſt ſhall make an atonement for him: ſo he ſhall be clean.

† Heb. his hand cannot take it.

24 Then the prieſt ſhall take the lamb of the treſpaſs-offering, and the pint of oil, and the prieſt ſhall [u] ſhake them to and fro before the Lord.

25 And he ſhall kill the lamb of the treſpaſs-offering, and the prieſt ſhall take of the blood of the treſpaſs-offering, and put it upon the lap of his right ear that is to be cleanſed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

10 But the goat, on which the lot ſhall fall to be the ſcape-goat, ſhall be preſented alive before the Lord, to make reconciliation by him, and to let him go (as a ſcape-goat) into the wilderneſs.

11 Thus Aaron ſhall offer the bullock for his ſin-offering, and make a reconciliation for himſelf and for his houſe, and ſhall kill the bullock for his ſin-offering.

16 So he ſhall purge the holy place from the uncleanneſs of the children of Iſrael, and from their treſpaſſes of all their ſins: ſo ſhall he do alſo for the tabernacle of the congregation [s] placed with them, in the midſt of their uncleanneſs.

* Luke 1. 10.

4 All ſacrifices muſt be brought to the door of the tabernacle. 7 To devils may they not offer. 10 They may not eat blood.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speak unto Aaron, and to his ſons, and to all the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, This is the thing which the Lord hath [b] commanded, ſaying,

3 Whoſoever he be of the houſe of Iſrael that [c] killeth a bullock, or lamb, or goat in the hoſt, or that killeth it out of the hoſt,

4 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer an offering unto the Lord before the tabernacle of the Lord, [d] blood ſhall be imputed unto that man: he hath ſhed blood, wherefore that man ſhall be cut off from among his people.

5 Therefore the children of Iſrael ſhall bring their offerings, which they would offer [e] abroad in the field, and preſent them unto the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation by the prieſt, and offer them for peace-offerings unto the Lord.

6 Then the prieſt ſhall ſprinkle the blood upon the altar of the Lord before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and burn the fat for a * ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

* Exod. 29. 18. Chap. 4. 31.

7 And they ſhall no more offer their offerings unto [f] devils, after whom they have gone a [g] whoring: this ſhall be an ordinance for ever unto them in their generations.

8 ¶ Alſo thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Whoſoever he be of the houſe of Iſrael, or of the ſtrangers which ſojourn among them, that offereth a burnt-offering or ſacrifice,

9 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it unto the Lord, even that man ſhall be cut off from his people.

10 ¶ Likewiſe whoſoever he be of the houſe of Iſrael, or of the ſtrangers that ſojourn among them, that eateth any blood, I will even ſet [h] my face againſt that perſon that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people:

11 For the life of the fleſh is in the blood, and I have given it unto you to offer upon the altar, to make an atonement for your ſouls: for this blood ſhall make an atonement for the ſoul.

12 Therefore I ſaid unto the children of Iſrael, None of you ſhall eat blood: neither the ſtranger that ſojourneth among you ſhall eat blood.

13 Moreover, whoſoever he be of the children of Iſrael, or of the ſtrangers that ſojourn among them, which by hunting taketh any beaſt or fowl that may be [i] eaten, he ſhall pour out the blood thereof, and cover it with duſt:

14 For the life of all fleſh is his blood, it is joined with his life: therefore I ſaid unto the children of Iſrael, * Ye ſhall eat the blood of no ‡ fleſh, for the life of all fleſh is the blood thereof: whoſoever eateth it, ſhall be cut off.

3 After the [k] doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, ſhall ye not do: and after the manner of the land of Canaan, whither I will bring you, ſhall ye not do, neither walk in their ordinances.

‡ Or to the houſes of the dead.

11 Neither ſhall he go to any ‡ dead body, nor make himſelf unclean by his father or by his mother,

12 Neither ſhall he go out of the [i] ſanctuary, nor pollute the holy place of his God: for the [k] crown of the anointing oil of his God is upon him: I am the Lord.

13 Alſo he ſhall take a maid unto his wife:

14 But a widow, or a divorced woman, or a polluted, or an harlot, theſe ſhall he not marry, but ſhall take a maid of his own [l] people to wife:

15 Neither ſhall he defile his [m] ſeed among his people: for I am the Lord which ſanctify him.

16 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

17 Speak unto Aaron, and ſay, Whoſoever of thy ſeed in their generations hath any blemiſhes, ſhall not approach to offer the bread of his God.

[w] It is an execrable and deteſtable thing.

[x] They ſhall be cut off from their people, and their children ſhall be taken as baſtards, and not counted among the Iſraelites.

[y] Read chap. 18. 16.

[z] Full of abundance of all things.

[a] By eating them contrary to my commandment.

[b] By touching the dead, lamenting, or being at their burial.

[g] The ſhew-bread.

[h] He ſhall uſe no ſuch ceremonies as the mourners obſerved.

[i] To go to the dead.

[k] For by his anointing he was preferred to the other prieſts, and threfore could not lament the dead, leſt he ſhould have polluted his holy ointing.

[l] Not only of his tribe, but of all Iſrael.

[m] By marrying any unchaſte or defamed woman.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

18 For whoſoever hath any blemiſh, ſhall not come near: as a man blind, or lame, or that hath [n] a flat noſe, or that hath any [o] miſ-ſhapen member,

19 Or a man that hath a broken foot, or a broken hand,

20 Or is crook-backed, or blear-eyed, [p] or hath a blemiſh in his eye, or be ſcurvy, or ſcabbed, or hath his ſtones broken.

21 None of the ſeed of Aaron the prieſt that hath a blemiſh, ſhall come near to offer the ſacrifices of the Lord made by fire, having a blemiſh: he ſhall not approach to offer the [q] bread of his God.

22 The bread of his God, even of the [r] moſt holy, and [s] of the holy ſhall he eat:

23 But he ſhall not go in unto the [t] vail, nor come near the altar, becauſe he hath a blemiſh, leſt he pollute my ſanctuaries: for I am the Lord that ſanctify them.

24 Thus ſpake Moſes unto Aaron, and to his ſons, and to all the children of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXII.

3 Who ought to abſtain from eating the things that were offered. 19 What oblations ſhould be offered.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speak unto Aaron, and to his ſons, that they be [u] ſeparated from the holy things of the children of Iſrael, and that they pollute not mine holy name, in thoſe things which they hallow unto me: I am the Lord.

3 Say unto them, Whoſoever he be of all your ſeed among your generations after you, that [w] toucheth the holy things which the children of Iſrael hallow unto the Lord, having his uncleanneſs upon him, even that perſon ſhall be cut off from my ſight: I am the Lord.

* Ch. 15. 2. 4 * Whoſoever alſo of the ſeed of Aaron is a leper, or hath a running iſſue, he ſhall not eat of the holy things until he be clean: and whoſo toucheth any that is [x] unclean, by reaſon of the dead, or a man whoſe iſſue of ſeed runneth from him,

5 Or the man that toucheth any creeping thing, whereby he may be made unclean, or a man by whom he may take uncleanneſs, † whatſoever uncleanneſs he hath, † Heb. according to all his uncleanneſs.

6 The perſon that hath touched ſuch, ſhall therefore be unclean until the even, and ſhall not eat of the holy things, ‡ except he have waſhed his fleſh with water. ‡ Or, until.

7 But when the ſun is down, he ſhall be clean, and ſhall afterward eat of the holy things: for it is his ‡ food. ‡ Or, bread.

* Exod. 22. 31. Ezek. 44. 31. 8 * Of a beaſt that dieth, or is rent with beaſts, whereby he may be defiled, he ſhall not eat: I am the Lord.

9 Let them keep therefore mine ordinance, leſt they bear their ſin for it, and die for it, if they defile it: I the Lord ſanctify them. Bef. Chr. 1490.

10 There ſhall no [y] ſtranger alſo eat of the holy thing, neither [z] the gueſt of the prieſt, neither ſhall an hired ſervant eat of the holy thing:

11 But if the prieſt buy any with money, he ſhall eat of it, alſo he that is born in his houſe: they ſhall eat of his meat.

12 If the prieſt's daughter alſo be married unto a [a] ſtranger, ſhe may not eat of the holy offerings.

13 Notwithſtanding if the prieſt's daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, but is returned unto her father's houſe, ſhe ſhall eat of her father's bread, as ſhe did in her * youth: but there ſhall no ſtranger eat thereof. * Ch. 10. 14.

14 ¶ If a man eat of the holy thing unwittingly, he ſhall put the [b] fifth part thereunto, and give it unto the prieſt with the hallowed thing.

15 So they ſhall not defile the holy things of the children of Iſrael which they offer unto the Lord,

16 Neither cauſe the people to bear the iniquity of their [c] treſpaſs, while they eat their holy thing: for I the Lord do hallow them.

17 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

18 Speak unto Aaron, and to his ſons, and to all the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, Whoſoever be he of the houſe of Iſrael, or of the ſtrangers in Iſrael, that will offer his ſacrifice for all their vows, and for all their free offerings, which they uſe to offer unto the Lord for a burnt-offering,

19 Ye ſhall offer of your free mind a male without blemiſh of the beeves, of the ſheep, or of the goats.

20 Ye ſhall not offer any thing that hath a blemiſh: for that ſhall not be acceptable for you.

21 * And whoſoever bringeth a peace-offering unto the Lord to accompliſh his vow, or for a free-offering of the beeves, or of the ſheep, his free-offering ſhall be perfect, no blemiſh ſhall be in it. * Deut. 15. 21.

22 Blind, or broken, or maimed, or having a ‡ wen, or ſcurvy, or ſcabbed: theſe ſhall ye not offer unto the Lord, nor make an offering by fire of theſe upon the altar of the Lord. ‡ Or, wart.

23 Yet a bullock, or a ſheep that hath any * member ſuperfluous, or lacking, ſuch mayeſt thou preſent for a free-offering, but for a vow it ſhall not be accepted. * Ch. 21. 18.

24 Ye ſhall not offer unto the Lord that which is bruiſed, or cruſhed, or broken, or cut away, neither ſhall ye make an offering thereof in your land.

25 Neither [d] of the hand of a ſtranger ſhall ye offer the bread of your God of any of theſe, becauſe their corruption is in them, there is a

* Ch. 7. 15.

30 The ſame day it ſhall be eaten, ye ſhall leave * none of it until the morrow: I am the Lord.

31 Therefore ſhall ye keep my commandments and do them: for I am the Lord.

Bef. Chr. 1490.
‡ Or, an omer, read Deut. 24. 19. Ruth 2. 15. Pſ. 129. 7.

11 And he ſhall ſhake the ſheaf before the Lord, that it may be acceptable for you: the morrow after the [i] ſabbath, the prieſt ſhall ſhake it.

12 And that day when ye ſhake the ſheaf, ſhall ye prepare a lamb without blemiſh of a year old, for a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

‡ Or, weeks.

15 ¶ Ye ſhall count alſo to you from the morrow after the [m] ſabbath, even from the day that ye ſhall bring the ſheaf of the ſhake-offering, ſeven ‡ ſabbaths, they ſhall be complete.

16 Unto the morrow after the ſeventh ſabbath ſhall ye number fifty days, then ye ſhall bring a new meat-offering unto the Lord.

17 Ye ſhall bring out of your habitations bread for the ſhake-offering: they ſhall be two loaves of two tenth deals of fine flour, which ſhall be baken with [n] leaven for firſt-fruits unto the Lord.

18 Alſo ye ſhall offer with the bread ſeven lambs without blemiſh of one year old, and a young bullock and two rams: they ſhall be for a burnt-offering unto the Lord, with their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, for a ſacrifice made by fire of a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

19 Then ye ſhall prepare an he-goat for a ſin-offering, and two lambs of one year old for peace-offerings.

20 And the prieſt ſhall ſhake them to and fro with the bread of the firſt-fruits before the Lord, and with the two lambs: they ſhall be holy to the Lord, for the [o] prieſt.

21 So ye ſhall proclaim the ſame day, that it may be an holy convocation unto you ye ſhall do no ſervile work therein: it ſhall be an ordinance for ever in all your dwellings, throughout your generations.

11 This fiftieth year ſhall be a year of jubilee unto you: ye ſhall not ſow, neither reap that which groweth of itſelf, neither gather the grapes thereof, that are left unlaboured.

12 For it is the jubilee, it ſhall be holy unto you: ye ſhall eat of the increaſe thereof out of the field.

[m] In the beginning of the fiftieth year was the jubilee; ſo called, becauſe the joyful tidings of liberty were publicly proclaimed by the ſound of a cornet.

[n] Which were in bondage.

[o] Becauſe the tribes ſhould neither have their poſſeſſions or families diminiſhed nor confounded.

[p] By deceit or otherwiſe.

[q] If the jubilee to come be near, thou ſhalt ſell better cheap: if it be far off, dearer.

[r] And not the full poſſeſſion of the land.

[s] It could not be ſold for ever, but muſt return to the family in the jubilee.

[t] Ye ſhall ſell it on condition that it may be redeemed.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

26 And if he have no redeemer, but † hath gotten and found to buy it out,

27 Then ſhall he [u] count the years of his ſale, and reſtore the overplus to the man to whom he ſold it: ſo ſhall he return to his poſſeſſion.

28 But if he cannot get ſufficient to reſtore to him, then that which is ſold ſhall remain in the hand of him that hath bought it, until the year of the jubilee: it ſhall come [w] out, and he ſhall return unto his poſſeſſion.

29 Likewiſe if a man ſell a dwelling houſe in a walled city, he may buy it out again within a whole year after it is ſold, within a year may he buy it out.

30 But if it be not bought out within the ſpace of a full year, then the houſe that is in the walled city ſhall be eſtabliſhed [x] as cut off from the family, to him that bought it, throughout his generations: it ſhall not go out in the jubilee.

31 But the houſes of villages, which have no walls round about them, ſhall be eſteemed as the field of the country: they may be bought out again, and ſhall ‡ go out in the jubilee.

‡ Or, return.

32 Notwithſtanding, the cities of the Levites, and the houſes of the cities of their poſſeſſion, may the Levites redeem † at all ſeaſons.

† Heb. for ever,

33 And if a man purchaſe of the Levites, the houſe that was ſold, and the city of their poſſeſſion ſhall go out in the jubilee: for the houſes of the cities of the Levites are their poſſeſſion among children of Iſrael.

34 But the field of the [y] ſuburbs of their cities ſhall not be ſold: for it is their perpetual poſſeſſion.

35 ¶ Moreover, if thy brother be impoveriſhed, and [z] fallen in decay with thee, thou ſhalt relieve him, and as a ſtranger and ſojourner, ſo ſhall he live with thee.

* Exod. 22. 25. Deut. 23. 19. Prov. 28. 8. Ezek. 18. 8. and 22. 12.

36 * Thou ſhalt take no uſury of him, nor vantage, but thou ſhalt fear thy God, that thy brother may live with thee.

37 Thou ſhalt not give him thy money to uſury, nor lend him thy victuals for increaſe.

38 I am the Lord your God which have brought you out of the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.

* Exod. 21. 2. Deut. 15. 12. Jer. 34. 14.

39 ¶ * If thy brother alſo that dwelleth by thee be impoveriſhed, and be ſold unto thee, thou ſhalt not compel him to ſerve as a bond-ſervant,

40 But as an hired ſervant, and as a ſojourner he ſhall be with thee: he ſhall ſerve thee unto the year of jubilee.

41 Then ſhall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and ſhall return unto his family, and unto the poſſeſſion of his fathers ſhall he return:

42 For they are my ſervants, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt: they ſhall not be [a] ſold as bondmen are ſold.

* Eph. 6. 9. Col. 4. 1.

43 * Thou ſhalt not rule over him cruelly, but ſhalt fear thy God.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

44 Thy bond-ſervant alſo, and thy bond-maid, which thou ſhalt have, ſhall be of the heathen that are round about you: of them ſhall ye buy ſervants and maids.

45 And moreover of the children of the ſtrangers that are ſojourners among you, of them ſhall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begat in your land: theſe ſhall be your [b] poſſeſſion.

46 So ye ſhall take them as inheritance for your children after you, to poſſeſs them by inheritance, ye ſhall uſe their labours for ever: but over your brethren the children of Iſrael ye ſhall not rule one over another with cruelty.

47 ¶ If a ſojourner or a ſtranger dwelling by thee † get riches, and thy brother by him be impoveriſhed, and ſell himſelf unto the ſtranger or ſojourner dwelling by thee, or to the ſtock of the ſtranger's family,

48 After that he is ſold, he may be bought out: one of his brethren may buy him out,

49 Or his uncle, or his uncle's ſon may buy him out, or any of the kindred of his fleſh among his family may redeem him: either if he can [c] get ſo much, he may buy himſelf out.

50 Then he ſhall reckon with his buyer from the year that he was ſold to him, unto the year of jubilee: and the money of his ſale ſhall be according to the number of [d] years: according to the time of an hired ſervant ſhall he be with him.

51 If there be many years behind, according to them he ſhall give again for his deliverance, of the money that he was bought for.

52 If there remain but few years unto the year of jubilee, then he ſhall count with him, and according to his years give again for his redemption.

53 He ſhall be with him year by year as an hired ſervant: he ſhall not rule cruelly over him in thy [e] ſight.

54 And if he be not redeemed thus, he ſhall go out in the year of jubilee, he and his children with him.

55 For unto me the children of Iſrael are ſervants: they are my ſervants, whom I have brought out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 Of divers vows, and the redemption of the ſame. 28 A thing ſeparate for the uſe of man cannot be ſold nor redeemed, but remaineth to the Lord.

MOreover the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, If any man ſhall make a vow of [d] a perſon unto the Lord, by thy [e] eſtimation,

3 Then thy eſtimation ſhall be thus: a male from twenty years old unto ſixty years old ſhall be by the eſtimation even fifty [f] ſhekels of ſilver, after the ſhekel of the ſanctuary.

4 But if it be a female, then thy valuation ſhall be thirty ſhekels.

5 And from five years old to twenty years old, thy valuation ſhall be for the male twenty ſhekels, and for the female ten ſhekels.

6 But from a [g] month old unto five years old, the price of the male ſhall be five ſhekels of ſilver, and the price of the female, three ſkekels of ſilver.

7 And from ſixty years and above, if he be a male, then thy price ſhall be fifteen ſhekels, and for the female ten ſhekels.

8 But if he be poorer [h] than thou haſt eſteemed him, then ſhall he preſent himſelf before the prieſt, and the prieſt ſhall value him according to the ability of him that vowed, ſo ſhall the prieſt value him.

9 And if it be a [i] beaſt, whereof men bring an offering unto the Lord, all that one giveth of ſuch unto the Lord, ſhall be holy.

10 He ſhall not alter it nor change it, a good for a bad, nor a bad for a good: and if he change beaſt for beaſt, then both this and that, which was changed for it, ſhall be [k] holy.

11 And if it be any unclean beaſt, of which men do not offer a ſacrifice unto the Lord, he ſhall then preſent the beaſt before the prieſt.

12 And the prieſt ſhall value it, whether it be good or bad: and as thou valueſt it, which art the prieſt, ſo ſhall it be.

13 But if he will buy it again, then he ſhall give the fifth part of it more above thy valuation.

14 ¶ Alſo when a man ſhall dedicate his houſe to be holy unto the Lord, then the prieſt ſhall value it, whether it be good or bad, and as the prieſt ſhall prize it, † ſo ſhall the value be.

† Heb. ſo ſhall it ſtand.

15 But if he that ſanctified it will redeem his houſe, then he ſhall give thereto the fifth part of money more than thy eſtimation, and it ſhall be his.

16 If alſo a man dedicate to the Lord any ground of his inheritance, then ſhalt thou eſteem it according to the [l] ſeed thereof: an [m] homer of barley ſeed ſhall be at fifty ſhekels of ſilver.

17 If he dedicate his field immediately from the year of jubilee, it ſhall be worth as thou doſt eſteem it.

18 But if he dedicate his field after the jubilee, then the prieſt ſhall reckon him the money according to the years that remain unto the year of jubilee, and it ſhall be abated by thy eſtimation.

19 And if he that dedicateth it will redeem the field, then he ſhall put the fifth part of the price that thou eſteemedſt it at thereunto, and it ſhall remain his.

20 And if he will not redeem the field, but the prieſt [n] ſell the field to another man, it ſhall be redeemed no more.

21 But the field ſhall be holy to the Lord, when it goeth out in the jubilee, as a field [o] ſeparate from common uſes: the poſſeſſion thereof ſhall be the prieſt's.

22 If a man alſo dedicate unto the Lord a field which he hath bought, which is not of the ground of his inheritance,

23 Then the prieſt ſhall ſet the price to him, as * thou eſteemeſt it, unto the year of jubilee, and he ſhall give [p] thy price the ſame day, as a thing holy unto the Lord.

THE ARGUMENT.

Foraſmuch as God hath appointed that his church in this world ſhall be under the croſs, both becauſe they ſhould learn not to put their truſt in worldly things, and alſo feel his comfort, when all other help faileth: he did not ſtraightway bring his people, after their departure out of Egypt, into the land which he promiſed them, but led them to and fro for the ſpace of forty years, and kept them in continual exerciſes before they enjoyed it, to try their faith, and to teach them to forget the world and to depend on him. Which trial did greatly profit to diſcern the wicked and the hypocrites from the faithful and true ſervants of God, who ſerved him with pure heart, whereas the other preferring their carnal affections to God's glory, and making religion to ſerve their purpoſe, murmured when they lacked to content their luſts, and deſpiſed them whom God had appointed rulers over them. By reaſon whereof they provoked God's terrible judgments againſt them, and are ſet forth as a moſt notable example for all ages to beware how they abuſe God's word, prefer their own luſts to his will, or deſpiſe his miniſters. Notwithſtanding God is ever true in his promiſe, and governeth his by his Holy Spirit, that either they fall not to ſuch inconveniences, or elſe return to him quickly by true repentance: and therefore he continueth his graces toward them, he giveth them ordinances and inſtructions, as well for religion as outward policy: he preſerveth them againſt all craft and conſpiracy, and giveth them manifold victories againſt their enemies. And to avoid all controverſies that might ariſe, he taketh away the occaſion, by dividing among all the tribes, both the land which they had won, and that alſo which he had promiſed, as ſeemed beſt to his godly wiſdom.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord ſpake again unto Moſes in the wilderneſs of [a] Sinai, in the tabernacle of the congregation, in the firſt day of the [b] ſecond month, in the ſecond year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, ſaying,

CHAP. IV.

5 The offices of the Levites, when the hoſt removed. 46 The number of the three families of Kohath, Gerſhon and Merari.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, and to Aaron, ſaying,

2 Take the ſum of the ſons of Kohath from among the ſons of Levi, after their families, and houſes of their fathers,

3 From [m] thirty years old, and above, even until fifty years old, all that enter into the aſſembly to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 This ſhall be the office of the ſons of Kohath, in the tabernacle of the congregation, about the holieſt of all.

5 ¶ When the hoſt removeth, then Aaron and his ſons ſhall come [n] and take down the covering vail, and ſhall cover the ark of the teſtimony therewith.

6 And they ſhall put thereon a covering of badgers ſkins, and ſhall ſpread upon it a cloth altogether of blue ſilk, and put to the [o] bars thereof:

7 And upon the * table of ſhew bread they ſhall ſpread a cloath of blue ſilk, and put thereon the diſhes, and the incenſe cups, and goblets, and coverings to cover it [p] with, and the bread ſhall be thereon continually:

* Exod. 25. 30.

8 And they ſhall ſpread upon them a covering of ſcarlet, and cover the ſame with a covering of badgers ſkins, and put to the bars thereof.

11 Alſo upon the golden [r] altar they ſhall ſpread a cloth of blue ſilk, and cover it with a covering of badgers ſkins, and put to the bars thereof.

12 And

[l] Of the two hundred ſeventy and three, which were more than the Levites.

[m] The Levites were numbered after three ſorts, firſt at a month old, when they were conſecrate to the Lord: next at twenty-five years old, when they were appointed to ſerve in the tabernacle, and at thirty years old to bear the burdens of the tabernacle.

12 And they ſhall take all the inſtruments of the miniſtry, wherewith they miniſter in the ſanctuary, and put them in a cloth of blue ſilk, and cover them with a covering of badgers ſkins, and put them on the bars:

13 Alſo they ſhall take away the aſhes from the [q] altar, and ſpread a purple cloth upon it,

14 And ſhall put upon it all the inſtruments thereof, which they occupy about it: the cenſers, the fleſh-hooks, and the beſoms, and the baſons, even all the inſtruments of the altar: and they ſhall ſpread upon it a covering of badgers ſkins, and put to the bars of it.

15 And when Aaron and his ſons have made an end of covering the [r] ſanctuary, and all the inſtruments of the ſanctuary, at the removing of the hoſt, afterward the ſons of Kohath ſhall come to bear it, but they ſhall not [s] touch any holy thing, leſt they die. This is the charge of the ſons of Kohath in the tabernacle of the congregation.

16 ¶ And to the office of Eleazar the ſon of Aaron the prieſt pertaineth the oil for the light, and the * ſweet incenſe and the daily [t] meat-offering, and the * anointing oil, with the overſight of all the tabernacle, and of all that therein is, both in the ſanctuary and in all the inſtruments thereof.

* Exod. 30. 34, 35.
* Exod. 30. 23, 25.

17 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, and to Aaron, ſaying,

18 Ye ſhall not [u] cut off the tribe of the families of the Kohathites from among the Levites:

19 But thus do unto them, that they may live and not die, when they come near to the moſt holy things: let Aaron and his ſons come and appoint [w] them, every one to his office, and to his charge.

20 But let them not go in, to ſee when the ſanctuary is folden up, leſt they die.

21 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

22 Take alſo the ſum of the ſons of Gerſhon, every one by the houſes of their fathers throughout their families:

23 From thirty years old and above, until fifty years old ſhalt thou number them, all that [x] enter into the aſſembly for to do ſervice in the tabernacle of the congregation.

24 This ſhall be the ſervice of the families of the Gerſhonites, to ſerve and to bear.

25 They ſhall bear the curtains of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of the congregation, his covering, and the covering of badgers ſkins, that is on high upon it, and the vail of the [y] door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

26 The curtains alſo of the court, and the vail of the entering in of the gate of the court, [z] which is near the tabernacle, and near the altar round about, with their cords, and all the inſtruments for their ſervice, and all that is made for them: ſo ſhall they ſerve.

27 At the commandment of Aaron and his ſons ſhall all the ſervice of the ſons of the Gerſhonites be done, in all their charges and in all their ſervice, and ye ſhall appoint them to keep all their charges.

28 This is the ſervice of the families of the ſons of the Gerſhonites in the tabernacle of the congregation, and their watch ſhall be under the [a] hand of Ithamar the ſon of Aaron the prieſt.

29 ¶ Thou ſhalt number the ſons of Merari by their families, and by the houſes of their fathers:

30 From thirty years old and above, even unto fifty years old ſhalt thou number them, all that enter into the aſſembly, to do the ſervice of the tabernacle of the congregation.

31 And this is their office and charge, according to all their ſervice in the tabernacle of the congregation: the * boards of the tabernacle with the bars thereof, and his pillars, and his ſockets,

* Exod. 26. 15.

32 And the pillars round about the court, with their ſockets and their pins, and their cords, with all their inſtruments, even for all their ſervice: and by [b] name ye ſhall reckon the inſtruments of their office and charge.

33 This is the ſervice of the families of the ſons of Merari, according to all their ſervice in the tabernacle of the congregation under the hand of Ithamar the ſon of Aaron the prieſt.

34 ¶ Then Moſes and Aaron, and the princes of the congregation, numbered the ſons of the Kohathites, by their families and by the houſes of their fathers, 35 From thirty years old and above, even unto fifty years old, all that enter into the aſſembly for the ſervice of the tabernacle of the congregation.

36 So the † numbers of them throughout their families were two thouſand ſeven hundred and fifty.

the tabernacle of the congregation, whom Moſes and Aaron did number according to the commandment of the Lord.

42 ¶ The numbers alſo of the families of the ſons of Merari, by their families, and by the houſes of their fathers,

43 From thirty years old and upward, even unto fifty years old: all that enter into the aſſembly for the ſervice of the tabernacle of the congregation.

44 So the numbers of them by their families were three thouſand and two hundred.

45 Theſe are the ſums of the families of the ſons of Merari, whom Moſes and Aaron numbered according to the commandment of the Lord, by the hand of Moſes.

46 So all the number of the Levites, which Moſes and Aaron, and the princes of Iſrael numbered by their families, and by the houſes of their fathers, 47 From thirty years old and upward, even to fifty years old, every one that came to do [k] his duty, office, ſervice and charge, in the tabernacle of the congregation.

48 So the numbers of them were eight thouſand five hundred and fourſcore.

† Heb. according to the mouth, or word.

49 According to the † commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moſes did Aaron number them, every one according to his ſervice, and according to his charge. Thus were they of that tribe numbered, as the Lord commanded [l] Moſes.

CHAP. V.

2 The leprous and the polluted ſhall be caſt forth. 6 The purging of ſin. 15 The trial of the ſuſpected wife.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

* Lev. 13. 3.
* Lev. 15. 2.
* Lev. 21. 1.

2 Command the children of Iſrael, that they * put out of the hoſt every leper, and every one that hath * an iſſue, and whoſoever is defiled by * the dead.

‡ Or, in a place out of the hoſt.

3 Both male and female ſhall ye put out: ‡ out of the hoſt ſhall ye put them, that they defile not their [m] tents among whom I dwell.

4 And the children of Iſrael did ſo, and put them out of the hoſt, even as the Lord had commanded Moſes, ſo did the children of Iſrael.

5 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

* Lev. 6. 3.

6 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, * When a man or woman ſhall commit any ſin [n] that men commit, and tranſgreſs againſt the Lord, when that perſon ſhall treſpaſs,

* Lev. 6. 5.

7 Then they ſhall confeſs their ſin which they have done, and ſhall reſtore the damage thereof * with his principal, and put the fifth part of it more thereto, and ſhall give it unto him againſt whom he hath treſpaſſed.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

8 But if the [o] man have no kinſman, to whom he ſhould reſtore the damage, the damage ſhall be reſtored to the Lord for the prieſts uſe, beſides the ram of the atonement, whereby he ſhall make atonement for him.

* Lev. 10. 12.

9 And every offering of all the [p] holy things of the children of Iſrael, which they bring unto the prieſt, ſhall be * his.

10 And every man's hallowed things ſhall be his: that is, whatſoever any man giveth the prieſt, it ſhall be his.

11 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

12 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, If any man's [q] wife turn to evil, and commit a treſpaſs againſt him,

13 So that another man lie with her fleſhly, and it be hid from the eyes of her huſband, and kept cloſe, and yet ſhe be defiled, and there be no witneſs againſt her, neither ſhe taken with the manner,

† Heb. if the ſpirit of jealouſy come upon him.

14 † If he be moved with a jealous mind, ſo that he is jealous over his wife which is defiled, or if he have a jealous mind, ſo that he is jealous over his wife which is not defiled,

15 Then ſhall the man bring his wife to the prieſt, and bring her offering with her, the tenth part of an ephah of barley-meal, but he ſhall not pour [r] oil upon it, nor put incenſe thereon: for it is an offering of jealouſy, an offering for a remembrance, calling the ſin to [s] mind:

16 And the prieſt ſhall bring her, and ſet her before the Lord.

17 Then the prieſt ſhall take [t] the holy water in an earthen veſſel, and of the duſt that is in the floor of the tabernacle, even the prieſt ſhall take it, and put it into the water.

18 After, the prieſt ſhall ſet the woman before the Lord, and uncover the woman's head, and put the offering of the memorial in her hands: it is the jealouſy-offering, and the prieſt ſhall have bitter and [u] curſed water in his hand,

19 And the prieſt ſhall charge her by an oath, and ſay unto the woman, If no man hath lien with thee, neither thou haſt turned to uncleanneſs from thine huſband, be free from this bitter and curſed water.

20 But if thou haſt turned from thine huſband, and ſo art defiled, and ſome man hath lien with thee beſide thine huſband,

22 And that this curſed water may go into thy bowels, to cauſe thy belly to ſwell, and thy thigh to rot. Then the woman ſhall anſwer, [x] Amen, Amen.

23 After, the prieſt ſhall write theſe curſes in a book,

25 Then the prieſt ſhall take the jealouſy-offering out of the woman's hand, and ſhall ſhake the offering before the Lord, and offer it upon the altar.

26 And the prieſt ſhall take an handful of the offering for a ‡ memorial thereof, and burn it upon the [z] altar, and afterward make the woman drink the water. ‡ Or, perfume.

27 When he hath made her drink the water, (if ſhe be defiled and have treſpaſſed againſt her huſband) then ſhall the curſed water, turned into bitterneſs, enter into her, and her belly ſhall ſwell, and her thigh ſhall rot, and the woman ſhall be accurſed among her people.

28 But if the woman be not defiled, but be ‡ clean, ſhe ſhall be free, and ſhall conceive and bear. ‡ Or, innocent.

29 This is the law of jealouſy, when a wife turneth from her huſband and is defiled:

30 Or when a man is moved with a jealous mind, being jealous over his wife, then ſhall he bring the woman before the Lord, and the prieſt ſhall do to her according to all this law,

31 And the man ſhall be [a] free from ſin, but this woman ſhall bear her iniquity.

CHAP. VI.

2 The law of the conſecration of the Nazarites. 24 The manner to bleſs the people.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speak unto the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, When a man or woman doth ſeparate themſelves to vow a vow of a [b] Nazarite to ſeparate himſelf unto the Lord,

3 He ſhall abſtain from wine and ſtrong drink, and ſhall drink no ſour wine nor ſour drink, nor ſhall drink any liquor of grapes, neither ſhall eat freſh grapes, nor dried.

4 As long as his abſtinence endureth, ſhall he eat nothing that is made of the wine of the vine, neither the kernels, nor the huſk.

* Judg. 13. 5. 1 Sam. 1. 11. 5 While he is ſeparated by his vow, the * razor ſhall not come upon his head, until the days be out in the which he ſeparateth himſelf unto the Lord, he ſhall be holy, and ſhall let the locks of the hair of his head grow.

6 During the time that he ſeparateth himſelf unto the Lord, he ſhall come at no [c] dead body:

7 He ſhall not make himſelf unclean at the death of his father, or mother, brother, or ſiſter: for the conſecration of his God is upon [d] his head.

8 All the days of his ſeparation he ſhall be holy to the Lord.

9 And if any die ſuddenly by him, or he beware, then the [e] head of his conſecration ſhall be defiled, and he ſhall ſhave his head in the day of his cleanſing: in the ſeventh day he ſhall ſhave it. Bef. Chr. 1490.

10 And in the eighth day he ſhall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons to the prieſt, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

11 Then the prieſt ſhall prepare the one for a ſin-offering, and the other for a burnt-offering, and ſhall make an atonement for him, becauſe he ſinned by [f] the dead: ſo ſhall he hallow his head the ſame day.

12 And he ſhall [g] conſecrate unto the Lord the days of his ſeparation, and ſhall bring a lamb of a year old for a treſpaſs-offering, and the firſt [h] days ſhall be void: for his conſecration was defiled.

13 ¶ This then is the law of the Nazarite: When the time of his conſecration is out, he ſhall come to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation,

14 And he ſhall bring his offering unto the Lord, an he-lamb of a year old without blemiſh, for a burnt-offering, and a ſhe-lamb of a year old without blemiſh, for a ſin-offering, and a ram without blemiſh, for peace-offerings,

15 And a baſket of unleavened bread, of * cakes of fine flour, mingled with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread anointed with oil, with their meat-offering, and their drink-offerings: * Lev. 2. 15.

16 The which the prieſt ſhall bring before the Lord, and make his ſin-offering, and his burnt-offering.

17 He ſhall prepare alſo the ram for a peace-offering unto the Lord, with the baſket of unleavened bread, and the prieſt ſhall make his meat-offering, and his drink-offering.

18 And * the Nazarite ſhall ſhave the head [i] of his conſecration at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and ſhall take the hair of the head of his conſecration, and [k] put it in the fire which is under the peace-offering. * Acts 21. 24.

19 Then the prieſt ſhall take the ſodden ſhoulder of the ram, and an unleavened cake out of the baſket, and a wafer unleavened, and put them upon the hands of the Nazarite, after he hath ſhaven his conſecration.

20 And the prieſt ſhall * ſhake them to and fro before the Lord: this is an holy thing for the prieſt ‡ beſides the ſhaken-breaſt, and beſides the heave-ſhoulder: ſo afterward the Nazarite may drink wine. * Exod. 29. 27. ‡ Or, with the breaſt.

21 This is the law of the Nazarite, which he hath vowed, and of his offering unto the Lord for his conſecration, [l] beſides that that he is able to bring: according to the vow which he vowed, ſo ſhall he do after the law of his conſecration.

22 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

23 Speak

---

[y] Shall waſh the curſes, which are written, into the water in the veſſel.

[z] Where the incenſe was offered.

[a] The man might accuſe his wife upon ſuſpicion, and not be reproved.

[b] Which ſeparated themſelves from the world, and dedicated themſelves to God: which figure was accompliſhed in Chriſt.

[c] As at burials, or mournings.

[d] In that he ſuffered his hair to grow, he ſignified that he was conſecrate to God.

[e] Which long hair is a ſign that he is dedicate to God.

[f] By being preſent where the dead was.

[g] Beginning at the eighth day, when he is purified.

[h] So that he ſhall begin his vow anew.

[i] In token that his vow is ended.

[k] For the hair which was conſecrate to the Lord, might not be caſt into any profane place.

[l] At the leaſt he ſhall do this, if he be able to offer no more.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

23 Speak unto Aaron and to his ſons, ſaying, Thus ſhall [l] ye bleſs the children of Iſrael, and ſay unto them,

24 The Lord bleſs thee, and keep thee,

25 The Lord make his face ſhine upon thee, and be merciful unto thee,

26 The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace,

27 So they ſhall put my [m] name upon the children of Iſrael, and I will bleſs them.

CHAP. VII.

2 The heads or princes of Iſrael offer at the ſetting up of the tabernacle, 10 And at the dedication of the altar. 89 God ſpeaketh to Moſes from the mercy-ſeat.

* Exod. 40. 18. ‡ Or, veſſels.

NOW when Moſes had finiſhed the ſetting up of the tabernacle, and * anointed it, and ſanctified it, and all the inſtruments thereof, and the altar with all the ‡ inſtruments thereof, and had anointed them, and ſanctified them,

‡ Or, captains.

2 Then the ‡ princes of Iſrael, heads over the houſes of their fathers (they were the princes of the tribes, who were over them that were numbered) offered,

3 And brought their offering before the Lord, ſix [n] covered chariots, and twelve oxen: one chariot for two princes, and for every one an ox, and they offered them before the tabernacle.

4 And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

5 Take theſe of them, that they may be to do the [o] ſervice of the tabernacle of the congregation, and thou ſhalt give them unto the Levites, to every man according unto his office.

6 So Moſes took the chariots and the oxen, and gave them unto the Levites:

7 Two chariots and four oxen he gave to the ſons of Gerſhon, according unto their [p] office.

8 And four chariots and eight oxen he gave to the ſons of Merari, according unto their office, under the hand of Ithamar, the ſon of Aaron the prieſt.

9 But to the ſons of Kohath he gave none, [q] becauſe the charge of the ſanctuary belonged to them, which they did bear upon their ſhoulders.

10 ¶ The princes alſo offered in the [r] dedication for the altar in the day that it was anointed: then the princes offered their offering before the altar.

11 And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, One prince one day, and another prince another day, ſhall offer their offering, for the dedication of the altar.

2 The order of the lamps. 6 The purifying and offering of the Levites. 24 The age of the Levites when they are received to ſervice, and when they are diſmiſſed.

AND the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

2 Speak unto Aaron, and ſay unto him, When thou lighteſt the lamps, the ſeven lamps ſhall give light toward the [w] fore-front of the candleſtick.

3 And Aaron did ſo, lighting the lamps thereof toward the fore-front of the candleſtick, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

4 And this was the work of the candleſtick, even of gold beaten out with the hammer, both the ſhaft, and the flowers thereof * were beaten out with the hammer: [x] according to the pattern which the Lord had ſhewed Moſes, ſo made he the candleſtick.

* Exod. 25. 18.

5 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

6 Take the Levites from among the children of Iſrael, and purify them.

7 And thus ſhalt thou do unto them, when thou purifieſt them, Sprinkle [y] water of purification upon them, and let them ſhave all their fleſh, and waſh their cloaths: ſo they ſhall be clean.

8 Then they ſhall take a young bullock, with his meat-offering of fine flour mingled with oil, and another young bullock ſhalt thou take for a ſin-offering.

9 Then thou ſhalt bring the Levites before the tabernacle of the congregation, and aſſemble [z] all the congregation of the children of Iſrael.

10 Thou ſhalt bring the Levites alſo before the Lord, and the [a] children of Iſrael ſhall put their hands upon the Levites.

11 And Aaron ſhall offer the Levites before the Lord, as a ſhake-offering of the children of Iſrael, that they may execute the ſervice of the Lord.

12 And the Levites ſhall put their hands upon the heads of the bullocks, and make thou the one a ſin-offering, and the other a burnt-offering unto the Lord, that thou mayeſt make an atonement for the Levites.

13 And thou ſhalt ſet the Levites before Aaron, and before his ſons, and offer them as a ſhake-offering to the Lord.

Bef. Chr. 1490.

14 Thus ſhalt thou ſeparate the Levites from among the children of Iſrael, and the Levites ſhall be * mine.

15 And afterward ſhall the Levites go in to ſerve in the tabernacle of the congregation, and thou ſhalt purify them, and offer them as a ſhake-offering.

* Ch. 3. 9.

17 * For all the firſt-born of the children of Iſrael are mine, both of man and of beaſt: ſince the day that I ſmote every firſt-born in the land of Egypt, I ſanctified them for myſelf.

* Exod. 13. 2. Luke 2. 23.

18 And I have taken the Levites for all the firſt-born of the children of Iſrael,

19 And have given the Levites as a gift unto Aaron, and to his ſons, from among the children of Iſrael, to do the ſervice of the [c] children of Iſrael, in the tabernacle of the congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Iſrael, that there be no plague among the children of Iſrael, when the children of Iſrael come near unto the [d] ſanctuary.

20 ¶ Then Moſes and Aaron, and all the congregation of the children of Iſrael, did with the Levites according unto all that the Lord had commanded Moſes concerning the Levites: ſo did the children of Iſrael unto them.

21 So the Levites were purified, and waſhed their cloaths, and Aaron offered them as a ſhake-offering before the Lord, and Aaron made an atonement for them, to purify them.

22 And after that, went the Levites in to do their ſervice in the tabernacle of the congregation, [e] before Aaron and before his ſons: as the Lord had commanded Moſes concerning the Levites, ſo they did unto them.

23 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

24 This alſo belongeth to the Levites: from five and twenty years old and upward, they ſhall go in to execute their office in this ſervice of the tabernacle of the congregation.

25 And after the age of fifty years, they ſhall ceaſe from executing the [f] office, and ſhall ſerve no more:

26 But they ſhall miniſter [g] with their brethren in the tabernacle of the congregation, to keep things committed to their charge, but they ſhall do no ſervice: thus ſhalt thou do unto the Levites touching their charges.

4 Then Moſes ſpake unto the children of Iſrael, to celebrate the paſſover.

5 And they kept the paſſover in the fourteenth day of the firſt month at even, in the wilderneſs of Sinai: according to all that the Lord had commanded Moſes, ſo did the children of Iſrael.

6 ¶ And certain men were defiled [i] by a dead man, that they might not keep the paſſover the ſame day: and they came before Moſes and before Aaron the ſame day.

7 And thoſe men ſaid unto him, We are defiled by a dead man: wherefore are we kept back that we may not offer [k] an offering unto the Lord in the time thereunto appointed among the children of Iſrael?

7 But in aſſembling the congregation, ye ſhall blow without an alarm.

8 And the ſons of Aaron the prieſt ſhall [w] blow the trumpets, and ye ſhall have them as a law for ever in your generations.

9 And when you go to war in your land againſt the enemy that vexeth you, ye ſhall blow an alarm with the trumpets, and ye ſhall be remembered before the Lord your God, and ſhall be ſaved from your enemies.

10 Alſo in the day of your [x] gladneſs, and in your feaſt-days, and in the beginning of your months, ye ſhall alſo blow the trumpets ‡ over your burnt ſacrifices, and over your peace-offerings, that they may be a remembrance for you before your God: I am the Lord your God.

11 ¶ And in the ſecond year, in the ſecond month, and in the twentieth day of the month, the cloud was taken up from the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

12 And the children of Iſrael departed on their ‡ journies out of the deſert of Sinai, and the cloud reſted in the wilderneſs of Paran.

‡ Or, in keeping this order in their journies.

13 So they [y] firſt took their journey at the commandment of the Lord, by the hand of Moſes.

14 ¶ * In the firſt place went the ſtandard of the hoſt of the children of Judah, according to their armies: and * Nahſhon the ſon of Amminadab was over his band.

16 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Zebulun was Eliab, the ſon of Helon.

17 When the tabernacle was taken down, then the ſons of Gerſhon, and the ſons of Merari, went forward bearing the [z] tabernacle.

18 ¶ After, departed the ſtandard of the hoſt of Reuben, according to their armies: and over his band was Elizur, the ſon of Shedeur.

19 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Simeon was Shelumiel, the ſon of Zuriſhaddai.

20 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Gad was Eliaſaph, the ſon of Deuel.

21 The Kohathites alſo went forward and [a] bare the * ſanctuary, and the [b] former did ſet up the tabernacle againſt they came.

* Ch. 4. 4.

22 ¶ Then the ſtandard of the hoſt of the children of Ephraim went forward according to their armies: and over his band was Eliſhama, the ſon of Ammihud.

23 And over the band of the tribe of the ſons of Manaſſeh was Gamliel, the ſon of Pedahzur.

24 And over the band of the tribe of the ſons of Benjamin was Abidan, the ſon of Gideoni.

25 ¶ Laſt, the ſtandard of the hoſt of the children of Dan marched, [c] gathering all the hoſts according to their armies: and over his band was Ahiezer, the ſon of Ammiſhaddai.

26 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Aſher was Pagiel, the ſon of Ocran.

27 And over the band of the tribe of the children of Naphtali was Ahira, the ſon of Enan.

28 [d] Theſe were the removings of the children of Iſrael according to their armies, when they marched.

29 ¶ After, Moſes ſaid unto [e] Hobab, the ſon of Reuel the Midianite, the father-in-law of Moſes, We go into the place, of which the Lord ſaid, I will give it you: come thou with us, and we will do thee good: for the Lord hath promiſed good unto Iſrael.

30 And he anſwered him, I will not go: but I will depart to mine own country, and to my kindred.

34 And the cloud of the Lord was upon them by day, when they went out of the camp.

35 And when the ark went forward, Moſes ſaid, * Riſe [g] up, Lord, and let thine enemies be ſcattered, and let them that hate thee flee before thee.

9 And when the dew fell down upon the hoſt in the night, the MAN fell with it.)

10 ¶ Then Moſes heard the people weep throughout their families, every man in the door of his tent, and the wrath of the Lord was grievouſly kindled: alſo Moſes was grieved.

‡ Or, evil intreated.

11 And Moſes ſaid unto the Lord, Wherefore haſt thou ‡ vexed thy ſervant? And why have I not found [n] favour in thy ſight, ſeeing thou haſt put the charge of all this people upon me?

12 Have I [o] conceived all this people? or have I begotten them, that thou ſhouldeſt ſay unto me, Carry them in thy boſom (as a nurſe beareth the ſucking child) unto the [p] land, for the which thou ſwareſt unto their fathers?

14 I am not able to bear all this people alone, for it is too heavy for me.

15 Therefore if thou deal thus with me, I pray thee, if I have found favour in thy [q] ſight, kill me, that I behold not my miſery.

16 ¶ Then the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Gather unto me ſeventy men of the elders of Iſrael, whom thou knoweſt, that they are the elders of the people, and governors over them, and bring them unto the tabernacle of the congregation, and let them ſtand there with thee,

17 And I will come down, and talk with thee there, [r] and take of the Spirit which is upon thee, and put upon them, and they ſhall bear the burden of the people with thee: ſo thou ſhalt not bear it alone.

18 Furthermore thou ſhalt ſay unto the people, [s] Be ſanctified againſt to-morrow, and ye ſhall eat fleſh: for you have wept in the ears of the Lord, ſaying, Who ſhall give us fleſh to eat? for we were better in Egypt: therefore the Lord will give you fleſh, and ye ſhall eat.

23 And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Is * the Lord's hand ſhortened? thou ſhalt ſee now whether my word ſhall come to paſs unto thee, or no.

24 ¶ So Moſes went out, and told the people the words of the Lord, and gathered ſeventy men of the elders of the people, and ſet them round about the tabernacle.

‡ Or, ſeparated, as ver. 17.

25 Then the Lord came down in a cloud, and ſpake unto him, and ‡ took of the Spirit that was upon him, and put it upon the ſeventy ancient men: and when the Spirit reſted upon them, then they propheſied, and did not [x] ceaſe.

26 But there remained two of the men in the hoſt: the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Medad, and the Spirit reſted upon them, (for they were of them that were written, and went not out unto the tabernacle) and they propheſied in the hoſt.

27 Then there ran a young man, and told Moſes, and ſaid, Eldad and Medad do propheſy in the hoſt.

28 And Joſhua the ſon of Nun, the ſervant of Moſes, one of his [y] young men, anſwered and ſaid, My lord Moſes, [z] forbid them.

29 But Moſes ſaid unto him, Envieſt thou for my ſake? Yea, would God that all the Lord's people were prophets, and that the Lord would put his Spirit upon them.

30 And Moſes returned into the hoſt, he and the elders of Iſrael.

* Exod. 16. 13. Pſalm 78. 26, 27.

31 Then there went forth a wind from the Lord, and * brought quails from the ſea, and let them fall upon the camp, a day's journey on this ſide, and a day's journey on the other ſide, round about the hoſt, and they were about two cubits above the earth.

32 Then the people aroſe all that day, and all the night, and all the next day, and gathered the quails: he that gathered the leaſt, gathered ten homers [a] full, and they ſpread them abroad for their uſe round about the hoſt.

4 And by and by the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, and unto Aaron, and unto Miriam, come out ye three unto the tabernacle of the congregation: and they three came forth.

5 Then the Lord came down in the pillar of the cloud, and ſtood in the door of the tabernacle, and called Aaron and Miriam, and they both came forth.

land, from the wilderneſs of [n] Zin unto Rehob, to go to Hamath,

23 And they aſcended toward the ſouth, and came unto Hebron, where were Ahiman, Sheſhai and Talmai, the [o] ſons of Anak. And Hebron was built [p] ſeven years before Zoan in Egypt.

*Deut.1.24.

24 * Then they came to the river of Eſhcol, and cut down thence a branch with one cluſter of grapes, and they bear it upon a bar between two, and brought of the pomegranates and of the figs.

‡ Or, the valley of Eſhcol, that is, of grapes.

25 That place was called the ‡ river Eſhcol, becauſe of the cluſter of grapes which the children of Iſrael cut down thence.

26 Then after forty days they turned again from ſearching of the land.

27 And they went and came to Moſes, and to Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Iſrael, in the wilderneſs of [q] Paran, to Kadeſh, and brought to them, and to all the congregation tidings, and ſhewed them the fruit of the land.

*Exod.33.3.

28 And they told [r] him, and ſaid, We came unto the land whither thou haſt ſent us, and ſurely it floweth with * milk and honey: and here is of the fruit of it.

29 Nevertheleſs, the people be ſtrong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled and exceeding great: and moreover, we ſaw the [s] ſons of Anak there.

30 The Amalekites dwell in the ſouth country, and the Hittites, and the Jebuſites, and the Amorites dwell in the mountains, and the Canaanites dwell by the ſea, and by the coaſts of Jordan.

‡ Or, murmuring againſt Moſes.

31 Then Caleb ſtilled the people ‡ before Moſes, and ſaid, Let us go up at once, and poſſeſs it: for undoubtedly we ſhall overcome it.

32 But the men that went up with him, ſaid, We be not able to go up againſt the people: for they are ſtronger than we.

33 So they brought up an evil report of the land which they had ſearched for the children of Iſrael, ſaying, The land which we have gone through to ſearch it out, is a land that [t] eateth up the inhabitants thereof: for all the people that we ſaw in it, are men of great ſtature.

34 For there we ſaw giants, the ſons of Anak, which come of the giants, ſo that we ſeemed in our ſight like graſhoppers: and ſo we were in their ſight.

2 And all the children of Iſrael murmured againſt Moſes and Aaron: and the whole aſſembly ſaid unto them, Would God we had died in the land of Egypt, or in this wilderneſs: would God we were dead.

3 Wherefore now hath the Lord brought us into this land to fall upon the ſword? our wives and our children ſhall be a [w] prey: were it not better for us to return into Egypt?

4 And they ſaid one to another, Let us make a captain, and return into Egypt.

9 But rebel not ye againſt the Lord, neither fear ye the people of the land: for they are but [z] bread for us: their ſhield is departed from them, and the Lord is with us, fear them not.

10 And all the multitude ſaid, [a] Stone them with ſtones: but the glory of the Lord appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation before all the children of Iſrael.

11 And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, How long will this people provoke me, and how long will it be ere they believe me, for all the ſigns which I have ſhewed among them?

3 And write Aaron's name upon the rod of Levi: for every rod ſhall be for the head of the houſe of their fathers.

4 And thou ſhalt put them in the tabernacle of the congregation, before the ark of the teſtimony, * where I will declare myſelf to you.

* Exod. 25. 22.

5 And the man's rod, whom I [s] chuſe, ſhall bloſſom: and I will make ceaſe from me the grudgings of the children of Iſrael, which grudge againſt you.

6 ¶ Then Moſes ſpake unto the children of Iſrael, and all their princes gave him a rod, one rod for every prince, according to the houſes of their fathers, even twelve rods, and the rod [t] of Aaron was among their rods.

7 And Moſes laid the rods before the Lord in the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

8 And when Moſes on the morrow went into the tabernacle of the teſtimony, behold, the rod of Aaron [u] for the houſe of Levi was budded, and brought forth buds, and brought forth bloſſoms, and bare ripe almonds.

9 Then Moſes brought out all the rods from before the Lord unto all the children of Iſrael: and they looked upon them, and took every man his rod.

10 ¶ After, the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, * Bring Aaron's rod again before the teſtimony, to be kept for a token to the rebellious children, and thou ſhalt cauſe their [w] murmurings to ceaſe from me, that they die not.

4 And they ſhall be joined with thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation for all the ſervice of the tabernacle: and no [a] ſtranger ſhall come near unto you.

5 Therefore ſhall ye keep the charge of the ſanctuary, and the charge of the altar: ſo there ſhall fall no more wrath upon the children of Iſrael.

* Ch. 3. 45. 6 For lo, I have * taken your brethren the Levites from among the children of Iſrael, which, as a gift of yours, are given unto the Lord, to do the ſervice of the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 ¶ Again the Lord ſpake unto Aaron, Behold, I have given thee the keeping of mine [b] offerings, of all the hallowed things of the children of Iſrael: unto thee have I given them for the anointings ſake, and to thy ſons, for a perpetual ordinance.

9 This ſhall be thine of the moſt holy things, reſerved from the [c] fire: all their offering of all their meat-offering, and of all their ſin-offering, and of all their treſpaſs-offering, which they bring unto me, that ſhall be moſt holy unto thee, and to thy ſons.

10 In the moſt [d] holy place ſhalt thou eat it: every male ſhall eat of it: it is holy unto thee.

11 This alſo ſhall be thine: the heave-offering of their gift, with all the ſhake-offerings of the children of Iſrael, I have given them unto thee, and unto thy ſons, and to thy [e] daughters with thee, to be a duty for ever: all the clean in thine houſe ſhall eat of it.

12 All the [f] fat of the oil, and all the fat of the wine, and of the wheat, which they ſhall offer unto the Lord for their firſt-fruits, I have given them unto thee.

13 And the firſt ripe of all that is in their land, which they ſhall bring unto the Lord, ſhall be thine: all the clean in thine houſe ſhall eat of it.

* Exod. 30. 13. Levit. 27. 25. Chap. 3. 47. Ezek. 45. 12.

17 But the firſt-born of a cow, or the firſt-born of a ſheep, or the firſt-born of a goat ſhalt thou not [g] redeem: for they are holy: thou ſhalt ſprinkle their blood at the altar, and thou ſhalt burn their fat: it is a ſacrifice made by fire for a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord.

* Exod. 29. 26. Levit. 7. 30. 18 And the fleſh of them ſhall be thine, * as the ſhake breaſt, and as the right ſhoulder ſhall be thine.

19 All the heave-offerings of the holy things which the children of Iſrael ſhall offer unto the Lord have I given thee, and thy ſons, and thy daughters with thee, to be a duty for ever: it is a perpetual covenant [h] of ſalt before the Lord, to thee, and to thy ſeed with thee.

20 ¶ And the Lord ſaid unto Aaron, Thou ſhalt have none inheritance in their [i] land, neither ſhalt thou have any part among them: * I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Iſrael.

* Deut. 10. 9. and 18. 2. Joſh. 13. 14, 33. Ezek. 44. 28.

21 For behold, I have given the children of Levi all the tenth in Iſrael for an inheritance, for their ſervice which they ſerve in the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 Neither ſhall the children of Iſrael any more [k] come near the tabernacle of the congregation, leſt they ſuſtain ſin, and die.

23 But the Levites ſhall do the ſervice in the tabernacle of the congregation, and they ſhall bear [l] their ſin: it is a law for ever in your generations, that among the children of Iſrael they poſſeſs none inheritance.

24 For the tithes of the children of Iſrael, which they ſhall offer as an offering unto the Lord, I have given the Levites for an inheritance: therefore I have ſaid unto them, Among the children of Iſrael ye ſhall poſſeſs none inheritance.

25 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying,

26 Speak alſo unto the Levites, and ſay unto them, When ye ſhall take of the children of Iſrael the tithes, which I have given you of them for your inheritance, then ſhall ye take an heave-offering of that ſame for the Lord, even the tenth part of the tithe.

27 And your heave-offering ſhall be reckoned unto you, as the [m] corn of the barn, or as the abundance of the wine-preſs.

28 So ye ſhall alſo offer an heave-offering unto the Lord of all your tithes, which ye ſhall receive of the children of Iſrael, and ye ſhall give thereof the Lord's heave-offering to Aaron the prieſt.

2 [s] This is the ordinance of the law, which the Lord hath commanded, ſaying, Speak unto the children of Iſrael that they bring thee a red cow without blemiſh, wherein is no ſpot, upon the which never came yoke.

* Exod. 29. 14. Levit. 4. 11, 12. with her * ſkin, and her fleſh, and her blood, and her dung ſhall he burn her.

6 Then ſhall the prieſt take cedar wood, and hyſſop, and ſcarlet lace, and caſt them in the midſt of the fire where the cow burneth.

7 Then ſhall the [u] prieſt waſh his cloaths, and he ſhall waſh his fleſh in water, and then come into the hoſt, and the prieſt ſhall be unclean unto the even.

8 Alſo he that [w] burneth her, ſhall waſh his cloaths in water, and waſh his fleſh in water, and be unclean until even.

9 And a man that is clean ſhall take up the aſhes of the cow, and put them without the hoſt in a clean place: and it ſhall be kept for the congregation of the children of Iſrael for [x] a ſpinkling water: it is a ſin-offering.

10 Therefore he that gathereth the aſhes of the cow, ſhall waſh his cloaths, and remain unclean until even: and it ſhall be unto the children of Iſrael, and unto the ſtranger that dwelleth among them, a ſtatute for ever.

11 He that toucheth the dead body of any man, ſhall be unclean even ſeven days.

12 He ſhall purify himſelf [y] therewith the third day, and the ſeventh day he ſhall be clean: but if he purify not himſelf the third day, then the ſeventh day he ſhall not be clean. Bef. Chr. 1471.

13 Whoſoever toucheth the corpſe of any man that is dead, and purgeth not himſelf, defileth the tabernacle of the Lord, and that perſon ſhall be [z] cut off from Iſrael, becauſe the ſprinkling water was not ſprinkled upon him: he ſhall be unclean, and his uncleanneſs ſhall remain ſtill upon him.

14 This is the law, when a man dieth in a tent, All that come into the tent, and all that is in the tent, ſhall be unclean ſeven days:

15 And all the veſſels that be open, which have no † covering faſtened upon them, ſhall be unclean. †Heb. a covering of cloth.

16 Alſo whoſoever toucheth one that is ſlain with a ſword in the field, or a dead perſon, or a bone of a dead man, or a grave, ſhall be unclean ſeven days.

17 Therefore for an unclean perſon they ſhall take of the burnt-aſhes of the [a] ſin-offering, and [b] pure water ſhall be put thereto in a veſſel.

18 And a [c] clean perſon ſhall take hyſſop and dip it in the water, and ſprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the veſſels, and on the perſons that were therein, and upon him that touched the bone, or the ſkin, or the dead, or the grave.

19 And the clean perſon ſhall ſprinkle upon the unclean the third day, and the ſeventh day, and he ſhall purify himſelf the ſeventh day, and [d] waſh his cloaths, and waſh himſelf in water, and ſhall be clean at even.

20 But the man that is unclean and purifieth not himſelf, that perſon ſhall be cut off from among the congregation, becauſe he hath defiled the ſanctuary of the Lord: and the ſprinkling water hath not been ſprinkled upon him: therefore ſhall he be unclean.

21 And it ſhall be a perpetual law unto them, that he that ſprinkleth the ſprinkling water ſhall waſh his cloaths: alſo he that toucheth the ſprinkling-water ſhall be unclean until even.

22 And whatſoever the unclean perſon toucheth, ſhall be unclean: and the perſon that toucheth [e] him, ſhall be unclean until even.

5 Wherefore now have ye made us to come up from Egypt, to bring us into this miſerable place, which is no place of ſeed, nor figs, nor vines, nor pomegranates? neither is there any water to drink.

7 And the elders of Moab, and the elders of Midian departed, having [h] the reward of the ſoothſaying in their hand, and they came unto Balaam, and told him the words of Balak:

8 Who anſwered them, Tarry here this night, and I will give you an anſwer, as the Lord ſhall ſay unto me: ſo [i] the princes of Moab abode with Balaam.

9 Then God came unto Balaam, and ſaid, What men are theſe with thee?

32 And the angel of the Lord ſaid unto him, Wherefore haſt thou now ſmitten thine aſs three times? behold, I came out to withſtand thee, becauſe thy [t] way is not ſtraight before me.

33 But the aſs ſaw me, and turned from me now three times: for elſe, if ſhe had not turned from me, ſurely I had even now ſlain thee, and ſaved her alive.

17 Who may [y] go out and in before them, and lead them out and in, that the congregation of the Lord be not as ſheep which have not a ſhepherd.

18 And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, Take thee Joſhua the ſon of Nun, in whom is the Spirit, and [z] put thine hands upon him,

19 And ſet him before Eleazar the prieſt, and before all the congregation, and give him a charge in their ſight.

22 So Moſes did as the Lord had commanded him, and he took Joſhua, and ſet him before Eleazar the prieſt, and before all the congregation.

23 Then he put his hands upon him, and gave him a [c] charge, as the Lord had ſpoken by the hand of Moſes.

CHAP. XXX.

3 Concerning vows. 4 The vow of the maid. 7 Of the wife. 10 Of the widow, or divorced.

THEN Moſes ſpake unto the children of Iſrael, according to all that the Lord had commanded † him.

† Heb. Moſes.

2 Moſes alſo ſpake unto the heads of the tribes [t] concerning the children of Iſrael, ſaying, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded,

3 Whoſoever voweth a vow unto the Lord, or ſweareth an oath to bind † himſelf by a bond, he ſhall † not break his promiſe, but ſhall do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

† Heb. his ſoul.
† Heb. violate his word.

4 If a woman alſo vow a vow unto the Lord, and bind herſelf by a bond, being in her father's houſe, in the time of her youth,

5 And her father hear her vow and bond, wherewith ſhe hath bound herſelf, and her father hold his [u] peace concerning her, then all her vows ſhall ſtand, and every bond wherewith ſhe hath bound herſelf, ſhall ſtand.

6 But if her father [w] diſallow her the ſame day that he heareth all her vows and bonds, wherewith ſhe hath bound herſelf, they ſhall not be of value, and the Lord will forgive her, becauſe her father diſallowed her.

7 And if ſhe have an huſband when ſhe voweth or [x] pronounceth ought with her lips, wherewith ſhe bindeth herſelf,

8 If her huſband heard it, and holdeth his peace concerning her the ſame day he heareth it, then her vow ſhall ſtand, and her bonds, wherewith ſhe bindeth herſelf, ſhall ſtand in effect.

9 But

[t] Becauſe they might declare them to the Iſraelites.

[u] For in ſo doing he doth approve her.

[w] By not approving or conſenting to her vow.

[x] Either by oath, or ſolemn promiſe.

Bef. Chr. 1452.

9 But if her huſband diſallow her the ſame day that he heareth it, then ſhall he make her vow which ſhe hath made, and that that ſhe hath pronounced with her lips, wherewith ſhe bound [y] herſelf, of none effect: and the Lord will forgive her.

10 But every vow of a widow, and of her that is divorced (wherewith ſhe hath bound herſelf) ſhall ſtand in [z] effect with her.

11 And if ſhe vowed in her huſband's [a] houſe, or bound herſelf ſtraitly with an oath,

12 And her huſband hath heard it, and held his peace concerning her, not diſallowing her, then all her vows ſhall ſtand, and every bond, wherewith ſhe bound herſelf, ſhall ſtand in effect.

13 But if her huſband diſannulled them the ſame day that he heard them, nothing that proceeded out of her lips concerning her vows, or concerning † her bonds, ſhall ſtand in effect: for her huſband hath diſannulled them: and the Lord will forgive her.

† Heb. the bonds of her ſoul.

14 So every vow, and every oath or bond made to [b] humble the ſoul, her huſband may eſtabliſh it, or her huſband may break it.

15 But if her huſband hold his peace concerning her from [c] day to day, then he eſtabliſheth all her vows and all her bonds which ſhe hath made: he hath confirmed them, becauſe he held his peace concerning her the ſame day that he heard them.

16 But if [d] he break them after that he hath heard them, then ſhall he bear her iniquity.

17 Theſe are the ordinances which the Lord commanded Moſes, between a man and his wife, and between the father and his daughter, being young in her father's houſe.

CHAP. XXXI.

8 Five kings of Midian and Balaam are ſlain. 18 Only the maids are reſerved alive. 27 The prey is equally divided. 50 A preſent given of Iſrael.

3 And Moſes ſpake to the people, ſaying, Harneſs ſome of you unto war, and let them go againſt Midian, to execute the vengeance of the Lord [e] againſt Midian.

4 A thouſand of every tribe throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſhall ye ſend to the war.

5 So there were taken out of the thouſands of Iſrael, twelve thouſand prepared unto war, of every tribe a thouſand.

6 And Moſes ſent them to the war, even a thouſand of every tribe, and ſent them with [f] Phinehas, the ſon of Eleazar the prieſt, to the war: and the holy inſtruments, that is, the trumpets to blow, were in his hand.

7 And they warred againſt Midian, as the Lord had commanded Moſes, and ſlew all the males.

13 ¶ Then Moſes and Eleazar the prieſt, and all the princes of the congregation, went out of the camp to meet them.

14 And Moſes was angry with the captains of the hoſt, with the captains over thouſands, and the captains over hundreds, which came from the war and battle.

15 And Moſes ſaid unto them, What! have ye ſaved all the [i] women?

27 And divide the prey ‡ between the ſoldiers that went to war, and all the congregation.

‡ The prey is firſt divided equally among all.

28 And thou ſhalt take a tribute unto the Lord of the [o] men of war, which went out to battle: one perſon of five hundred, both of the perſons, and of the beeves, and of the aſſes, and of the ſheep.

50 [u] We have therefore brought a preſent unto the Lord, what every man found of jewels of gold, bracelets, and chains, rings, ear-rings, and ornaments of the legs, to make an atonement for our ſouls before the Lord.

51 And Moſes and Eleazar the prieſt took the gold of them, and all wrought jewels.

52 And all the gold of the offering that they offered up to the Lord (of the captains over thouſands and hundreds) was ſixteen thouſand ſeven hundred and fifty ſhekels,

53 (For the men of war had ſpoiled every man for [w] himſelf.)

NOW the children of [y] Reuben and the children of Gad had an exceeding great multitude of cattle: and they ſaw the land of Jazer, and the land of [z] Gilead, that it was an apt place for cattle.

2 Then the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben came, and ſpake unto Moſes and to Eleazar the prieſt, and unto the princes of the congregation, ſaying,

5 Wherefore, ſaid they, if we have found grace in thy ſight, let this land be given unto thy ſervants for a poſſeſſion, and bring us not over Jordan.

6 And Moſes ſaid unto the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, Shall your brethren go to war, and ye tarry here?

12 Except Caleb the ſon of Jephunneh the Keneſite, and Joſhua the ſon of Nun: for they have conſtantly followed the Lord.

13 And the Lord was very angry with Iſrael, and made them wander in the wilderneſs forty years, until all the generation that had done [a] evil in the ſight of the Lord were conſumed.

14 And behold, ye are riſen up in your fathers ſtead, as an increaſe of ſinful men, ſtill to augment the fierce wrath of the Lord toward Iſrael.

15 For if ye turn away from following him, he will yet again leave the people in the wilderneſs, and [b] ye ſhall deſtroy all this folk.

16 And they went near to him, and ſaid, We will build ſheep-folds here for our ſheep, and for our cattle, and cities for our children.

17 But we ourſelves will be ready armed to go before the children of Iſrael, until we have brought them unto their [c] place: but our children ſhall dwell in the defenced cities, becauſe of the inhabitants of the land.

18 We will not return unto our houſes, until the children of Iſrael have inherited every man his inheritance.

19 Neither will we inherit with them beyond Jordan and on that ſide, becauſe our inheritance is fallen to us on this ſide Jordan eaſtward.

*Joſh. 1. 13. 20 ¶ * And Moſes ſaid unto them, If ye will do this thing, and go armed [d] before the Lord to war:

21 And will go every one of you in harneſs over Jordan before the Lord, until he hath caſt out his [e] enemies from his ſight:

22 And until the land be ſubdued before the Lord, then ye ſhall return and be innocent toward the Lord, and toward Iſrael: and this land ſhall be your poſſeſſion [f] before the Lord.

23 But if ye will not do ſo, behold, ye have ſinned againſt the Lord, and be ſure that your ſin [g] will find you out.

24 Build you then cities for your children, and folds for your ſheep, and do that ye have ſpoken.

25 Then the children of Gad and the children of Reuben ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying, Thy ſervants will do as my lord commandeth.

26 Our children, our wives, our ſheep, and all our cattle ſhall remain there in the cities of Gilead, Bef. Chr. 1452.

27 But * thy ſervants will go every one armed to war before the Lord for to fight, as my lord ſaith. *Joſh. 4. 12.

28 So concerning them, Moſes [h] commanded Eleazar the prieſt, and Joſhua the ſon of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Iſrael:

29 And Moſes ſaid unto them, If the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben, will go with you over Jordan, all armed to fight before the Lord, then when the land is ſubdued before you, ye ſhall give them the land of Gilead for a poſſeſſion:

30 But if they will not go over with you armed, then they ſhall have their poſſeſſions among you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben anſwered, ſaying, As the [i] Lord hath ſaid unto thy ſervants, ſo will we do.

32 We will go armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan: that the poſſeſſion of our inheritance may be to us on this ſide Jordan.

33 * So Moſes gave unto them, even to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and to half the tribe of Manaſſeh the ſon of Joſeph, the kingdom of Sihon king of the [k] Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Baſhan, the land with the cities thereof and coaſts, even the cities of the country round about. *Deut. 3. 12, Joſh. 13. 8. and 22. 4.

34 ¶ Then the children of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer,

35 And Atroth, Shophan, and Jazer, and Jogbehah,

36 And Beth-nimrah, and Beth-haran, defenced cities: alſo ſheep-folds.

37 And the children of Reuben built Heſhbon, and Elealeh, and Kiriathaim.

38 And Nebo, and Baal-meon, and turned their names, and Shibmah: and gave other names unto the cities which they built.

39 And the children * of Machir the ſon of Manaſſeh went to Gilead, and took it, and put out the Amorites that dwelt therein. *Gen. 50. 23.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderful love of God toward his church is lively ſet forth in this book. For albeit through their ingratitude and ſundry rebellions againſt God, for the ſpace of forty years, Deut. 9. 7. they had deſerved to have been cut off from the number of his people, and for ever to have been deprived of the uſe of his holy word and ſacraments: yet he did ever preſerve his church even for his own mercies ſake, and would ſtill have his name called upon among them. Wherefore he bringeth them into the land of Canaan, deſtroyeth their enemies, giveth them their country, towns and goods, and exhorted them by the example of their fathers (whoſe infidelity, idolatry, adulteries, murmurings, and rebellion, he had moſt ſharply puniſhed) to fear and obey the Lord, to embrace and keep his law without adding thereunto, or diminiſhing therefrom. For by his word he would be known to be their God, and they his people: by his word he would govern his church, and by the ſame they ſhould learn to obey him: by his word he would diſcern the falſe prophet from the true, light from darkneſs, ignorance from knowledge, and his own people from all the other nations and infidels: teaching them thereby to refuſe and deteſt, deſtroy and aboliſh whatſoever is not agreeable to his holy will, ſeem it otherwiſe never ſo good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cauſe God promiſed to raiſe up kings and governors, for the ſetting forth of his word, and preſervation of his church: giving unto them an eſpecial charge for the executing thereof: whom therefore he willeth to exerciſe themſelves diligently in the continual ſtudy and meditation of the ſame: that they might learn to fear the Lord, love their ſubjects, abhor covetouſneſs and vice, and whatſoever offendeth the majeſty of God. And as he had heretofore inſtructed their fathers in all things appertaining both to his ſpiritual ſervice, and alſo for the maintenance of that ſociety which is between men: ſo he preſcribeth here anew, all ſuch laws and ordinances, which either concern his divine ſervice, or elſe are neceſſary for a commonweal: appointing unto every eſtate and degree their charge and duty: as well how to rule and live in the fear of God, as to nouriſh friendſhip toward their neighbours, and to preſerve that order which God hath eſtabliſhed among men: threatening withal moſt horrible plagues to them that tranſgreſs his commandments, and promiſing all bleſſings and felicity to ſuch as obſerve and obey them.

CHAP. I.

2 A brief rehearſal of things done before, from Horeb unto Kadeſh-barnea. 3 Moſes reproveth the people for their incredulity. 44 The Iſraelites are overcome by the Amorites, becauſe they fought againſt the commandment of the Lord.

THESE be the words which Moſes ſpake unto all Iſrael, on [a] this ſide Jordan in the wilderneſs, in the plain, [b] over-againſt the Red Sea, between Paran and Tophel, and Laban, and Hazeroth, and Di-zahab.

2 There are eleven days journey from [c] Horeb unto Kadeſh-barnea, by the way of mount Seir.

3 And it came to paſs in the firſt day of the eleventh month, in the fortieth year, that Moſes ſpake unto the children of Iſrael, according unto all that the Lord had given him in commandment unto them,

* Num. 21. 24.

4 After that he had ſlain [d] * Sihon the king of the Amorites, which dwelt in Heſhbon, and Og king of Baſhan, which dwelt at Aſhtaroth in Edrei.

5 On this ſide Jordan in the land of Moab [e] began Moſes to declare this law, ſaying,

6 The Lord our God ſpake unto us in [f] Horeb, ſaying, Ye have dwelt long enough in this mount,

7 Turn you and depart, and go unto the mountain of the Amorites, and unto all places near thereunto: in the plain, in the mountain, or in the valley: both ſouthward and to the ſea ſide, to the land of the Canaanites, and unto Lebanon: even unto the great River, the river ‡ Perath.

* Gen. 15. 18. and 17. 7, 8.

8 Behold, I have ſet the land before you: go in and * poſſeſs that land which the Lord ſware unto your fathers, Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, to give unto them, and to their ſeed after them.

9 ¶ And I ſpake [g] unto you the ſame time, ſaying, I am not able to bear you myſelf alone:

10 The Lord your God hath [h] multiplied you: and behold, ye are this day as the ſtars of heaven in number:

11 (The Lord God of your fathers make you a thouſand times ſo many more as ye are, and bleſs you, as he hath promiſed you)

12 How can I alone [i] bear your cumbrance, and your charge, and your ſtrife?

13 Bring you men of wiſdom and of underſtanding, and [k] known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you:

14 Then ye anſwered me and ſaid, The thing is good that thou haſt commanded us to do.

15 So I took the chief of your tribes, [l] wiſe and known men, and made them rulers over you, captains over thouſands, and captains over hundreds, and captains over fifties, and captains over tens, and officers among your tribes.

Bef. Chr. 1451.

18 Alſo I commanded you the ſame time all the things which ye ſhould do.

19 ¶ Then we departed from Horeb, and went through all that great and terrible wilderneſs (as ye have ſeen) by the way of the mountain of the Amorites, as the Lord our God commanded us: and we came to Kadeſh-barnea.

20 And [n] I ſaid unto you, Ye are come unto the mountain of the Amorites, which the Lord our God doth give unto us.

21 Behold, the Lord thy God hath laid the land before thee: go up and poſſeſs it, as the Lord the God of thy fathers hath ſaid unto thee: fear not, neither be diſcouraged.

22 ¶ [o] Then ye came unto me every one, and ſaid, We will ſend men before us to ſearch us out the land, and to bring us word again, what way we muſt go up by, and unto what cities we ſhall come.

23 So the ſaying pleaſed me well, and I took twelve men of you, of every tribe one:

26 Notwithſtanding, ye would not go up, but were diſobedient unto the commandment of the Lord your God,

27 And murmured in your tents, and ſaid, Becauſe the Lord [q] hated us, therefore hath he brought us out of the land of Egypt, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, and to deſtroy us.

28 Whither ſhall we go up? our [r] brethren have diſcouraged our hearts, ſaying, The people is greater and taller than we: the cities are great, and walled up to heaven: and moreover, we have ſeen the ſons of the * Anakims there.

13 Furthermore, the Lord ſpake unto me, ſaying, I have ſeen this people, and behold, it is a ſtiff-necked people.

14 [f] Let me alone, that I may deſtroy them, and put out their name from under heaven, and I will make of thee a mighty nation, and greater than they be.

15 So I returned, and came down from the mount (and the mount burned with fire, and the two tables of the covenant were in my two hands,)

16 Then I looked, and behold, ye had ſinned againſt the Lord your God: for ye had made you a molten calf, and had turned quickly out of the [g] way which the Lord had commanded you.

20 Likewiſe the Lord was very angry with Aaron, even to [h] deſtroy him: but at that time I prayed alſo for Aaron.

24 Ye have been rebellious unto the Lord, ſince the day that I knew you.

25 Then I fell down before the Lord [l] forty days and forty nights, as I fell down before, becauſe the Lord had ſaid, that he would deſtroy you.

2 The people are exhorted to obſerve the commandments. 10 The whole people from the higheſt to the loweſt are comprehended under God's covenant. 19 The puniſhment of him that flattereth himſelf in his wickedneſs. 24 The cauſe of God's wrath againſt his people.

THESE are the [l] words of the covenant, which the Lord commanded Moſes to make with the children of Iſrael in the land of Moab, beſide the covenant which he had made with them in [m] Horeb.

2 ¶ And Moſes called all Iſrael, and ſaid unto them, Ye have ſeen all that the Lord did before your eyes in the land of Egypt unto Pharaoh and unto all his ſervants, and unto all his land.

3 The [n] great temptations which thine eyes have ſeen, thoſe great miracles and wonders:

5 And I have led you forty years in the wilderneſs: your cloaths are not waxed old upon you, neither is thy ſhoe waxed old upon thy foot,

6 Ye have eaten no [p] bread, neither drunk wine, nor ſtrong drink, that ye might know how that I am the Lord your God.

7 After, ye came unto this place, and Sihon king of Heſhbon, and Og king of Baſhan came out againſt us unto battle, and we ſlew them,

8 And took their land, and gave it for an inheritance unto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to the half tribe of Manaſſeh.

* Ch. 4. 6. 1 Kings 2. 3.

9 * Keep therefore the words of this covenant and do them, that ye may proſper in all that ye ſhall do.

10 Ye ſtand this day every one of you before the Lord your [q] God: your heads of your tribes, your elders and your officers, even all the men of Iſrael:

11 Your children, your wives, and thy ſtranger that is in thy camp, from the hewer of thy wood, unto the drawer of thy water,

12 That thou ſhouldeſt [r] paſs into the covenant of the Lord thy God, and into his oath which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day,

13 For to eſtabliſh thee this day a people unto himſelf, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath ſaid unto thee, and as he hath ſworn unto thy fathers, Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob.

[u] That is, I will take my favour from them, as to turn his face toward us, is to ſhew us his favour.

[w] To preſerve you and your children from idolatry, by remembering of God's benefits.

Bef. Chr. 1451. 20 For I will bring them into the land (which I ſware unto their fathers) that floweth with milk and honey, and they ſhall eat, and fill themſelves, and wax fat: [x] then ſhall they turn unto other gods, and ſerve them, and contemn me, and break my covenant.

21 And then when many adverſities and tribulations ſhall come upon them, this ſong ſhall [y] anſwer them to their faces as a witneſs: for it ſhall not be forgotten out of the mouths of their poſterity: for I know their imagination, which they go about even now, before I have brought them into the land which I ſware.

22 ¶ Moſes therefore wrote this ſong the ſame day, and taught it the children of Iſrael.

23 And God gave Joſhua the ſon of Nun a charge, and ſaid, * Be ſtrong, and of a good courage: for thou ſhalt bring the children of Iſrael into the land which I ſware unto them, and I will be with thee.

* Joſh. 1. 6.

24 ¶ And when Moſes had made an end of writing the words of this law in a book until he had finiſhed them,

25 Then Moſes commanded the Levites, which bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord, ſaying,

26 Take the book of this law, and put ye it in the ſide of the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a [z] witneſs againſt thee.

27 For I know thy rebellion and thy ſtiff neck: behold, I being yet alive with you this day, ye are rebellious againſt the Lord: how much more then after my death?

28 Gather unto me all the elders of your tribes, and your [a] officers, that I may ſpeak theſe words in their audience, and call heaven and earth to record againſt them:

29 For I am ſure that after my death ye will utterly be corrupt and turn from the way which I have commanded you: therefore evil will come upon you at the length, becauſe ye will commit evil in the ſight of the Lord, by provoking him to anger through the [b] work of your hands.

30 Thus Moſes ſpake in the audience of all the congregation of Iſrael the words of this ſong, until he had ended them.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The ſong of Moſes, containing, 7 God's benefits toward the people, 15 and their ingratitude toward him. 20 God menaceth them, 21 and ſpeaketh of the vocation of the Gentiles. 46 Moſes commandeth to teach the law to the children. 49 God forewarneth Moſes of his death.

HEarken, ye [c] heavens, and I will ſpeak: and let the earth hear the words of my mouth.

2 My [d] doctrine ſhall drop as the rain, and my ſpeech ſhall ſtill as the dew, as the ſhower upon the herbs, and as the great rain upon the graſs. Bef. Chr. 1451.

3 For I will publiſh the name of the Lord: give ye glory unto our God.

4 Perfect is the work of the [e] mighty God: for all his ways are judgment. God is true, and without wickedneſs: juſt and righteous is he.

5 They have corrupted themſelves toward him by their vice, not being his children, but a froward and crooked generation.

6 Do ye ſo reward the Lord, O fooliſh people and unwiſe? is not he thy father that hath bought thee? he hath [f] made thee, and proportioned thee.

7 ¶ Remember the days of old: conſider the years of ſo many generations: aſk thy father, and he will ſhew thee: thine elders, and they will tell thee.

8 When the moſt high God divided to the nations their inheritance, when he ſeparated the ſons of Adam, he appointed the borders of the [g] people according to the number of the children of Iſrael.

9 For the Lord's portion is his people: Jacob is the lot of his inheritance.

10 He found him in the land of the wilderneſs, in a waſte and roaring wilderneſs: he led him about, he taught him, and kept him as the apple of his eye.

11 As an eagle ſtirreth up her neſt, [h] fluttereth over her birds, ſtretcheth out her wings, taketh them, and beareth them on her wings,

12 So the Lord alone led him, and there was no ſtrange ‡ god with him.

‡ Or, god of ſtrange nation.

13 He carried him up to the high places of the [i] earth, that he might eat the fruits of the fields, and he cauſed him to ſuck [k] honey out of the ſtone, and oil out of the hard rock:

14 Butter of kine, and milk of ſheep, with fat of the lambs, and rams fed in Baſhan, and goats, with the fat of the grains of wheat, and the red † liquor of the grape haſt thou drunk.

15 ¶ But he that ſhould have been upright when he waxed fat, ſpurned with his heel: thou art fat, thou art groſs, thou art laden with fatneſs: therefore he forſook God that made him, and regarded not the ſtrong God of his ſalvation.

16 They provoked him with [m] ſtrange gods: they provoked him to anger with abominations.

17 They offered unto devils, not to God, but to gods whom they knew not: [n] new gods that came newly up, whom their fathers feared not.

NOW this is the [a] bleſſing wherewith Moſes the man of God bleſſed the children of Iſrael before his death, and ſaid,

2 The Lord came from Sinai, and roſe up from Seir unto them, and appeared clearly from mount Paran, and he came with ten [b] thouſands of ſaints, and at his right hand a fiery law for them.

3 Though he love the people, yet [c] all thy ſaints are in thine hands: and they are humbled at thy [d] feet, to receive thy words.

4 Moſes commanded us a law for an [e] inheritance of the congregation of Jacob.

‡ Or, Moſes. ‡ Or, Iſrael.

5 Then ‡ he was among the ‡ righteous people, as King, when the heads of the people, and the tribes of Iſrael were aſſembled.

6 ¶ Let [f] Reuben live, and not die, though his men be a ſmall number.

7 ¶ And thus he bleſſed Judah, and ſaid, Hear, O Lord, the voice of Judah, and bring him unto his people: his hands ſhall be [g] ſufficient for him, if thou help him againſt his enemies.

* Exod. 28. 30.

8 ¶ And of Levi he ſaid, Let thy * thummim and thine urim be with thine holy one, whom thou didſt prove in Maſſah, and didſt cauſe him to ſtrive at the waters of Meribah.

9 Who ſaid unto his father and to his mother, [h] I have not ſeen him, neither knew he his brethren, nor knew his own children: for they obſerved thy word, and kept thy covenant.

10 They ſhall teach Jacob thy judgments, and Iſrael thy law: they ſhall put incenſe before thy face, and the burnt-offering upon thine altar.

11 Bleſs, O Lord, his ſubſtance, and accept the work of his hands: [i] ſmite through the loins of them that riſe againſt him, and of them that hate him, that they riſe not again.

12 ¶ Of Benjamin he ſaid, The beloved of the Lord ſhall [k] dwell in ſafety by him: the Lord ſhall cover him all the day long, and dwell between his ſhoulders.

‡ Or, fountains.

13 ¶ And of Joſeph he ſaid, Bleſſed of the Lord is his land, for the ſweetneſs of heaven, for the dew, and for the ‡ depth lying beneath,

Bef. Chr. 1451.

18 ¶ And of Zebulun he ſaid, Rejoice, Zebulun, in thy [m] going out, and thou Iſſachar in thy tents.

‡ Or, mount Zion.

19 They ſhall call the people unto the ‡ mountain: there they ſhall offer the ſacrifices of righteouſneſs: for [n] they ſhall ſuck of the abundance of the ſea, and of the treaſures hid in the ſand.

20 ¶ Alſo of Gad he ſaid, Bleſſed be he that inlargeth Gad: he dwelleth as a lion, that catcheth for his prey the arm with the head.

21 And he looked to himſelf at the beginning, becauſe there was a portion of the [o] lawgiver hid: yet he ſhall come with the heads of the people, to execute the juſtice of the Lord, and his judgments with Iſrael.

22 ¶ And of Dan he ſaid, Dan is a lion's whelp: he ſhall leap from Baſhan.

23 ¶ Alſo of Naphtali he ſaid, O Naphtali, ſatisfied with favour, and filled with the bleſſing of the Lord, poſſeſs the [p] Weſt and the South.

24 ¶ And of Aſher he ſaid, Aſher ſhall be bleſſed with children: he ſhall be acceptable unto his brethren, and ſhall dip his foot in oil.

25 Thy ſhoes ſhall be [q] iron and braſs, and thy ſtrength ſhall continue as long as thou liveſt.

26 ¶ There is none like God, O righteous people, which rideth upon the heavens for thine help, and on the clouds in his glory.

28 Then Iſrael [r] the fountain of Jacob ſhall dwell alone in ſafety in a land of wheat and wine: alſo his heavens ſhall drop the dew.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this book the Holy Ghoſt ſetteth moſt lively before our eyes the accompliſhment of God's promiſe, who as he promiſed by the mouth of Moſes that a prophet ſhould be raiſed up unto the people like unto him, whom he willeth to obey, Deut. 18. 15. ſo he ſheweth himſelf here true in his promiſe, as at all other times; and after the death of Moſes his faithful ſervant, he raiſeth up Joſhua to be ruler and governor over his people, that neither they ſhould be diſcouraged for lack of a captain, nor have occaſion to diſtruſt God's promiſes hereafter. And becauſe that Joſhua might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people alſo might have none occaſion to grudge, as though he were not approved of God; he is adorned with moſt excellent gifts and graces of God, both to govern the people with counſel, and to defend them with ſtrength, that he lacked nothing which either belonged to a valiant captain, or a faithful miniſter. So he overcometh all difficulties and bringeth them into the land of Canaan: the which according to God's ordinance he divideth among the people, and appointeth their borders: he eſtabliſheth laws and ordinances, and putteth them in remembrance of God's manifold benefits, aſſuring them of his grace and favour, if they obey God, and contrariwiſe of his plagues and vengeance, if they diſobey him. This hiſtory doth repreſent Jeſus Chriſt the true Joſhua, who leadeth us into eternal felicity, which is ſignified unto us by this land of Canaan. From the beginning of Geneſis to the end of this book are contained 2576 *years. CHAP. II.

Bef. Chr. 1451.

1 Joſhua ſendeth men to ſpy Jericho, whom Rahab hideth. 11 She confeſſeth the God of Iſrael. 12 She requireth a ſign for her deliverance. 21 The ſpies return to Joſhua with comfortable tidings.

THEN Joſhua the ſon of Nun ſent out of [l] Shittim two men to ſpy ſecretly, ſaying, Go, view the land, and alſo Jericho: and they went, and * came into an ‡harlot's houſe, named Rahab, and lodged there.

* Heb. 11. 31. James 2. 25.

‡ Or, taverner's houſe, or, hoſteſs.

2 Then report was made to the king of Jericho, ſaying, Behold, there came men hither to night, of the children of Iſrael, to ſpy out the country.

3 And the king of Jericho ſent unto Rahab, ſaying, [m] Bring forth the men that are come to thee, and which are entered into thine houſe: for they be come to ſearch out all the land.

4 (But the woman had taken the two men, and hid them) Therefore ſaid ſhe thus, There came men unto me, but I wiſt not whence they were.

5 And when they ſhut the gate in the dark, the men went out, whither the men went I wot not: follow ye after them quickly, for ye ſhall overtake them.

6 (But ſhe had brought them up to the [n] roof of the houſe, and hid them with the ſtalks of flax which ſhe had ſpread abroad upon the roof.)

7 And certain men purſued after them, the way to Jordan, unto the fords, and as ſoon as they which purſued after them were gone out, they ſhut the gate.

8 ¶ And before they were aſleep, ſhe came up unto them upon the roof,

9 And ſaid unto the men, I know that the Lord hath given you the land, and that the [o] fear of you is fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land faint becauſe of you.

10 For we have heard, how the Lord * dried up the water of the red ſea * before you, when ye came out of Egypt, and what you did unto the two kings of the Amorites that were on the other ſide Jordan, unto * Sihon and to Og, whom ye utterly deſtroyed:

* Exod. 14. 21. 22. * Ch. 4. 23.

11 And when we heard it, our hearts ‡ did faint, and there remained no more ‡ courage in any becauſe of you: for [p] the Lord your God, he is the God in heaven above, and in earth beneath.

‡ Or, melted.

‡ Or, ſpirit.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, ſwear unto me by the Lord, that as I have ſhewed you mercy, ye will alſo ſhew mercy unto my father's houſe, and give me a true token,

13 And that ye will ſave alive my father and my mother, and my brethren, and my ſiſters, and all that they have: and that ye will deliver our ‡ ſouls from death.

Bef. Chr. 1451. 14 And the men anſwered her, [q] Our life for you to die, if ye utter not this our buſineſs: and when the Lord hath given us the land, we will deal mercifully and truly with thee.

15 Then ſhe let them down by a cord through the window: for her houſe was upon the town wall, and ſhe dwelt upon the wall.

16 And ſhe ſaid unto them, Go ye into the [r] mountain, leſt the purſuers meet with you, and hide yourſelves there three days, until the purſuers be returned: then afterward may ye go your way.

17 And the men ſaid unto her, [s] We will be blameleſs of this thine oath, which thou haſt made us ſwear.

18 Behold, when we come into the land, thou ſhalt bind this cord of red thread in the window, whereby thou letteſt us down, and thou ſhalt bring thy father and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy father's houſhold home to thee.

19 And whoſoever then doth go out at the doors of thine houſe into the ſtreet, [t] his blood ſhall be upon his head, and we will be guiltleſs: but whoſoever ſhall be with thee in the houſe, his blood ſhall be on our head, if any hand touch him:

20 And if thou utter this our [u] matter, we will be quit of thine oath which thou haſt made us ſwear.

21 And ſhe anſwered, According unto your words, ſo be it: then ſhe ſent them away, and ‡ Or, ſcarlet-coloured. they departed, and ſhe bound the ‡ red cord in the window.

22 ¶ And they departed, and came into the mountain, and there abode three days, until the purſuers were returned: and the purſuers ſought them throughout all the way, but found them not.

23 So the two men returned, and deſcended from the mountain, and paſſed [w] over, and came to Joſhua the ſon of Nun, and told him all things that came unto them.

24 Alſo they ſaid unto Joſhua, Surely the Lord hath delivered into our hands all the land: for even all the inhabitants of the country faint becauſe of us.

CHAP. III.

3 Joſhua commandeth them to depart when the ark removeth. 7 The Lord promiſeth to exalt Joſhua before the people. 9 Joſhua's exhortation to the people. 16 The waters part aſunder while the people paſs.

THEN Joſhua roſe very early, and they removed from Shittim, and came to [x] Jordan, he, and all the children of Iſrael, and lodged there, before they went over:

2 And after [y] three days the officers went throughout the hoſt,

3 And commanded the people, ſaying, When ye ſee the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, and the prieſts of the Levites bearing it, ye ſhall depart from your place, and go after it. Bef. Chr. 1451.

4 Yet there ſhall be a ſpace between you and it, about ‡ two thouſand cubits by meaſure: ‡ Or, a mile. ye ſhall not come near unto it, that ye may know the way by the which ye ſhall go: for ye have not gone this way in times paſt.

5 (Now Joſhua had ſaid unto the people, * Sanctify yourſelves: for to-morrow the Lord will do wonders among you.) * Lev. 20. 7. Num. 11. 18. Ch. 7. 13. 1 Sam. 16. 5.

6 Alſo Joſhua ſpake unto the prieſts, ſaying, Take up the ark of the covenant, and go over before the people: ſo they took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people.

7 ¶ Then the Lord ſaid unto Joſhua, This day will I begin to magnify thee in the ſight of all Iſrael, which ſhall know, that * as I was with * Ch. 1. 5. Moſes, ſo will I be with thee.

8 Thou ſhalt therefore command the prieſts that bear the ark of the covenant, ſaying, When ye are come to the brink of the waters of Jordan, ye ſhall ſtand ſtill [z] in Jordan.

9 ¶ Then Joſhua ſaid unto the children of Iſrael, Come hither, and hear the words of the Lord your God.

10 And Joſhua ſaid, [a] Hereby ye ſhall know that the living God is among you, and that he will certainly caſt out before you the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Hivites, and the Perizzites, and the Girgaſhites, and the Amorites, and the Jebuſites.

11 Behold the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the world paſſeth before you into Jordan.

12 Now therefore take from among you [b] twelve men out of the tribes of Iſrael, out of every tribe a man.

13 And as ſoon as the ſoles of the feet of the prieſts (that bear the ark of the Lord God, the Lord of all the world) ſhall ſtay in the waters of Jordan, the waters of Jordan ſhall be cut off: for the waters that come from above * ſhall * Pſ. 114. 3. ſtand ſtill upon an heap.

14 ¶ Then when the people were departed from their tents to go over Jordan, the prieſts bearing the * ark of the covenant went before * Acts 7. 45. the people.

15 And as they that bare the ark came unto Jordan, and the feet of the prieſts that bare the ark were dipped in the brink of the water, (* for * 1 Chron. 12. 15. Jordan uſeth to fill all his [c] banks all the time of harveſt)

16 Then the waters that came down from above ſtayed, and roſe up on a heap, and departed far from the city of Adam, that was beſide Zaretan: but the waters that came down toward the ſea of the wilderneſs, even the ſalt ſea, failed, and were cut off: ſo the people went right over-againſt Jericho.

17 But the prieſts that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord, ſtood dry within Jordan

CHAP. IV.

2 God commanded Joſhua to ſet up twelve ſtones in Jordan. 18 The waters return to their old courſe. 20 Other twelve ſtones are ſet up in Gilgal. 21 This miracle muſt be declared to the poſterity.

* Deut.27.2. AND when all the people were wholly gone * over Jordan, (after the Lord had ſpoken unto Joſhua, ſaying,

2 Take you twelve men out of the people, out of every tribe a man,

3 And command you them, ſaying, Take you hence out of the midſt of Jordan, out of the place where the prieſts ſtood in a [e] readineſs, twelve ſtones, which ye ſhall take away with you, and leave them in the [f] lodging where you ſhall lodge this night)

4 Then Joſhua called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Iſrael, out of every tribe a man.

5 And Joſhua ſaid unto them, Go over before the ark of the Lord your God, even through the midſt of Jordan, and take up every man of you a ſtone upon his ſhoulder, according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Iſrael,

6 That this may be a ſign among you, that when your [g] children ſhall aſk their fathers in time to come, ſaying, What mean you by theſe ſtones?

7 Then ye may anſwer them, That the waters of Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the Lord: for when it paſſed through Jordan, the waters of Jordan were cut off: therefore theſe ſtones are a memorial unto the children of Iſrael for ever.

8 Then the children of Iſrael did even ſo as Joſhua had commanded, and took up twelve ſtones out of the midſt of Jordan, as the Lord had ſaid unto Joſhua, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Iſrael, and carried them away with them unto the lodging, and laid them down there.

9 And Joſhua ſet up [h] twelve ſtones in the midſt of Jordan, in the place where the feet of the prieſts, which bare the ark of the covenant, ſtood, and there have they continued unto this day.

10 ¶ So the prieſts, which bare the ark, ſtood in the midſt of Jordan, until every thing was finiſhed that the Lord had commanded Joſhua to ſay unto the people, according to all that Moſes charged Joſhua: then the people haſted and went over.

11 When all the people were clean paſſed over, the ark of the Lord went over alſo, and the prieſts [i] before the people.

* Num. 32. 27, 29. 12 * And the ſons of Reuben, and the ſons of Gad, and half the tribe of Manaſſeh, went over before the children of Iſrael armed, as Moſes had charged them. Bef. Chr. 1451.

13 Even forty thouſand prepared for war, went before the [k] Lord unto battle, into the plain of Jericho.

14 That day the Lord magnified Joſhua in the ſight of all Iſrael, and they ‡ feared him, as they feared Moſes, all the days of his life. ‡ Or, reverenced him.

15 And the Lord ſpake unto Joſhua, ſaying,

16 Command the prieſts, that bear the [l] ark of the teſtimony, to come up out of Jordan.

17 Joſhua therefore commanded the prieſts, ſaying, Come ye up out of Jordan.

18 And when the prieſts that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord were come up out of the midſt of Jordan, and as ſoon as the ſoles of the prieſts feet were ſet on the dry land, the waters of Jordan returned unto their place, and flowed over all the banks thereof, as they did before.

19 ¶ So the people came up out of Jordan the tenth day of the [m] firſt month, and pitched in Gilgal, in the eaſt ſide of Jericho.

20 Alſo the twelve ſtones, which they took out of Jordan, did Joſhua pitch in Gilgal.

21 And he ſpake unto the children of Iſrael, ſaying, When your children ſhall aſk their fathers in time to come, and ſay, What mean theſe ſtones?

22 Then ye ſhall ſhew your children, and ſay, Iſrael came over this Jordan on dry land:

23 For the Lord your God dried up the waters of Jordan before you, until ye were gone over, as the Lord your God did the red Sea, * which he dried up before us, till we were gone over, * Exod. 14. 21, 22.

24 That all the people of the [n] world may know that the hand of the Lord is mighty, that ye might fear the Lord your God continually.

CHAP. V.

1 The Canaanites are afraid of the Iſraelites. 2 Circumciſion is commanded the ſecond time. 10 The paſſover is kept. 12 Manna ceaſeth. 13 The angel appeareth unto Joſhua.

NOW when all the kings of the [o] Amorites, which were beyond Jordan weſtward, and all the kings of the Canaanites which were by the ſea, heard that the Lord had dried up the waters of Jordan before the children of Iſrael until they were gone over, their heart fainted: and there was no courage in them any more, becauſe of the children of Iſrael.

2 ¶ That ſame time the Lord ſaid unto Joſhua, * Make thee ſharp knives, [p] and return, and circumciſe the ſons of Iſrael the ſecond time. * Exod.4.25.

3 Then Joſhua made him ſharp knives, and circumciſed the ſons of Iſrael in the [q] hill of the foreſkins.

4 And this is the cauſe why Joſhua circumciſed all the people, even the males that came out out of Egypt, becauſe all the men of war were dead in the wilderneſs by the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out were circumciſed: but all the people that were born in the wilderneſs by the way, after they come out of Egypt, were [r] not circumciſed.

6 For the children of Iſrael walked forty years in the wilderneſs, till all the people of the men of war that came out of Egypt were conſumed, becauſe they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: unto whom the Lord ſware, that he would not ſhew them the land * which the Lord had ſworn unto their fathers that he would give us, even a land that floweth with milk and honey.

7 So their ſons whom he raiſed up in their ſtead, Joſhua circumciſed: for they were uncircumciſed, becauſe they circumciſed them not by the way.

8 And when they had made an end of circumciſing all the people, they abode in the places in the camp till they [s] were whole.

9 After, the Lord ſaid unto Joſhua, This day I have taken away the [t] ſhame of Egypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgal, unto this day.

10 ¶ So the children of Iſrael abode in Gilgal, and kept the feaſt of the paſſover the fourteenth day of the month at even, in the plain of Jericho.

11 And they did eat of the corn of the land, on the morrow after the paſſover, unleavened bread, and parched corn in the ſame day.

12 And the Man ceaſed on the morrow after they had eaten of the corn of the land, neither had the children of Iſrael Man any more, but did eat of the fruit of the land of Canaan that year.

13 ¶ And when Joſhua was by Jericho, he lift up his eyes, and looked: and behold, there ſtood * a man againſt him, having a ſword drawn in his hand: and Joſhua went unto him, and ſaid unto him, Art thou on our ſide, or on our adverſaries?

* Exod. 23. 23.

14 And he ſaid, Nay, but as a captain of the hoſt of the Lord am I now come: then Joſhua fell on his face to the earth, and [u] did worſhip, and ſaid unto him, What ſaith my Lord unto his ſervant?

15 And the captain of the Lord's hoſt ſaid unto Joſhua, * Looſe thy ſhoe off thy foot: for the place whereon thou ſtandeſt, is holy: and Joſhua did ſo.

CHAP. VI.

3 The Lord inſtructeth Joſhua what he ſhould do as touching Jericho. 6 Joſhua commandeth the prieſts and warriors what to do. 20 The walls fall. 22 Rahab is ſaved. 24 All is burnt ſave gold and metal. 26 The curſe of him that buildeth the city.

NOW Jericho was [w] ſhut up, and [x] cloſed, [y] becauſe of the children of Iſrael: none might go out nor enter in.

2 And the Lord ſaid unto Joſhua, Behold, I have given into thine hand Jericho and the king thereof, and the ſtrong men of war.

3 All ye therefore that be men of war, ſhall compaſs the city, in going round about the city [z] once: thus ſhall you do ſix days:

4 And ſeven prieſts ſhall bear ſeven trumpets of [a] ram's horns before the ark: and the ſeventh day ye ſhall compaſs the city ſeven times, and the prieſts ſhall blow with the trumpets.

5 And when they make a long blaſt with the rams horns, and ye hear the ſound of the trumpet, all the people ſhall ſhout with a great ſhout: then ſhall the wall of the city fall down flat, and the people ſhall aſcend up, every man ſtraight before him.

6 ¶ Then Joſhua the ſon of Nun called the prieſts, and ſaid unto them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let ſeven prieſts bear ſeven trumpets of rams horns before the ark of the Lord.

7 But he ſaid unto the people, [b] Go and compaſs the city: and let him that is armed go forth before the ark of the Lord.

8 ¶ And when Joſhua had ſpoken unto the people, the ſeven prieſts bare the ſeven trumpets of rams horns, and went forth before the ark of the Lord, and blew with the trumpets, and the ark of the covenant of the Lord followed them.

9 ¶ And the men of arms went before the prieſts, that blew the trumpets: then the [c] gathering hoſt came after the ark, as they went and blew the trumpets.

10 (Now Joſhua had commanded the people, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſhout, neither make any noiſe with your voice, neither ſhall a word proceed out of your mouth, until the day that I ſay unto you, Shout, then ſhall ye ſhout.)

11 So the ark of the Lord compaſſed the city, and went about it [d] once: then they returned into the hoſt, and lodged in the camp.

12 And Joſhua roſe early in the morning, and the prieſts bare the ark of the Lord:

13 Alſo ſeven prieſts bare ſeven trumpets of rams horns, and went before the ark of the Lord, and going, blew with the trumpets: and the men of arms went before them, but the [e] gathering hoſt came after the ark of the Lord, as they went, and blew the trumpets.

14 And the ſecond day they compaſſed the city once, and returned into the hoſt: thus they did ſix days.

15 And when the ſeventh day came, they roſe early,

---

[r] For they looked daily to remove at the Lord's commandment, which thing they that were new circumciſed could not do without great danger.

[s] For their ſore was ſo grievous, that they were not able to remove.

[t] By bringing you into this promiſed land, contrary to the wicked opinion of the Egyptians: or the fore-ſkin, whereby you were like to the Egyptians.

[u] In that, that Joſhua worſhippeth him, he acknowledgeth him to be God; and in that, that he calleth himſelf the Lord's captain, he declareth himſelf to be Chriſt.

[w] That none could go out.

[x] That none could come in.

[y] For fear of the Iſraelites.

[z] Every day once.

[a] That the conqueſt might not be aſſigned to man's power, but to the mercy of God, which with moſt weak things can overcome that which ſeemeth moſt ſtrong.

[b] This is chiefly meant by the Reubenites, Gadites, and half the tribe of Manaſſeh.

[c] Meaning, the rereward, wherein was the ſtandard of the tribe of Dan. Num. 10. 25.

early, even with the dawning of the day, and compaſſed the city after the ſame manner [c] ſeven times: only that day they compaſſed the city ſeven times.

16 And when the prieſts had blown the trumpets the ſeventh time, Joſhua ſaid unto the people, Shout: for the Lord hath given you the city.

17 And the city ſhall be [f] an execrable thing, both it, and all that are therein, unto the Lord: only Rahab the harlot ſhall live, ſhe and all that are with her in the houſe: for * ſhe hid the meſſengers that we ſent.

* Ch. 2. 4.

18 Notwithſtanding be ye ware of the execrable thing, leſt ye make yourſelves execrable, and in taking of the execrable thing make alſo the hoſt of Iſrael * execrable, and trouble it.

* Lev. 27. 21. Num. 21. 2. Deut. 13. 15, 17.

19 But all ſilver, and gold, and veſſels of braſs, and iron ſhall be [g] conſecrate unto the Lord, and ſhall come into the Lord's treaſury.

20 So the people ſhouted, when they had blown trumpets: for when the people had heard the ſound of the trumpet, they ſhouted with a great ſhout: and the * wall fell down flat: ſo the people went up into the city, every man ſtraight before him: and they took the city.

* Heb. 11. 30.

21 And they utterly deſtroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and ſheep, and aſs, with the edge of the ſword.

22 But Joſhua had ſaid unto the two men that had ſpied out the country, Go into the harlot's houſe, and bring out thence the woman, and all that ſhe hath, * as ye ſware to her.

* Ch. 2. 14. Heb. 11. 31.

23 So the young men that were ſpies, went in, and brought out Rahab, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that ſhe had: alſo they brought out all her family, and put them [h] without the hoſt of Iſrael.

24 After they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: only the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels of braſs and iron, they put into the treaſury of [i] the houſe of the Lord.

25 So Joſhua ſaved Rahab the harlot, and her father's houſhold, and all that ſhe had, and ſhe [k] dwelt in Iſrael even unto this day, becauſe ſhe had hid the meſſengers which Joſhua ſent to ſpy out Jericho.

26 ¶ And Joſhua ſware at that time, ſaying, Curſed be the man before the Lord, that riſeth up, and buildeth this city Jericho: [l] he ſhall lay the foundation thereof in his eldeſt ſon, and in his youngeſt ſon ſhall he ſet up the gates of it.

27 So the Lord was with Joſhua, and he was famous through all the world.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Lord is angry with Achan. 4 They of Ai put the Iſraelites to flight. 6 Joſhua prayeth to the Lord. 16 Joſhua enquireth out him that ſinned, and ſtoned him, and all his.

Bef. Chr. 1451.

BUT the children of Iſrael committed a treſpaſs in the [m] excommunicate thing: for Achan * the ſon of Carmi, the ſon of Zabdy, the ſon of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, took of the excommunicate thing; wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt the children of Iſrael.

* Ch. 22. 20. 1 Chron. 2. 7.

2 And Joſhua ſent men from Jericho to [n] Ai, which is beſide Bethaven, on the eaſt ſide of Bethel, and ſpake unto them, ſaying, Go up, and view the country. And the men went up and viewed Ai.

3 And returned to Joſhua, and ſaid unto him, Let not all the people go up, but let as it were two or three thouſand men go up, and ſmite Ai, and make not all the people to labour thither, for they are few.

4 So there went up thither of the people about three thouſand men, and they fled before the men of Ai.

5 And the [o] men of Ai ſmote of them upon a thirty and ſix men: for they chaſed them from before the gate unto Shebarim, and ſmote them in the going down: wherefore the hearts of the people melted away like water.

6 ¶ Then Joſhua rent his clothes, and fell to the earth upon his face before the ark of the Lord, until the even-tide, he, and the elders of Iſrael, and put duſt upon their heads.

7 And Joſhua ſaid, Alas, O Lord God, wherefore haſt thou brought this people over Jordan, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, and to deſtroy us? would God we had been content to dwell on the [p] other ſide Jordan.

8 O Lord, what ſhall I ſay, when Iſrael turn their backs before their enemies?

9 For the Canaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land ſhall hear of it, and ſhall compaſs us, and deſtroy our name out of the earth: and what wilt thou do unto thy mighty [q] name?

10 ¶ And the Lord ſaid unto Joſhua, Get thee up: wherefore lieſt thou thus upon thy face?

11 Iſrael hath ſinned, and they have tranſgreſſed my covenant, which I commanded them: for they have even taken of the excommunicate thing, and have alſo ſtolen, and diſſembled alſo, and have put it even with their own ſtuff.

12 Therefore the children of Iſrael cannot ſtand before their enemies, but have turned their backs before their enemies, becauſe they be execrable: neither will I be with you any more, except ye [r] deſtroy the excommunicate from among you.

13 Up therefore, ſanctify the people, and ſay, Sanctify yourſelves againſt to-morrow: for thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, There is an execrable thing among you, O Iſrael, therefore ye cannot ſtand againſt your enemies, until ye have put the [s] execrable thing from among you.

14 In the morning therefore ye ſhall come according to your tribes, and the tribe which the 16 ¶ So Joſhua roſe up early in the morning, and brought Iſrael by their tribes: and the tribe of Judah was taken.

17 And he brought the families of Judah, and took the family of the Zarhites, and he brought the family of the Zarhites man by man, and Zabdi was taken.

18 And he brought his houſhold, man by man, and Achan the ſon of Carmi, the ſon of Zabdi, the ſon of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, was taken.

19 Then Joſhua ſaid unto Achan, My ſon, I beſeech thee, give glory to the Lord God of Iſrael, and [u] make confeſſion unto him, and ſhew me now what thou haſt done: hide it not from me.

20 And Achan anſwered Joſhua, and ſaid, Indeed, I have ſinned againſt the Lord God of Iſrael, and thus and thus have I done.

21 I ſaw among the ſpoil a goodly [w] Babyloniſh garment, and two hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and a wedge of gold of fifty ſhekels weight, and I coveted them, and took them: and behold, they lie hid in the earth in the midſt of my tent, and the ſilver under it.

22 ¶ Then Joſhua ſent meſſengers, which ran unto the tent, and behold, it was hid in his tent, and the ſilver under it.

23 Therefore they took them out of the tent, and brought them unto Joſhua, and unto all the children of Iſrael, and laid them before the Lord.

25 And Joſhua ſaid, [z] Inaſmuch as thou haſt troubled us, the Lord ſhall trouble thee this day: and all Iſrael threw ſtones at him, and burned them with fire, and ſtoned them with ſtones.

26 And they caſt upon him a great heap of ſtones unto this day: and ſo the Lord turned from his fierce wrath: therefore he called the name of that place, The valley of Achor, unto this day.

3 ¶ Then Joſhua aroſe, and all the men of war to go up againſt Ai: and Joſhua choſe out thirty thouſand ſtrong men, and valiant, and ſent them away by night.

4 And he commanded them, ſaying, Behold, ye [b] ſhall lie in wait againſt the city on the backſide of the city: go not very far from the city, but be ye all in a readineſs.

5 And I and all the people that are with me, will approach unto the city: and when they ſhall come out againſt us, as they did at the firſt time, then will we flee before them.

6 For they will come out after us, till we have brought them out of the city: for they will ſay, They flee before us as at the firſt time: ſo we will flee before them.

9 ¶ Joſhua then ſent them forth, and they went to lie in wait, and abode between Beth-el and Ai, on the weſt ſide of Ai: but Joſhua lodged that night [c] among the people.

9 And they anſwered him, From a very far country thy ſervants are come for [t] the name of the Lord thy God: for we have heard his fame, and all that he hath done in Egypt,

10 And all that he hath done to the two kings of the Amorites that were beyond Jordan, to Sihon king of Heſhbon, and to Og king of Baſhan, which were at Aſhtaroth.

16 ¶ But at the end of three days, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Iſrael took their journey, [x] and came unto their cities the third day, and their cities were Gibeon, and Chephirah, and Beeroth, an Kiriath-jearim.

18 And the children of Iſrael ſlew them not, becauſe the princes of the congregation had ſworn unto them by the Lord God of Iſrael: wherefore all the congregation [y] murmured againſt the princes.

8 ¶ And the Lord ſaid unto Joſhua, [f] Fear them not: for I have given them into thine hand: none of them ſhall ſtand againſt thee.

9 Joſhua therefore came unto them ſuddenly: for he went up from Gilgal all the night.

15 ¶ After, Joſhua returned, and all Iſrael with him unto the camp to Gilgal:

16 But the five kings fled and were hid in a cave at Makkedah.

17 And it was told Joſhua, ſaying, The five kings are found hid in a cave at Makkedah.

25 And Joſhua ſaid unto them, Fear not, nor be faint-hearted, but be ſtrong and of a good courage: for thus will the Lord do to all your enemies, againſt whom ye fight.

26 So then Joſhua ſmote them, and ſlew them, and hanged them on five trees, and they hanged ſtill upon the trees until the evening.

27 And at the going down of the ſun, Joſhua gave commandment, that they ſhould take them * down off the trees, and caſt them into the cave (wherein they had been hid) and they laid great ſtones upon the cave's mouth, which remain until this day.

2 Divers kings, and cities, and countries, overcome by Joſhua. 15 Joſhua did all that Moſes had commanded him. 20 God hardeneth the enemies hearts, that they might be deſtroyed.

AND when Jabin king of Hazor had heard this, then he [p] ſent to Jobab king of Madon, and to the king of Shimron, and to the king of Achſhaph,

2 And unto the kings that were by the north in the mountains and plains toward the ſouth ſide of [q] Cinneroth, and in the vallies, and in the borders of Dor weſtward,

3 And unto the Canaanites, both by eaſt, and by weſt, and unto the Amorites, and Hittites, and Perizzites, and Jebuſites in the mountains, and unto the Hivites under [r] Hermon in the land of Mizpeh.

4 And they came out, and all their hoſts with them, many people as the ſand that is on the ſea ſhore for multitude, with horſes and chariots exceeding many.

5 So all theſe kings met together, and came and pitched together at the waters of Merom, for to fight againſt Iſrael.

6 ¶ Then the Lord ſaid unto Joſhua, Be not afraid for them: for to-morrow about this time will I deliver them all ſlain before Iſrael: thou ſhalt [s] hough their horſes, and burn their chariots with fire.

7 Then came Joſhua and all the men of war with him againſt them by the waters of Merom ſuddenly, and fell upon them.

8 And the Lord gave them into the hand of Iſrael: and they ſmote them, and chaſed them unto great Zidon, and unto [t] Mizrephoth-maim, and unto the valley of Mizpeh eaſtward, and ſmote them until they had none remaining of them.

Bef. Chr. 1450.

9 And Joſhua did unto them as the Lord bade him: he houghed their horſes, and burnt their chariots with fire.

10 ¶ At that time alſo Joſhua turned back, and took Hazor, and ſmote the king thereof with the ſword: for Hazor beforetime was the head of all thoſe kingdoms.

11 Moreover, they ſmote all the [u] perſons that were therein with the edge of the ſword, utterly deſtroying all, leaving none alive, and he burnt Hazor with fire.

12 So all the cities of thoſe kings, and all the kings of them did Joſhua take, and ſmote them with the edge of the ſword, and utterly deſtroyed them, * as Moſes the ſervant of the Lord had commanded.

* Num. 33. 52. Deut. 7. 2.

13 But Iſrael burnt none of the cities that ſtood ſtill in their [w] ſtrength, ſave Hazor only, that Joſhua burnt.

14 And all the ſpoil of theſe cities, and the cattle, the children of Iſrael took for their prey, but they ſmote every [x] man with the edge of the ſword until they had deſtroyed them, not leaving one alive.

15 ¶ As the Lord * had commanded Moſes his ſervant, ſo did Moſes * command Joſhua, and ſo did Joſhua: he left nothing undone of all that the Lord had commanded Moſes.

* Exod. 34. 11.
* Deut. 7. 2.

16 So Joſhua took all this land of the mountains, and all the ſouth, and all the land of Goſhen, and the low country, and the plain, and the [y] mountain of Iſrael, and the low country of the ſame,

17 From the mount [z] Halak, that goeth up to Seir, even unto ‡ Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon, under mount Hermon: and all their kings he took, and ſmote them, and ſlew them.

‡ Or, the valley of Gad.

18 Joſhua made war long time with all thoſe kings,

19 Neither was there any city that made peace with the children of Iſrael, * ſave thoſe Hivites that inhabited Gibeon: all other they took by battle.

* Ch. 9. 3.

20 For it came of the Lord, to [a] harden their hearts, that they ſhould come againſt Iſrael in battle, to the intent that they ſhould deſtroy them utterly, and ſhew them no mercy, but that they ſhould bring them to nought: as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

21 ¶ And that ſame ſeaſon came Joſhua, and deſtroyed the Anakims out of the mountains: as out of Hebron, out of Debir, out of Anab, and out of all the mountains of Judah, and out of all the mountains of Iſrael: Joſhua deſtroyed them utterly with their cities.

22 There was no Anakim left in the land of the children of Iſrael: only in Azzah, [b] in Gath, and in Aſhdod were they left.

23 So Joſhua took the whole land, according to all that the Lord had ſaid unto Moſes: and

2 The land of Canaan was divided among the nine tribes and the half. 6 Caleb requireth the heritage that was promiſed him. 13 Hebron is given him.

8 But [q] my brethren that went up with me, diſcouraged the heart of the people: yet I followed ſtill the Lord my God.

9 Wherefore Moſes ſware the ſame day, ſaying, Certainly the land whereon thy feet have trodden ſhall be thine inheritance, and thy childrens for ever, becauſe thou haſt followed conſtantly the Lord my God.

10 Therefore behold now, the Lord hath kept me alive, as he promiſed: this is the forty and fifth year ſince the Lord ſpake this thing unto Moſes, while the children of Iſrael wandered in the wilderneſs: and now lo, I am this day fourſcore and five years old:

60 Kirjath-baal, which is Kirjath-jearim, and Rabbah: two cities with their villages.

61 ¶ In the wilderneſs were Beth-arabah, Middin, and Secacah,

62 And Nibſhan, and the [e] city of ſalt, and En-gedi: ſix cities with their villages.

63 Nevertheleſs, the Jebuſites that were the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, could not the children of Judah caſt [f] out, but the Jebuſites dwell with the children of Judah at Jeruſalem unto this day.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The lot or part of Ephraim. 10 The Canaanites dwelled among them.

AND the lot fell to the [g] children of Joſeph from Jordan by Jericho unto the water of Jericho eaſtward, and to the wilderneſs that goeth up from Jericho by the mount Beth-el: Bef. Chr. 1444.

2 And goeth out from Beth-el to * Luz, and runneth along unto the borders of Archiataroth, * Judg. 1. 26.

3 And goeth down weſtward to the coaſt of Japhleti, unto the coaſt of Beth-horon the nether, and to Gezer: and the ends [h] thereof are at the ſea.

4 So the children of Joſeph, Manaſſeh and Ephraim [i], took their inheritance.

5 ¶ Alſo the borders of the children of Ephraim according to their families, even the borders of their inheritance on the eaſt ſide, were Atroth-addar, unto Beth-horon the upper.

6 And this border goeth out to the ſea unto Michmethah on the north ſide, and this border returneth eaſtward unto Taanath-ſhiloh, and paſſeth it on the eaſt ſide unto Janohah,

7 And goeth down from Janohah to Ataroth, and Naarath, and cometh to Jericho, [k] and goeth out at Jordan.

8 And this border goeth from Tappuah weſtward unto the river Kanah, and the ends thereof are at the ſea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families.

9 And the [l] ſeparate cities for the children of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manaſſeh: all the cities with their villages.

10 And they caſt not out the Canaanite that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanite dwelt among the Ephraimites unto this day, and ſerved under tribute.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The portion of the half tribe of Manaſſeh. 3 The daughters of Zelophehad. 13 The Canaanites are become tributaries. 14 Manaſſeh and Ephraim require a greater portion of heritage.

THIS was alſo the lot of the tribe of Manaſſeh; for he was the * firſt born of Joſeph, to wit, of Machir the firſt born of Manaſſeh, and the father of Gilead: now becauſe he was a man of war, he had Gilead and Baſhan. * Gen. 41. 51. and 46. 20. and 50. 23. Num. 32. 39.

2 And alſo * of the [m] reſt of the ſons of Manaſſeh by their families, even of the ſons of Abiezer, and of the ſons of Helek, and of the ſons of Azriel, and of the ſons of Shechem, and of the ſons of Hepher, and of the ſons of Shemida: theſe were the males of Manaſſeh, the ſon of Joſeph, according to their families. * Num. 26. 29.

3 ¶ * But Zelophehad the ſon of Hepher, the ſon of Gilead, the ſon of Machir, the ſon of Manaſſeh, had no ſons, but daughters: and theſe are the names of his daughters, Mahlah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah: * Num. 26. 33. and 27. 1. and 36. 2, 11.

4 Which came before Eleazar the prieſt, and before Joſhua the ſon of Nun, and before the princes, ſaying, The Lord commanded Moſes to give us an inheritance among our [n] brethren:

[c] Meaning, Nilus, as ch. 23. 3.

[d] Which is alſo called Kirjath-ſepher, ver. 15.

[e] Of this city the ſalt ſea hath his name.

[f] That is, utterly, though they ſlew the moſt part, and burnt the city, Judg. 1. 8.

[g] That is, to Ephraim and his children: for Manaſſeh's portion followeth.

[h] Of their inheritance.

[i] Severally, firſt Ephraim, and then Manaſſeh.

[k] For ſo far the coaſts reach.

[l] Becauſe Ephraim's tribe was far greater than Manaſſeh, therefore he had more cities.

[m] For the other half tribe had their portion beyond Jordan.

[n] Among them of our tribe.

Bef. Chr. 1444.

therefore according to the commandment of the Lord he gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

5 And there fell ten portions to [o] Manaſſeh, beſide the land of Gilead and Baſhan, which is on the other ſide of Jordan,

6 Becauſe the daughters of Manaſſeh did inherit among his ſons: and Manaſſeh's other ſons had the land of Gilead.

7 ¶ So the borders of Manaſſeh were from Aſher to Michmethah that lieth before Shechem, and this border goeth on the right hand, even unto the inhabitants of En-tappuah.

8 The land of Tappuah belonged to Manaſſeh, but [p] Tappuah beſide the border of Manaſſeh belongeth to the ſons of Ephraim.

9 Alſo this border goeth down unto the ‡ river Kanah ſouthward to the river: theſe cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manaſſeh: and the border of Manaſſeh is on the north-ſide of the river, and the ends of it are at the [q] ſea.

‡ Or, the brook of reeds.

10 The ſouth pertaineth to Ephraim, and the north to Manaſſeh, and the ſea is his border: and they met together in [r] Aſher northward, and in Iſſachar eaſtward.

11 And Manaſſeh had in Iſſachar and in Aſher, Beth-ſhean and her towns, and Ibleam and her towns, and the inhabitants of Dor with the towns thereof, and the inhabitants of En-dor with the towns thereof, and the inhabitants of Taanach with her towns, and the inhabitants of Megiddo with the towns of the ſame, even three countries:

12 Yet the children of Manaſſeh [s] could not deſtroy thoſe cities, but the Canaanites dwelled ſtill in that land.

13 Nevertheleſs, when the children of Iſrael were ſtrong, they put the Canaanites under tribute, but caſt them not out wholly.

14 Then the children of Joſeph ſpake unto Joſhua, ſaying, Why haſt thou given me but one lot and one portion to inherit, ſeeing I am a great people, foraſmuch as the Lord hath [t] bleſſed me hitherto?

15 Joſhua then anſwered them, If thou be much people, get thee up to the wood, and cut trees for thyſelf there in the land of the Perizzites and of the giants, [u] if mount Ephraim be too narrow for thee.

16 Then the children of Joſeph ſaid, The mountain will not be enough for us: and all the Canaanites that dwell in the low country have chariots of iron, as well they in Beth-ſhean, and in the towns of the ſame, as they in the valley of Izreel.

17 And Joſhua ſpake unto the houſe of Joſeph, to Ephraim, and to Manaſſeh, ſaying, Thou art a great people, and haſt great power, and ſhalt not have one lot.

18 Therefore the mountain ſhall be thine: for it is a wood, and thou ſhalt cut it down: and the ends of it ſhall be thine, [w] and thou ſhalt caſt out the Canaanites, though they have iron chariots, and though they be ſtrong.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The tabernacle ſet in Shiloh. 4 Certain are ſent to divide the land to the other ſeven tribes. 11 The lot of the children of Benjamin.

AND the whole congregation of the children of Iſrael came together at Shiloh: for they ſet up the [x] tabernacle of the congregation there, after the land was ſubject unto them.

2 Now there remained among the children of Iſrael ſeven tribes, to whom [y] they had not divided their inheritance.

3 Therefore Joſhua ſaid unto the children of Iſrael, How long are ye ſo ſlack to enter and poſſeſs the land which the Lord God of your fathers hath given you?

4 Give from among you for every tribe three men, that I may ſend them, and that they may riſe, and walk through the land, and diſtribute it according to [z] their inheritance, and return to me.

5 And that they may divide it unto them into ſeven parts (Judah ſhall abide in his coaſt at the ſouth, and the houſe of Joſeph ſhall [a] ſtand in their coaſts at the north.)

6 Ye ſhall deſcribe the land therefore into ſeven parts, and ſhall bring them hither to me, and I will caſt lots for you here before the [b] Lord our God.

7 But the Levites ſhall have no part among you: for the [c] prieſthood of the Lord is their inheritance: alſo Gad and Reuben, and half the tribe of Manaſſeh, have received their inheritance beyond Jordan eaſtward, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord gave them.

8 ¶ Then the men aroſe and went their way: and Joſhua charged them that went to deſcribe the land, ſaying, Depart, and go through the land, and [d] deſcribe it, and return to me, that I may here caſt lots for you before the Lord in Shiloh.

9 So the men departed, and paſſed through the land, and deſcribed it by cities into ſeven parts in a book, and returned to Joſhua into the camp at Shiloh.

10 ¶ Then Joſhua [e] caſt lots for them in Shiloh before the Lord, and there Joſhua divided the land unto the children of Iſrael, according to their portions.

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Benjamin came forth according to their families, and the coaſt of their lot [f] lay between the children of Judah, and the children of Joſeph.

---

[o] In the land of Canaan: five to the males, and other five to the daughters of Zelophehad.

[p] Meaning, the city itſelf.

[q] That is, toward the main ſea.

[r] In the tribe of Aſher, and the tribe of Iſſachar.

[s] For at the firſt they lacked courage, and after agreed with them on condition, contrary to God's commandment.

[t] According to my father Jacob's prophecy, Gen. 48. 19.

[u] If this mount be not large enough, why doſt not thou get more by deſtroying God's enemies, as he hath commanded?

[w] So that thou ſhalt enlarge thy portion thereby.

[x] For they had now removed it from Gilgal, and ſet it up in Shiloh.

[y] As Eleazar, Joſhua, and the heads of the tribes had done to Judah, Ephraim, and half of Manaſſeh.

[z] That is, into ſeven portions, to every tribe one.

[a] For theſe had their inheritance already appointed.

[b] Before the ark of the Lord.

[c] That is, the ſacrifices and offerings, ch. 13. 14.

[d] By writing the names of every country and city.

[e] That every one ſhould be content with God's appointment.

[f] Their inheritance bordered upon Judah and Joſeph.

Bef. Chr. 1444.

12 And their coaſt on the north ſide was from Jordan, and the border went up to the ſide of Jericho on the north part, and went up through the mountains weſtward, and the ends thereof are in the wilderneſs of Beth-aven:

13 And this border goeth along from thence to Luz, even to the ſouth ſide of Luz (the ſame is [g] Beth-el) and this border deſcendeth to Atroth-addar, near the mount, that lieth on the ſouth ſide of Beth-horon the nether.

14 So the border turneth, and compaſſeth the corner of the ſea ſouthward, from the mount that lieth before Beth-horon ſouthward: and the ends thereof are at Kirjath-baal (which is Kirjath-jearim) a city of the children of Judah: this is the weſt quarter.

15 And the ſouth quarter is from the end of Kirjath-jearim, and this border goeth out ‡ weſtward, and cometh to the fountain of waters of Nephtoah.

‡ Or, to the ſea.

16 And this border deſcendeth at the end of the mountain, that lieth before the valley of Binhinnom, which is in the valley of the ‡ giants northward, and deſcendeth into the valley of Hinnom by the ſide of ‡ Jebuſi ſouthward, and goeth down to En-rogel,

‡ Or, Rephaim.

‡ Or, Jeruſalem.

17 And compaſſeth from the north, and goeth forth to [h] En-ſhemeſh, and ſtretcheth to Geliloth, which is toward the going up unto Adummim, and goeth down to the * ſtone of Bohan the ſon Reuben.

* Ch. 15. 6.

18 So it goeth along to the ſide over-againſt the plain northward: and down into the plain.

19 After, this border goeth along to the ſide of Beth-hoglah northward: and the ends thereof, that is, of the border, reach to the point of the ſalt ſea northward, and to the [i] end of Jordan ſouthward: this is the ſouth coaſt.

20 Alſo Jordan is the border of it on the eaſt ſide: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin by the coaſts thereof round about, according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, according to their families, are Jericho, and Beth-hoglah, and the valley of Keziz,

22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemaraim, and Beth-el,

23 And Avim, and Parah, and Ophrah,

24 And Chephar-haammonai, and Ophni, and Gaban: twelve cities with their villages.

25 Gibeon, and Ramah, and Beeroth,

26 And Mizpeh, and Chephirah, and Mozah,

27 And Rekem, and Irpeel, and Taralah,

28 And Zela, Eleth, and Jebuſi, (which is [k] Jeruſalem) Gibeath, and Kirjath: fourteen cities with their villages: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin, according to their families.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The portion of Simeon. 10 Of Zebulun, 17 Of Iſſachar. 24 Of Aſher. 32 Of Naphtali, 40 Of Dan. 49 The poſſeſſion of Joſhua.

Bef. Chr. 1444.

AND the ſecond lot came out to Simeon, even for the tribe of the children of Simeon, according to their families: and their inheritance was in the [l] midſt of the inheritance of the children of Judah.

2 Now they had in their inheritance, Beer-ſheba, and Shèba, and Moladah,

3 And Hazur-ſhual, and Balah, and Azem,

4 And Eltolad, and Bethul, and Hormah,

5 And Ziklag, and Beth-marcaboth, and Hazar-ſuſah,

6 And Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuhen: thirteen cities with their villages.

7 Ain, Remmon, and Ether, and Aſhan: four cities with their villages.

8 And all the villages that were round about theſe cities, unto Baalathbeer, and ‡ Ramath ſouthward: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon, according to their families.

‡ Or, Ramathnegeb.

9 Out of the portion of the children of Judah came the inheritance of the children of Simeon: for the part of the children of Judah was too [m] much for them: therefore the children of Simeon had their inheritance within their inheritance.

10 ¶ Alſo the third lot aroſe for the children of Zebulun, according to their families: and the coaſts of their inheritance came to Sarid:

11 And their border goeth up [n] weſtward, even to Maralah, and reacheth to Dabbaſheth, and meeteth with the river that lieth before Jokneam,

12 And turneth from Sarid eaſtward toward the ſun-riſing unto the border of Chiſloth-tabor, and goeth out to Daberah, and aſcendeth to Japhia,

13 And from thence goeth along eaſtward toward the ſun-riſing to Gittah-hepher to Ittah-kazin, and goeth forth to Rimmon, and turneth to Neah.

14 And this border compaſſeth it on the north ſide to Hannathon, and the ends thereof are in the valley of Jiphthah-el,

15 And Kattah, and Nahallal, and Shimron, and Idalah, and [o] Beth-lehem: twelve cities with their villages.

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulun, according to their families: that is, theſe cities and their villages:

17 ¶ The fourth lot came out to Iſſachar, even for the children of Iſſachar, according to their families:

18 And their coaſt was Izreelah, and Cheſulloth, and Shunem,

19 And Hapharaim, and Shihon, and Anaharath,

20 And Rabbith, and Kiſhion, and Abez,

21 And Remeth, and [p] En-gannim, and En-haddah, and Beth-pazzez.

22 And this coaſt reacheth to Tabor and Shahazimah, and Beth-ſhemeſh, and the ends of their coaſt reach to Jordan: ſixteen cities with their villages.

23 This

[h] Which is in the tribe of Ephraim.

[i] To the very ſtrait, where the river runneth into the ſalt ſea.

[k] Which was not wholly in the tribe of Benjamin, but part of it was alſo in the tribe of Judah.

[l] According to Jacob's prophecy, that he ſhould be ſcattered among the other tribes, Gen. 49. 7.

[m] But this large portion was given them by God's providence, to declare their increaſe in time to come.

[n] Meaning, toward the great Sea.

[o] There was another Beth-lehem in the tribe of Judah.

[p] There was another city of this name in the tribe of Judah: for under divers tribes certain cities had all one name, and were diſtinſted by the tribe only.

Bef. Chr. 1444.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Iſſachar, according to their families: that is, the cities and their villages.

24 ¶ Alſo the fifth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Aſher, according to their families:

25 And their coaſt was Helkath, and Hali, and Beten, and Achſhaph,

26 And Alammelech, and Amad, and Miſheal, and came to Carmel weſtward, and to Shihor-libnath,

27 And turneth toward the ſun-riſing to Beth-dagon, and cometh to [q] Zebulun, and to the valley of Jiphthah-el, toward the north ſide of Beth-emek, and Neiel, and goeth out on the left ſide of Cabul,

28 And to Hebron, and Rehob, and Hammon, and Kanah, unto great Zidon:

29 Then the coaſt turneth to Ramah and to the ſtrong city of [r] Zor, and this border turneth to Hoſah, and the ends thereof are at the ſea from Hebel to Achzib,

30 Ummah alſo and Aphek, and Rehob: two and twenty cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Aſher, according to their families: that is, theſe cities and their villages.

32 ¶ The ſixth lot came out to the children of Naphtali, even to the children of Naphtali, according to their families:

33 And their coaſt was from [s] Heleph, and from Allon in Zaanannim, and Adami, Nekeb, and Jabneel, even to Lakum, and the ends thereof are at Jordan.

34 So this coaſt turneth weſtward to Aznoth-tabor, and goeth out from thence to Hukkok, and reacheth to Zebulun on the ſouth-ſide, and goeth to Aſher on the weſt-ſide, and to Judah ‡ by Jordan toward the ſun-riſing.

‡ Or, even unto Jordan.

35 And the ſtrong cities are Ziddim, Zer, and Hammath, Rakkath, and [t] Cinnereth,

36 And Adamah, and Ramah, and Hazor,

37 And Kedeſh, and Edrei, and En-hazor,

38 And Iron, and Migdal-el, Horem, and Beth-anah, Beth-ſhemeſh: nineteen cities with their villages.

39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Naphtali, according to their families: that is, the cities and their villages.

40 ¶ The ſeventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dan, according to their families.

41 And the coaſt of their inheritance was Zorah, and Eſhtaol, and Ir-ſhemeſh,

42 And Shaalabbin, and Ajalon, and Jethlah,

43 And Elon, and Temnathah, and Ekron,

44 And Eltekeh, and Gibbethon, and Baallath,

45 And Jehud, and Bene-berak, and Gath-rimmon,

46 And Me-jarkon, and Rakkon, with the border that lieth before [u] Japho.

47 But the coaſts of the children of Dan fell out too little for them: therefore the children of Dan went up to [w] fight againſt Leſhem, and took it, and ſmote it with the edge of the ſword, and poſſeſſed it, and dwelt therein, and called Leſhem, * Dan, after the name of Dan their father.

Bef. Chr. 1444.

* Judg. 18. 29.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan, according to their families: that is, theſe cities and their villages.

49 ¶ When they had made an end of dividing the land by the coaſts thereof, then the children of Iſrael gave an inheritance unto Joſhua the ſon of Nun among them.

50 According to the word of the Lord they gave him the city which he aſked, even * Timnaſerah in mount Ephraim: and he built the city and dwelt therein.

*Ch. 24. 30.

51 * Theſe are the heritages which Eleazar the prieſt, and Joſhua the ſon of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Iſrael divided by lot in Shiloh before the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: ſo they made an end of dividing the country.

2 The Lord commandeth Joſhua to appoint cities of refuge. 3 The uſe thereof, 7 and their names.

THE Lord alſo ſpake unto Joſhua, ſaying,

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and ſay, * Appoint you cities of refuge, whereof I ſpake unto you by the hand of Moſes, † Heb. in the ears of the elders.

5 And if the [y] avenger of blood purſue after him, they ſhall not deliver the ſlayer into his hand, becauſe he ſmote his neighbour ignorantly, neither hated he him beforetime:

6 But he ſhall dwell in that city until he ſtand before the congregation in [z] judgment; * or until the death of the high prieſt that ſhall be in thoſe days: then ſhall the ſlayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own houſe, even unto the city from whence he fled.

8 And on the other ſide Jordan toward Jericho eaſtward, they appointed * Bezer in the wilderneſs upon the plain, out of the tribe of Reuben, and Ramoth in Gilead, out of the tribe of Gad, and Golon in Baſhan out of the [a] tribe of Manaſſeh.

* Deut. 4. 43. 1 Chron. 6. 78.

9 Theſe were the cities appointed for all the children of Iſrael, and for the ſtranger that ſojourned among them, that whoſoever killed any perſon ignorantly, might flee thither, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he ſtood before the [b] congregation.

CHAP. XXI.

The cities given to the Levites, 41 in number eight and forty. 44 The Lord according to his promiſe gave the children of Iſrael reſt.

THEN came the ‡ principal fathers of the Levites unto Eleazar the prieſt, and unto Joſhua the ſon of Nun, and unto the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Iſrael,

‡ Or, the chief of the fathers.

2 And ſpake unto them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, ſaying, * The Lord commanded [c] by the hand of Moſes, to give us cities to dwell in, with the ſuburbs thereof for our cattle.

* Num. 35. 2.

3 So the children of Iſrael gave unto the Levites, out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the Lord, theſe cities with their ſuburbs.

4 And the lot came out for the families of the [d] Kohathites: and the children of Aaron the prieſt, which were of the Levites, had by lot, out of the tribe of Judah, and out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Benjamin, [e] thirteen cities.

5 And the reſt of the children of Kohath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half tribe of Manaſſeh, ten cities.

6 Alſo the children of Gerſhon had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Iſſachar, and out of the tribe of Aſher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the half tribe of Manaſſeh in Baſhan, thirteen cities.

7 The children of Merari according to their families had out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, twelve cities.

8 So the children of Iſrael gave by lot unto the Levites theſe cities with their ſuburbs, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moſes.

9 ¶ And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Judah, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, theſe cities which are here named.

10 And they were the childrens of [f] Aaron, being of the families of the Kohathites, and of the ſons of Levi, (for theirs was the firſt lot)

11 So they gave them Kirjath-arba of the father of Anak (which is Hebron) in the mountain of Judah, with the ſuburbs of the ſame round about it.

12 (But the land of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to * Caleb the ſon of Jephunneh to be his poſſeſſion)

* Ch. 14. 14. 1 Chron. 6. 56.

13 ¶ Thus they gave to the [g] children of Aaron the prieſt, a city of refuge for the ſlayer, even Hebron with her ſuburbs, and Libnah with her ſuburbs,

14 And Jattir with her ſuburbs, and Eſhtemoa, and her ſuburbs,

15 And Holon with her ſuburbs, and Debir with her ſuburbs,

16 And Ain with her ſuburbs, and Juttah with her ſuburbs, Beth-ſhemeſh with her ſuburbs: nine cities out of thoſe two tribes.

Bef. Chr. 1444.

17 And out of the tribe of Benjamin they gave Gibeon with her [h] ſuburbs, Geba with her ſuburbs, 18 Anathoth with her ſuburbs, and Almon with her ſuburbs: four cities.

19 All the cities of the children of Aaron prieſts, were thirteen cities with the ſuburbs.

20 ¶ But to the families of the children of Kohath of the Levites, [i] which were the reſt of the children of Kohath (for the cities of their lot were out of the tribe of Ephraim)

21 They gave them the city of refuge for the ſlayer, [k] Shechem with her ſuburbs in mount Ephraim, and Gezer with her ſuburbs, 22 And Kibzaim with her ſuburbs, and Beth-horon with her ſuburbs: four cities.

25 And out of the [l] half tribe of Manaſſeh, Tanach with her ſuburbs, and Gath-rimmon with her ſuburbs: two cities.

26 All the cities for the other families of the children of Kohath were ten with their ſuburbs.

27 ¶ Alſo unto the children of Gerſhon of the families of the Levites, they gave out of the half tribe of Manaſſeh, the city of refuge for the ſlayer, [m] Golan in Baſhan with her ſuburbs, and Beeſhterah with her ſuburbs: two cities.

28 And out of the tribe of Iſſachar, Kiſhon with her ſuburbs, Dabereh with her ſuburbs, 29 Jarmuth with her ſuburbs, En-gannim with her ſuburbs: four cities.

30 And out of the tribe of Aſher, Miſhal with her ſuburbs, Abdon with her ſuburbs, 31 Helkath with her ſuburbs, and Rehob with her ſuburbs: four cities.

32 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, the city of refuge for the ſlayer, Kedeſh in ‡ Galil with her ſuburbs, and Hammoth-dor with her ſuburbs, and Kartan with her ſuburbs: three cities.

‡ Or, Galilee.

40 So all the cities of the children of Merari according to their families (which were the reſt of the families of the Levites) were by their lot twelve cities.

41 And all the cities of the Levites [p] within the poſſeſſion of the children of Iſrael were eight and forty with their ſuburbs.

42 Theſe cities lay every one ſeverally with their ſuburbs round about them: ſo were all theſe cities.

43 ¶ So the Lord gave unto all Iſrael all the land which he had ſworn to give unto their fathers: and they poſſeſſed it, and dwelt therein.

44 Alſo the Lord gave them reſt round about, according to all that he had ſworn unto their fathers: and there ſtood not a man of all their enemies before them: for the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Reuben, Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh, are ſent again to their poſſeſſion. 10 They build an altar for a memorial. 15 The Iſraelites reprove them. 22 Their anſwer for defence of the ſame.

THEN [q] Joſhua called the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh,

2 And ſaid unto them, Ye have kept all that Moſes the ſervant of the Lord [r] commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you:

3 Ye have not forſaken your brethren this long ſeaſon unto this day, but have diligently kept the commandment of the Lord your God.

4 And now the Lord hath given reſt unto your brethren as he promiſed them: therefore now return ye and go to your tents, to the land of your poſſeſſion, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord * hath given you beyond Jordan.

* Num. 32. 33. Ch. 13. 8.

5 But take diligent heed to do the commandment and law which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord commanded you: that is, * that ye [s] love the Lord your God, and walk in all his ways, and keep his commandments, and cleave unto him, and ſerve him with all your heart, and with all your ſoul.

* Deut. 10. 12.

6 So Joſhua [t] bleſſed them, and ſent them away, and they went unto their tents.

7 ¶ Now unto one half of the tribe of Manaſſeh Moſes had given a poſſeſſion in Baſhan: and unto the other half thereof gave Joſhua among their brethren on this ſide Jordan weſtward: therefore when Joſhua ſent them away unto their tents, and bleſſed them,

8 Thus he ſpake unto them, ſaying, Return with much riches unto your tents, and with a great multitude of cattle, with ſilver and with gold, with braſs and with iron, and with great abundance of raiment: divide the ſpoil of your enemies with your [u] brethren.

9 ¶ So the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manaſſeh returned, and departed from the children of Iſrael from Shiloh (which is in the land of Canaan) to go unto the country of Gilead to the land of their poſſeſſion, which they had obtained, according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moſes.

10 ¶ And when they came unto the † borders of Jordan (which are in the land of Canaan) then the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh, built [w] there an altar by Jordan, a great altar to ſee to.

† Heb. Gelilotb, which country alſo was called Canaan, becauſe the Amorites dwelling there, were called Canaanites.

11 ¶ When the children of Iſrael heard ſay, Behold, the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſeh, have built an altar in the fore-front of the land of Canaan upon the borders of Jordan, at the paſſage of the children of Iſrael:

12 When the children of Iſrael heard it, then the whole congregation of the children of Iſrael gathered them together at Shiloh, to go up [x] to war againſt them.

13 Then the children of Iſrael ſent unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manaſſeh, into the land of Gilead, Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar the prieſt, 14 And with him ten princes, of every chief houſe a prince, according to all the tribes of Iſrael: for every one was chief of their fathers houſhold among the ‡ thouſands of Iſrael.

‡ Or, multitude.

15 ¶ So they went unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manaſſeh, unto the land of Gilead, and ſpake with them, ſaying,

16 Thus ſaith [y] the whole congregation of the Lord, What tranſgreſſion is this that ye have tranſgreſſed againſt the God of Iſrael, to turn away this day from the Lord, in that ye have built you an altar for to rebel this day againſt the Lord?

17 Have we too little for the wickedneſs * of Peor, whereof we are not [z] cleanſed unto this day, though a plague came upon the congregation of the Lord?

* Num. 25. 4.

18 Ye alſo are turned away this day from the Lord: and ſeeing ye rebel to-day againſt the Lord, even to-morrow he will be wroth with all the congregation of Iſrael.

19 Notwithſtanding if the land of your poſſeſſion be [a] unclean, come ye over unto the land of the poſſeſſion of the Lord, wherein the Lord's tabernacle dwelleth, and take poſſeſſion among us: but [b] rebel not againſt the Lord, nor rebel not againſt us, in building you an altar, beſide the altar of the Lord our God.

25 For the Lord hath made Jordan a border between us and you, ye children of Reuben, and of Gad: therefore ye have no part in the Lord: ſo ſhall your children make our children [e] ceaſe from fearing the Lord.

32 ¶ Then Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar the prieſt, with the princes, returned from the children of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gilead, unto the land of Canaan, to the children of Iſrael, and brought them anſwer.

The BOOK of JUDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit there is nothing that more provoketh God's wrath than man's ingratitude, yet is there nothing ſo diſpleaſant and heinous that can turn back God's love from his church. For now when the Iſraelites were entered into the land of Canaan, and ſaw the truth of God's promiſe performed, inſtead of acknowledging his great benefits, and giving thanks for the ſame, they fell to moſt horrible oblivion of God's graces, contrary to their ſolemn promiſe made unto Joſhua, and ſo provoked his vengeance (as much as in them ſtood) to their utter deſtruction. Whereof as they had moſt evident ſigns by the mutability of their ſtate (for he ſuffered them to be moſt cruelly vexed and tormented by tyrants; he pulled them from liberty, and caſt them into ſlavery, to the intent they might feel their own miſeries, and ſo call unto him and be delivered.) So to ſhew that his mercies endure for ever, he raiſed up from time to time ſuch as ſhould deliver them, and aſſure them of his favour and grace, if they would turn to him by true repentance. And theſe deliverers the ſcripture calleth judges, becauſe they were executors of God's judgments, not choſen of the people, nor by ſucceſſion, but raiſed up as it ſeemed beſt to God for the governance of his people. They were fourteen in number, beſide Joſhua, and governed from Joſhua unto Saul the firſt king of Iſrael. Joſhua and theſe unto the time of Saul ruled 377 years. In this book are many notable points declared, but two eſpecially: firſt, the battle that the church of God hath for the maintenance of true religion againſt idolatry and ſuperſtition: next, what great danger that commonwealth is in, when as God giveth not a magiſtrate to retain his people to the pureneſs of religion and his true ſervice.

11 And from thence he went to the inhabitants of Debir, and the name of Debir in old time was Kirjath-ſepher.

12 And Caleb ſaid, He that ſmiteth Kirjath-ſepher, and taketh it, even to him will I give Achſah my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniel the ſon of Kenaz Caleb's younger brother took it, to whom he gave Achſah his daughter to wife.

14 And when ſhe came to him, ſhe moved him to aſk of her father a field, [g] and ſhe lighted off her aſs, and Caleb ſaid unto her, What wilt thou?

15 And ſhe anſwered him, Give me a bleſſing: for thou haſt given me a ſouth country, give me alſo ſprings of water: and Caleb gave her the ſprings above and the ſprings beneath.

16 ¶ And the children of [h] Keni, Moſes's father-in-law, went up out of the city of the palmtrees with the children of Judah, into the wilderneſs of Judah, that lieth in the ſouth of Arad, and went and dwelt among the people.

17 But Judah went with Simeon his brother, and they ſlew the Canaanites that inhabited Zephath, and utterly deſtroyed it, and called the name of the city * Hormah. * Num. 21. 3.

18 Alſo Judah took [i] Azzah with the coaſts thereof, and Aſkelon with the coaſts thereof, and Ekron with the coaſts thereof.

19 And the Lord was with Judah, and he poſſeſſed the mountains: for he could not drive out the inhabitants of the vallies, becauſe they had chariots of iron.

20 And they gave Hebron unto Caleb, as * Moſes had ſaid, and he expelled thence the three ſons of Anak. * Num. 14. 24. Joſh. 14. 13. and 15. 14.

21 But the children of Benjamin did not caſt out the Jebuſites, that [k] inhabited Jeruſalem: therefore the Jebuſites dwell with the children of Benjamin in Jeruſalem unto this day.

25 And when he had ſhewed them the way into the city, they ſmote the city with the edge of the ſword, but they let the man and all his houſhold depart.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a city, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof unto this day.

27 ¶ * Neither did Manaſſeh deſtroy Beth-ſhean with her towns, nor Taanach with her towns, nor the inhabitants of Dor with her towns, nor the inhabitants of Ibleam with her towns, neither the inhabitants of Megiddo with her towns: [l] but the Canaanites dwelled ſtill in that land. * Joſh. 17. 11.

28 Nevertheleſs when Iſrael was ſtrong, they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 ¶ * Likewiſe Ephraim expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gezer among them. * Joſh. 16. 10.

30 ¶ Neither did [m] Zebulun expel the inhabitants of Kitron, nor the inhabitants of Nahalol, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 ¶ Neither did Aſher caſt out the inhabitants of Accho, nor the inhabitants of Zidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbah, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehob, 32 But the Aſherites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them [n] out.

33 ¶ Neither did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Beth-ſhemeſh, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anath, but dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: nevertheleſs the inhabitants of Beth-ſhemeſh, and of Beth-anath, became tributaries unto them.

34 And the Amorites ‡ drove the children of Dan into the mountain: ſo that they ſuffered them not to come down to the valley. ‡ Or, afflicted them.

5 Therefore they called the name of that place, ‡ Bochim, and offered ſacrifices there unto the Lord.

6 ¶ Now when Joſhua had [r] ſent the people away, the children of Iſrael went every man into his inheritance, to poſſeſs the land.

7 And the people had ſerved the Lord all the days of Joſhua, and all the days of the elders that outlived Joſhua, which had ſeen all the great [s] works of the Lord that he did for Iſrael.

9 And they buried him in the coaſts of his inheritance, in [t] Timnath-heres in mount Ephraim, on the north ſide of mount Gaaſh.

10 And ſo all that generation was gathered unto their fathers, and another generation aroſe after them, which neither knew the Lord, nor yet the works which he had done for Iſrael.

11 ¶ Then the children of Iſrael did wickedly in the ſight of the Lord and ſerved [u] Baalim, † Heb. repented.

18 And when the Lord had raiſed them up judges, the Lord was with the judge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge (for the Lord † had compaſſion on their groanings, [a] becauſe of them that oppreſſed them and tormented them)

† Heb. corrupt themſelves.

19 Yet * when the judge was dead, they returned, and † did worſe than their fathers, in following other gods to ſerve them and worſhip them: they ceaſed not from their own inventions, nor from their rebellious way.

20 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he ſaid, Becauſe this people hath tranſgreſſed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and hath not obeyed my voice,

21 Therefore will I no more caſt out before them any of the [b] nations which Joſhua left when he died,

7 ¶ So the children of Iſrael did wickedly in the ſight of the Lord, and forgat the Lord their God, and ſerved Baalim, and [g] Aſhtaroth.

8 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he ſold them into the hand of Chuſhan-riſhathaim king of ‡ Aram-naharaim, and the children of Iſrael ſerved Chuſhan-riſhathaim eight years.

‡ Or, Meſopotamia.

9 ¶ And when the children of Iſrael cried unto the Lord, the Lord ſtirred up a ſaviour to the children of Iſrael, and he ſaved them, even Othniel the ſon of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother.

10 And the [h] Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he judged Iſrael, and went out to war: and the Lord delivered Chuſhan-riſhathaim king of ‡ Aram into his hand, and his hand prevailed againſt Chuſhan-riſhathaim.

‡ Or, Syria.

11 So the land had reſt [i] forty years, and Othniel the ſon of Kenaz died.

12 ¶ Then the children of Iſrael again committed wickedneſs in the ſight of the Lord: and the Lord [k] ſtrengthened Eglon king of Moab againſt Iſrael, becauſe they had committed wickedneſs before the Lord.

13 And he gathered unto him the children of Ammon, and Amalek, and went and ſmote Iſrael, and they poſſeſſed the city of palm-trees.

14 So the children of Iſrael ſerved Eglon king of Moab eighteen years.

15 But when the children of Iſrael cried unto the Lord, the Lord ſtirred them up a ſaviour, Ehud the ſon of Gera the ſon of ‡ Jemini, a man ‡ lame of his right hand: and the children of Iſrael ſent a preſent by him unto Eglon king of Moab.

16 And Ehud ‡ made him a dagger with two edges of a cubit length, and did gird it under his raiment upon his right thigh,

‡ Or, cauſed a dagger to be made.

17 And he preſented the gift unto Eglon king of Moab (and Eglon was a very fat man)

18 And when he had now preſented the preſent, he ſent away the people that bare the preſent,

19 But he turned again from the [l] quarries that were by Gilgal, and ſaid, I have a ſecret errand unto thee, O king. Who ſaid, Keep [m] ſilence: and all that ſtood about him went out from him.

20 Then Ehud came unto him (and he ſat alone in a ſummer parlour, which he had) and Ehud ſaid, I have a meſſage unto thee from God. Then he aroſe out of his throne,

21 And Ehud put forth his left hand, and took the dagger from his right thigh, and thruſt it into his belly,

22 So that the haft went in after the blade, and the fat cloſed about the blade, ſo that he could not draw the dagger out of his belly, but the dirt came out.

Bef. Chr. 1336.

23 Then Ehud gat him out into the ‡ porch, and ſhut the doors of the parlour upon him, and locked them.

24 And when he was gone out, his ſervants came: who ſeeing that the doors of the parlour were locked, they ſaid, Surely † he doth his eaſement in his ſummer chamber.

25 And they tarried till they were aſhamed: and ſeeing he opened not the doors of the parlour, they took the key, and opened them, and behold, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

26 So Ehud eſcaped (while they tarried) and was paſſed the quarries, and eſcaped unto Seirath.

27 And when he came home, ‡ he blew a trumpet in mount Ephraim, and the children of Iſrael went down with him from the mountain, and he went before them.

‡ Or, cauſed the trumpet to be blown, Num. 10. 2, 3.

28 Then ſaid he unto them, Follow me: for the Lord hath delivered your enemies, even Moab, into your hand. So they went down after him, and took the paſſages of Jordan toward Moab, and ſuffered not a man to paſs over.

5 And this Deborah dwelt under a palm-tree, between Ramah and Beth-el in mount Ephraim, and the children of Iſrael came up to her for judgment.

13 And Siſera called for all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him from Haroſheth of the Gentiles, unto the river Kiſhon.

14 Then Deborah ſaid unto Barak, [w] Up: for this is the day that the Lord hath delivered Siſera into thine hand. Is not the Lord gone out before thee? So Barak went down from mount Tabor, and ten thouſand men after him.

Bef. Chr. 1256.

1 Iſrael is oppreſſed of the Midianites for their wickedneſs. 24 Gideon is ſent to be their deliverer. 37 He aſketh a ſign.

AFterward the children of Iſrael committed wickedneſs in the ſight of the Lord, and the Lord gave them into the hands of Midian ſeven years.

2 And the hand of Midian prevailed againſt Iſrael, [y] and becauſe of the Midianites the children of Iſrael made them dens in the mountains, and caves, and ſtrong holds.

3 When Iſrael had ſown, then came up the Midianites, the Amalekites, and they of the ‡ Eaſt, and came upon them,

‡ Or, of Kedem.

4 And camped by them, and deſtroyed the fruit of the earth, even till thou come unto [z] Azzah, and left no food for Iſrael, neither ſheep, nor ox, nor aſs.

5 For they went up, and their cattle, and came with their tents as graſhoppers in multitude: ſo that they and their camels were without number: and they came into the land to deſtroy it.

6 So was Iſrael exceedingly impoveriſhed by the Midianites: therefore the [a] children of Iſrael cried unto the Lord.

7 ¶ And when the children of Iſrael cried unto the Lord becauſe of the Midianites,

8 The Lord ſent unto the children of Iſrael a prophet, who ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, I have brought you up from Egypt, and have brought you out of the houſe of bondage,

9 And I have delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppreſſed you, and have caſt them out before you, and given you their land.

10 And I ſaid unto you, I am the Lord your God: * fear not the gods of the Amorites, in whoſe land you dwell: but ye have not obeyed my voice.

* 2 Kings 17. 35, 38. Jer. 10. 2.

11 ¶ And the angel of the Lord came, and ſat under the oak which was in Ophrah, that pertained unto Joaſh the father of the Ezrites, and his ſon Gideon threſhed wheat by the winepreſs, ‡ to hide it from the Midianites.

‡ Or, to prepare his flight.

12 Then the angel of the Lord appeared unto him, and ſaid unto him, The Lord is with thee, thou valiant man.

13 To whom Gideon anſwered, [b] Ah my lord, if the Lord be with us, why then is all this come upon us? and where be all his miracles which our fathers told us of, and ſaid, Did not the Lord bring us out of Egypt? but now the Lord hath forſaken us, and delivered us into the hand of the Midianites.

14 And the [c] Lord looked upon him, and ſaid,

[a] This is the end of God's puniſhments, to call his to repentance, that they may ſeek for help of him.

[b] This came not of diſtruſt, but of weakneſs of faith, which is in the moſt perfect: for no man in this life can have a perfect faith: yet the children of God have a true faith whereby they be juſtified.

Bef. Chr. 1249.

ſaid, Go in this thy [d] might, and thou ſhalt ſave Iſrael out of the hands of the Midianites: have not I ſent thee?

‡ Or, family.

15 And he anſwered him, Ah, my Lord, whereby ſhall I ſave Iſrael? behold, my ‡ father is poor in Manaſſeh, and I am the leaſt in my father's houſe.

16 Then the Lord ſaid unto him, I will therefore be with thee, and thou ſhalt ſmite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And he anſwered him, I pray thee, if I have found favour in thy ſight, then ſhew me [e] a ſign, that thou talkeſt with me.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, until I come unto thee, and bring mine offering, and lay it before thee. And he ſaid, I will tarry until thou come again.

19 ¶ Then Gideon went in, and made ready a kid, and unleavened bread of an [f] ephah of flour, and put the fleſh in a baſket, and put the broth in a pot, and brought it out unto him under the oak, and preſented it.

20 And the angel of God ſaid unto him, Take the fleſh and the unleavened bread, and lay them upon this ſtone, and pour out the broth: and he did ſo.

21 ¶ Then the angel of the Lord put forth the end of the ſtaff that he held in his hand, and touched the fleſh and the unleavened bread: and there aroſe up fire [g] out of the ſtone, and conſumed the fleſh and the unleavened bread: ſo the angel of the Lord departed out of his ſight.

* Exod. 33. 20. Ch. 13. 22.

22 And when Gideon perceived that it was an angel of the Lord, Gideon then ſaid, Alas, my Lord God: * for becauſe I have ſeen an angel of the Lord face to face, I ſhall die.

23 And the Lord ſaid unto him, Peace be unto thee: fear not, thou ſhalt not die.

‡ Or, the Lord of peace.

24 Then Gideon made an altar there unto the Lord, and called it, ‡ Jehovah-ſhalom: unto this day it is in Ophrah, of the father of the Ezrites.

25 ¶ And the ſame night the Lord ſaid unto him, Take thy father's young bullock, and another bullock [h] of ſeven years old, and deſtroy the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and cut down the grove that is by it,

26 And build an altar unto the Lord thy God upon the top of this rock, in a plain place: and take the ſecond bullock, and offer a burnt-offering with the wood of the [i] grove which thou ſhalt cut down.

27 Then Gideon took ten men of his ſervants, and did as the Lord bade him: but becauſe he feared to do it by day for his father's houſhold, and the men of the city, he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the city aroſe early in the morning, behold, the altar of Baal was broken, and the grove cut down that was by it, and the [k] ſecond bullock offered upon the altar that was made.

29 Therefore they ſaid one to another, Who hath done this thing? and when they enquired and aſked, they ſaid, Gideon the ſon of Joaſh hath done this thing.

Bef. Chr. 1249.

30 Then the men of the city ſaid unto Joaſh, Bring out thy ſon, that he may die: for he hath deſtroyed the altar of Baal, and hath alſo cut down the grove that was by it.

31 And Joaſh ſaid unto all that ſtood by him, Will ye plead Baal's cauſe? or will ye ſave him? [l] he that will contend for him, let him die ere the morning. If he be God, let him plead for himſelf againſt him that hath caſt down his altar.

32 And in that day was Gideon called Jerubbaal, that is, Let Baal plead for himſelf becauſe he hath broken down his altar.

33 Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites, and they of the Eaſt, were gathered together, and went and pitched in the valley of Jezreel.

35 And he ſent meſſengers throughout all Manaſſeh, which alſo was joined with him, and he ſent meſſengers unto Aſher, and to Zebulun, and to Naphtali, and they came up to meet them.

36 Then Gideon ſaid unto God, [n] If thou wilt ſave Iſrael by mine hand, as thou haſt ſaid,

37 Behold, I will put a fleece of wool in the threſhing-place: if the dew come on the fleece only, and it be dry upon all the earth, then ſhall I be ſure that thou wilt ſave Iſrael by mine hand, as thou haſt ſaid.

38 And ſo it was: for he roſe up early on the morrow, and thruſt the fleece together, and wringed the dew out of the fleece, and filled a bowl of water.

* Gen. 18. 32.

39 Again, Gideon ſaid unto God, Be not angry with me, that * I may ſpeak once more: let me prove once again, I pray thee, with the fleece: let it now be dry only upon the fleece, and let dew be upon all the ground.

40 And God did ſo that ſame night: for it was [o] dry upon the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

5 So he brought down the people unto the water. And the Lord ſaid unto Gideon, As many as lap the water with their tongues as a dog lappeth, them put by themſelves, and every one that ſhall bow down his knees to [r] drink, put apart.

6 And the number of them that lapped by putting their hands to their mouths, were three hundred men: but all the remnant of the people kneeled down upon their knees to drink water.

14 And his fellow anſwered, and ſaid, This is nothing elſe ſave the ſword of Gideon the ſon of Joaſh a man of Iſrael: for into his hand hath God delivered Midian and all the hoſt.

15 ¶ When Gideon heard the dream told, and the interpretation of the ſame, he [w] worſhipped, and returned unto the hoſt of Iſrael, and ſaid, Up: for the Lord hath delivered into your hand the hoſt of Midian.

19 ¶ So Gideon and the hundred men that were with him, came unto the outſide of the hoſt, in the beginning of the middle watch, and they raiſed up the watchmen, and they blew with their trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blew with trumpets and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal: and they cried, The [z] ſword of the Lord and of Gideon.

24 And Gideon ſent meſſengers unto all mount Ephraim, ſaying, Come down againſt the Midianites, and take before them the [b] waters unto Beth-barah, and Jordan. Then all the men of Ephraim gathered together and took the waters unto Beth-barah, and Jordan.

3 God hath delivered into your hands the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb: and what was I able to do in compariſon of you? And when he had thus ſpoken, then their ſpirits abated toward him.

4 ¶ And Gideon came to Jordan to paſs over, he, and three hundred men that were with him, weary, yet purſuing them.

† Heb. that are at my feet.

6 And the princes of Succoth ſaid, Are the [h] hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hands, that we ſhould give bread unto thine army?

7 Gideon then ſaid, Therefore when the Lord hath delivered Zebah and Zalmunna into mine hand, I will † tear your fleſh with thorns of the wilderneſs and with briers.

† Heb. beat in pieces.

8 ¶ And he went up thence to Penuel, and ſpake unto them likewiſe, and the men of Penuel anſwered him as the men of Succoth anſwered.

9 And he ſaid alſo unto the men of Penuel, When I come again [i] in peace, I will break down this tower.

10 ¶ Now Zebah and Zalmunna were [k] in Karkor, and their hoſts with them, about fifteen thouſand, all that were left of all the hoſts of them of the Eaſt: for there was ſlain an hundred and twenty thouſand men that drew ſwords.

11 ¶ And Gideon went through them that dwelt in [l] tabernacles on the eaſt ſide of Nobah and Jogbehah, and ſmote the hoſt: for the hoſt was careleſs.

12 And when Zebah and Zalmunna fled, he followed after them, and took the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and diſcomfited all the hoſt.

13 ¶ So Gideon the ſon of Joaſh returned from battle, [m] the ſun being yet high,

15 And he came unto the men of Succoth, and ſaid, Behold Zebah and Zalmunna, by whom ye upbraided me, ſaying, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in thine hands, that we ſhould give bread unto thy weary men?

16 Then he took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderneſs and briers, and † did tear the men of Succoth with them.

† Heb. brake in pieces, as one thraſheth corn.

17 Alſo he brake down the tower of * Penuel, and ſlew the men of the city.

18 ¶ Then ſaid he unto Zebah and Zalmunna, What manner of men were they whom ye ſlew at Tabor? And they anſwered, ‡ As thou art, ſo were they: every one was like the children of a king.

‡ Or, they were like unto thee.

19 And he ſaid, They were my brethren, even my [n] mother's children: as the Lord liveth, if ye had ſaved their lives, I would not ſlay you.

20 Then he ſaid unto Jether his firſt-born ſon, Up, and ſlay them: but the boy drew not his ſword: for he feared, becauſe he was yet young.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna ſaid, Riſe thou, and fall upon us: for [o] as the man is, ſo is his ſtrength. And Gideon aroſe and ſlew Zebah and Zalmunna, and took away the ‡ ornaments that were on their camels necks.

‡ Or, collars.

22 ¶ Then the men of Iſrael ſaid unto Gideon, Reign thou over us, both thou and thy ſon, and thy [p] ſon's ſon: for thou haſt delivered us out of the hand of Midian.

23 And Gideon ſaid unto them, I will not reign over you, neither ſhall my child reign over you, but the Lord ſhall reign over you.

24 Again Gideon ſaid unto them, [q] I would deſire a requeſt of you, that you would give me every man the ear-rings of his prey (for they had golden ear-rings becauſe they were Iſhmaelites)

25 And they anſwered, We will give them. And they ſpread a garment, and did caſt therein every man the ear-rings of his prey.

26 And the weight of the golden ear-rings that he required, was a thouſand and ſeven hundred ſhekels of gold, beſide collars ‡ and jewels, and purple raiment that was on the kings of Midian, and beſide the chains that were about their camels necks.

‡ Or, ſweet balls.

27 And Gideon made an [r] ephod thereof, and put it in Ophrah his city: and all Iſrael went a whoring there after it, which was the deſtruction of Gideon and his houſe.

28 Thus was Midian brought low before the children of Iſrael, ſo that they lift up their heads no more: and the country was in quietneſs forty years in the days of Gideon.

29 ¶ Then Jerubbaal the ſon of Joaſh went, and dwelt in his own houſe.

30 And Gideon had ſeventy ſons † begotten of his body: for he had many wives.

32 So Gideon the ſon of Joaſh died in a good age, and was buried in the ſepulchre of Joaſh his father in Ophrah, of the [s] father of the Ezrites.

33 But when Gideon was dead, the children of Iſrael turned away and went a whoring after Baalim, and made [t] Baal-berith their god.

34 And the children of Iſrael remembered not the Lord their God, which had delivered them out of the hands of all their enemies on every ſide.

35 Neither [u] ſhewed they mercy on the houſe of Jerubbaal, or Gideon, according to all the goodneſs which he had ſhewed unto Iſrael.

1 Abimelech uſurpeth the kingdom, and putteth his brethren to death. 7 Jotham propoſeth a parable. 23 Hatred between Abimelech and the Shechemites. 26 Gaal conſpireth againſt him, and is overcome. 53 Abimelech is wounded to death by a woman.

THEN Abimelech the ſon of Jerubbaal went to Shechem unto his [w] mother's brethren, and communed with them, and with all the family, and houſe of his mother's father, ſaying,

2 Say, I pray you, in the audience of all the men of Shechem, Whether is better for you, that all the ſons of Jerubbaal, which are ſeventy perſons, reign over you, either that one reign over you? Remember alſo, that I am your [x] bone, and your fleſh.

3 Then his mother's brethren ſpake of him in the audience of all the men of Shechem, all theſe words: and their hearts were moved to follow Abimelech: for ſaid they, He is our brother.

4 And they gave him ſeventy pieces of ſilver out of the houſe of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimelech hired ‡ vain and light fellows, which followed him.

‡ Or, idle fellows and vagabonds.

5 And he went unto his father's houſe at Ophrah, and [y] ſlew his brethren the ſons of Jerubbaal, about ſeventy perſons upon one ſtone: yet Jotham the youngeſt ſon of Jerubbaal was left: for he hid himſelf.

6 ¶ And all the men of Shechem gathered together, with all the houſe of [z] Millo, and came and made Abimelech king in the plain, where the ſtone was erected in Shechem.

7 And when they told it to Jotham, he went and ſtood on the top of the mount Gerizim, and lift up his voice, and cried, and ſaid unto them, Hearken unto me, you men of Shechem, that God may hearken unto you.

8 [a] The trees went forth to anoint a king over them, and ſaid unto the olive-tree, Reign thou over us.

10 Then the trees ſaid to the fig-tree, Come thou, and be king over us.

11 But the fig-tree anſwered them, Should I forſake my ſweetneſs, and my good fruit, and go to advance me above the trees?

12 Then ſaid the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and be king over us.

13 But the vine ſaid unto them, Should I leave my wine, whereby I cheer God and man, and go to advance me above the trees?

14 Then ſaid all the trees unto the ‡ bramble, Come thou, and reign over us.

‡ Or, thiſtle, or, brier.

15 And the bramble ſaid to the trees, If ye will indeed anoint me king over you, come, and put your truſt under my ſhadow: and if not, the [b] fire ſhall come out of the bramble, and conſume the cedars of Lebanon.

Bef. Chr. 1209.

16 Now therefore, if ye do truly and uncorruptly to make Abimelech king, and if ye have dealt with Jerubbaal and with his houſe, and have done unto him, according to the deſerving of his hands,

17 (For my father fought for you, and † adventured his life, and delivered you out of the hands of Midian.

† Heb. he caſt his life far from him.

18 And ye are riſen up againſt my father's houſe this day, and have ſlain his children, about ſeventy perſons upon one ſtone, and have made Abimelech the ſon of his maid-ſervant king over the men of Shechem, becauſe he is your brother.)

19 If ye then have dealt truly and purely with Jerubbaal and with his houſe this day, then [c] rejoice with Abimelech, and let him rejoice with you.

20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimelech, and conſume the men of Shechem, and the houſe of Millo: alſo let a fire come forth from the men of Shechem, and from the houſe of Millo, and conſume Abimelech.

21 And Jotham ran away and fled, and went to Beer, and dwelt there for fear of Abimelech his brother.

22 So Abimelech reigned three years over Iſrael.

23 But God [d] ſent an evil ſpirit between Abimelech and the men of Shechem: and the men of Shechem brake their promiſe to Abimelech,

24 That the cruelty toward the ſeventy ſons of Jerubbaal, and their blood, might come and be laid upon Abimelech their brother, which had ſlain them, and upon the men of Shechem, which had aided him to kill his brethren.

25 So the men of Shechem ſet men in wait for him in the tops of the mountains: who robbed all that paſſed that way by them: and it was told Abimelech.

26 Then Gaal the ſon of Ebed came with his brethren, and they went to Shechem: and the men of Shechem put their confidence in him.

27 Therefore they [e] went out into the field, and gathered in their grapes and trod them, and made merry, and went into the houſe of their gods, and did eat and drink, and curſed Abimelech.

28 Then Gaal the ſon of Ebed ſaid, Who is Abimelech? and who is Shechem, that we ſhould ſerve him? Is he not the ſon of Jerubbaal? and Zebul is his officer. Serve rather the men of Hamor the father of Shechem: for why ſhould we ſerve him?

29 Now would God this people were under mine hand: then would I put away Abimelech. And he ſaid to [f] Abimelech, Increaſe thine army, and come out.

31 Therefore he ſent meſſengers unto Abimelech † privily, ſaying, Behold, Gaal the ſon of Ebed, and his brethren, be come to Shechem, and behold, they fortify the city againſt thee. † Heb. craftily.

32 Now therefore ariſe by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in wait in the field.

34 ¶ So Abimelech roſe up, and all the people that were with him by night: and they lay in wait againſt Shechem in four bands.

35 Then Gaal the ſon of Ebed went out and ſtood in the entering of the gate of the city: and Abimelech roſe up, and the folk that were with him, from lying in wait.

36 And when Gaal ſaw the people, he ſaid to Zebul, Behold, there come people down from the tops of the mountains: and Zebul ſaid unto him, The [g] ſhadow of the mountains ſeem men unto thee.

37 And Gaal ſpake again, and ſaid, See, there come folk down † by the middle of the land, and another band cometh by the way of the plain of ‡ Meonenim. † Heb. by the navel. ‡ Or, charmers.

38 Then ſaid Zebul unto him, Where is now thy mouth that ſaid, Who is Abimelech, that we ſhould ſerve him? Is not this the people that thou haſt deſpiſed? Go out now, I pray thee, and fight with them.

39 And Gaal [h] went out before the men of Shechem, and fought with Abimelech.

40 But Abimelech purſued him, and he fled before him, and many were overthrown and wounded, even unto the entering of the gate.

41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thruſt out Gaal and his brethren that they ſhould not dwell in Shechem.

42 ¶ And on the morrow the people went out into the field: which was told Abimelech.

43 And he took the [i] people, and divided them into three bands, and laid wait in the fields, and looked, and behold, the people were come out of the city, and he roſe up againſt them and ſmote them.

44 And Abimelech, and the bands that were with him, ruſhed forward, and ſtood in the entering of the gate of the city: and the two other bands ran upon all the people that were in the field, and ſlew them.

45 And when Abimelech had fought againſt the city all that day, he took the city, and ſlew the people that was therein, and deſtroyed the city, and ſowed [k] ſalt in it.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the tower of Shechem heard it, they entered into an hold of the houſe of the God [l] Berith.

47 And it was told Abimelech, that all the men of the tower of Shechem were gathered together.

48 And Abimelech gat him up to mount Zalmon, he and all the people that were with him: and Abimelech took axes with him, and cut down boughs of trees, and took them, and bare them on his ſhoulder, and ſaid unto the folk that were with him, What ye have ſeen me do, make haſte, and do like me.

Bef. Chr. 1206.

49 Then all the people alſo cut down every man his bough, and followed Abimelech, and put them to the hold, and ſet the hold on fire with them: ſo all the men of the tower of Shechem [m] died alſo, about a thouſand men and women.

50 ¶ Then went Abimelech to Tebez, and beſieged Tebez, and took it.

51 But there was a ſtrong tower within the city, and thither fled all the men and women, and all the chief of the city, and ſhut it to them, and went up to the top of the tower.

52 And Abimelech came unto the tower and fought againſt it, and went hard unto the door of the tower to ſet it on fire.

53 But a certain woman * caſt a piece of a millſtone upon Abimelech's head, and brake his brain-pan. * 2 Sam. 11. 21.

54 Then Abimelech called haſtily his page that bare his harneſs, and ſaid unto him, Draw thy ſword and ſlay me, that men ſay not of me, A woman ſlew him. And his page [n] thruſt him through, and he died.

55 And when the men of Iſrael ſaw that Abimelech was dead, they departed every man unto his own place.

56 Thus God rendered the wickedneſs of Abimelech, which he did unto his father, in ſlaying his ſeventy brethren.

57 Alſo all the wickedneſs of the men of Shechem did God bring upon their heads. So upon them came the [o] curſe of Jotham the ſon of Jerubbaal.

2 And he came up and told his father and his mother, and ſaid, I have ſeen a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philiſtines: now therefore † give me her to wife.

† Heb. take her for me to wife.

3 Then his father and his mother ſaid unto him, Is there [d] never a wife among the daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, that thou muſt go to take a wife of the uncircumciſed Philiſtines? And Samſon ſaid unto his father, Give me her, for ſhe pleaſeth me well.

4 But his father and his mother knew not that it came of the Lord, that he ſhould ſeek an occaſion againſt the [e] Philiſtines: for at that time the Philiſtines reigned over Iſrael.

5 ¶ Then went Samſon and his father and his mother down to Timnath, and came to the vineyards at Timnath: and behold, a young lion roared upon him.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord [f] came upon him, and he tare him, as one ſhould have rent a kid, and had nothing in his hand, neither told he his father nor his mother what he had done.

7 And he went down, and talked with the woman, which was beautiful in the eyes of Samſon.

8 ¶ And within a few days, when he returned ‡ to receive her, he went aſide to ſee the carcaſe of the lion: and behold, there was a ſwarm of bees, and honey in the body of the lion.

‡ Or, to take her to his wife.

9 And he took thereof in his hands, and went eating, and came to his father and to his mother, and gave unto them, and they did eat: but he told not them, that he had taken the honey out of the body of the lion.

10 So his father went down unto the woman, and Samſon made there a [g] feaſt: for ſo uſed the young men to do.

11 And when [h] they ſaw him, they brought thirty companions to be with him.

12 Then Samſon ſaid unto them, I will now put forth a riddle unto you: and if you can declare it me within ſeven days of the feaſt, and find it out, I will give you thirty ſheets, and thirty [i] change of garments.

13 But if you cannot declare it me, then ſhall ye give me thirty ſheets, and thirty change of garments. And they anſwered him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may hear it.

Bef. Chr. 1249.

14 And he ſaid unto them, Out of the eater came meat, and out of the ſtrong came ſweetneſs: and they could not in three days expound the riddle.

‡ Or, to impoveriſh us.

16 And Samſon's wife wept before him, and ſaid, Surely thou hateſt me and loveſt me not: for thou haſt put forth a riddle unto the [l] children of my people, and haſt not told it me. And he ſaid unto her, Behold, I have not told it my father, nor my mother, and ſhall I tell it thee?

17 Then Samſon's wife wept before him [m] ſeven days, while their feaſt laſted: and when the ſeventh day came, he told her, becauſe ſhe was importunate upon him: ſo ſhe told the riddle to the children of her people.

18 And the men of the city ſaid unto him the ſeventh day before the ſun went down, What is ſweeter than honey? and what is ſtronger than a lion? Then ſaid he unto them, [n] If ye had not plowed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.

19 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he went down [o] to Aſhkelon, and ſlew thirty men of them, and ſpoiled them, and gave change of garments unto them which expounded the riddle: and his wrath was kindled, and he went up to his father's houſe.

20 Then Samſon's wife was given to his companion, whom he had uſed as his friend.

16 And becauſe ſhe was importunate upon him with her words continually, and vexed him, his ſoul was pained unto the death.

17 Therefore he told her all his [i] heart, and ſaid unto her, There never came raſor upon mine head: for I am a Nazarite unto God from my mother's womb: therefore if I be ſhaven, my ſtrength will go from me, and I ſhall be weak, and be like all other men.

18 And when Delilah ſaw that he had told her all his heart, ſhe ſent, and called for the princes of the Philiſtines, ſaying, Come up once again: for he hath ſhewed me all his heart. Then the princes of the Philiſtines came up unto her, and brought the money in their hands.

19 And ſhe made him ſleep upon her knees, and ſhe called a man, and made him to ſhave off the ſeven locks of his head, and ſhe began to vex him, and his ſtrength was [k] gone from him.

20 Then ſhe ſaid, The Philiſtines be upon thee, Samſon. And he awoke out of his ſleep, and thought, I will go out now as at other times, and ſhake myſelf, but he knew not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philiſtines took him, and put out his eyes, and brought him down to Azzah, and bound him with fetters: and he did grind in the priſon-houſe.

22 And the hair of his head began to [l] grow again after that it was ſhaven.

23 Then the princes of the Philiſtines gathered them together for to offer a great ſacrifice unto Dagon their god, and to rejoice: for they ſaid, Our god hath delivered Samſon our enemy into our hands.

6 So they ſat down, and did eat and drink both of them together. And the [o] young woman's father ſaid unto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarry all night, and let thine heart be merry.

‡ Or, compelled him.

7 And when the man roſe up to depart, his father-in-law ‡ was earneſt: therefore he returned, and lodged there.

8 And he aroſe up early the fifth day to depart, and the young woman's father ſaid, [p] Comfort thine heart, I pray thee: and they tarried until after mid-day, and they both did eat.

† Heb. is weak.

‡ Or, the day lodgeth.

9 Afterward when the man aroſe to depart with his concubine and his ſervant, his father-in-law, the young woman's father, ſaid unto him, Behold now, the day † draweth toward even: I pray you tarry all night: behold, ‡ the ſun goeth to reſt: lodge here, that thine heart may be merry, and to-morrow get you early upon your way, and go to thy [q] tent.

10 But the man would not tarry, but aroſe and departed and came over-againſt Jebus, (which is Jeruſalem) and his two aſſes laden, and his concubine were with him.

‡ Or, went down.

11 When they were near to Jebus, the day ‡ was ſore ſpent, and the ſervant ſaid unto his maſter, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn into this city of the Jebuſites, and lodge all night there.

12 And his maſter anſwered him, [r] We will not turn into the city of ſtrangers that are not of the children of Iſrael, but we will go forth to Gibeah.

13 And he ſaid unto his ſervant, Come, and let us draw near to one of theſe places, that we may lodge in Gibeah or in Ramah.

14 So they went forward upon their way, and the ſun went down upon them near to Gibeah, which is in Benjamin.

‡ Or, gathered them.

15 ¶ Then they turned thither to go in and lodge in Gibeah: and when he came, he ſat him down in a ſtreet of the city: for there was no man that ‡ took them into his houſe to lodging.

16 And behold, there came an old man from his work out of the field at even, and the man was of mount Ephraim, but dwelt in Gibeah: and the men of the place were the children of [s] Jemini.

‡ Or, a man walking.

17 And when he had lift up his eyes, he ſaw a ‡ wayfaring man in the ſtreets of the city: then this old man ſaid, Whither goeſt thou, and whence cameſt thou?

25 But the men would not hearken to him: therefore the man took his concubine, and brought her out unto them: and they knew her, and abuſed her all the night unto the morning: and when the day began to ſpring, they let her go.

26 So the woman came in the dawning of the day, and [x] fell down at the door of the man's houſe where her lord was, till the light day.

4 And the ſame Levite, the woman's huſband that was ſlain, anſwered and ſaid, I came unto Gibeah that is in Benjamin with my concubine to lodge,

‡ Or, chief, or lords,

5 And the ‡ men of Gibeah aroſe againſt me, and beſet the houſe round about upon me by night, thinking to have ſlain me, and have forced my concubine that ſhe is dead.

6 Then I took my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and ſent [e] her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Iſrael: for they have committed abomination and villainy in Iſrael.

7 Behold, ye are all children of Iſrael: give your advice and counſel herein.

8 Then all the people aroſe as one man, ſaying, There ſhall not a man of us go to his tent, neither any turn into his [f] houſe,

9 But now this is that thing which we will do to Gibeah: we will go up by lot againſt it,

10 And we will take ten men of the hundred throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, and an hundred of the thouſand, and a thouſand of ten thouſand to bring [g] victual for the people, that they may do (when they come to Gibeah of Benjamin) according to all the villainy that it hath done in Iſrael.

11 ¶ So all the men of Iſrael were gathered againſt the city, knit together as one man.

12 And the tribes of Iſrael ſent men through all the [h] tribe of Benjamin, ſaying, What wickedneſs is this that is committed among you?

13 Now therefore deliver us thoſe wicked men which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away evil from Iſrael: but the children of Benjamin [i] would not obey the voice of their brethren the children of Iſrael.

14 But the children of Benjamin gathered themſelves together out of the cities unto Gibeah, to come out and fight againſt the children of Iſrael.

19 Then the children of Iſrael aroſe up early and camped againſt Gibeah.

20 And the men of Iſrael went out to battle againſt Benjamin, and the men of Iſrael put themſelves in array to fight againſt them beſide Gibeah.

24 ¶ Then the children of Iſrael came near againſt the children of Benjamin the ſecond day.

27 And the children of Iſrael aſked the Lord (for[m] there was the ark of the covenant of God in thoſe days, 28 And Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar, the ſon of Aaron,[n] ſtood before it at that time) ſaying, Shall I yet go any more to battle againſt the children of Benjamin my brethren, or ſhall I ceaſe? And the Lord ſaid, Go up : for to-morrow I will deliver them into your hand.

29 And Iſrael ſet men to lie in wait round about Gibeah.

30 And the children of Iſrael went up againſt the children of Benjamin the third day, and put themſelves in array againſt Gibeah, as at other times.

31 Then the children of Benjamin coming out againſt the people, were[o] drawn from the city : and they began to ſmite of the people and kill as at other times, even by the ways in the field (whereof one goeth up to the houſe of God, and the other to Gibeah) upon a thirty men of Iſrael.

32 (For the children of Benjamin ſaid, They are fallen before us, as at the firſt. But the children of Iſrael ſaid, Let us flee and pluck them away from the city unto the high[p] ways)

33 And all the men of Iſrael roſe up out of their place, and put themſelves in array at Baal-tamar : and the men that lay in wait of the Iſraelites came forth of their place, even out of the meadows of Gibeah,

34 And they came over-againſt Gibeah, ten thouſand choſen men of all Iſrael, and the battle was ſore : for they knew not that the[q] evil was near them.

35 ¶ And the Lord ſmote Benjamin before Iſrael, and the children of Iſrael deſtroyed of the Benjamites the ſame day five and twenty thouſand and an hundred men : all they could handle the ſword.

36 So the children of Benjamin ſaw that they were ſtricken down : for the men of Iſrael[r] gave place to the Benjamites, becauſe they truſted to the men that lay in wait, which they had laid beſide Gibeah.

37 And they that lay in wait haſted, and brake forth toward Gibeah, and the ambuſhment ‡ drew themſelves along, and ſmote all the city with the edge of the ſword.

‡ Or, made a long ſound with a trumpet.

38 Alſo the men of Iſrael had appointed a certain time with the ambuſhments, that they ſhould make a great flame and ſmoke riſe up out of the city.

39 And when the men of Iſrael retired in the battle, Benjamin began to[s] ſmite and kill of the men of Iſrael about thirty perſons : for they ſaid, Surely they are ſtricken down before us, as in the firſt battle.

40 But when the flame began to ariſe out of the city, as a pillar of ſmoke, the Benjamites looked back, and behold, the flame of the city began to aſcend up to heaven.

41 Then the men of Iſrael turned[t] again, and the men of Benjamin were aſtoniſhed : for they ſaw that evil was near unto them.

42 Therefore they fled before the men of Iſrael unto the way of the wilderneſs, but the battle overtook them : alſo they which came out of the cities, ſlew them[u] among them.

CHAP. XXI.

1 The Iſraelites ſwear that they will not marry their daughters to the Benjamites. 10 They ſlay them of Jabeſh Gilead, and give their virgins to the Benjamites. 21 The Benjamites take the daughters of Shiloh.

MOreover the men of Iſrael [z] ſware in Mizpeh, ſaying, None of us ſhall give his daughter unto the Benjamites to wife.

2 And the people came unto the houſe of God, and abode there till even before God, and lift up their voices, and wept with great lamentation,

3 And ſaid, O Lord God of Iſrael, why is this come to paſs in Iſrael, that this day one tribe of Iſrael ſhould want?

4 ¶ And on the morrow the people roſe up and made there an [a] altar, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings.

5 Then the children of Iſrael ſaid, Who is he among all the tribes of Iſrael, that came not up with the congregation unto the Lord? for they had made a great oath concerning him that came not up to the Lord to Mizpeh, ſaying, Let him die the death.

6 And the children of Iſrael [b] were ſorry for Benjamin their brother, and ſaid, There is one tribe cut off from Iſrael this day.

7 How ſhall we do for wives to them that remain, ſeeing we have ſworn by the Lord, that we will not give them of our daughters to wives?

8 Alſo they ſaid, Is there any of the tribes of Iſrael that [c] came not up to Mizpeh to the Lord? and behold, there came none of Jabeſh Gilead unto the hoſt and to the congregation.

9 For when the people were viewed, behold, none of the inhabitants of Jabeſh Gilead were there.

10 Therefore the congregation ſent thither twelve thouſand men of the † moſt valiant, and commanded them, ſaying, Go, and ſmite the inhabitants of Jabeſh Gilead with the edge of the ſword, both women and children.

† Heb. children of ſtrength.

12 And they found among the inhabitants of Jabeſh Gilead four hundred maids, virgins that had known no man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the hoſt to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

Bef. Chr. 1406.

13 ¶ Then the whole congregation [d] ſent and ſpake with the children of Benjamin that were in the rock of Rimmon, and called ‡ peaceably unto them:

‡ Or friendly.

14 And Benjamin came again at that time, and they gave them wives which they had ſaved alive of the women of Jabeſh Gilead: but they had not [e] ſo enough for them.

15 And the people were ſorry for Benjamin, becauſe the Lord had made a breach in the tribes of Iſrael.

16 Therefore the elders of the congregation ſaid, How ſhall we do for wives to the remnant? for the women of Benjamin are deſtroyed.

17 And they ſaid, There muſt be [f] an inheritance for them that be eſcaped of Benjamin, that a tribe be not deſtroyed out of Iſrael.

18 Howbeit we may not give them wives of our daughters: for the children of Iſrael had ſworn, ſaying, Curſed be he that giveth a wife to Benjamin.

19 Therefore they ſaid, Behold there is a feaſt of the Lord every year in Shiloh, in a place which is on the [g] north-ſide of Bethel, and on the eaſt-ſide of the way that goeth up from Bethel to Shechem, and on the ſouth of Lebonah.

20 Therefore they commanded the children of Benjamin, ſaying, Go, and lie in wait in the vineyards.

21 And when ye ſee that the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance in dances, then come ye out of the vineyards, and catch you every man a wife of the daughters of Shiloh, and go into the land of Benjamin.

22 And [h] when their fathers or their brethren come unto us to complain, we will ſay unto them, Have pity on them for our ſakes, becauſe we reſerved not to each man his wife in the war, and becauſe ye have not given unto them hitherto, ye have ſinned.

23 And the children of Benjamin did ſo, and took wives of them that danced according to their [i] number: which they took, and went away, and returned to their inheritance, and repaired the cities and dwelt in them.

24 So the children of Iſrael departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe, and to his family, and went out from thence every man to his inheritance.

The Book of RUTH.

THE ARGUMENT.

This book is intitled after the name of Ruth: which is the principal perſon ſpoken of in this treatiſe. Wherein alſo figuratively is ſet forth the ſtate of the church which is ſubject to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God giveth good and joyful iſſue: teaching us to abide with patience till God deliver us out of trouble. Herein alſo is deſcribed how Jeſus Chriſt, who according to the fleſh ought to come of David, proceeded of Ruth, of whom the Lord Jeſus did vouchſafe to come, notwithſtanding ſhe was a Moabiteſs of baſe condition, and a ſtranger from the people of God: declaring unto us thereby that the Gentiles ſhould be ſanctified by him, and joined with his people, and that there ſhould be but one ſheepfold, and one Shepherd. And it ſeemeth that this hiſtory appertaineth to the time of the judges.

Bef. Chr. 1312.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimelech goeth with his wife and children into the land of Moab. 3 He and his ſons die. 19 Naomi and Ruth come to Bethlehem.

IN the time that the judges † ruled, there was a dearth in the [a] land, and a man of Beth-lehem [b] Judah went for to ſojourn in the country of Moab, he and his wife, and his two ſons.

† Heb. judged.

2 And the name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two ſons, Mahlon, and Chilion, Ephrathites of Bethlehem Judah: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 Then Elimelech the huſband of Naomi died, and ſhe remained with her two ſons,

4 Which took them wives of the [c] Moabites: the one's name was Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten years.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion died alſo both twain: ſo the woman was left deſtitute of her two ſons, and of her huſband.

6 ¶ Then ſhe aroſe with her daughters-in-law, and returned from the country of Moab, for ſhe had heard ſay in the country of Moab, that the Lord had [d] viſited his people, and given them bread.

7 Wherefore ſhe departed out of the place where ſhe was, and her two daughters-in-law with her, and they went on their way to return unto the land of Judah.

8 Then Naomi ſaid unto her two daughters-in-law, Go, return each of you unto her own mother's houſe: the Lord ſhew favour unto you, as ye have done with the dead, and with me.

9 The Lord grant you, that you may find [e] reſt, either of you in the houſe of her huſband. And when ſhe kiſſed them, they lift up their voice and wept.

Bef. Chr. 1312.

10 And they ſaid unto her, Surely we will return with thee unto thy people.

11 But Naomi ſaid, Turn again, my daughters: for what cauſe will you go with me? are there any more ſons in my womb, that they may be your huſbands?

12 Turn again, my daughters, go your way: for I am too old to have an huſband. If I ſhould ſay, I have hope, and if I had an huſband this night: yea, if I had borne ſons, 13 Would ye tarry for them, till they were of age? would ye be deferred for them from taking of huſbands? nay, my daughters: for it grieveth me ‡ much for your ſakes that the hand of the Lord is gone out againſt me.

‡ Or, more than you.

14 Then they lift up their voice and wept again, and Orpah [f] kiſſed her mother-in-law, but Ruth abode ſtill with her.

15 And Naomi ſaid, Behold, thy ſiſter-in-law is gone back unto her people and unto her gods: [g] return thou after thy ſiſter-in-law.

16 And Ruth anſwered, Intreat me not to leave thee, nor to depart from thee: for whither thou goeſt, I will go: and where thou dwelleſt I will dwell: thy people ſhall be my people, and thy God my God,

17 Where thou dieſt, will I die, and there will I be buried: the Lord do ſo to me and more alſo, if aught but death part thee and me.

18 ¶ When ſhe ſaw that ſhe was ſtedfaſtly minded to go with her, ſhe left ſpeaking unto her.

19 So they went both until they came to Beth-lehem: and when they were come to Beth-lehem, it was [h] noiſed of them through all the city, and they ſaid, Is not this Naomi?

20 And ſhe anſwered them, Call me not ‡ Naomi, but, call me ‡ Mara: for the Almighty hath given me much bitterneſs.

‡ Or, beautiful.
‡ Or, bitter.

[a] In the land of Canaan.

[b] In the tribe of Judah, which was alſo called Bethlehem Ephrathah, becauſe there was another city ſo called in the tribe of Zebulun.

[c] By this wonderful providence of God, Ruth became one of God's houſhold, of whom Chriſt came.

[d] By ſending them plenty again.

[e] Hereby it appeareth that Naomi, by dwelling among idolaters, was waxen cold in the true zeal of God, which rather hath reſpect to the eaſe of the body, than to the comfort of the ſoul.

[f] When ſhe took leave and departed.

[g] No perſuaſions can prevail to turn them back from God, whom he hath choſen to be his.

[h] Whereby appeareth that ſhe was of a great family, and of good reputation.

21 I went out full, and the Lord hath cauſed me to return empty: Why call you me Naomi, ſeeing the Lord hath humbled me, and the Almighty hath brought me unto adverſity?

22 So Naomi returned, and Ruth the Moabiteſs her daughter-in-law with her, when ſhe came out of the country of Moab: and they came to Bethlehem in the beginning of [i] barley harveſt.

CHAP. II.

1 Ruth gathereth corn in the fields of Boaz. 8 The gentleneſs of Boaz toward her.

THEN Naomi's huſband had a kinſman, one of great [k] power, of the family of Elimelech, and his name was Boaz.

2 And Ruth the Moabiteſs ſaid unto Naomi, I pray thee let me go to the field, and [l] gather ears of corn after him in whoſe ſight I find favour. And ſhe ſaid unto her, Go, my daughter.

3 ¶ And ſhe went, and came and gleaned in the field after the reapers, and it came to paſs, that ſhe met with the portion of the field of Boaz, who was of the family of Elimelech.

4 And behold, Boaz came from Bethlehem, and ſaid unto the reapers, The Lord be with you: and they anſwered him, The Lord bleſs thee.

5 Then ſaid Boaz unto his ſervant that was appointed over the reapers, Whoſe maid is this?

6 And the ſervant that was appointed over the reapers, anſwered and ſaid, It is the Moabitiſh maid, that came with Naomi out of the country of Moab:

7 And ſhe ſaid unto us, I pray you, let me glean and gather after the reapers ‡ among the ſheaves: ſo ſhe came, and hath continued from that time in the morning unto now, ſave that ſhe tarried a little in the houſe.

‡ Or, certain handfuls.

8 ¶ Then ſaid Boaz unto Ruth, Heareſt thou, my daughter? go to none other field to gather, neither go from hence: but abide here by my maidens.

9 [m] Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reap, and go thou after the maidens. Have I not charged the ſervants, that they touch thee not? Moreover, when thou art athirſt, go unto the veſſels, and drink of that which the ſervants have drawn.

10 Then ſhe fell on her face, and bowed herſelf to the ground, and ſaid unto him, How have I found favour in thine eyes, that thou ſhouldeſt know me, ſeeing I am [n] a ſtranger?

11 And Boaz anſwered, and ſaid unto her, All is told and ſhewed me that thou haſt done unto thy mother-in-law ſince the death of thine huſband, and how thou haſt left thy father and thy mother, and the land where thou waſt born, and art come unto a people which thou kneweſt not in time paſt.

12 The Lord recompenſe thy work, and a full reward be given thee of the Lord God of Iſrael, under whoſe [o] wings thou art come to truſt.

Bef. Chr. 1312.

13 Then ſhe ſaid, Let me find favour in thy ſight, my lord: for thou haſt comforted me, and ſpoken comfortably unto thy maid, though I be not like to one of thy maids.

14 And Boaz ſaid unto her, At the mealtime come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morſel in the vinegar. And ſhe ſat beſide the reapers, and he reached her parched corn: and ſhe did eat, and was ſufficed, and [p] left thereof.

15 ¶ And when ſhe aroſe to glean, Boaz commanded his ſervants, ſaying, Let her gather among the ſheaves, and do not rebuke her.

16 Alſo let fall ſome of the ſheaves for her, and let it lie, that ſhe may gather it up, and rebuke her not.

17 So ſhe gleaned in the field until evening, and ſhe threſhed that ſhe had gathered, and it was about an * ephah of barley.

* Exod. 16. 36.

18 ¶ And ſhe took it up, and went into the city, and her mother-in-law ſaw what ſhe had gathered: alſo ſhe [q] took forth, and gave to her that which ſhe had reſerved, when ſhe was ſufficed.

19 Then her mother-in-law ſaid unto her, Where haſt thou gleaned to-day? and where wroughteſt thou? bleſſed be he that knew thee. And ſhe ſhewed her mother-in-law, with whom ſhe had wrought, and ſaid, The man's name, with whom I wrought to-day, is Boaz.

20 And Naomi ſaid unto her daughter-in-law, Bleſſed be he of the Lord: for he ceaſeth not to do good to the living and to the [r] dead. Again, Naomi ſaid unto her, The man is near unto us, and of our affinity.

21 And Ruth the Moabiteſs ſaid, He ſaid alſo certainly unto me, Thou ſhalt be with my ſervants until they have ended all mine harveſt.

22 And Naomi anſwered unto Ruth her daughter-in-law, It is beſt, my daughter, that thou go out with his maids, that they ‡ meet thee not in another field.

‡ Or, fall upon thee.

23 Then ſhe kept her by the maids of Boaz, to gather unto the end of barley harveſt, and of wheat harveſt, and ‡ dwelt with her mother-in-law.

‡ Or, returned to her mother-in-law.

down to the floor: let not the [t] man know of thee, until he have left eating and drinking.

4 And when he ſhall ſleep, mark the place where he layeth him down, and go and uncover the place of his feet, and lay thee down, and he ſhall tell thee what thou ſhalt do.

5 And ſhe anſwered her, All that thou biddeſt me, I will do.

6 ¶ So ſhe went down unto the floor, and did according to all that her mother-in-law bade her.

7 And when Boaz had eaten and drunken, and [u] cheared his heart, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of corn, and ſhe came ſoftly, and uncovered the place of his feet, and lay down.

8 And at midnight the man was afraid ‡ and caught hold: and lo, a woman lay at his feet.

‡ Or, turned himſelf from one ſide to another.

9 Then he ſaid, Who art thou? And ſhe anſwered, I am Ruth thine handmaid: ſpread therefore the wing of thy garment over thine handmaid: for thou art the kinſman.

10 Then ſaid he, Bleſſed be thou of the Lord, my daughter: thou haſt [w] ſhewed more goodneſs in the latter end, than at the beginning, inaſmuch as thou followedſt not young men, were they poor or rich.

11 And now, my daughter, fear not: I will do to thee all that thou requireſt: for all the city of my people doth know, that thou art a virtuous woman.

12 And now it is true that I am thy kinſman, howbeit there is a kinſman nearer than I.

13 Tarry to night, and when morning is come, if he [x] will do the duty of a kinſman unto thee, well, let him do the kinſman's duty: but if he will not do the kinſman's part, then will I do the duty of a kinſman, as the Lord liveth: ſleep until morning.

14 ¶ And ſhe lay at his feet until the morning: and ſhe aroſe before one could know another: for he ſaid, Let no man know that a woman came into the floor.

15 Alſo he ſaid, Bring the ‡ ſheet that thou haſt upon thee, and hold it. And when ſhe held it, he meaſured ſix meaſures of barley, and laid them on her, and ſhe went into the city.

‡ Or, mantle.

16 And when ſhe came to her mother-in-law, ſhe ſaid, [y] Who art thou, my daughter? And ſhe told her all that the man had done unto her, 17 And ſaid, Theſe ſix meaſures of barley gave he me: for he ſaid to me, Thou ſhalt not come empty unto thy mother-in-law.

18 Then ſaid ſhe, My daughter, ſit ſtill, until thou know how the thing will fall: for the man will not be in reſt, until he hath finiſhed the matter this ſame day.

THEN went Boaz up to the [z] gate, and ſat there, and behold, the kinſman, of whom Boaz had ſpoken, came by: and he ſaid, [a] Ho, ſuch one, come, ſit down here. And he turned, and ſat down.

2 Then he took ten men of the elders of the city, and ſaid, Sit ye down here. And they ſat down.

3 And he ſaid unto the kinſman, Naomi, that is come again out of the country of Moab, will ſell a parcel of land, which was our brother Elimelech's.

4 And I thought to advertiſe thee, ſaying, Buy it before the ‡ aſſiſtants, and before the elders of my people. If thou wilt redeem it, redeem it: but if thou wilt not redeem it, tell me: for I know that there is none [b] beſides thee to redeem it, and I am after thee. Then he anſwered, I will redeem it.

‡ Or, inhabitants.

5 Then ſaid Boaz, What day thou buyeſt the field of the hand of Naomi, thou muſt alſo buy it of Ruth the Moabiteſs the wife of the dead: to ſtir up the name of the dead, upon his [c] inheritance.

6 And the kinſman anſwered, I cannot redeem it, leſt I deſtroy my own inheritance: redeem my right to thee, for I cannot redeem it.

7 Now this was the manner beforetime in Iſrael, concerning redeeming and changing, for to ſtabliſh all things: a man did pluck off his ſhoe, and gave it his neighbour, and this was a ſure [d] witneſs in Iſrael.

8 Therefore the kinſman ſaid to Boaz, Buy it for thee: and he drew off his ſhoe.

9 And Boaz ſaid unto the elders, and unto all the people, Ye are witneſſes this day, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and all that was Chilion's and Mahlon's, of the hand of Naomi.

10 And moreover, Ruth the Moabiteſs, the wife of Mahlon, have I bought to be my wife, to ſtir up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead be not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his [e] place: ye are witneſſes this day.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, and the elders ſaid, We are witneſſes: the Lord make the wife that cometh into thine houſe like Rachel and like Leah, which twain did build the houſe of Iſrael: and that thou mayeſt do worthily in [f] Ephrathah, and be famous in Beth-lehem, 12 And that thine houſe be like the houſe of Pharez (* whom Tamar bare unto Judah) of the ſeed which the Lord ſhall give thee of this young woman.

* Gen. 38. 29.

13 ¶ So Boaz took Ruth, and ſhe was his wife: and when he went in unto her, the Lord gave that ſhe conceived, and bare a ſon.

The Firſt Book of SAMUEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

According as God hath ordained, Deut. 17. 14. that when the Iſraelites ſhould be in the land of Canaan, he would appoint them a king: ſo here in this firſt book of Samuel is declared the ſtate of this people under their firſt king Saul, who not content with that order which God had for a time appointed for the government of his church, demanded a king, to the intent they might be as other nations, and in a greater aſſurance as they thought: not becauſe they might the better thereby ſerve God, as being under the ſafeguard of him, which did repreſent Jeſus Chriſt the true deliverer: therefore he gave them a tyrant and an hypocrite to rule over them, that they might learn, that the perſon of a king is not ſufficient to defend them, except God by his power preſerve and keep them. And therefore he puniſheth the ingratitude of his people, and ſendeth them continual wars both at home and abroad. And becauſe Saul, whom, of nothing, God had preferred to the honour of a king, did not acknowledge God's mercy toward him, but rather diſobeyed the word of God, and was not zealous of his glory, he was by the voice of God put down from his eſtate, and David the true figure of Meſſiah placed in his ſtead, whoſe patience, modeſty, conſtancy, perſecution by open enemies, feigned friends, and diſſembling flatterers, are left to the church, and to every member of the ſame, as a pattern and example to behold their ſtate and vocation.

CHAP. I.

Bef. Chr. 1171.

1 The genealogy of Elkanah, father to Samuel. 2 His two wives. 5 Hannah was barren, and prayed to the Lord. 15 Her anſwer to Eli. 20 Samuel is born. 24 She doth dedicate him to the Lord.

THERE was a man of one of the two [a] Ramathaim Zophim, of mount Ephraim, whoſe name was Elkanah the ſon of Jeroham, the ſon of Elihu, the ſon of Tohu, the ſon of Zuph, an Ephrathite:

2 And he had two wives: the name of one was Hannah, and the name of the other Peninnah: and Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.

* Deut. 16. 16. — 3 * And this man went up out of his city every year, to worſhip and to ſacrifice unto the Lord of hoſts in [b] Shiloh, where were the two ſons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, prieſts of the Lord.

4 And on a day, when Elkanah ſacrificed, he gave to Peninnah his wife and to all her ſons and daughters portions.

5 But unto Hannah he gave a worthy [c] portion: for he loved Hannah, and the Lord had made her barren.

6 ¶ And her adverſary vexed her ſore, foraſmuch as ſhe upbraided her, becauſe the Lord had made her barren. — Bef. Chr 1171.

7 (And ſo did he year by year) and as oft as ſhe went up to the houſe of the Lord, thus ſhe vexed her, that ſhe wept, and did not eat.

8 Then ſaid Elkanah her huſband to her, Hannah, Why weepeſt thou? and why eateſt thou not? and why is thine heart troubled? am not I better to thee than ten [d] ſons?

9 So Hannah roſe up after that they had eaten and drunk in Shiloh (and Eli the prieſt ſat upon a ſtool by one of the poſts of the [e] temple of the Lord.)

10 And ſhe was troubled in her mind, and prayed unto the Lord, and wept ſore:

11 Alſo ſhe vowed a vow, and ſaid, O Lord of hoſts, if thou wilt look on the trouble of thine handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thine handmaid, but give unto thine handmaid a man child, then I will give him unto the Lord all the days of his life, * and there ſhall no raſor come upon his head. — * Num. 6. 5. Judg. 13. 5.

[a] There were two Ramaths, ſo that in this city in mount Ephraim were Zophim: that is, the learned men and prophets.

[b] For the ark was there at that time.

[c] Some read, a portion with an heavy cheer.

[d] Let this ſuffice thee, that I love thee no leſs than if thou hadſt many children.

[e] That is, of the houſe where the ark was.

Bef. Chr. 1171.

12 And as ſhe continued praying before the Lord, Eli marked her mouth.

13 For Hannah ſpake in her heart: her lips did move only, but her voice was not heard: therefore Eli thought ſhe had been drunken.

14 And Eli ſaid unto her, How long wilt thou be drunken? Put away † thy drunkenneſs from thee.

† Heb. thy wine.

15 Then Hannah anſwered and ſaid, Nay, my lord, but I am a woman † troubled in ſpirit: I have drunk neither wine nor ſtrong drink, but have * poured out my ſoul before the Lord.

† Heb. of an hard ſpirit.

* Pſ. 42. 5.

16 Count not thine handmaid † for a wicked woman: for of the abundance of my complaint and my grief have I ſpoken hitherto.

† Heb. for a daughter of Belial.

17 Then Eli anſwered and ſaid, Go in peace, and the God of Iſrael grant thy petition that thou haſt aſked of him.

18 She ſaid again, Let thine handmaid find [f] grace in thy ſight: ſo the woman went her way, and did eat, and looked no more ſad.

19 ¶ Then they roſe up early, and worſhipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their houſe to Ramah. Now Elkanah knew Hannah his wife, and the Lord [g] remembered her.

20 For in proceſs of time Hannah conceived, and bare a ſon, and ſhe called his name Samuel, Becauſe, ſaid ſhe, I have aſked him of the Lord.

21 So the man [h] Elkanah, and all his houſe, went up to offer unto the Lord the yearly ſacrifice, and his vow:

22 But Hannah went not up: for ſhe ſaid unto her huſband, I will tarry until the child be weaned, then I will bring him that he may appear before the Lord, and there abide for ever.

23 And Elkanah her huſband ſaid unto her, Do what ſeemeth thee beſt: tarry until thou haſt weaned him: only the Lord accompliſh his [i] word. So the woman abode, and gave her ſon ſuck until ſhe weaned him.

24 ¶ And when ſhe had weaned him, ſhe took him with her, with three bullocks and an * ephah of flour and a bottle of wine, and brought him unto the houſe of the Lord in Shiloh, and the child was † young.

* Exod. 16. 36.

† Heb. a child.

25 And they ſlew a bullock, and brought the child to Eli.

26 And ſhe ſaid, O my Lord, as thy [k] ſoul liveth, my Lord, I am the woman that ſtood with thee here praying unto the Lord.

27 I prayed for this child, and the Lord hath given me my deſire which I aſked of him.

28 Therefore alſo I have † given him unto the Lord: as long as he liveth he ſhall be given unto the Lord: and he [l] worſhipped the Lord there.

2 There is none holy as the Lord: yea, there is none beſides thee, and there is no god like our God.

3 Speak [p] no more preſumptuouſly: let not arrogancy come out of your mouth: for the Lord is a God of knowledge, and by him enterpriſes are eſtabliſhed.

11 And Elkanah went to Ramah to his houſe, and the child did miniſter unto the Lord [u] before Eli the prieſt.

12 ¶ Now the ſons of Eli were wicked men, and [w] knew not the Lord.

13 For the prieſt's cuſtom toward the people was this: when any man offered a ſacrifice, the prieſt's boy came, while the fleſh was ſeething, and a fleſh-hook with three teeth in his hand,

‡ Or, ſon.

14 And thruſt it into the kettle, or into the caldron, or into the pan, or into the pot: [x] all that the fleſh-hook brought up, the prieſt took for himſelf: thus they did unto all the Iſraelites that came thither to Shiloh.

15 Yea,

---

[f] That is, pray unto the Lord for me.

[g] According to her petition.

[h] This Elkanah was a Levite, 1 Chron. 6. 27. and as ſome write, once a year they accuſtomed to appear before the Lord with their families.

[i] Becauſe her prayer took effect, therefore it was called the Lord's promiſe.

[k] That is, moſt certainly.

[l] Meaning, Eli gave thanks to God for her.

[m] After that ſhe had obtained a ſon by prayer, ſhe gave thanks.

[n] I have recovered ſtrength and glory by the benefit of the Lord.

[o] I can anſwer them that reprove my barrenneſs.

[p] In that ye condemn my barrenneſs, ye ſhew your pride againſt God.

[q] They ſell their labours for neceſſary food.

[r] He preferreth to honour, and putteth down according to his own will, though man's judgment be contrary.

[s] Therefore he may diſpoſe all things according to his will.

[t] She grounded her prayer on Jeſus Chriſt which was to come.

[u] In all that Eli commanded him.

[w] That is, they neglected his ordinance.

[x] Tranſgreſſing the order appointed in the law, Levit. 7. 31. for their bellies ſake.

Bef. Chr. 1165.

15 Yea, before they burnt the [y] fat, the prieſt's boy came and ſaid to the man that offered, Give me fleſh to roaſt for the prieſt: for he will not have ſodden fleſh of thee, but raw.

16 And if any man ſaid unto him, Let them burn the fat according to the ‡ cuſtom, then take as much as thine heart [z] deſireth: then he would anſwer, No, but thou ſhalt give it now: and if thou wilt not, I will take it by force.

‡ Or, law.

17 Therefore the ſin of the young men was very great before the Lord: for men [a] abhorred the offering of the Lord.

18 ¶ Now Samuel being a young child, miniſtered before the Lord, girded with a linen * ephod.

* Exod. 28.

19 And his mother made him a little coat, and brought it to him from year to year, when ſhe came up with her huſband, to offer the yearly ſacrifice.

20 And Eli bleſſed Elkanah and his wife, and ſaid, The Lord give thee ſeed of this woman, for ‡ the petition that ſhe aſked of the Lord: and they departed unto their place.

‡ Or, for the thing that ſhe hath lent to the Lord, to wit, Samuel.

21 And the Lord viſited Hannah, ſo that ſhe conceived and bare three ſons, and two daughters. And the child Samuel grew before the Lord.

22 ¶ So Eli was very old, and heard all that his ſons did unto all Iſrael, and how they lay with the women that [b] aſſembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

23 And he ſaid unto them, Why do ye ſuch things? for of all this people I hear evil reports of you.

24 Do no more, my ſons: for it is no good report that I hear, which is, that ye make the Lord's people to [c] treſpaſs.

25 If one man ſin againſt another, the judge ſhall judge it: but if a man ſin againſt the Lord, who will plead for him? Notwithſtanding they obeyed not the voice of their father, becauſe the Lord [d] would ſlay them.

26 ¶ (Now the child Samuel profited and grew, and was in favour both with the Lord and alſo with men)

27 And there came a man of God unto Eli, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Did not I plainly appear unto the houſe of thy [e] father, when they were in Egypt in Pharaoh's houſe?

28 And I choſe him out of all the tribes of Iſrael to be my prieſt, to offer upon mine altar, and to burn incenſe, and to wear an Ephod before me, and * I gave unto the houſe of thy father all the offerings made by fire of the children of Iſrael.

* Lev. 10. 14.

29 Wherefore have you [f] kicked againſt my ſacrifice and mine offering, which I commanded in my tabernacle, and honoureſt thy children above me, to make yourſelves fat of the firſt-fruits of all the offerings of Iſrael my people?

Bef. Chr. 1165.

30 Wherefore the Lord God of Iſrael ſaith, I ſaid, that thine houſe, and the houſe of thy father, ſhould walk before me for ever: but now the Lord ſaith, [g] It ſhall not be ſo: for them that honour me, I will honour, and they that deſpiſe me, ſhall be deſpiſed.

31 Behold, the days come, that I will cut off thine [h] arm, and the arm of thy father's houſe, that there ſhall not be an old man in thine houſe.

32 And thou [i] ſhalt ſee thine enemy in the habitation of the Lord in all things wherewith God ſhall bleſs Iſrael, and there ſhall not be an old man in thine houſe for ever.

33 Nevertheleſs, I will not deſtroy every one of thine from mine altar, to make thine eyes to fail, and to make thine heart ſorrowful: and all the multitude of thine houſe ſhall ‡ die when they be men.

‡ Or, when they come to man's age.

34 And this ſhall be a ſign unto thee, that ſhall come upon thy two ſons Hophni and Phinehas: in one day they ſhall die both.

35 And I will ſtir me up a [k] faithful prieſt, that ſhall do according to mine heart, and according to my mind: and I will build him a ſure houſe, and he ſhall walk before mine Anointed for ever.

36 And all that are left in thine houſe ſhall come and [l] bow down to him for a piece of ſilver, and a morſel of bread, and ſhall ſay, Appoint me, I pray thee, to one of the prieſt's offices, that I may eat a morſel of bread.

CHAP. III.

1 There was no manifeſt viſion in the time of Eli. 4 The Lord calleth Samuel three times, 11 And ſheweth what ſhall come upon Eli and his houſe. 18 The ſame declareth Samuel to Eli.

NOW the child Samuel miniſtered unto the Lord [m] before Eli: and the word of the Lord was [n] precious in thoſe days: for there was no manifeſt viſion.

2 And at that time, as Eli lay in his [o] place, his eyes began to wax dim tha the could not ſee.

3 And ere the [p] light of God went out, Samuel ſlept in the temple of the Lord, where the ark of God was.

4 Then the Lord [q] called Samuel: and he ſaid, Here I am.

5 And he ran unto Eli, and ſaid, Here am I, for thou calledſt me. But he ſaid, I called thee not: go again and ſleep. And he went and ſlept.

6 And the Lord called once again, Samuel. And Samuel aroſe and went to Eli, and ſaid, I am here: for thou didſt call me. And he anſwered, I called thee not, my ſon: go again and ſleep.

2 The Philiſtines bring the ark into the houſe of Dagon, which idol fell down before it. 6 The men of Aſhdod are plagued. 8 The ark is carried into Gath, and after to Ekron.

THEN the Philiſtines took the ark of God, and carried it from Eben-ezer unto [i] Aſhdod.

2 Even the Philiſtines took the ark of God, and brought it into the houſe of [k] Dagon, and ſet it by Dagon.

9 And when they had carried it about, the hand of the Lord was againſt the city with a very great deſtruction, and he ſmote the men of the city both ſmall and great, and they had emerods in their ſecret parts.

10 ¶ Therefore they ſent the ark of God to Ekron: and as ſoon as the ark of God came to Ekron, the Ekronites cried out, ſaying, They have brought the ark of the God of Iſrael to us, to ſlay us and our people.

11 Therefore they ſent, and gathered together all the princes of the Philiſtines, and ſaid, Send [n] away the ark of the God of Iſrael, and let it return to his own place, that it ſlay us not and our people: for there was a deſtruction and death throughout all the city, and the hand of God was very ſore there.

10 And the men did ſo: for they took two kine that gave milk, and tied them to the cart, and ſhut the calves at home.

12 Alſo he will make them his captains over thouſands, and captains over fifties, and to ear his ground, and to reap his harveſt, and to make inſtruments of war, and the things that ſerve for his chariots.

13 He will alſo take your daughters and make them apothecaries, and cooks, and bakers.

15 And he will take the tenth of your ſeed, and of your vineyards, and give it to his ‡ eunuchs, and to his ſervants. ‡ Or, chief officers.

11 ¶ And as they were going up the highway to the city, they found maids that came out to draw water, and ſaid unto them, Is there here a ſeer?

12 And they anſwered them, and ſaid, Yea: lo, he is before you: make haſte now, for he came this day to the city: for there is an [x] offering of the people this day in the high place.

13 When ye ſhall come into the city, ye ſhall find him ſtraightway ere he come up to the high place to eat: for the people will not eat until he come, becauſe he will [y] bleſs the ſacrifice: and then eat they that be bidden to the feaſt: now therefore go up: for even now ſhall ye find him.

16 To-morrow about this time I will ſend thee a man out of the land of Benjamin: him ſhalt thou anoint to be governor over my people Iſrael, that he may [z] ſave my people out of the hands of the Philiſtines: for I have looked upon my people, and their cry is come unto me.

17 When Samuel therefore ſaw Saul, the Lord anſwered him, See, this is the man whom I ſpake to thee of, he ſhall rule my people.

18 Then went Saul to Samuel in the midſt of the gate, and ſaid, Tell me, I pray thee, where the ſeer's houſe is.

19 And Samuel anſwered Saul, and ſaid, I am the ſeer: go up before me unto the high place: for ye ſhall eat with me to-day, and to-morrow I will let thee go, and will tell thee all that is in thine [a] heart.

20 And as for thine aſſes that were loſt three days ago, care not for them: for they are found, and [b] on whom is ſet all the deſire of Iſrael? is it not upon thee, and on all thy father's houſe?

22 And Samuel took Saul and his ſervant, and brought them into the [c] chamber, and made them ſit in the chiefeſt place among them that were bidden: which were about thirty perſons.

23 And Samuel ſaid unto the cook, Bring forth the portion which I gave thee, and whereof I ſaid unto thee, Keep it with thee.

24 And the cook took up the ſhoulder, and that which was [d] upon it, and ſet it before Saul. And Samuel ſaid, Behold, that which is left, ſet it before thee and eat: for hitherto hath it been kept for thee, ſaying, Alſo I [e] have called the people. So Saul did eat with Samuel that day.

25 And when they were come down from the high place into the city, he communed with Saul upon the top of the houſe.

26 And when they aroſe early about the ſpring of the day, Samuel called Saul to the [f] top of the houſe, ſaying, Up, that I may ſend thee away. And Saul aroſe, and they went out, both he and Samuel.

10 But if they ſay, Come up unto us, then will we go up: for the Lord hath delivered them into our hand: and this ſhall be a ſign unto us.

11 So they both ſhewed themſelves unto the garriſon of the Philiſtines: and the Philiſtines ſaid, See, the Hebrews come out of the [l] holes wherein they had hid themſelves.

12 And the men of the garriſon anſwered Jonathan and his armour-bearer, and ſaid, Come up to us: for we will ſhew you a thing. Then Jonathan ſaid unto his armour-bearer, Come up after me: for the Lord hath delivered them into the hand of Iſrael.

13 So Jonathan went up upon [m] his hands and upon his feet, and his armour-bearer after him: and ſome fell before Jonathan, and his armour-bearer ſlew others after him.

* Judg. 7. 2 Chron. 20. 23.

20 And Saul was aſſembled with all the people that were with him, and they came to the battle: and behold, * every man's ſword was againſt his fellow, and there was a very great diſcomfiture.

21 Moreover the Hebrews that were with the Philiſtines beforetime, and were come with them into all parts of the hoſt, even they alſo turned to be with the [q] Iſraelites that were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 Alſo all the men of Iſrael which had hid themſelves in Mount Ephraim, when they heard that the Philiſtines were fled, they followed after them in the battle.

23 And ſo the Lord ſaved Iſrael that day: and the battle continued unto Beth-aven.

† Heb. bread.

24 ¶ And at that time the men of Iſrael were preſſed with hunger: for Saul charged the people with an oath, ſaying, [r] Curſed be the man that eateth food ‡ till night, that I may be avenged of mine enemies: ſo none of the people taſted any ſuſtenance.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood, where honey lay upon the ground.

26 And the people came into the wood, and behold, the honey dropped, and no man moved his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the [s] oath.

27 But Jonathan heard not when his father charged the people with the oath: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hand, and dipped it in an honey-comb, and put his hand to his mouth, and his [t] eyes received ſight.

‡ Or, weary.

28 Then anſwered one of the people, and ſaid, Thy father made the people to ſwear, ſaying, Curſed be the man that eateth ſuſtenance this day: and the people were ‡ faint.

29 Then ſaid Jonathan, My father hath [u] troubled the land: ſee now how mine eyes are made clear, becauſe I have taſted a little of this honey:

30 How much more, if the people had eaten to-day of the ſpoil of their enemies which they found? for had there not been now a greater ſlaughter among the Philiſtines?

31 ¶ And they ſmote the Philiſtines that day, from Michmaſh to Aijalon: and the people were exceeding faint.

*Levit. 7. 26. and 19. 26. Deut. 12. 16.

32 So the people turned to the ſpoil, and took ſheep, and oxen, and calves, and ſlew them on the ground, and the people did eat them * with the blood.

33 Then men told Saul, ſaying, Behold, the people ſin againſt the Lord, in that they eat with the blood. And he ſaid, Ye have treſpaſſed: [w] roll a great ſtone unto me this day.

34 Again Saul ſaid, Go abroad among the people, and bid them bring me every man his ox, and every man his ſheep, and ſlay them here, and eat, and ſin not againſt the Lord in eating with the blood. And the people brought every man his ox in his hand that night, and ſlew them there.

Bef. Chr. 1087.

‡ Or, of that ſtone began he to build an altar.

35 Then Saul made an altar unto the Lord, and that ‡ was the firſt altar that he made unto the Lord.

36 ¶ And Saul ſaid, Let us go down after the Philiſtines by night, and ſpoil them until the morning ſhine, and let us not leave a man of them. And they ſaid, Do whatſoever thou thinkeſt beſt. Then ſaid the prieſt, Let us [x] draw near hither unto God.

37 So Saul aſked of God, ſaying, Shall I go down after the Philiſtines? wilt thou deliver them into the hands of Iſrael? But he anſwered him not at that time.

* Judg. 20. 2.
† Heb. corners.

38 ¶ And Saul ſaid, * All ye † chief of the people, come ye hither, and know, and ſee by whom this ſin is done this day.

39 For as the Lord liveth, which ſaveth Iſrael, though it be done by Jonathan my ſon, he ſhall die the death. But none of all the people anſwered him.

40 Then he ſaid unto all Iſrael, Be ye on one ſide, and I and Jonathan my ſon will be on the other ſide. And the people ſaid unto Saul, Do what thou thinkeſt beſt.

41 Then Saul ſaid unto the Lord God of Iſrael, Give [y] a perfect lot. And Jonathan and Saul were taken, but the people eſcaped.

42 And Saul ſaid, Caſt lot between me and Jonathan my ſon. And Jonathan was taken.

43 Then Saul ſaid to Jonathan, Tell me what thou haſt done. And Jonathan told him, and ſaid, I taſted a little honey with the end of the rod that was in mine hand, and lo, I muſt die.

44 Again Saul anſwered, God do ſo and more alſo, unleſs thou die the death, Jonathan.

45 And the people ſaid unto Saul, [z] Shall Jonathan die, who hath ſo mightily delivered Iſrael? God forbid. As the Lord liveth, there ſhall not one hair of his head fall to the ground: for he hath wrought with God this day. So the people delivered Jonathan that he died not.

46 Then Saul came up from the Philiſtines, and the Philiſtines went to their own place.

‡ Or, overcome them.

47 ¶ So Saul held the kingdom over Iſrael, and fought againſt all his enemies on every ſide, againſt Moab, and againſt the children of Ammon, and againſt Edom, and againſt the kings of Zobah, and againſt the Philiſtines: and whitherſoever he went, he ‡ handled them as wicked men.

48 He gathered alſo an hoſt, and ſmote [a] Amalek, and delivered Iſrael out of the hands of them that ſpoiled them.

49 Now the ſons of Saul were Jonathan, [b] and Iſhui, and Melchi-ſhua: and the names of his two daughters, the elder was called Merab, and the younger was named [c] Michal.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, I remember what Amalek did to Iſrael, * how they laid wait for them in the way, as they came up from Egypt.

3 Now therefore go, and ſmite Amalek, and deſtroy ye all that pertaineth unto them, and have no compaſſion on them, but [g] ſlay both man and woman, both infant and ſuckling, both ox and ſheep, both camel and aſs.

‡ Or, knew their number by the lambs which they brought.
‡ Or, fought in the valley.

4 ¶ And Saul aſſembled the people, and ‡ numbered them in Telaim, two hundred thouſand footmen, and ten thouſand men of Judah.

5 And Saul came to a city of Amalek, ‡ and ſet watch at the river.

6 And Saul ſaid unto the [h] Kenites, Go, depart, and get you down from among the Amalekites, leſt I deſtroy you with them: for ye ſhewed [i] mercy to all the children of Iſrael, when they came up from Egypt: and the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.

7 So Saul ſmote the Amalekites from Havilah, as thou comeſt to Shur, that is before Egypt,

8 And took Agag the king of the Amalekites alive, and deſtroyed all the people with the edge of the ſword.

9 But Saul and the people ſpared Agag, and the better ſheep, and the oxen, and the fat beaſts, and the lambs, and all that was good, and they would not deſtroy them: but every thing that was vile, and nought worth, that they deſtroyed.

10 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Samuel, ſaying,

11 [k] It repenteth me that I have made Saul king, for he is turned from me, and hath not performed my commandments. And Samuel was moved, and cried unto the Lord all night.

12 And when Samuel aroſe early to meet Saul in the morning, one told Samuel, ſaying, Saul is gone to Carmel: and behold, he hath made him there a place, from whence he returned, and departed, and is gone down to Gilgal.

Bef. Chr. 1079.

13 ¶ Then Samuel came to Saul, and Saul ſaid unto him, Bleſſed be thou of the Lord, I have fulfilled the [l] commandment of the Lord.

14 But Samuel ſaid, What meaneth then the bleating of the ſheep in mine ears, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear?

15 And Saul anſwered, They have brought them from the Amalekites: for the people ſpared the beſt of the ſheep, and of the oxen, to ſacrifice them unto the Lord thy God, and the remnant have we deſtroyed.

16 Again Samuel ſaid to Saul, Let me tell thee what the Lord hath ſaid to me this night. And he ſaid unto him, Say on.

17 Then Samuel ſaid, When thou waſt [m] little in thine own ſight, waſt thou not made the head of the tribes of Iſrael? for the Lord anointed thee king over Iſrael.

18 And the Lord ſent thee on a journey, and ſaid, Go, and deſtroy thoſe ſinners the Amalekites, and fight againſt them, until thou deſtroy them.

19 Now wherefore haſt thou not obeyed the voice of the Lord, but haſt turned to the prey, and haſt done wickedly in the ſight of the Lord?

20 And Saul ſaid unto Samuel, Yea, I [n] have obeyed the voice of the Lord, and have gone the way which the Lord ſent me, and have brought Agag the king of Amalek, and have deſtroyed the Amalekites.

21 But the people took of the ſpoil, ſheep and oxen, and the chiefeſt of the things which ſhould have been deſtroyed, to offer unto the Lord thy God in Gilgal.

22 And Samuel ſaid, Hath the Lord as great pleaſure in burnt-offerings and ſacrifices, as when the voice of the Lord is obeyed? behold, * to obey is better than ſacrifice, and to hearken is better than the fat of rams.

23 For [o] rebellion is as the ſin of witchcraft, and tranſgreſſion is wickedneſs and idolatry. Becauſe thou haſt caſt away the word of the Lord, therefore he hath caſt away thee from being king.

24 Then Saul ſaid unto Samuel, I have ſinned: for I have tranſgreſſed the commandment of the Lord, and thy words, becauſe I feared the people, and obeyed their voice.

25 Now therefore I pray thee, take away my [p] ſin, and turn again with me, that I may worſhip the Lord.

26 But Samuel ſaid unto Saul, I will not return with thee: for thou haſt caſt away the word of the Lord, and the Lord hath caſt away thee, that thou ſhalt not be king over Iſrael.

27 And as Samuel turned himſelf to go away, he caught the lap of his coat, and it rent.

31 ¶ So Samuel turned again, and followed Saul: and Saul worſhipped the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The Philiſtines make war againſt Iſrael. 10 Goliath defieth Iſrael. 17 David is ſent to his brethren. 34 The ſtrength and boldneſs of David. 47 The Lord ſaveth not by ſword nor ſpear. 50 David killeth Goliath, and the Philiſtines flee.

NOW the Philiſtines gathered their armies to battle, and came together to Shochoh, which is in Judah, and pitched between Shochoh and Azekah, ‡ in the coaſt of Dammim. ‡ Or, in Ephesdammim.

2 And Saul, and the men of Iſrael aſſembled, and pitched in the valley ‡ of Elah, and put themſelves in battle array to meet the Philiſtines. ‡ Or, Of the oak.

3 And the Philiſtines ſtood on a mountain on the one ſide, and Iſrael ſtood on a mountain on the other ſide: ſo a valley was between them.

4 ¶ Then came a man between them [e] both out of the tents of the Philiſtines, named Goliath of Gath: his height was ſix cubits and an hand breadth,

5 And had an helmet of braſs upon his head, and a ‡ brigandine upon him: and the weight of his brigandine was five thouſand [f] ſhekels of braſs. ‡ Or, coat of plate.

6 And he had ‡ boots of braſs upon his legs, and a ſhield of braſs upon his ſhoulders. ‡ Or, greaves

7 And the ſhaft of his ſpear was like a weaver's beam: and his ſpear head weighed ſix hundred ſhekels of iron: and one bearing a ſhield went before him.

8 And he ſtood, and cried againſt the hoſt of Iſrael, and ſaid unto them, Why are ye come to ſet your battle in array? am not I a Philiſtine, and you ſervants to Saul? chuſe you a man for you, and let him come down to me.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and † kill me, then will we be your ſervants: but if I overcome him, and kill him, then ſhall ye be our ſervants, and ſerve us. † Heb ſmite me.

10 Alſo the Philiſtine ſaid, I defy the hoſt of Iſrael this day: give me a man, that we may fight ‡ together. ‡ Or, hand to hand.

11 When Saul and Iſrael heard thoſe words of the Philiſtine, they were diſcouraged, and greatly afraid.

12 ¶ Now this David was the * ſon of an Ephrathite of Beth-lehem Judah, named Jeſſe, which had eight ſons: and ‡ this man was taken for an old man in the days of Saul. * Ch. 16. 1. ‡ Or, he was counted among them that bare office.

13 And the three eldeſt ſons of Jeſſe went and followed Saul to the battle: and the names of his three ſons that went to battle, were Eliab the eldeſt, and the next Abinadab, and the third Shammah.

14 So David was the leaſt: and the three eldeſt went after Saul.

15 David alſo [g] went, but he returned from Saul to feed his father's ſheep in Beth-lehem.

16 And the Philiſtine drew near in the morning and evening, and continued forty days.

17 And Jeſſe ſaid unto David his ſon, [h] Take now for thy brethren an ephah of this parched corn, and theſe ten cakes, and run to the hoſt to thy brethren.

18 Alſo carry theſe ten freſh cheeſes unto the captain, and look how thy brethren fare, and receive their [i] pledge.

19 (Then Saul and they, and all the men of Iſrael, were in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philiſtines)

20 ¶ So David roſe up early in the morning, and left the ſheep with a keeper, and took and went as Jeſſe had commanded him, and came within the compaſs of the hoſt: and the hoſt went out in array, and ſhouted in the battle.

21 For Iſrael and the Philiſtines had put themſelves in array, army againſt army.

22 And David left the things which he bare, under the hands of the keeper of the † carriage, and ran into the hoſt, and came and aſked his brethren † how they did. † Heb. veſſels. † Heb. of peace.

23 And as he talked with them, behold, the man that was between the two armies, came up, (whoſe name was Goliath the Philiſtine of Gath) out of the ‡ army of the Philiſtines, and ſpake [k] ſuch words, and David heard them. ‡ Or, vallies.

24 And all the men of Iſrael, when they ſaw the man, ran away from him, and were ſore afraid.

25 For every man of Iſrael ſaid, Saw ye not this man that cometh up? even to revile Iſrael is he come up: and to him that killeth him, will the king give great riches, and will give him his * daughter, yea, and make his father's houſe [l] free in Iſrael. * Joſh. 15. 16.

26 ¶ Then David ſpake to the men that ſtood with him, and ſaid, What ſhall be done to the man that killeth this Philiſtine, and taketh away the [m] ſhame from Iſrael? for who is this uncircumciſed Philiſtine, that he ſhould revile the hoſt of the living God?

27 And the people anſwered him after this manner, ſaying, Thus ſhall it be done to the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliab his eldeſt brother heard when he ſpake unto the men, and Eliab was very angry with David, and ſaid, Why cameſt thou down hither? and with whom haſt thou left thoſe few ſheep in the wilderneſs? I know thy pride and the malice of thine heart, that thou art come down to ſee the battle.

29 Then David ſaid, What have I now done? Is there not a [n] cauſe?

30 And he departed from him into the preſence of another, and ſpake of the ſame manner, and the people anſwered him according to the former words.

33 And Saul ſaid to David, Thou art not[o] able to go againſt this Philiſtine to fight with him: for thou art a boy, and he is a man of war from his youth.

34 And David anſwered unto Saul, Thy ſervant kept his father's ſheep, and there came a [p] lion, and likewiſe a bear, and took a ſheep out of the flock,

35 And I went out after him and ſmote him, and took it out of his mouth: and when he aroſe againſt me, I caught him by the beard, and ſmote him, and ſlew him.

36 So thy ſervant ſlew both the lion and the bear: therefore this uncircumciſed Philiſtine ſhall be as one of them, ſeeing he hath railed on the hoſt of the living God.

37 ¶ Moreover David ſaid, the Lord that delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this Philiſtine. Then Saul ſaid unto David, [q] Go, and the Lord be with thee.

38 And Saul put his raiment upon David, and put an helmet of braſs upon his head, and put a brigandine upon him.

39 Then girded David his ſword upon his raiment, and ‡ began to go: for he never proved it: and David ſaid unto Saul, I cannot go with theſe: for I am not accuſtomed. Wherefore David put them off him.

‡ Or, aſſayed.

40 Then took he his [r] ſtaff in his hand, and choſe him five ſmooth ſtones out of a brook, and put them in his ſhepherd's bag or ſcrip, and his ſling was in his hand, and he drew near to the Philiſtine.

41 And the Philiſtine came and drew near unto David, and the man that bare the ſhield went before him.

42 Now when the Philiſtine looked about and ſaw David, he diſdained him: for he was but young, ruddy, and of a comely face.

43 And the Philiſtine ſaid unto David, Am I a dog, that thou comeſt to me with ſtaves? And the Philiſtine [s] curſed David by his gods.

44 And the Philiſtine ſaid to David, Come to me, and I will give thy fleſh unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beaſts of the field.

45 Then ſaid David to the Philiſtine, Thou comeſt to me with a ſword, and with a ſpear, and with a ſhield, but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hoſts, the God of the hoſt of Iſrael, whom thou haſt railed upon.

46 This [t] day ſhall the Lord cloſe thee in mine hand, and I ſhall ſmite thee, and take thine head from thee, and I will give the carcaſes of the hoſt of the Philiſtines this day unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beaſts of the earth, that all the world may know that Iſrael hath a God,

47 And that all this aſſembly may know, that the Lord ſaveth not with ſword nor with ſpear (for the battle is the Lord's) and he will give you into our hands.

48 And when the Philiſtine aroſe to come and draw near unto David, David [u] haſted and ran to fight againſt the Philiſtine.

49 And David put his hand in his bag, and took out a ſtone, and ſlang it, and ſmote the Philiſtine in his forehead, that the ſtone ſticked in his forehead, and he fell groveling to the earth.

50 So David overcame the Philiſtine with a ſling and with a ſtone, and ſmote the Philiſtine, and ſlew him, when David had no ſword in his hand.

51 Then David ran, and ſtood upon the Philiſtine, and took his ſword and drew it out of his ſheath, and ſlew him, and cut off his head therewith. So when the Philiſtines ſaw that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Iſrael and Judah aroſe, and ſhouted, and followed after the Philiſtines, until they came to the ‡ valley, and unto the gates of Ekron: and the Philiſtines fell down wounded by the way of Shaaraim, even to Gath and to Ekron.

‡ Or, Gai the city.

53 And the children of Iſrael returned from purſuing the Philiſtines, and ſpoiled their tents.

54 And David took the head of the Philiſtine, and brought it to Jeruſalem, and put his armour in his ‡ tent.

‡ Or, houſe at Beth-lehem.

55 ¶ When Saul ſaw David go forth againſt the Philiſtine, he ſaid unto Abner the captain of his hoſt, Abner, [w] whoſe ſon is this young man? And Abner anſwered, As thy ſoul liveth, O king, I cannot tell.

56 Then the king ſaid, Inquire thou whoſe ſon this young man is.

57 And when David was returned from the ſlaughter of the Philiſtine, then Abner took him, and brought him before Saul with the head of the Philiſtine in his hand.

58 And Saul ſaid to him, Whoſe ſon art thou, thou young man? and David anſwered, I am the ſon of thy ſervant Jeſſe the Beth-lehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The amity of Jonathan and David. 8 Saul envieth David for the praiſe that the women gave him. 11 Saul would have ſlain David. 17 He promiſeth him Merab to wiſe, but giveth him Michal. 27 David delivereth to Saul two hundred foreſkins of the Philiſtines. 29 Saul feareth David, ſeeing that the Lord is with him.

AND when he had made an end of ſpeaking unto Saul, the [x] ſoul of Jonathan was knit with the ſoul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own ſoul.

2 And Saul took him that day, and would not let him return to his father's houſe.

3 Then

---

[o] Here Satan proveth David's faith, by the infidelity of Saul.

[p] David, by the experience that he hath had in time paſt of God's help, nothing doubteth to overcome this danger, ſeeing he was zealous for God's honour.

[q] For by theſe examples, he ſaw that the power of God was with him.

[r] To the intent that, by theſe weak means, God might only be known to be the author of this victory.

[s] He ſware by his gods that he would deſtroy him.

[t] David being aſſured both of his cauſe and of his calling, propheſieth of the deſtruction of the Philiſtines.

[u] Being moved with a fervent zeal to be revenged upon this blaſphemer of God's name.

[w] That is, of what family and tribe is he? or elſe he had forgotten David, albeit he had received ſo great a benefit by him.

[x] His affection was fully bent toward him.

Bef. Chr. 1063.

3 Then Jonathan and David made a covenant: for he loved him as his own ſoul.

4 And Jonathan put off the robe that wa upon him, and gave it David, and his garments, even to his ſword, and to his bow, an to his girdle.

5 And David went out whitherſoever Sau ſent him, and behaved himſelf [y] wiſely: ſo tha Saul ſet him over the men of war, and he was accepted in the ſight of all the people, and alſo in the ſight of Saul's ſervants.

6 ¶ When they came again, and David returned from the ſlaughter of the [z] Philiſtines, the women came out of all cities of Iſrael ſinging and dancing to meet king Saul, with timbrels, with inſtruments of joy, and with rebecks.

† Heb. anſwered, playing.
* Ch. 21. 11. and 29. 5.

7 And the women † ſang by courſe in their play, and ſaid, * Saul hath ſlain his thouſands, and David his ten thouſands.

8 Therefore Saul was exceeding wroth, and the ſaying diſpleaſed him, and he ſaid, They have aſcribed unto David ten thouſand, and to me they have aſcribed but a thouſand, and what can he have more ſave the kingdom?

9 Wherefore Saul [a] had an eye on David from that day forward.

10 ¶ And on the morrow the evil ſpirit of God came upon Saul, and he [b] propheſied in the midſt of the houſe: and David played with his hand like as at other times, and there was a ſpear in Saul's hand.

11 And Saul took the ſpear, and ſaid, I will ſmite David thorough to the wall. But David avoided twice out of his preſence.

12 And Saul was afraid of David, becauſe the Lord was with him, and was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul put him from him, and made him a captain over a thouſand, and he went [c] out and in before the people.

14 And David behaved himſelf wiſely in all his ways: for the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saul ſaw that he was very wiſe, he was afraid of him.

16 For all Iſrael and Judah loved David, becauſe he went out and in before them.

17 ¶ Then Saul ſaid to David, Behold mine eldeſt daughter Merab, her I will give thee to wife: only be a valiant ſon unto me, and [d] fight the Lord's battles: for Saul thought, Mine hand ſhall not be upon him, but the hand of the Philiſtines ſhall be upon him.

18 And David anſwered Saul, What am I? and what is my life, or the family of my father in Iſrael, that I ſhould be ſon-in-law to the king?

19 Howbeit when Merab Saul's daughter ſhould have been given to David, [e] ſhe was given to Adriel a Meholathite to wife.

20 ¶ Then Michal Saul's daughter loved David: and they ſhewed Saul, and the thing pleaſed him.

Bef. Chr. 1063.

21 Therefore Saul ſaid, I will give him her, that ſhe may be a [f] ſnare to him, and that the hand of the Philiſtines may be againſt him. Wherefore Saul ſaid to David, Thou ſhalt this day be my ſon-in-law in the one of the twain.

22 And Saul commanded his ſervants, Speak with David ſecretly, and ſay, Behold, the king hath a favour to thee: and all his ſervants love thee: be now therefore the king's ſon-in-law.

23 And Saul's ſervants ſpake theſe words in the ears of David. And David ſaid, [g] Seemeth it to you a light thing to be a king's ſon-in-law, ſeeing that I am a poor man and of ſmall reputation?

24 And then Saul's ſervants brought him word again, ſaying, Such words ſpake David.

25 And Saul ſaid, This wiſe ſhall ye ſay to David, The king deſireth no dowry, but an hundred foreſkins of the Philiſtines, to be avenged of the king's enemies: for Saul thought to make David fall into the hands of the Philiſtines.

26 And when his ſervants told David theſe words, it pleaſed David well, to be the [h] king's ſon-in-law: and the days were not expired.

27 Afterward David aroſe with his men, and went and ſlew of the Philiſtines two hundred men: and David brought their foreſkins, and [i] they gave them wholly to the king, that he might be the king's ſon-in-law: therefore Saul gave him Michal his daughter to wife.

28 Then Saul ſaw and underſtood that the Lord was with David, and that Michal the daughter of Saul loved him.

29 Then Saul was more and more [k] afraid of David, and Saul became alway David's enemy.

30 And when the princes of the Philiſtines went forth, at their going forth [l] David behaved himſelf more wiſely than all the ſervants of Saul, ſo that his name was much ſet by.

CHAP. XIX.

1. Jonathan declareth to David the wicked purpoſe of Saul. 11 Michal his wife ſaveth him. 18 David cometh to Samuel. 23 The ſpirit of propheſy cometh to Saul.

THEN Saul ſpake to Jonathan his ſon, and to all his ſervants, that they ſhould [m] kill David: but Jonathan Saul's ſon had a great favour to David.

2 And Jonathan told David, ſaying, Saul my father goeth about to ſlay thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take heed unto thyſelf unto the morning, and abide in a ſecret place, and hide thyſelf.

3 And I will go out and ſtand by my father in the field where thou [n] art, and will commune with my father of thee, and I will ſee what he ſaith, and will tell thee.

4 ¶ And

---

[y] That is, he proſpered in all his doings.

[z] To wit, Goliath.

[a] Becauſe he bare him envy and hatred.

[b] That is, ſpake as a man beſide himſelf: for ſo the people abuſed this word, when they could not underſtand.

[c] Meaning, he was captain over the people.

[d] Fight againſt them that war againſt God's people.

[e] By whom he had five ſons, which David put to Death at the requeſt of the Gibeonites, 2 Sam. 21. 8.

[f] So his hypocriſy appeareth: for under pretence of favour he ſought his deſtruction.

[g] Meaning, that he was not able to endow his wife with riches.

[h] Becauſe he thought himſelf able to compaſs the king's requeſt.

[i] Meaning, David and his ſoldiers.

[k] To be deprived of his kingdom.

[l] That is, David had better ſucceſs againſt the Philiſtines than Saul's men.

[m] Before Saul ſought David's life ſecretly, but now his hypocriſy burſteth forth to open cruelty.

[n] That I may give thee warning what to do.

4 ¶ And Jonathan ſpake good of David unto Saul his father, and ſaid unto him, Let not the king ſin againſt his ſervant, againſt David: for he hath not ſinned againſt thee, but his works have been to thee very good.

† Heb. he put his ſoul in his hand.
* Judg. 12. 3. 1 Sam. 28. 21. Pſal. 119. 109.

5 For he † did * put his life in danger, and ſlew the Philiſtine, and the Lord wrought a great ſalvation for all Iſrael: thou ſaweſt it, thou rejoicedſt: wherefore then wilt thou ſin againſt innocent blood, and ſlay David without a cauſe?

6 Then Saul hearkened unto the voice of Jonathan, and Saul [o] ſware, As the Lord liveth, he ſhall not die.

7 So Jonathan called David, and Jonathan ſhewed him all thoſe words, and Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his preſence as in times paſt.

8 ¶ Again the war began, and David went out and fought with the Philiſtines, and ſlew them with a great ſlaughter, and they fled from him.

9 ¶ And the evil ſpirit of the Lord was upon Saul, as he ſat in his houſe, having his ſpear in his hand, and David [p] played with his hand.

10 And Saul intended to ſmite David to the wall with the ſpear: but he turned aſide out of Saul's preſence, and he ſmote the ſpear againſt the wall: but David fled, and eſcaped the ſame night.

11 Saul alſo ſent meſſengers unto David's houſe, to watch him, and to ſlay him in them orning: and Michal David's wife told it him, ſaying, If thou ſave not thyſelf this night, to-morrow thou ſhalt be ſlain.

12 So Michal [q] let David down through a window: and he went, and fled, and eſcaped.

13 Then Michal took an image, and laid it in the bed, and put a pillow ſtuffed with goat's hair under the head of it, and covered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul ſent meſſengers to take David, ſhe ſaid, He is ſick.

15 And Saul ſent the meſſengers again to ſee David, ſaying, Bring him to me in the [r] bed, that I may ſlay him.

16 And when the meſſengers were come in, behold, an image was in the bed, with a pillow of goat's hair under the head of it.

17 And Saul ſaid unto Michal, Why haſt thou mocked me ſo, and ſent away mine enemy, that he is eſcaped? And Michal anſwered Saul, He ſaid unto me, Let me go, or elſe I will kill thee.

18 ¶ So David fled and eſcaped, and came to Samuel to Ramah, and told him all that Saul had done to him: and he and Samuel went and dwelt in [s] Naioth.

19 But one told Saul, ſaying, Behold, David is at Naioth in Ramah.

20 And Saul ſent meſſengers to take David: and when they ſaw a company of prophets propheſying, and Samuel ſtanding [t] as appointed over them, the Spirit of God fell upon the meſſengers of Saul, and they alſo [u] propheſied.

21 And when it was told Saul, he ſent other meſſengers, and they propheſied likewiſe: again, Saul ſent the third meſſengers, and they propheſied alſo.

22 Then went he himſelf to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechu, and he aſked, and ſaid, Where are Samuel and David? and one ſaid, Behold, they be at Naioth in Ramah.

23 And he [w] went thither, even to Naioth in Ramah, and the Spirit of God came upon him alſo, and he went propheſying until he came to Naioth in Ramah.

24 And he ſtript off his [x] cloaths, and he propheſied alſo before Samuel, and fell [y] down naked all that day and all that night: therefore they ſay, * Is Saul alſo among the prophets?

* Ch. 10. 12.

CHAP. XX.

2 Jonathan comforteth David. 3 They renew their league. 33 Saul would have killed Jonathan. 38 Jonathan advertiſeth David, by three arrows, of his father's fury.

AND David [z] fled from Naioth in Ramah, and came and ſaid before Jonathan, What have I done? what is mine iniquity? and what ſin have I committed before thy father, that he ſeeketh my life?

2 And he ſaid unto him, God forbid, thou ſhalt not die: behold, my father will do nothing great nor ſmall, but he will † ſhew it me: and why ſhould my father hide this thing from me? he will not do it.

† Heb. reveal it in mine ear.

3 And David ſware again, and ſaid, Thy father knoweth that I have found grace in thine eyes: therefore he thinketh, Jonathan ſhall not know it, leſt he be ſorry: but indeed, as the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, there is but a [a] ſtep between me and death.

4 Then ſaid Jonathan unto David, Whatſoever thy ſoul † requireth, that will I do unto thee.

† Heb. ſaith.

5 And David ſaid unto Jonathan, Behold, to-morrow is the [b] firſt day of the month, and I ſhould ſit with the king at meat: but let me go, that I may hide myſelf in the fields unto the third day at even.

6 If thy father make mention of me, then ſay, David aſked leave of me, that he might go to Beth-lehem to his own city: for there is a [c] yearly ſacrifice for all that family.

7 And if he ſay thus, It is well, thy ſervant ſhall have peace: but if he be angry, be ſure that wickedneſs is concluded of him.

8 So ſhalt thou ſhew mercy unto thy ſervant: * for thou haſt joined thy ſervant into a covenant of the Lord with thee, and if there be in me iniquity, ſlay thou me; for why ſhouldeſt thou bring me to thy father?

* Ch. 18. 3. and 23. 18.

9 ¶ And

---

[o] Whatſoever he pretended outwardly, yet his heart was full of malice.

[p] He played on his harp to mitigate the rage of the evil ſpirit, as chap. 16. 23.

[q] Thus God moved both the ſon and daughter of this tyrant to favour David againſt their father.

[r] Behold, how the tyrants, to accompliſh their rage, neither regard oath nor friendſhip, God nor man.

[s] Naioth was a ſchool where the word of God was ſtudied, near to Ramah.

[t] Being their chief inſtructor.

[u] Changed their minds and praiſed God.

[w] With a mind to perſecute them.

[x] His kingly apparel.

[y] He humbled himſelf as others did.

[z] For Saul was ſtayed, and propheſied a day and a night, by God's providence, that David might have time to eſcape.

[a] I am in great danger of death.

[b] At what time there ſhould be a ſolemn ſacrifice, Num. 28. 11. to the which they added peace-offerings and feaſts.

[c] Read chap. 1. 21.

Bef. Chr. 1062.

9 ¶ And Jonathan anſwered, God keep that from thee: for if I knew that wickedneſs were [d] concluded of my father to come upon thee, would not I tell it thee?

10 Then ſaid David to Jonathan, Who [e] ſhall tell me? how ſhall I know, if thy father anſwer thee cruelly?

11 Then Jonathan ſaid to David, Come and let us go out into the field: and they twain went out into the field.

12 And Jonathan ſaid to David, O Lord God of Iſrael, when I have groped my father's mind to-morrow at this time, or within this three days, and if it be well with David, and I then ſend not unto thee, and ſhew it thee,

13 The Lord [f] do ſo and much more unto Jonathan: but if my father have mind to do thee evil, I will ſhew thee alſo, and ſend thee away, that thou mayeſt go in peace: and the Lord be with thee, as he hath been with my father.

14 Likewiſe I require not whilſt I live: for I doubt not but thou wilt ſhew me the mercy of the Lord, [g] that I die not.

15 But I require that thou cut not off thy mercy from mine houſe for ever: no, not when the Lord hath deſtroyed the enemies of David, every one from the earth.

16 So Jonathan made a bond with the houſe of David, ſaying, Let the Lord require it at the hands of David's enemies.

17 And again Jonathan ſware unto David, becauſe he loved him (for he loved him as his own ſoul)

18 Then ſaid Jonathan to him, To-morrow is the firſt day of the month: and thou ſhalt be ‡ looked for, for thy place ſhalt be empty.

‡ Or, mentioned.

19 Therefore thou ſhalt hide thyſelf three days, then thou ſhalt go down quickly and come to the place where thou didſt hide thyſelf, when this matter was in hand, and ſhalt remain by the ſtone † Ezel.

† Heb. of the way, becauſe it ſerved as a ſign to ſhew the way to them that paſſed by.

20 And I will ſhoot three arrows on the ſide thereof, as though I ſhot at a mark.

21 And after I will ſend a boy, ſaying, Go ſeek the arrows. If I ſay unto the boy, See, the arrows are on this ſide thee, bring them, and come thou: for it is † well with thee, and no hurt, as the Lord liveth.

† Heb. peace.

22 But if I ſay thus unto the boy, Behold, the arrows are beyond thee, go thy way: for the [h] Lord hath ſent thee away.

23 As touching the thing which thou and I have ſpoken of, behold, the Lord be between thee and me for ever.

24 ¶ So David hid himſelf in the field: and when the firſt day of the month came, the king ſat to eat meat.

25 And the king ſat, as at other times, upon his ſeat, even upon his ſeat by the wall, and Jonathan aroſe, and Abner ſat by Saul's ſide, but David's place was empty.

26 And Saul ſaid nothing that day: for he thought, ſomething had befallen him, though he were [i] clean, or elſe, becauſe he was not purified.

Bef. Chr. 1062.

27 But on the morrow, which was the ſecond day of the month, David's place was empty again: and Saul ſaid unto Jonathan his ſon, Wherefore cometh not the ſon of [k] Jeſſe to meat, neither yeſterday nor to-day?

28 And Jonathan anſwered unto Saul, David required of me, that he might go to Beth-lehem.

29 For he ſaid, Let me go, I pray thee: for our family offereth [l] a ſacrifice in the city, and my brother hath ſent for me: therefore now, if I have found favour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, and ſee my [m] brethren: this is the cauſe that he cometh not unto the king's table.

30 Then was Saul angry with Jonathan, and ſaid unto him, Thou [n] ſon of the wicked rebellious woman, do not I know that thou haſt choſen the ſon of Jeſſe to thy confuſion, and to the confuſion and ſhame of thy mother?

31 For as long as the ſon of Jeſſe liveth upon the earth, thou ſhalt not be eſtabliſhed, nor thy kingdom: wherefore now ſend and fetch him unto me, for he † ſhall ſurely die.

† Heb. ſon of death.

32 And Jonathan anſwered unto Saul his father, and ſaid unto him, Wherefore ſhall he [o] die? what hath he done?

33 And Saul caſt a ſpear at him to hit him, whereby Jonathan knew that it was determined of his father to ſlay David.

34 ¶ So Jonathan aroſe from the table in a great anger, and did eat no meat the ſecond day of the month: for he was ſorry for David, and becauſe his father had reviled him.

35 On the next morning therefore Jonathan went out into the field, [p] at the time appointed with David, and a little boy with him.

36 And he ſaid unto his boy, Run now, ſeek the arrows which I ſhoot: and as the boy ran, he ſhot an arrow beyond him.

37 And when the boy was come to the place where the arrow was that Jonathan had ſhot, Jonathan cried after the boy, and ſaid, Is not the arrow beyond thee?

38 And Jonathan cried after the boy, [q] Make ſpeed, haſte and ſtand not ſtill: and Jonathan's boy gathered up the arrows, and came to his maſter, 39 But the boy knew nothing: only Jonathan and David knew the matter.

40 Then Jonathan gave his † bow and arrows unto the boy that was with him, and ſaid unto him, Go carry them into the city.

† Heb. inſtruments.

41 ¶ As ſoon as the boy was gone, David aroſe out of a place that was toward the [r] ſouth, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himſelf three times: and they kiſſed one another, and wept both twain, till David exceeded.

42 Therefore Jonathan ſaid to David, Go in peace: that which we have [s] ſworn, both of us in the name of the Lord, ſaying, The Lord be between me and thee, and between my ſeed, and between thy ſeed, let it ſtand for ever.

---

[d] That he were fully determined.

[e] If thy father do favour me.

[f] The Lord puniſh me moſt grievouſly.

[g] I know that if thou waſt now preferred to the kingdom, thou wouldeſt not deſtroy me, but ſhew thyſelf friendly to my poſterity.

[h] The Lord is the author of thy departure.

[i] Yet he might have ſome buſineſs to let him.

[k] Thus he ſpeaketh contemptuouſly of David.

[l] That is, a peace-offering.

[m] Meaning, all his kinsfolk.

[n] Thou art ever contrary unto me, as thy mother is.

[o] For it were too great tyranny to put one to death, and not to ſhew the cauſe why.

[p] For this was the third day, as it was agreed upon, verſe 5.

[q] By theſe words he admoniſhed David what he ought to do.

[r] It ſeemeth that he had ſhot on the north ſide of the ſtone, leſt the boy ſhould have eſpied David.

[s] Which oath he called in the eighth verſe, the covenant of the Lord.

Bef. Chr. 1062.

43 And he aroſe and departed, and Jonathan went into the city.

THEN came David to [t] Nob to Ahimelech the prieſt, and Ahimelech was aſtoniſhed at the meeting of David, and ſaid unto him, Why art thou alone, and no man with thee?

2 And David ſaid to Ahimelech the prieſt, The [u] king hath commanded me a certain thing, and hath ſaid unto me, Let no man know whereabout I ſend thee, and what I have commanded thee: and my ſervants I have appointed to ſuch and ſuch places.

3 Now therefore if thou haſt aught under thine hand, give me five cakes of bread, or what cometh to hand.

* Exod. 25. 30. Lev. 24. 5. Matt. 12. 3, 4.

4 And the prieſt anſwered David, and ſaid, There is no common bread under mine hand, but here is * hallowed bread, if the young men have kept themſelves, at leaſt from [w] women.

5 David then anſwered the prieſt, and ſaid unto him, Certainly women have been ſeparate from us this two or three days ſince I came out: and the [x] veſſels of the young men were holy, though the way were prophane, and how much more then ſhall every one [y] be ſanctified this day in the veſſel?

6 So the prieſt gave him hallowed bread: for there was no bread there, ſave the ſhew-bread that was taken from before the Lord, to put hot bread there, the day that it was taken away.

‡ Or, maſter of them that kept Saul's cattle.

7 (And there was the ſame day one of the ſervants of Saul [z] abiding before the Lord, named Doeg the Edomite, the ‡ chiefeſt of Saul's herdmen)

* Ch. 17. 2.

9 And the prieſt ſaid, The ſword of Goliath the Philiſtine, whom thou ſleweſt in the * valley of Elah, behold, it is wrapt in a cloth behind the [a] ephod: if thou wilt take that to thee take it: for there is none other ſave that here: and David ſaid, There is none to that, give it me.

10 And David aroſe and fled the ſame day from the [b] preſence of Saul, and went to Achiſh the king of Gath.

* Ch. 17. 9.

11 And the ſervants of Achiſh ſaid unto him, Is not this David the * king of the land? did they not ſing unto him in dances, ſaying, * Saul hath ſlain his thouſands, and David his ten thouſands?

14 Then ſaid Achiſh unto his ſervants, Lo, ye ſee the man is beſide himſelf, wherefore have ye brought him to me?

1 David hideth himſelf in a cave. 2 Many that were in trouble came unto him. 9 Doeg accuſeth Abimelech. 18 Saul cauſeth the prieſts to be ſlain. 28 Abiathar eſcapeth.

DAVID therefore departed thence, and ſaved himſelf in the cave [e] of Adullam: and when his brethren and all his father's houſe heard it, they went down thither to him.

‡ Or, captain.

2 And there gathered unto him all men that were in trouble, and all men that were in debt, and all thoſe that were vexed in mind, and he was their ‡ prince, and there were with him about four hundred men.

3 ¶ And David went thence to Mizpeh in [f] Moab, and ſaid unto the king of Moab, I pray thee, let my father and my mother come and abide with you, till I know what God will do for me.

4 And he [g] brought them before the king of Moab, and they dwelt with him all the while that David was in [h] the hold.

5 And the prophet Gad ſaid unto David, Abide not in the hold, but depart and go into the land of Judah. Then David departed and came into the foreſt of Hareth.

6 ¶ And Saul heard that David was [i] diſcovered, and the men that were with him, and Saul remained in Gibeah under a tree in Ramah, having his ſpear in his hand, and all his ſervants ſtood about him.

7 And Saul ſaid unto his ſervants that ſtood about him, Hear now, ye ſons [k] of Jemini, will the ſon of Jeſſe give every one of you fields and vineyards? will he make you all captains over thouſands, and captains over hundreds:

8 That all ye have conſpired againſt me, and there is none that telleth me that my ſon hath made a covenant with the ſon of Jeſſe? and there is none of you that is ſorry for me, or ſheweth me, that my [l] ſon hath ſtirred up my ſervant to lie in wait againſt me, as appeareth this day?

5 David chaſeth the Philiſtines from Keilah. 13 David departeth from Keilah, and remaineth in the wilderneſs of Ziph. 16 Jonathan comforteth David. 28 Saul's enterprize is broken in purſuing David.

THEN they told David, ſaying, Behold the Philiſtines fight againſt [q] Keilah, and ſpoil the barns.

2 Therefore David aſked counſel of the Lord, ſaying, Shall I go and ſmite theſe Philiſtines? And the Lord anſwered David, Go and ſmite the Philiſtines, and ſave Keilah.

3 And David's men ſaid unto him, See, we be afraid here in [r] Judah, how much more if we come to Keilah againſt the hoſt of the Philiſtines?

4 Then David aſked counſel of the Lord again. And the Lord anſwered him, and ſaid, Ariſe, go down to Keilah: for I will deliver the Philiſtines into thine hand.

5 ¶ So David and his men went to Keilah, and fought with the Philiſtines, and brought away their cattle, and ſmote them with a great ſlaughter: thus David ſaved the inhabitants of Keilah.

9 ¶ And David having knowledge that Saul imagined miſchief againſt him, ſaid to Abiathar the prieſt, [t] Bring the ephod.

10 Then ſaid David, O Lord God of Iſrael, thy ſervant hath heard, that Saul is about to come to Keilah to deſtroy the city for my ſake:

24 Then they aroſe and went to Ziph before Saul, but David and his men were in the wilderneſs of Maon, in the plain on the right hand of Jeſhimon.

25 Saul alſo and his men went to ſeek him, and they told David: wherefore he came down unto a rock, and abode in the wilderneſs of [z] Maon. And when Saul heard that, he followed after David in the wilderneſs of Maon.

26 And Saul and his men went on the one ſide of the mountain, and David and his men on the other ſide of the mountain: and David made haſte to get from the preſence of Saul: for Saul and his men compaſſed David and his men round about, to take them.

27 But there came a [a] meſſenger to Saul, ſaying, Haſte thee, and come: for the Philiſtines have invaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saul returned from purſuing David, and went againſt the Philiſtines. Therefore they called that place, [b] Sela-hammahlekoth.

5 And the men of David ſaid unto him, See, the day is [e] come, whereof the Lord ſaid unto thee, Behold, I will deliver thine enemy into thine hand, and thou ſhalt do to him as it ſhall ſeem good to thee. Then David aroſe and cut off the lap of Saul's garment privily.

6 And afterward David [f] was touched in his heart, becauſe he had cut off the lap which was on Saul's garment.

7 And he ſaid unto his men, The Lord keep me from doing that thing unto my maſter the Lord's anointed, to lay mine hand upon him: for he is the anointed of the Lord.

8 So David overcame his ſervants with theſe words, and ſuffered them not to ariſe againſt Saul: ſo Saul roſe up out of the cave, and went away.

9 ¶ David alſo aroſe afterward, and went out of the cave, and cried after Saul, ſaying, O my lord the king. And when Saul looked behind him, David inclined his face to the earth, and bowed himſelf.

10 And David ſaid to Saul, [g] Wherefore giveſt thou an ear to men's words, that ſay, Behold, David ſeeketh evil againſt thee?

11 Behold, this day thine eyes have ſeen, that the Lord had delivered thee this day into mine hand in the cave, and ſome bade me kill thee, but I had compaſſion on thee, and ſaid, I will not lay mine hand on my maſter: for he is the Lord's anointed.

12 Moreover, my father, behold: behold, I ſay, the lap of thy garment in mine hand: for when I cut off the lap of thy garment, I killed thee not. Underſtand and ſee, that there is neither evil nor wickedneſs in me, neither have I ſinned againſt thee, yet thou hunteſt after my ſoul to take it.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Samuel dieth. 3 Nabal and Abigail. 38 The Lord killeth Nabal. 43 Abigail and Abinoam David's wives. 44 Michal is given to Phalti.

* Ch. 28. 3.

THEN * Samuel died, and all Iſrael aſſembled, and mourned for him, and buried him in his [k] own houſe at Ramah. And David aroſe, and went down to the wilderneſs of Paran.

2 Now in [l] Maon was a man who had his poſſeſſion in Carmel, and the man was exceeding mighty, and had three thouſand ſheep, and a thouſand goats: and he was ſhearing his ſheep in Carmel.

3 The name alſo of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail, and ſhe was a woman of ſingular wiſdom, and beautiful: but the man was churliſh, and evil conditioned, and was of the family of Caleb.

4 And David heard in the wilderneſs, that Nabal did ſhear his ſheep.

5 Therefore David ſent ten young men, and David ſaid unto the young men, Go up to Carmel, and go to Nabal, and aſk him in my † name how he doth.

† Heb. of peace.

6 And thus ſhall ye ſay for † [m] ſalutation, Both thou, and thine houſe, and all that thou haſt, be in peace, wealth and proſperity.

† Heb. for life.

7 Behold, I have heard that thou haſt ſhearers: now thy ſhepherds were with us, and we did them no hurt, neither did they miſs any thing all the while they were in Carmel.

8 Aſk thy ſervants, and they will ſhew thee. Wherefore let theſe young men find favour in thine eyes: (for we come in a good ſeaſon) give, I pray thee, whatſoever [n] cometh to thine hand unto thy ſervants, and to thy ſon David.

9 And when David's young men came, they told Nabal all thoſe words in the name of David, and held their peace.

10 Then Nabal anſwered David's ſervants, and ſaid, Who is David? and who is the [o] ſon of Jeſſe? there be many ſervants now-a-days that break away every man from his maſter.

11 Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my fleſh that I have killed for my ſhearers, and give it unto men whom I know not whence they be?

Bef. Chr. 1060.

12 ¶ So David's ſervants turned their way, and went again, and came, and told him all thoſe things.

13 And David ſaid unto his men, Gird every man his ſword about him. And they girded every man his ſword: David alſo girded his ſword. And about four hundred men went up after David, and two hundred abode by the † carriage.

† Heb. veſſel.

14 Now one of the ſervants told Abigail, Nabal's wife, ſaying, Behold, David ſent meſſengers out of the wilderneſs to ſalute our maſter, and he † railed on them.

† Heb. drove them away.

15 Notwithſtanding the men were very good [p] unto us, and we had no diſpleaſure, neither miſſed we any thing as long as we were converſant with them, when we were in the fields.

16 They were as a wall unto us both by night and by day, all the while we were with them keeping ſheep.

17 Now therefore take heed, and ſee what thou ſhalt do: for evil will † ſurely come upon our maſter, and upon all his family: for he is ſo wicked that a man cannot ſpeak to him.

† Heb. it accompliſhed.

18 ¶ Then Abigail made haſte, and took two hundred † cakes, and two bottles of wine, and five ſheep ready dreſſed, and five meaſures of parched corn, and an hundred ‡ frails of raiſins, and two hundred of figs, and laded them on aſſes.

† Heb. bread.

‡ Or, cluſters.

19 Then ſhe ſaid unto her ſervants, Go ye before me: behold, I will come after you: yet ſhe told not her [q] huſband Nabal.

20 And as ſhe rode on her aſs, ſhe came down by a ſecret place of the mountain, and behold, David and his men came down againſt her, and ſhe met them.

21 And David ſaid, Indeed I have kept all in vain that this fellow had in the wilderneſs, ſo that nothing was miſſed of all that pertained unto him: for he hath requited me evil for good.

22 So and more alſo do God unto the enemies of David: for ſurely I will not leave of all that he hath, by the dawning of the day, any that [r] piſſeth againſt the wall.

23 And when Abigail ſaw David, ſhe haſted and lighted off her aſs, and fell before David on her face, and bowed herſelf to the ground.

24 And fell at his feet, and ſaid, Oh my lord, I have committed the iniquity, and I pray thee, let thine handmaid ſpeak † to thee, and hear thou the words of thine handmaid.

† Heb. in thine ears.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this wicked man Nabal: for as his name is, ſo is he: ‡ Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmaid ſaw not the young men of my lord whom thou ſenteſt.

‡ Or, fool.

33 And bleſſed be thy counſel, and bleſſed be thou, which haſt kept me this day from coming to ſhed blood, [y] and that mine hand hath not ſaved me.

37 Then in the morning when the wine was gone out of Nabal, his wife told him thoſe words, and his heart died within him, and he was like [b] a ſtone.

11 The Lord keep me from laying mine hand upon the Lord's anointed: but, I pray thee, take now the ſpear that is at his head, and the pot of water, and let us go hence.

12 So David took the ſpear and the pot of water from Saul's head, and they gat them away, and no man ſaw it, nor marked it, neither did any awake, but they were all aſleep: for † the Lord had ſent a dead ſleep upon them.

17 And Saul knew David's voice, and ſaid, Is this thy voice, [l] my ſon David? And David ſaid, It is my voice, my lord, O king.

18 And he ſaid, Wherefore doth my lord thus perſecute his ſervant? for what have I done? or what evil is mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I beſeech thee, let my lord the king hear the words of his ſervant. If the Lord have ſtirred thee up againſt me, [m] let him ſmell the ſavour of a ſacrifice: but if the children of men have done it, curſed be they before the Lord: for they have caſt me out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the Lord, ſaying, Go, ſerve other [n] gods.

20 Now therefore let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the king of Iſrael is come out to ſeek a flea, as one would hunt a partridge in the mountains.

21 Then ſaid Saul, I have ſinned: come again, my ſon David: for I will do thee no more harm, becauſe my ſoul was [o] precious in thine eyes this day: behold, I have done fooliſhly, and have erred exceedingly.

22 Then David anſwered, and ſaid, Behold the king's ſpear, let one of the young men come over and fetch it.

23 And let the Lord reward every man according to his [p] righteouſneſs and faithfulneſs: for the Lord had delivered thee into mine hands this day, but I would not lay mine hand upon the Lord's anointed.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 David fleeth to Achiſh king of Gath, who giveth him Ziklag. 8 David deſtroyeth certain of the Philiſtines. 10 Achiſh is deceived by David.

AND David ſaid in his heart, I ſhall now [r] periſh one day by the hand of Saul: is it not better for me that I ſave myſelf in the land of the Philiſtines, and that Saul may have no hope of me to ſeek me any more in all the coaſts of Iſrael, and ſo eſcape out of his hand?

2 David therefore aroſe, and he, and the ſix hundred men that were with him, went unto Achiſh the ſon of Maoch king of Gath.

3 And David [s] dwelt with Achiſh at Gath, he, and his men, every man with his houſhold, David with his two wives, Ahinoam the Jezreelite, and Abigail Nabal's wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was told Saul, that David was fled to Gath: ſo he ſought no more for him.

5 And David ſaid unto Achiſh, If I have now found grace in thine eyes, [t] let them give me a place in ſome other city of the country, that I may dwell there: for why ſhould thy ſervant dwell in the head city of the kingdom with thee?

6 Then Achiſh gave him Ziklag that ſame day: therefore Ziklag pertaineth unto the kings of Judah unto this day.

9 And David ſmote the land, and left neither man nor woman alive, and took ſheep, and oxen, and aſſes, and camels, and apparel, and returned and came to Achiſh.

10 And Achiſh ſaid, ‡ Where have ye been a roving this day? And David anſwered, Againſt the ſouth of Judah, and againſt the ſouth of the [w] Jerahmeelites, and againſt the ſouth of the Kenites.

NOW at that time the Philiſtines aſſembled their bands and army to fight with Iſrael: therefore Achiſh ſaid to David, [x] Be ſure, thou ſhalt go out with me to the battle, thou, and thy men.

2 And David ſaid to Achiſh, Surely thou ſhalt know what thy ſervant can do. And Achiſh ſaid to David, Surely I will make thee keeper of mine head for ever.

3 * (Samuel was then dead, and all Iſrael had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah his own city: and Saul had [y] put away the ſorcerers, and the ſoothſayers out of the land)

4 Then the Philiſtines aſſembled themſelves, and came, and pitched in Shunem: and Saul aſſembled all Iſrael, and they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saul ſaw the hoſt of the Philiſtines, he was afraid, and his heart was ſore aſtoniſhed.

6 Therefore Saul aſked counſel of the Lord, and the Lord anſwered him not, neither by dreams, nor by [z] urim, nor yet by prophets.

7 ¶ Then ſaid Saul unto his ſervants, Seek me a woman that hath a familiar ſpirit, that I may go to her, and aſk of her. And his ſervants ſaid to him, Behold, there is a woman at Endor that hath a familiar ſpirit.

8 Then Saul [a] changed himſelf, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he ſaid, I pray thee, conjecture unto me by the familiar ſpirit, and bring me him up whom I ſhall name unto thee.

9 And the woman ſaid unto him, Behold, thou knoweſt what Saul hath done, how he hath deſtroyed the ſorcerers, and the ſoothſayers out of the land: wherefore then ſeekeſt thou to take me in a ſnare to cauſe me to die?

‡ Or, puniſhment.

11 Then ſaid the woman, Whom ſhall I bring up unto thee? And he anſwered, Bring me up [b] Samuel.

12 And when the woman ſaw Samuel, ſhe cried with a loud voice, and the woman ſpake to Saul, ſaying, Why haſt thou deceived me? for thou art Saul.

14 Then he ſaid unto her, What faſhion is he of? And ſhe anſwered, An old man cometh up lapped in a mantle: and Saul knew that it was [c] Samuel, and he inclined his face to the ground, and bowed himſelf.

15 ¶ And Samuel ſaid to Saul, Why haſt thou diſquieted me to bring me up? Then Saul anſwered, I am in great diſtreſs: for the Philiſtines make war againſt me, and God is departed from me, and anſwereth me no more, neither † by prophets, neither by dreams: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayeſt tell me what I ſhall do.

† Heb. by the hand of prophets.

16 Then ſaid Samuel, Wherefore then doſt thou aſk of me, ſeeing the Lord is gone from thee, and is thine enemy?

* Ch. 15. 28.

‡ Or, miniſtry.

17 Even the Lord hath done to [d] him as he ſpake * by mine ‡ hand: for the Lord will rend the kingdom out of thine hand, and give it thy neighbour David.

18 Becauſe thou obeyedſt not the voice of the Lord, nor executedſt his fierce wrath upon the Amalekites, therefore hath the Lord done this unto thee this day.

19 Moreover the Lord will deliver Iſrael with thee into the hands of the Philiſtines: [e] and to-morrow ſhalt thou and thy ſons be with me, and the Lord ſhall give the hoſt of Iſrael into the hands of the Philiſtines.

20 Then Saul fell ſtraitway all along on the earth, and was ſore [f] afraid becauſe of the words of Samuel, ſo that there was no ſtrength in him: for he had eaten no bread all the day nor all the night.

21 Then the woman came unto Saul, and ſaw that he was ſore troubled, and ſaid unto him, See, thine handmaid hath obeyed thy voice, and [g] I have put my ſoul in mine hand, and have obeyed thy words which thou ſaidſt unto me.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou alſo unto the voice of thine handmaid, and let me ſet a morſel of bread before thee, that thou mayeſt eat and get thee ſtrength, and go on thy journey.

23 But he refuſed, and ſaid, I will not eat: but his ſervants and the woman together compelled him, and he obeyed their voice: ſo he aroſe from the earth, and ſat on the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fat calf in the houſe, and ſhe haſted, and killed it, and took flour and kneaded it, and baked of it [h] unleavened bread.

25 Then ſhe brought them before Saul, and before his ſervants: and when they had eaten, they ſtood up, and went away the ſame night.

4 Then David and the people that was with him, lift up their voices and wept, until they could weep no more.

5 David's two wives were taken priſoners alſo, Ahinoam the Jezreelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And David was in great ſorrow: for the people [s] intended to ſtone him, becauſe the hearts of all the people were vexed every man for his ſons and for his daughters: but David comforted himſelf in the Lord his God.

7 ¶ And David ſaid to Abiathar the prieſt, Ahimelech's ſon, I pray thee, bring me the ephod. And Abiathar brought the ephod to David.

18 And David recovered all that the Amalekites had taken: alſo David reſcued his two wives.

The Second BOOK of SAMUEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

This book and the former beareth the title of Samuel, becauſe they contain the conception, nativity, and the whole courſe of his life, and alſo the lives and acts of two kings, to wit, of Saul and David, whom he anointed and conſecrated kings by the ordinance of God. And as the firſt book containeth thoſe things which God brought to paſs among this people under the government of Samuel and Saul: ſo this ſecond book declareth the noble acts of David after the death of Saul, when he began to reign, unto the end of his kingdom: and how the ſame by him was wonderfully augmented: alſo his great troubles and dangers which he ſuſtained both within his houſe and without: what horrible and dangerous inſurrections, uproars, and treaſons were wrought againſt him, partly by falſe counſellors, feigned friends and flatterers, and partly by ſome of his own children and people: and how by God's aſſiſtance he overcame all difficulties, and enjoyed his kingdom in reſt and peace. In the perſon of David the ſcripture ſetteth forth Chriſt Jeſus the chief King, who came of David according to the fleſh, and was perſecuted on every ſide with outward and inward enemies, as well in his own perſon, as in his members, but at length he overcometh all his enemies, and giveth his church victory againſt all power, both ſpiritual and temporal: and ſo reigneth with them King for evermore.

4 It was told David of Saul's death. 15 He cauſeth him to be ſlain that brought the tidings. 19 He lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan.

AFTER the death of Saul, when David was returned from the * ſlaughter of the Amalekites, and had been two days in Ziklag, * 1 Sam. 30. 17.

2 Behold, a man came the third day out of the hoſt from Saul with his [a] cloaths rent, and earth upon his head: and when he came to David, he fell to the earth, and did obeiſance.

3 Then David ſaid unto him, Whence comeſt thou? And he ſaid unto him, Out of the hoſt of Iſrael I am eſcaped.

4 And David ſaid unto him, What is done? I pray thee, tell me. Then he ſaid, that the people is fled from the battle, and many of the people are overthrown, and dead, and alſo Saul and Jonathan his ſon are dead.

5 And David ſaid unto the young man that told it him, How knoweſt thou that Saul and Jonathan his ſon be dead?

6 Then the young man that told him, anſwered, [b] As I came to mount Gilboa, behold, Saul leaned upon his ſpear, and lo, the chariots and ‡ horſemen followed hard after him. ‡ Or, captains.

7 And when he looked back, he ſaw me, and called me. And I anſwered, Here am I.

CHAP. II.

4 David is anointed king in Hebron. 9 Abner maketh Iſhboſheth king over Iſrael. 15 The battle of the ſervants of David and Iſhboſheth. 32 The burial of Aſahel.

AFTER this, David [n] aſked counſel of the Lord, ſaying, Shall I go up into any of the cities of Judah? And the Lord ſaid unto him, Go up. And David ſaid, Whither ſhall I go? He then anſwered, Unto [o] Hebron.

2 So David went up thither, and his two wives alſo, Ahinoam the Jezreelite, and Abigail Nabal's wife the Carmelite.

3 And David brought up the men that were with [p] him, every man with his houſhold, and they dwelt in the cities of Hebron.

4 ¶ Then the men of Judah came, and there they anointed David king over the houſe of Judah. And they told David, ſaying, * that the men of Jabeſh Gilead buried Saul.

* 1 Sam. 31. 13.

5 And David ſent meſſengers unto the men of Jabeſh Gilead, and ſaid unto them, Bleſſed are ye of the Lord, that ye have ſhewed ſuch kindneſs unto your lord Saul, that you have buried him.

6 Therefore now the Lord ſhew mercy and [q] truth unto you: and I will recompenſe you this benefit, becauſe ye have done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands be ſtrong, and be you valiant: albeit your maſter Saul be dead, yet neverthleſs the houſe of Judah hath anointed me [r] king over them.

8 ¶ But Abner the ſon of Ner, that was captain of Saul's hoſt, took Iſhboſheth the ſon of Saul, and brought him to Mahanaim,

9 And made him king over Gilead, and over the Aſhurites, and over Jezreel, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over [s] all Iſrael.

Bef. Chr. 1055.

10 Iſhboſheth Saul's ſon was forty years old when he began to reign over Iſrael, and reigned two years: but the houſe of Judah followed David.

11 (And the time which David reigned in Hebron over the houſe of Judah, was ſeven years and ſix [t] months.)

12 ¶ And Abner the ſon of Ner, and the ſervants of Iſhboſheth the ſon of Saul, went out of Mahanaim to Gibeon.

13 And Joab the ſon of Zeruiah, and the ſervants of David, went out and met one another by the pool of Gibeon: and they ſat down, the one on the one ſide of the pool, and the other on the other ſide of the pool.

14 Then Abner ſaid to Joab, Let the young men now ariſe, and [u] play before us. And Joab ſaid, Let them ariſe.

15 Then there aroſe and went out twelve of Benjamin by number, which pertained to Iſhboſheth the ſon of Saul, and twelve of the ſervants of David.

16 And every one caught [w] his fellow by the head, and thruſt his ſword in his fellow's ſide, ſo they fell down together: wherefore the place was called ‡ Helkath-hazzurim, which is in Gibeon.

‡ Or, the field of ſtrong men.

17 And the battle was exceeding ſore that ſame day: for Abner and the men of Iſrael [x] fell before the ſervants of David.

18 And there were three ſons of Zeruiah there, Joab, and Abiſhai, and Aſahel. And Aſahel was as light on foot as a wild roe.

19 And Aſahel followed after Abner, and in going he turned neither to the right hand nor to the left from Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behind him, and ſaid, Art thou Aſahel? And he anſwered, Yea.

21 Then Abner ſaid, Turn thee either to the right hand, or to the left, and take one of the young men, and take thee his ‡ weapons: but Aſahel would not depart from him.

‡ Or, ſpoil.

22 And Abner ſaid to Aſahel, Depart from me: [y] wherefore ſhould I ſmite thee to the ground? how then ſhould I be able to hold up my face to Joab thy brother?

23 And when he would not depart, Abner with the hinder end of the ſpear ſmote him under the [z] fifth rib, that the ſpear came out behind him: and he fell down there, and died in his place. And as many as came to the place where Aſahel fell down and died, ſtood ſtill.

24 Joab alſo and Abiſhai purſued after Abner: and the ſun went down, when they were come to the hill Ammah, that lieth before Giah, by the way of the wilderneſs of Gibeon.

1 Long war between the houſes of Saul and David. 2 The children of David in Hebron. 12 Abner turneth to David. 27 Joab killeth him.

THERE was then [d] long war between the houſe of Saul and the houſe of David: but David waxed ſtronger, and the houſe of Saul waxed weaker.

2 ¶ And unto David were children born in Hebron: and his eldeſt ſon was Amnon of Ahinoam the Jezreeliteſs:

3 And the ſecond was [e] Chileab of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite: and the third, Abſalom the ſon of Maacah the daughter of Talmai the king of Jeſhur:

4 And the fourth, Adonijah the ſon of Haggith: and the fifth, Shephatiah the ſon of Abital:

5 And the ſixth, Ithream by Eglah David's wife: theſe were born to David in [f] Hebron.

6 ¶ Now while there was war between the houſe of Saul and the houſe of David, Abner made all his power for the houſe of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine named Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah. And Iſh-boſheth ſaid to Abner, Wherefore haſt thou gone in to my father's concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the words of Iſh-boſheth, and ſaid, Am I a [g] dog's head, which againſt Judah do ſhew mercy this day unto the houſe of Saul thy father, to his brethren, and to his neighbours, and have not delivered thee into the hand of David, that thou chargeſt me this day with a fault concerning this woman?

17 ¶ And Abner had [i] communication with the elders of Iſrael, ſaying, Ye ſought for David in times paſt, that he might be your king.

18 Now then do it: for the LORD hath ſpoken of David, ſaying, By the hand of my ſervant David I will ſave my people of Iſrael out of the hands of the Philiſtines, and out of the hands of all their enemies.

19 Alſo Abner ſpake † to Benjamin, and afterward Abner went to ſpeak with David in Hebron, concerning all that Iſrael was content with, and the whole [k] houſe of Benjamin.

20 So Abner came to David to Hebron, having twenty men with him, and David made a feaſt unto Abner, and to the men that were with him.

‡ Or, without harm.

21 Then Abner ſaid unto David, I will riſe up, and go gather all Iſrael unto my lord the king, that they may make a covenant with thee, and that thou mayeſt reign over all that thine heart deſireth. Then David let Abner depart, who went ‡ in peace.

22 ¶ And behold, the ſervants of David and Joab came [l] from the camp, and brought a great prey with them (but Abner was not with David in Hebron: for he had ſent him away, and he departed in peace)

7 And the Lord was very wroth with Uzzah, and God [n] ſmote him in the ſame place for his fault, and there he died by the ark of God.

8 And David was diſpleaſed, becauſe the Lord had † ſmitten Uzzah: and he called the name of the place ‡ Perez-Uzzah: until this day. † Heb. made a breach. ‡ Or, the diviſion of Uzzah.

9 Therefore David that day feared the Lord, and ſaid, How ſhall the ark of the Lord come to me?

10 So David would not bring the ark of the Lord unto him into the city of David, but David carried it into the houſe of Obed-edom [o] a Gittite.

11 And the ark of the Lord continued in the houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite three months, and the Lord bleſſed Obed-edom, and all his houſhold.

12 ¶ And one told king David, ſaying, * The Lord hath bleſſed the houſe of Obed-edom, and all that he hath, becauſe of the ark of God: therefore David went and [p] brought the ark of God from the houſe of Obed-edom into the city of David with gladneſs. * 1 Chron. 15. 25.

13 And when they that bare the ark of the Lord had gone ſix paces, he offered an ox, and a fat beaſt.

14 And David danced before the Lord with all his might, and was girded with a linen [q] ephod.

15 So David and all the houſe of Iſrael brought the ark of the Lord with ſhouting, and ſound of trumpet.

16 And as the ark of the Lord came into the city of David, Michal, Saul's daughter, looked through a window, and ſaw king David leap, and dance before the Lord, and ſhe [r] deſpiſed him in her heart.

17 And when they had brought in the ark of the Lord, they ſet it in his place, in the midſt of the tabernacle that David had pitched for it: then David offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings before the Lord.

18 And as ſoon as David had made an end of offering burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, he * bleſſed the people in the name of the Lord of hoſts, * 1 Chron. 16. 2.

19 And gave among all the people, even among the whole multitude of Iſrael, as well to the women as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a piece of fleſh, and a bottle of wine: ſo all the people departed every one to his houſe.

20 ¶ Then David returned to [s] bleſs his houſe, and Michal the daughter of Saul came out to meet David, and ſaid, O how glorious was the king of Iſrael this day, who was uncovered to-day in the eyes of the maidens of his ſervants, as a ‡ fool uncovereth himſelf! ‡ Or, vain man.

21 Then David ſaid unto Michal, [t] It was before the Lord, who choſe me rather than thy father, and all his houſe, and commanded me to be ruler over the people of the Lord, even over Iſrael: and therefore will I play before the Lord, Bef. Chr. 1042.

DAVID lamenting the Death of ABSALOM. II Saml. VIII Ch. 33 v.

O my ſon Abſalom, my ſon, my ſon Abſalom: would God I had died for thee.

Bef. Chr. 1042.

from all thine enemies: alſo the Lord telleth thee, that he will make thee an houſe.

12 * And when thy days be fulfilled, thou ſhalt ſleep with thy fathers, and I will ſet up thy ſeed after thee, which ſhall proceed out of thy body, and will eſtabliſh his kingdom.

* 1 Kings 8. 20.

13 * He ſhall build an houſe for my name, and I will eſtabliſh the throne of his kingdom for ever.

* 1 Kings 5. 5. and 6. 12. 1 Chron. 22. 10.

14 * I will be his father, and he ſhall be my ſon: and * if he ſin, I will chaſten him with the [b] rod of men, and with the plagues of the children of men:

* Heb. 1. 5.
* Pſ. 89. 31, 32.

15 But my mercy ſhall not depart away from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I have put away before thee.

16 And thine houſe ſhall be eſtabliſhed, and thy kingdom for ever before thee, even thy throne ſhall be [c] eſtabliſhed for ever.

17 According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, Nathan ſpake thus unto David.

18 ¶ Then king David went in, and ſat before the Lord, and ſaid, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine houſe, that thou haſt brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a ſmall thing in thy ſight, O Lord God, therefore thou haſt ſpoken alſo of thy ſervant's houſe for a great while: but † doth this appertain to [d] man, O Lord God?

† Heb. is this the law of man.

20 And what can David ſay more unto thee? for thou, Lord God, knoweſt thy ſervant.

21 For thy word's ſake, and according to thine own heart, haſt thou done all theſe great things, to make them known unto thy ſervant.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God beſides thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

23 * And what one people in the earth is like thy people, like Iſrael? whoſe God went and redeemed them to himſelf, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, and do for [e] you great things, and terrible for thy [f] land, O Lord, even for thy people, whom thou redeemedſt to thee out of Egypt, from the [g] nations, and their gods?

* Deut. 4. 7.

24 For thou haſt [h] ordained to thyſelf thy people Iſrael to be thy people for ever: and thou, Lord, art become their God.

25 Now therefore, O Lord God, confirm for ever the word that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſervant and his houſe, and do as thou haſt ſaid.

26 And let thy name be magnified for ever by them that ſhall ſay, The Lord of hoſts is the God over Iſrael: and let the [i] houſe of thy ſervant David be eſtabliſhed before thee.

27 For thou, O Lord of hoſts, God of Iſrael, haſt revealed unto thy ſervant, ſaying, I will build thee an houſe: therefore hath thy ſervant † been bold to pray this prayer unto thee.

Bef. Chr. 1042.

† Heb. found his heart diſpoſed.

28 Therefore now, O Lord God, (for thou art God, and thy words be true, and thou haſt told this goodneſs unto thy ſervant)

29 Therefore now let it pleaſe thee to bleſs the houſe of thy ſervant, that it may continue for ever before thee: for thou, O Lord God, haſt [k] ſpoken it: and let the houſe of thy ſervant be bleſſed for ever with thy bleſſing.

CHAP. VIII.

1 David overcometh the Philiſtines, and other ſtrange nations, and maketh them tributaries to Iſrael.

7 And David took the ſhields of gold that belonged to the ſervants of Hadadezer, and brought them to [p] Jeruſalem.

8 And out of Betah, and Berothai (cities of Hadadezer) king David brought exceeding much braſs.

CHAP. IX.

9 David reſtoreth all the lands of Saul to Mephiboſheth the ſon of Jonathan. 10 He appointeth Zibe to ſee to the profit of his lands.

AND David ſaid, Is there yet any man left of the houſe of Saul, that I may ſhew him mercy for [t] Jonathan's ſake?

2 And there was of the houſhold of Saul a ſervant whoſe name was Ziba: and when they had called him unto David, the king ſaid unto him, Art thou Ziba? And he ſaid, I thy ſervant am he.

3 Then the king ſaid, Remaineth there yet none of the houſe of Saul, on whom I may ſhew the [u] mercy of God? Ziba then anſwered the king, Jonathan hath yet a ſon * lame of his feet.

* Ch. 4. 4.

4 Then the king ſaid unto him, Where is he? And Ziba ſaid unto the king, Behold he is in the houſe of Machir the ſon of Ammiel of Lo-debar.

5 ¶ Then king David ſent, and took him out of the houſe of Machir the ſon of [w] Ammiel of Lo-debar.

6 Now when Mephiboſheth the ſon of Jonathan, the ſon of Saul, was come unto David, he fell on his face, and did reverence. And David ſaid, Mephiboſheth? And he anſwered, Behold thy ſervant.

7 Then David ſaid unto him, Fear not: for I will ſurely ſhew thee kindneſs for Jonathan thy father's ſake, and will reſtore thee all the ‡ fields of Saul thy father, and thou ſhalt eat bread at my table continually.

‡ Or, lands.

8 And he bowed himſelf, and ſaid, What is thy ſervant, that thou ſhouldeſt look upon ſuch [x] a dead dog as I am?

9 Then the king called Ziba, Saul's ſervant, and ſaid unto him, I have given unto thy maſter's ‡ ſon all that pertained to Saul and to all his houſe.

Bef. Chr. 1040.

‡ Or, nephew.

10 Thou therefore and thy [y] ſons and thy ſervants ſhall till the land for him, and bring in, that thy maſter's ſon may have food to eat. And Mephiboſheth thy maſter's ſon ſhall eat bread always at my table (now Ziba had fifteen ſons, and twenty ſervants.)

11 Then ſaid Ziba unto the king, According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his ſervant, ſo ſhall thy ſervant do, [z] that Mephiboſheth may eat at thy table, as one of the king's ſons.

12 Mephiboſheth alſo had a young ſon named Micha, and all that dwelled in the houſe of Ziba, were ſervants unto Mephiboſheth.

13 And Mephiboſheth dwelt in Jeruſalem: for he did eat continually at the king's table, and was lame on both his feet.

CHAP. X.

4 The meſſengers of David are villainouſly treated by the king of Ammon. 7 Joab is ſent againſt the Ammonites.

AFTER this, the * king of the children of Ammon died, and Hanun his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

* 1 Chron. 19. 2.

2 Then ſaid David, I will ſhew kindneſs unto Hanun the ſon of Nahaſh, as his father [a] ſhewed kindneſs unto me. And David ſent his ſervants to comfort him for his father. So David's ſervants came into the land of the children of Ammon.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon ſaid unto Hanun their lord, † Thinkeſt thou that David doth honour thy father, that he hath ſent comforters to thee? hath not David rather ſent his ſervants unto thee, [b] to ſearch the city, and to ſpy it out, and to overthrow it?

4 Wherefore Hanun took David's ſervants, and ſhaved off the half of their beards, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 ¶ When it was told unto David, he ſent to meet them (for the men were exceedingly aſhamed) and the king ſaid, Tarry at Jericho, until your beards be grown, then return.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon ſaw that they [c] ſtank in the ſight of David, the children of Ammon ſent and hired the ‡ Aramites of the houſe of Rehob, and the Aramites of Zoba, twenty thouſand footmen, and of king Maachah a thouſand men, and of Iſh-tob twelve thouſand men.

10 And the reſt of the people he delivered into the hand of Abiſhai his brother, that he might put them in array againſt the children of Ammon.

11 And he ſaid, if the Aramites be ſtronger than I, thou ſhalt help me: and if the children of Ammon be too ſtrong for thee, I will come and ſuccour thee.

12 Be ſtrong, and let us be valiant for our [e] people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his eyes.

13 Then Joab and the people that was with him, joined in battle with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that the Aramites fled, they fled alſo before Abiſhai, and entered into the city. So Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jeruſalem.

15 ¶ And when the Aramites ſaw that they were ſmitten before Iſrael, they gathered them together.

19 And when all the kings that were ſervants to Hadarezer ſaw that they fell before Iſrael, they made peace with Iſrael, and ſerved them, and the Amorites feared to help the children of Ammon any more.

1 The city Rabbah is beſieged. 4 David committeth adultery. 17 Uriah is ſlain. 27 David marrieth Bath-ſheba.

AND when the year was [h] expired in the time when kings go forth to battle, David ſent * Joab, and his ſervants with him, and all Iſrael, who deſtroyed the children of Ammon, and beſieged Rabbah: but David remained in Jeruſalem.

2 ¶ And when it was evening-tide, David aroſe out of his [i] bed, and walked upon the roof of the king's palace: and from the roof he ſaw a woman waſhing herſelf: and the woman was very beautiful to look upon.

Bef. Chr. 1035.

3 And David ſent and enquired what woman it was: and one ſaid, Is not this Bath-ſheba the daughter of Eliam, wife to Uriah the [k] Hittite?

4 Then David ſent meſſengers, and took her away: and ſhe came unto him, and he lay with her: (now ſhe was * purified from her uncleanneſs) and ſhe returned unto her houſe.

* Lev. 15. 19. and 18. 19.

5 And the woman conceived: therefore ſhe ſent and [l] told David, and ſaid, I am with child.

6 ¶ Then David ſent to Joab, ſaying, Send me Uriah the Hittite. And Joab ſent Uriah to David.

7 And when Uriah came unto him, David demanded him how Joab did, and how the people fared, and how the war proſpered.

8 Afterward David ſaid to Uriah, [m] Go down to thine houſe, and waſh thy feet. So Uriah departed out of the king's palace, and the king ſent a preſent after him.

9 But Uriah ſlept at the door of the king's palace with all the ſervants of his lord, and went not down to his houſe.

10 Then they told David, ſaying, Uriah went not down to his houſe: And David ſaid unto Uriah, Comeſt thou not from thy journey? why didſt thou not go down to thine houſe?

11 Then Uriah anſwered David, [n] The ark and Iſrael, and Judah, dwell in tents: and my lord Joab, and the ſervants of my lord, abide in the open fields: ſhall I then go into mine houſe to eat and drink, and lie with my wife? by thy life, and by the life of thy ſoul, I will not do this thing.

12 Then David ſaid unto Uriah, Tarry yet this day, and to-morrow I will ſend thee away. So Uriah abode in Jeruſalem that day and the morrow.

13 Then David called him, and he did eat and drink before him, and he made him [o] drunk: and at even he went out to lie on his couch with the ſervants of his lord, but went not down to his houſe.

14 And on the morrow David wrote a letter to Joab, and ſent it by the hand of Uriah.

15 And he wrote thus in the letter †, [p] Put ye Uriah in the fore front of the ſtrength of the battle, and retire ye back from him, that he may be ſmitten, and die.

† Heb. ſaying.

16 ¶ So when Joab beſieged the city, he aſſigned Uriah unto a place where he knew that ſtrong men were.

17 And the men of the city came out, and fought with Joab: and there fell of the people of the ſervants of David, and Uriah the Hittite alſo died.

18 Then Joab ſent and told David all the things concerning the war.

22 ¶ So the meſſenger went, and came, and ſhewed David all that Joab had ſent him for.

23 And the meſſenger ſaid unto David, Certainly the men prevailed againſt us, and came out unto us into the field, but we † purſued them unto the entering of the gate.

† Heb. were againſt them.

24 But the ſhooters ſhot from the wall againſt thy ſervants, and ſome of the king's ſervants be dead: and thy ſervant Uriah the Hittite is alſo dead.

25 Then David ſaid unto the meſſenger, [r] Thus ſhalt thou ſay unto Joab, Let not this thing trouble thee: for the ſword devoureth † one as well as another: make thy battle more ſtrong againſt the city, and deſtroy it, and encourage thou him.

THEN the Lord ſent [s] Nathan unto David, who came to him, and ſaid unto him, There were two men in one city, the one rich, and the other poor.

2 The rich man had exceeding many ſheep and oxen:

3 But the poor had none at all, ſave one little ſheep which he had bought, and nouriſhed up: and it grew up with him, and with his children alſo, and did eat of his own morſels, and drank of his own cup, and ſlept in his boſom, and was unto him as his daughter.

4 Now there came a ‡ ſtranger unto the rich man, who ‡ refuſed to take of his own ſheep, and of his own oxen, to dreſs for the ſtranger that was come unto him, but took the poor man's ſheep, and dreſſed it for the man that was come to him.

‡ Or, way-faring man.
‡ Or, ſpared.

Bef. Chr. 1034.

5 Then † David was exceeding wroth with the man, and ſaid to Nathan, As the Lord liveth, the man that hath done this thing, † ſhall ſurely die.

† Heb. the anger of David was kindled.
† Heb. is the child of death.

6 And he ſhall reſtore the lamb * fourfold, becauſe he did this thing, and had no pity thereof.

* Exod. 22. 1.

7 Then Nathan ſaid to David, Thou art the man. Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, * I anointed thee king over Iſrael, and delivered thee out of the hand of Saul,

* 1 Sam. 16. 13.

8 And gave thee thy lord's [t] houſe, and thy lord's [u] wives into thy boſom, and gave thee the houſe of Iſrael, and of Judah, and would moreover (if that had been too little) have given thee [w] ſuch and ſuch things.

9 Wherefore haſt thou deſpiſed the commandment of the Lord, to do evil in his ſight? thou haſt killed Uriah the Hittite with the ſword, and haſt taken his wife to be thy wife, and haſt ſlain him with the ſword of the [x] children of Ammon.

10 Now therefore the ſword ſhall never depart from thine houſe, becauſe thou haſt deſpiſed me, and taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will raiſe up evil againſt thee out of thine own houſe, and will * take thy wives before thine eyes, and give them unto thy neighbour, and he ſhall lie with thy wives in the ſight of this [y] ſun.

* Deut. 28. 30. Ch. 16. 22.

12 For thou didſt it ſecretly: but I will do this thing before all Iſrael, and before the ſun.

13 Then David ſaid unto Nathan, I have ſinned againſt the Lord. And Nathan ſaid unto David, The Lord alſo hath [z] put away thy ſin, thou ſhalt not die.

14 Howbeit, becauſe by this deed thou haſt cauſed the enemies of the Lord to [a] blaſpheme, the child that is born unto thee ſhall ſurely die.

15 ¶ So Nathan departed unto his houſe: and the Lord ſtruck the child that Uriah's wife bare unto David, and it was ſick.

16 David therefore beſought God for the child, and faſted, and [b] went in, and lay all night upon the earth.

17 Then the elders of his houſe aroſe to come unto him, and to cauſe him to riſe from the ground: but he would not, neither did he eat [c] meat with them.

18 So on the ſeventh day the child died: and the ſervants of David feared to tell him that the child was dead: for they ſaid, Behold, while the child was alive, we ſpake unto him, and he would not hearken unto our voice: how then ſhall we ſay unto him, The child is dead, † to vex him more?

† Heb. and he will do himſelf evil.

19 But when David ſaw that his ſervants whiſpered, David perceived that the child was dead: therefore David ſaid unto his ſervants, Is the child dead? And they ſaid, He is dead.

14 Amnon, David's ſon, defileth his ſiſter Tamar.

29 Abſalom therefore killeth Amnon.

NOW after this, ſo it was, that Abſalom the ſon of David having a fair ſiſter, whoſe name was [n] Tamar, Amnon the ſon of David loved her.

Bef. Chr. 1032.

2 And Amnon was ſo ſore vexed that he fell ſick for his ſiſter Tamar: for ſhe was a [o] virgin, and it ſeemed hard to Amnon to do any thing to her.

3 But Amnon had a friend called Jonadab, the ſon of Shimeah David's brother: and Jonadab was a very ſubtle man:

4 Who ſaid unto him, Why art thou, the king's ſon, ſo lean from day to day? wilt thou not tell me? Then Amnon anſwered him, I love Tamar my brother Abſalom's ſiſter.

5 And Jonadab ſaid unto him, [p] Lie down on thy bed, and make thyſelf ſick: and when thy father ſhall come to ſee thee, ſay unto him, I pray thee, let my ſiſter Tamar come, and give me meat, and let her dreſs meat in my ſight, that I may ſee it, and eat it of her hand.

6 ¶ So Amnon lay down, and made himſelf ſick: and when the king came to ſee him, Amnon ſaid unto the king, I pray thee, let Tamar my ſiſter come, and make me a couple of [q] cakes in my ſight, that I may receive meat at her hand.

7 Then David ſent home to Tamar, ſaying, Go now to thy brother Amnon's houſe, and dreſs him meat.

8 ¶ So Tamar went to her brother Amnon's houſe, and he lay down: and ſhe took ‡ flour, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his ſight, and did bake the cakes.

‡ Or, paſte.

9 And ſhe took a pan, and [r] poured them out before him, but he would not eat. Then Amnon ſaid, Cauſe ye every man to go out from [s] me: ſo every man went out from him.

10 Then Amnon ſaid unto Tamar, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tamar took the cakes which ſhe had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

11 And when ſhe had ſet them before him to eat, he took her, and ſaid unto her, Come, lie with me, my ſiſter.

12 But ſhe anſwered him, Nay, my brother, do not force me: for no ſuch thing * ought to be done in Iſrael: commit not this folly.

‡ Or, how ſhall I put away my ſhame.

14 Howbeit he would not hearken unto her voice, but being ſtronger than ſhe, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnon hated her exceedingly, ſo that the hatred wherewith he hated her, was greater than the love wherewith he had loved her: and Amnon ſaid unto her, Up, get thee hence.

16 And ſhe anſwered him, ‡ There is no cauſe: this evil (to put me away) is greater

19 And Tamar put aſhes on her head, and rent the garment of divers colours which was on her, and laid her hand on her head, and went her way, crying.

20 And Abſalom her brother ſaid unto her, Hath Amnon thy brother been with thee? Now yet be [w] ſtill, my ſiſter: he is thy brother: let not this thing grieve thine heart. So Tamar remained deſolate in her brother Abſalom's houſe.

28 ¶ Now had Abſalom commanded his ſervants, ſaying, Mark now when Amnon's heart is merry with wine, and when I ſay unto you, Smite Amnon, kill him, fear not, for have not [z] I commanded you? be bold therefore, and play the men.

29 And the ſervants of Abſalom did unto Amnon as Abſalom had commanded: and all the king's ſons aroſe, and every man gat him up upon his mule, and fled.

30 ¶ And while they were in the way, tidings came to David, ſaying, Abſalom hath ſlain all the king's ſons, and there is not one of them left.

25 Now in all Iſrael there was none to be ſo much praiſed for beauty as Abſalom: from the ſole of his foot even to the top of his head there was no blemiſh in him.

26 And when he polled his head (for at every year's end he polled it: becauſe it was too heavy for him, therefore he polled it) he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred [s] ſhekels by the king's weight.

2 The practices of Abſalom to aſpire to the kingdom. 14 David and his flee. 31 David's prayer. 34 Huſhai is ſent to Abſalom to diſcover his counſel.

† Heb. made him.

AFTER this Abſalom † prepared him chariots, and horſes, and fifty men to [w] run before him.

‡ Or, controverſy.

2 And Abſalom roſe up early, and ſtood hard by the entering in of the gate: and every man that had any ‡ matter, and came to the king for judgment, him did Abſalom call unto him, and ſaid, Of what city art thou? And he anſwered, Thy ſervant is of one of the [x] tribes of Iſrael.

3 Then Abſalom ſaid unto him, See, thy matters are good and righteous, but there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee.

4 Abſalom ſaid moreover, [y] Oh that I were made judge in the land, that every man which hath any matter of controverſy, might come to me, that I might do him juſtice!

5 And when any man came near to him, and did him obeiſance, he put forth his hand, and took him, and kiſſed him.

6 And on this manner did Abſalom to all Iſrael, that came to the king for judgment, ſo Abſalom [z] ſtole the hearts of the men of Iſrael.

7 ¶ And after [a] forty years, Abſalom ſaid unto the king, I pray thee, let me go to Hebron, and render my vow which I have vowed unto the Lord.

8 For thy ſervant vowed a vow when I remained at Geſhur, in Aram, ſaying, If the Lord ſhall bring me again indeed to Jeruſalem, I will [b] ſerve the Lord.

9 And the king ſaid unto him, Go in peace. So he aroſe, and went to Hebron.

10 ¶ Then Abſalom ſent ſpies throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying, When ye hear the ſound of the trumpet, ye ſhall ſay, Abſalom reigneth in Hebron.

18 And all his ſervants went about him, and all the [f] Cherethites, and all the Pelethites, and all the Gittites, even ſix hundred men which were come after him from Gath, went before the king.

19 Then ſaid the king to [g] Ittai the Gittite, Wherefore comeſt thou alſo with us? Return and abide with the king, for thou art a ſtranger: depart thou therefore to thy place.

20 Thou cameſt yeſterday, and ſhould I cauſe thee to wander to-day and go with us? I will go whither I can: therefore return thou and carry again thy [h] brethren: mercy and truth [i] be with thee.

21 And Ittai anſwered the king, and ſaid, As the Lord liveth, and as my lord the king liveth, in what place my lord the king ſhall be, whether in death or life, even there ſurely will thy ſervant be.

22 Then David ſaid to Ittai, Come, and go forward. And Ittai the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

WHEN David was a little paſt the [r] top of the hill, behold, Ziba the ſervant of Mephiboſheth met him with a couple of aſſes ſaddled, and upon them two hundred cakes of bread, and an hundred bunches of raiſins, and an hundred of ‡ dried figs, and a bottle of wine.

‡ Or, fig-cakes.

2 And the king ſaid unto Ziba, What meaneſt thou by theſe? And Ziba ſaid, They be [s] aſſes for the king's houſhold to ride on, and bread and dried figs for the young men to eat, and wine, that the faint may drink in the wilderneſs.

3 And the king ſaid, But where is thy maſter's ſon? Then Ziba anſwered the king, Behold, he remaineth in Jeruſalem: for he ſaid, This day ſhall the houſe of Iſrael reſtore me the kingdom of my father.

4 Then ſaid the king to Ziba, Behold, thine are all that pertained unto Mephiboſheth. And Ziba ſaid, † I beſeech thee, let me find grace in thy ſight, my lord, O king.

† Heb. I worſhip.

5 ¶ And when king David came to [t] Bahurim, behold, thence came out a man of the family of the houſe of Saul, named Shimei the ſon of Gera: and he came out, and curſed.

6 And he caſt ſtones at David, and at all the ſervants of king David: and all the people, and all the men of war were on his [u] right hand, and on his left.

7 And thus ſaid Shimei when he curſed, Come forth, come forth, thou † murderer, and † wicked man.

† Heb. man of blood.
† Heb. man of Belial.

8 The Lord hath brought upon thee all the [w] blood of the houſe of Saul, in whoſe ſtead thou haſt reigned: and the Lord hath delivered thy kingdom into the hand of Abſalom thy ſon: and behold, thou art taken in thy wickedneſs, becauſe thou art a murderer.

9 Then ſaid Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah unto the king, Why doth * this dead dog curſe my lord the king? let me go, I pray thee, and take away his head.

* 1 Sam. 24. 15. and 3. 8.

10 ¶ But the king ſaid, What have I to do with you, ye ſons of Zeruiah? for he curſeth, even becauſe the Lord hath [x] bidden him curſe David: who dare then ſay, Wherefore haſt thou done ſo?

11 And David ſaid to Abiſhai, and to all his ſervants, Behold, my ſon which came out of mine own bowels, ſeeketh my life: then how much more now may this ſon of Jemini? Suffer him to curſe: for the Lord hath bidden him.

12 It may be that the Lord will look on ‡ mine affliction, and [y] do me good for his curſing this day.

‡ Or, my tears.

13 And as David and his men went by the way, Shimei went by the ſide of the mountain over-againſt him, and curſed as he went, and threw ſtones againſt him, and caſt duſt.

14 Then came the king and all the people that were with him weary, and refreſhed themſelves [z] there.

15 ¶ And Abſalom, and all the people, the men of Iſrael, came to Jeruſalem, and Ahithophel with him.

16 And when Huſhai the Archite, David's friend, was come unto Abſalom, Huſhai ſaid unto Abſalom, † God ſave the king, God ſave the king.

† Heb. Let the king live.

17 Then Abſalom ſaid to Huſhai, Is this thy kindneſs to thy [a] friend? Why wenteſt thou not with thy friend?

18 Huſhai then anſwered unto Abſalom, Nay, but whom the Lord, and this people, and all the men of Iſrael chuſe, his will I be, and with him will I dwell.

19 And † moreover unto whom ſhall I do ſervice? not to his ſon? as I ſerved before thy father, ſo will I be before thee.

7 Ahithophel's counſel is overthrown by Huſhai. 14 The Lord had ſo ordained. 19 The prieſts ſons are hid in the well. 22 David goeth over Jordan. 23 Ahithophel hangeth himſelf. 27 They bring victuals to David.

MOreover Ahithophel ſaid to Abſalom, [c] Let me chuſe out now twelve thouſand men, and I will up and follow after David this night,

2 And I will come upon him: for he is weary, and weak handed: ſo I will fear him, and all the people that are with him ſhall flee, and I will ſmite the king only.

3 And I will bring again all the people unto thee, and when all ſhall return, ([d] the man whom thou ſeekeſt being ſlain) all the people ſhall be in peace.

4 And the ſaying † pleaſed Abſalom well, and all the elders of Iſrael.

6 So when Huſhai came to Abſalom, Abſalom ſpake unto him, ſaying, Ahithophel hath ‡ ſpoken thus: ſhall we do after his ſaying, or no? tell thou.

‡ Or, given ſuch counſel.

7 Huſhai then anſwered unto Abſalom, The counſel that Ahithophel hath given, is not[e] good at this time.

8 For, ſaid Huſhai, thou knoweſt thy father, and his men, that they be ſtrong men, and are chafed in mind as a bear robbed of her whelps in the field: alſo thy father is a valiant warrior, and will not ‡ lodge with the people.

‡ Or, tarry all night.

9 Behold, he is hid now in ſome cave, or in ſome place: and though ſome of them be overthrown at the firſt, yet the people ſhall hear, and ſay, The people that follow Abſalom, † be overthrown.

† Heb. have a breach or ruin.

10 Then he alſo that is valiant, whoſe heart is as the heart of a lion, ſhall † ſhrink and faint: for all Iſrael knoweth, that thy father is valiant, and they which be with him, ſtout men.

† Heb. melt.

11 Therefore my counſel is, that all Iſrael be gathered unto thee, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba as the ſand of the ſea in number, and that thou go to battle in thine own perſon.

12 So ſhall we come upon him in ſome place, where we ſhall find him, and ‡ we will upon him as the dew falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we will not leave him one.

‡ Or, we will camp againſt him.

13 Moreover if he be gotten into a city, then ſhall all the men of Iſrael bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the river, until there be not one ſmall ſtone found there.

14 ¶ Then Abſalom and all the men of Iſrael ſaid, The counſel of Huſhai the Archite is better than the counſel of Ahithophel: for the Lord had ‡ determined to deſtroy the [f] good counſel of Ahithophel, that the Lord might [g] bring evil upon Abſalom.

‡ Or, commanded.

15 Then ſaid Huſhai unto Zadok and to Abiathar the prieſts, Of this and that manner did Ahithophel and the elders of Iſrael counſel Abſalom: and thus and thus have I counſelled.

16 Now therefore ſend quickly, and ſhew David, ſaying, Tarry not this night in the fields of the wilderneſs, but rather get thee [h] over, leſt the king be devoured and all the people that are with him.

17 ¶ Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz abode by ‡ En-rogel: (for they might not be ſeen to come into the city) and a maid went, and told [i] them, and they went and ſhewed king David.

‡ Or, the well of Rogel.

18 Neverthleſs, a young man ſaw them, and told it to Abſalom, therefore they both departed quickly, and came to a man's houſe in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went down.

19 And the [k] wife took and ſpread a covering over the well's mouth, and ſpread ground corn thereon, that the thing ſhould not be known.

20 And when Abſalom's ſervants came to the wife into the houſe, they ſaid, Where is Ahimaaz and Jonathan? And the woman anſwered them, They be gone over the [l] brook of water. And when they had ſought them, and could not find them, they returned to Jeruſalem.

21 And as ſoon as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and told king David, and ſaid unto him, Up, and get you quickly over the water: for [m] ſuch counſel hath Ahithophel given againſt you.

22 Then David aroſe, and all the people that were with him, and they went over Jordan [n] until the dawning of the day, ſo that there lacked not one of them, that was not come over Jordan.

23 ¶ Now when Ahithophel ſaw that his counſel was not followed, he ſaddled his aſs, and aroſe, and he went home unto his city, and put his houſhold in order, and [o] hanged himſelf, and died, and was buried in his father's grave.

24 ¶ Then David came to Mahanaim. And Abſalom paſſed over Jordan, he, and all the men of Iſrael with him.

25 And Abſalom made Amaſa captain of the hoſt in the ſtead of Joab: which Amaſa was a man's ſon named Ithra an Iſraelite that went in to Abigail the daughter of [p] Nahaſh, ſiſter to Zeruiah, Joab's mother.

2 David divideth his army into three parts. 9 Abſalom is hanged, ſlain, and caſt in a pit. 33 David lamenteth the death of Abſalom.

THEN David [r] numbered the people that were with him, and ſet over them captains of thouſands, and captains of hundreds.

2 And David ſent forth the third part of the people under the hand of Joab, and the third part under the hand of Abiſhai Joab's brother the ſon of Zeruiah: and the other third part under the hand of Ittai the Gittite. And the king ſaid unto the people, I will go with you myſelf alſo.

3 But the people anſwered, Thou ſhalt not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not regard us, neither will they paſs for us, though half of us were ſlain: but thou [s] art now worth ten thouſand of us: therefore now it is better that thou ſuccour us out of the city.

4 Then the king ſaid unto them, What ſeemeth you beſt, that I will do. So the king ſtood by the gate ſide, and all the people came out by hundreds, and by thouſands.

5 And the king commanded Joab, and Abiſhai, and Ittai, ſaying, Treat the young man Abſalom gently for my ſake. And all the people heard when the king gave all the captains charge concerning Abſalom.

17 And they took Abſalom, and caſt him into a great [x] pit in the wood, and laid a mighty great heap of ſtones upon him: and all Iſrael fled every one to his tent.

18 Now Abſalom in his life-time had taken and reared him up a pillar, which is in the * king's dale: for he ſaid, I have no [y] ſon to keep my name in remembrance, and he called the pillar after his own name, and it is called unto this day, Abſalom's place.

20 And Joab ſaid unto him, Thou [z] ſhalt not be the meſſenger to-day, but thou ſhalt bear tidings another time, but to-day thou ſhalt bear none: for the king's ſon is dead.

8 Then the king aroſe, and ſat in the [g] gate: and they told unto all the people, ſaying, Behold, the king doth ſit in the gate: and all the people came before the king: for Iſrael had fled every man to his tent.

9 ¶ Then all the people were at [h] ſtrife throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying, The king ſaved us out of the hand of our enemies, and he delivered us out of the hand of the Philiſtines, and now he is fled out of the land for Abſalom.

10 And Abſalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle: therefore why are ye ſo ſlow to bring the king again?

Bef. Chr. 1023. impute * wickedneſs unto me, nor remember the thing that thy ſervant did [m] wickedly when my lord the king departed out of Jeruſalem, that the king ſhould take it to his heart.

* Ch. 16. 15.

20 For thy ſervant doth know, that I have done amiſs: therefore behold, I am the firſt this day of all the houſe of [n] Joſeph, that am come to go down to meet my lord the king.

21 But Abiſhai the ſon of Zeruiah anſwered, and ſaid, Shall not Shimei die for this, becauſe he curſed the Lord's anointed?

22 And David ſaid, What have I to do with you, ye ſons of Zeruiah, that this day ye ſhould be adverſaries unto me? ſhall there any man die this day in Iſrael? for do not I know that I am this day king over Iſrael?

23 Therefore the king ſaid unto Shimei, Thou ſhalt not [o] die, and the king ſware unto him.

24 ¶ And Mephiboſheth the ſon of Saul came down to meet the king, and had neither waſhed his feet, nor dreſſed his beard, nor waſhed his cloaths, from the time the king departed, until he returned in peace.

25 And when [p] he was come to Jeruſalem, and met the king, the king ſaid unto him, Wherefore wenteſt not thou with me, Mephiboſheth?

26 And he anſwered, My lord the king, my ſervant deceived me: for thy ſervant ſaid, I would have mine aſs ſaddled to ride thereon, for to go with the king, becauſe thy ſervant is lame.

* Ch. 16. 3.

27 And he hath * accuſed thy ſervant unto my lord the king: but my lord the king is as an [q] angel of God: do therefore thy pleaſure.

28 For all my father's houſe were [r] but dead men before my lord the king, yet didſt thou ſet thy ſervant among them that did eat at thine own table: what right therefore have I yet to cry any more unto the king?

29 And the king ſaid unto him, Why ſpeakeſt thou any more of thy matters? I have ſaid, Thou and Ziba divide the [s] lands.

30 And Mephiboſheth ſaid unto the king, Yea, let him take all, ſeeing my lord the king is come home in peace.

31 ¶ Then Barzillai the Gileadite came down from Rogelim, and went over Jordan with the king, to conduct him over Jordan.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, even fourſcore years old, and he had provided the king of ſuſtenance, while he lay at Mahanaim: for he was a man of very great ſubſtance.

33 And the king ſaid unto Barzillai, Come over with me, and I will feed thee with me in Jeruſalem.

34 And Barzillai ſaid unto the king, † How long have I to live, that I ſhould go up with the king to Jeruſalem?

† Heb. how many years are the days of my life?

35 I am this day fourſcore years old: and can I diſcern between good or evil? Hath thy ſervant any taſte in that I eat, or in that I drink? Can I hear any more the voice of ſinging men and women? wherefore then ſhould thy ſervant be any more a [t] burthen unto my lord the king? Bef. Chr. 1023.

36 Thy ſervant will go a little way over Jordan with the king, and why will the king recompenſe it me with ſuch a reward?

37 I pray thee, let thy ſervant turn back again, that I may die in mine own city, and be buried in the grave of my father, and of my mother, but behold, thy ſervant [u] Chimham, let him go with my lord the king, and do to him what ſhall pleaſe thee.

38 And the king anſwered, Chimham ſhall go with me, and I will do to him that thou ſhalt be content with: and whatſoever thou ſhalt ‡ require of me, that will I do for thee.

‡ Or, chuſe.

39 So all the people went over Jordan: and the king paſſed over: and the king kiſſed Barzillai, and ‡ bleſſed him, and he returned unto his own place.

‡ Or, bade him farewel.

40 ¶ Then the king went to [w] Gilgal, and Chimham went with him, and all the people of Judah conducted the king, and alſo half the people of [x] Iſrael.

41 And behold, all the men of Iſrael came to the king, and ſaid unto the king, Why have our brethren the men of Judah ſtolen thee away, and have brought the king and his houſhold, and all David's men with him over [y] Jordan?

42 And all the men of Judah anſwered the men of Iſrael, Becauſe the king is near of kin to us: and wherefore now be ye angry for this matter? have we eaten of the king's coſt? or have we taken any bribes?

43 And the men of Iſrael anſwered the men of Judah, and ſaid, We have ten parts in the king, and have alſo more right to David than ye: Why then did ye deſpiſe us, ‡ that our advice ſhould not be firſt had in reſtoring our king? And the words of the men of Judah were fiercer than the words of the men of Iſrael.

‡ Or, have not we firſt ſpoken to bring home the king? ver. 11.

4 ¶ Then ſaid the king to [d] Amaſa, Aſſemble me the men of Judah within three days, and be thou here preſent.

5 So Amaſa went to aſſemble Judah, but he tarried longer than the time which he had appointed him.

6 Then David ſaid to Abiſhai, Now ſhall Sheba the ſon of Bichri do us more harm than did Abſalom: take thou therefore thy [e] lord's ſervants and follow after him, leſt he get him walled cities, and eſcape us.

13 ¶ When he was removed out of the way, every man went after Joab, to follow after Sheba the ſon of Bichri.

14 And he went through all the tribes of Iſrael unto Abel, and [h] Beth-maachah and all places of Berim: and they gathered together, and went alſo after him.

15 So they came, and beſieged him in Abel, near to Beth-maachah: and they caſt up a mount againſt the city, and the people thereof ſtood on the ramparts, and all the people that was with Joab, [i] deſtroyed and caſt down the wall.

Bef. Chr. 1022.

17 And when he came near unto her, the woman ſaid, Art thou Joab? And he anſwered, Yea. And ſhe ſaid to him, Hear the words of thine handmaid. And he anſwered, I do hear.

20 And Joab anſwered and ſaid, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I ſhould devour or deſtroy it.

21 The [m] matter is not ſo, but a man of mount Ephraim (Sheba the ſon of Bichri by name) hath lift up his hand againſt the king, even againſt David: deliver us him only, and I will depart from the city. And the woman ſaid unto Joab, Behold, his head ſhall be thrown to thee over the wall.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 David cauſeth the people to be numbered. 10 He repenteth, and chuſeth to fall into God's hands. 15 Seventy thouſand periſh with the peſtilence.

AND the wrath of the Lord was [p] again kindled againſt Iſrael, and [q] he moved David againſt them, in that he ſaid, Go, number Iſrael and Judah.

2 For the king ſaid to Joab the captain of the hoſt, which was with him, Go ſpeedily now through all the tribes of Iſrael, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba, and number ye the people, that I may know the [r] number of the people.

3 And Joab ſaid unto the king, The Lord thy God increaſe the people an hundred fold more than they be, and that the eyes of my lord the king may ſee it: but why doth my lord the king deſire this thing?

4 Notwithſtanding the king's word prevailed againſt Joab, and againſt the captains of the hoſt: therefore Joab and the captains of the hoſt went out from the preſence of the king to number the people of Iſrael.

5 ¶ And they paſſed over Jordan, and pitched in Aroer at the right ſide of the city that is in the midſt of the ‡ valley of Gad and toward Jazer.

‡ Or, river.

6 Then they came to Gilead, and to ‡ Tahtim-hodſhi, ſo they came to Dan Jaan, and ſo about to Zidon,

‡ Or, to the Netherland newly inhabited.

7 And came to the fortreſs of ‡ Tyrus, and to all the cities of the Hivites, and of the Canaanites, and went toward the South of Judah, even to Beer-ſheba.

‡ Or, Zor.

8 ¶ So when they had gone about all the land, they returned to Jeruſalem at the end of nine months and twenty days.

9 ¶ And Joab delivered the number and ſum of the people unto the king: and there were in Iſrael [s] eight hundred thouſand ſtrong men that drew ſwords, and the men of Judah were [t] five hundred thouſand men.

10 Then David's heart ſmote him, after that he had numbered the people: and David ſaid unto the Lord, I have ſinned exceedingly in that I have done: therefore now, Lord, I beſeech thee, take away the treſpaſs of thy ſervant: for I have done very fooliſhly.

11 ¶ And when David was up in the morning, the word of the Lord came unto the prophet Gad, David's [u] ſeer, ſaying, 12 Go, and ſay unto David, Thus ſaith the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuſe thee which of them I ſhall do unto thee.

13 So Gad came to David, and ſhewed him, and ſaid unto him, Wilt thou that [w] ſeven years famine come upon thee in thy land, or wilt thou flee three months before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be three days peſtilence in thy land? now adviſe thee, and ſee, what anſwer I ſhall give to him that ſent me.

Bef. Chr. 1017.

14 ¶ And David ſaid unto Gad, I am in a wonderful ſtrait: let us fall now into the hand of the Lord (for his mercies are great) and let me not fall into the hand of man.

15 So the Lord ſent a peſtilence in Iſrael, from the morning, even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from [x] Dan even to Beer-ſheba, ſeventy thouſand men.

16 And when the angel ſtretched out his hand upon Jeruſalem to deſtroy it, the Lord * repented of the evil, and ſaid to the angel that deſtroyed the people, It is ſufficient, [y] hold now thine hand. And the angel of the Lord was by the threſhing place of Araunah the Jebuſite.

* 1 Sam. 15. 11.

17 And David ſpake unto the Lord (when he ſaw the angel that ſmote the people) and ſaid, Behold, I have ſinned, yea, I have done wickedly: but theſe ſheep, what have they [z] done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be againſt me and againſt my father's houſe.

18 ¶ So Gad came the ſame day to David, and ſaid unto him, Go up, rear an altar unto the Lord in the threſhing floor of Araunah the Jebuſite.

19 And David (according to the ſaying of Gad) went up, as the Lord had commanded.

20 And Araunah looked, and ſaw the king and his ſervants coming toward him, and Araunah went out, and bowed himſelf before the king on his face to the ground,

21 And [a] Araunah ſaid, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his ſervant? Then David anſwered, To buy the threſhing floor of thee for to build an altar unto the Lord, that the plague may ceaſe from the people.

22 Then Araunah ſaid unto David, Let my Lord the king take and offer what ſeemeth him good in his eyes: behold, the oxen for the burnt-offering, and chariots, and the inſtruments of the oxen for wood.

23 (All theſe things did Araunah [b] as a king give unto the king: and Araunah ſaid unto the king, The Lord thy God be favourable unto thee.)

24 Then the king ſaid unto Araunah, Not ſo, but I will buy it of thee at a price, and will not offer burnt-offering unto the Lord my God of that which doth coſt me nothing. So David bought the threſhing-floor, and the oxen, for fifty [c] ſhekels of ſilver.

25 And David built there an altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and the Lord was appeaſed toward the land, and the plague ceaſed from Iſrael.

The Firſt BOOK of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

Becauſe the children of God ſhould look for no continual reſt and quietneſs in this world, the Holy Ghoſt ſetteth before our eyes in this book the variety and change of things, which came to the people of Iſrael from the death of David, Solomon, and the reſt of the kings, unto the death of Ahab, declaring how that flouriſhing kingdoms, except they be preſerved by God's protection (who then favoureth them when his word is truly ſet forth, virtue eſteemed, vice puniſhed, and concord maintained) fall to decay and come to nought, as appeareth by the dividing of the kingdom under Rehoboam, and Jeroboam, which before were but all one people, and now by the juſt puniſhment of God were made two, whereof Judah and Benjamin clave to Rehoboam, and this was called the kingdom of Judah: and the other ten tribes held with Jeroboam, and this was called the kingdom of Iſrael. The king of Judah had his throne in Jeruſalem, and the king of Iſrael in Samaria, after it was built by Amri Ahab's father. And becauſe our Saviour Chriſt according to the fleſh ſhould come of the ſtock of David, the genealogy of the kings of Judah is here deſcribed, from Solomon to Joram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, who reigned over Judah in Jeruſalem, as Ahab did over Iſrael in Samaria.

CHAP. I.

3 Abiſhag keepeth David in his extreme age. 5 Adonijah uſurpeth the kingdom. 30 Solomon is anointed king. 50 Adonijah fleeth to the altar.

NOW when king David was [a] old, and ſtricken in years, they covered him with cloaths, but no [b] heat came unto him.

2 Wherefore his ſervants ſaid unto him, Let there be ſought for my lord the king a young virgin, and let her ‡ ſtand before the king, and cheriſh him: and let her lie in thy boſom, that my lord the king may get heat.

‡ Or, ſerve him.

3 So they ſought for a fair young maid, throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael, and found one Abiſhag [c] a Shunamite, and brought her to the king.

4 And the maid was exceeding fair, and cheriſhed the king, and miniſtered to him, but the king knew her not.

5 ¶ Then Adonijah the ſon of Haggith exalted himſelf, ſaying, I will be king. And he gat him chariots and horſemen, and [d] fifty men to run before him.

6 And his father would not diſpleaſe him from his † childhood, to ſay, Why haſt thou done ſo? And he was a very goodly man, and his mother bare him next after Abſalom.

† Heb. days.

7 And he † took counſel of Joab the ſon of Zeruiah, and of Abiathar the prieſt: and they [e] helped forward Adonijah.

† Heb. his words were with Joab.

8 But Zadok the prieſt, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and Nathan the prophet, and Shimei, and Rei, and the men of might, which were with David, were not with Adonijah.

9 Then Adonijah ſacrificed ſheep, and oxen, and fat cattle by the ſtone of Zoheleth, which is by ‡ En-rogel, and called all his brethren the king's ſons, and all the men of Judah the king's ſervants.

Bef. Chr. 1015.

10 But Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, and [f] the mighty men, and Solomon his brother, he called not.

11 Wherefore Nathan ſpake unto Bath-ſheba the mother of Solomon, ſaying, Haſt thou not heard, that Adonijah the ſon * of Haggith doth reign, and David our lord knoweth it not?

* 2 Sam. 3. 4.

12 Now therefore come, and I will now give thee counſel, how to ſave thine own [g] life, and the life of thy ſon Solomon.

13 Go, and get thee in unto king David, and ſay unto him, Didſt thou not, my lord, O king, ſwear unto thine handmaid, ſaying, Aſſuredly Solomon thy ſon ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne? why is then Adonijah king?

14 Behold, while thou yet talkeſt there with the king, I alſo will come in after thee, and [h] confirm thy words.

15 ¶ So Bath-ſheba went in unto the king into the chamber, and the king was very old, and Abiſhag the Shunamite miniſtered unto the king.

16 And Bath-ſheba bowed and made obeiſance unto the king. And the king ſaid, What is thy matter?

17 And ſhe anſwered him, My lord, thou ſwareſt by the Lord thy God unto thine handmaid, ſaying, Aſſuredly Solomon thy ſon ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne.

24 And Nathan ſaid, My lord, O king, haſt thou ſaid, Adonijah ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne?

25 For he is gone down this day, and hath ſlain many oxen and fat cattle, and ſheep, and hath called all the king's ſons, and the captains of the hoſt, and Abiathar the prieſt: and behold, they eat and drink before him, and ſay, † God ſave king Adonijah.

† Heb. Let the king Adonijah live.

26 But me thy ſervant, and Zadok the prieſt, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and thy ſervant Solomon hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the king, and thou haſt not ſhewed it unto thy [m] ſervant, who ſhould ſit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

28 Then king David anſwered, and ſaid, Call me Bath-ſheba. And ſhe came in to the king's preſence, and ſtood before the king.

29 And the king ſware, ſaying, As the Lord liveth, who hath redeemed my ſoul out of all adverſity,

30 That as I [n] ſware unto thee by the Lord God of Iſrael, ſaying, Aſſuredly Solomon thy ſon ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my throne in my place, ſo will I certainly do this day.

31 Then Bath-ſheba bowed her face to the earth, and did reverence unto the king, and ſaid, God ſave my lord king David for ever.

32 ¶ And king David ſaid, Call me Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 Then the king ſaid unto them, Take with you the [o] ſervants of your lord, and cauſe Solomon my ſon to ride upon mine own mule, and carry him down to Gihon.

34 And let Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet anoint him there king over Iſrael, and blow ye the trumpet, and ſay, God ſave king Solomon.

35 Then come up after him, that he may come and ſit upon my throne: and he ſhall be king in my ſtead: for I have † appointed him to be prince over Iſrael and over Judah.

† Heb. ſay ſo.

37 As the Lord hath been with my lord the king, ſo be he with Solomon, and exalt his throne above the throne of my lord king David.

38 So Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, went down, and cauſed Solomon to ride upon king David's mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the prieſt took an horn of [p] oil out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon: and they blew the trumpet, and all the people ſaid, God ſave king Solomon.

40 And all the people came up after him, and the people piped with pipes, and rejoiced with great joy, ſo that the earth † rang with the ſound of them.

† Heb. brake.

41 ¶ And Adonijah and all the gueſts that were with him, heard it: (and they had made an end of eating) and when Joab heard the ſound of the trumpet, he ſaid, What meaneth this noiſe and uproar in the city?

42 And as he yet ſpake, Behold, Jonathan the ſon of Abiathar the Prieſt came: and Adonijah ſaid, Come in: for thou art a † worthy man, and bringeſt [q] good tidings.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Joab: (for Joab had [h] turned after Adonijah, but he turned not after Abſalom) and Joab fled unto the tabernacle of the Lord, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

29 And it was told king Solomon, that Joab was fled unto the tabernacle of the Lord, and behold, he is by the [i] altar. Then Solomon ſent Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, ſaying, Go, fall upon him.

30 And Benaiah came to the tabernacle of the Lord, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the king, Come out. And he ſaid, Nay, but I will die here. Then Benaiah brought the king word again, ſaying, Thus ſaid Joab, and thus he anſwered me.

31 And the king ſaid unto him, Do as he hath ſaid, and [k] ſmite him, and bury him, that thou mayeſt take away the blood, which Joab ſhed cauſeleſs, from me, and from the houſe of my father.

32 And the Lord ſhall bring his blood upon his own head: for he ſmote two men more righteous and better than he, and ſlew them with the ſword, and my father David knew not: to wit, * Abner the ſon of Ner, captain of the hoſt of Iſrael, and * Amaſa the ſon of Jether, captain of the hoſt of Judah.

* 2 Sam. 3. 27.
* 2 Sam. 20. 10.

33 Their blood ſhall therefore return upon the [l] head of Joab, and on the head of his ſeed for ever: but upon David, and upon his ſeed, and upon his houſe, and upon his throne ſhall there be peace for ever from the Lord.

34 So Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada went up, and ſmote him, and ſlew him, and he was buried in his own houſe in the wilderneſs.

35 And the king put Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada in his room over the hoſt: and the king ſet Zadok the [m] prieſt in the room of Abiathar.

36 ¶ Afterward the king ſent, and called Shimei, and ſaid unto him, Build thee an houſe in Jeruſalem, and dwell there, and depart not thence any whither.

37 For that day that thou goeſt out, and paſſeſt over the river of Kidron, know aſſuredly, that thou ſhalt die the death: thy blood ſhall be upon thine own head.

38 And Shimei ſaid unto the king, The thing is good: as my lord the king hath ſaid, ſo will thy ſervant do. So Shimei dwelt in Jeruſalem many days.

39 And after three years two of the [n] ſervants of Shimei fled away unto Achiſh ſon of Maachah king of Gath: and they told Shimei, ſaying, Behold, thy ſervants be in Gath.

40 And Shimei aroſe, and ſaddled his aſs, and went to Gath to Achiſh, to ſeek his ſervants: and [o] Shimei went, and brought his ſervants from Gath.

Bef. Chr. 1014.

And thou ſaideſt unto me, The thing is good that I have heard.

43 Why then haſt thou not kept the oath of the Lord, and the commandment wherewith I charged thee?

44 The king ſaid alſo to Shimei, [p] Thou knoweſt all the wickedneſs whereunto thine heart is privy, that thou didſt to David my father: the Lord therefore ſhall bring thy wickedneſs upon thine own head.

45 And let king Solomon be bleſſed, and the throne of David eſtabliſhed before the Lord for ever.

12 The promiſe of the Lord to Solomon.

AND * in the four hundredth and fourſcore year (after the children of Iſrael were come out of the land of Egypt) and in the fourth year of the reign of Solomon over Iſrael, in the month [b] Ziph, (which is the ſecond month) he built the [c] houſe of the Lord.

* 2 Chron. 3. 1.

2 And the houſe which king Solomon built for the Lord, was threeſcore cubits long, and twenty broad, and thirty cubits high.

3 And the [d] porch before the temple of the houſe was twenty cubits long according to the breadth of the houſe, and ten cubits broad before the houſe.

4 And in the houſe he made windows, ‡ broad without, and narrow within.

‡ Or, to open, and to ſhut.

5 And by the wall of the houſe he made ‡ galleries round about, even by the walls of the houſe round about the temple and [e] the oracle, and made chambers round about.

‡ Or, lofts.

6 The nethermoſt gallery was five cubits broad, and the middlemoſt ſix cubits broad, and the third ſeven cubits broad: for he made [f] reſts round about without the houſe, that the beams ſhould not be faſtened in the walls of the houſe.

7 And when the houſe was built, it was built of ſtone perfect, before it was brought, ſo that there was neither hammer, nor ax, nor any tool of iron heard in the houſe while it was in building.

8 The door of the middle ‡ chamber was in the right ſide of the houſe, and men went up with winding ſtairs into the middlemoſt, and out of the middlemoſt into the third.

‡ Or, gallery.

9 So he built the [g] houſe and finiſhed it, and ceiled the houſe being vauted, with ceiling of cedar-trees.

Bef. Chr. 1012.

10 And he built the galleries upon all the wall of the houſe of five cubits height, and they were joined to the houſe with beams of Cedar.

11 And the word of the Lord came to Solomon, ſaying,

12 Concerning this houſe which thou buildeſt, if thou wilt walk in mine ordinances, and execute my judgments, and keep all my commandments, to walk in them, then will I perform unto thee my promiſe, * which I promiſed to David thy father.

* 2 Sam. 7. 13.

13 And I will [h] dwell among the children of Iſrael, and will not forſake my people Iſrael.

14 So Solomon built the houſe, and finiſhed it,

15 And built the walls of the houſe within, with boards of cedar-tree from the pavement of the houſe unto [i] the walls of the ceiling, and within he covered them with wood, and covered the floor of the houſe with planks of fir.

16 And he built twenty cubits in the ſides of the houſe with boards of cedar, from the floor to the walls, and he prepared a place within it for the oracle, even the moſt holy place.

17 But the [k] houſe, that is, the temple before it, was forty cubits long.

18 And the cedar of the houſe within was carved with ‡ knops, and graven with flowers: all was cedar, ſo that no ſtone was ſeen.

19 ¶ Alſo he prepared the place of the oracle in the midſt of the [l] houſe within, to ſet the ark of the covenant of the Lord there.

20 And the place of the oracle within was twenty cubits long, and twenty cubits broad, and twenty cubits high, and he covered it with pure gold, and covered the altar with cedar.

21 So Solomon covered the houſe within with pure gold: and he † ſhut the place of the oracle with chains of gold, and covered it with gold.

† Heb. he drew through chains of gold before.

22 And he overlaid all the houſe with gold, until all the houſe was made perfect, alſo he covered the [m] whole altar, that was before the oracle, with gold.

35 And he graved cherubims, and palm-trees, and carved flowers, and covered the carved work with gold, finely wrought.

36 ¶ And he built the [p] court within with three rows of hewed ſtone, and one row of beams of cedar.

37 In the fourth year was the foundation of the houſe of the Lord laid in the month of Ziph:

38 And in the eleventh year in the month of [q] Bul, (which is the eighth month) he finiſhed the houſe with all the furniture thereof, and in every point: ſo was he ſeven years in building it.

1 The building of the houſe of Solomon. 15 The excellent workmanſhip of Hiram in the pieces which he made for the temple.

BUT Solomon was building his own houſe * thirteen years, and [r] finiſhed all his houſe.

* Ch. 9. 10.

2 He built alſo an houſe [s] called the foreſt of Lebanon, an hundred cubits long, and fifty cubits broad, and thirty cubits high, upon four rows of cedar pillars, and cedar beams were laid upon the pillars.

3 And it was covered above with cedar upon the beams, that lay on the forty and five pillars, fifteen in a row.

4 And the windows were in three rows, and window was [t] againſt window in three ranks.

5 And all the doors, and the ſide poſts with the windows were four-ſquare, and window was over-againſt window in three ranks.

6 And he made a porch of pillars fifty cubits long, and thirty cubits broad, and the porch was before [u] them, even before them were thirty pillars.

7 ¶ Then he made a porch [w] for the throne, where he judged, even a porch of judgment, and it was cieled with cedar from pavement to pavement.

8 And in his houſe where he dwelt was another hall more inward than the porch which was of the ſame work. Alſo Solomon made an houſe for Pharaoh's daughter (* whom he had taken to wife) like unto this porch.

* Ch. 3. 1.

9 All theſe were ‡ of coſtly ſtones, hewed by meaſure, and ſawed with ſaws within and without, from the foundation unto [x] the ſtones of an ‡ handbreadth, and on the outſide to the great court.

‡ Or, precious.

‡ Or, ſpan.

10 And the foundation was of coſtly ſtones, and great ſtones, even of ſtones of ten cubits, and ſtones of eight cubits.

11 [y] Above alſo were coſtly ſtones ſquared by rule, and boards of cedar.

12 ¶ And the great court round about was with three rows of hewed ſtones, and a row of cedar beams: [z] ſo was it to the inner court of the houſe of the Lord, and to the porch of the houſe.

13 ¶ Then king Solomon ſent, and fetched one Hiram out of ‡ Tyrus.

‡ Or, Zor.

14 He was a widow's ſon of the tribe of Naphtali, his father being a man of Tyrus, and wrought in braſs: [a] he was full of wiſdom, and underſtanding, and knowledge to work all manner of work in braſs: who came to king Solomon, and wrought all his work.

15 ¶ For he caſt two pillars of braſs: the height of a pillar was eighteen cubits, and a thread of twelve cubits did compaſs † either of the pillars.

† Heb. the ſecond.

16 And he made two ‡ chapiters of molten braſs to ſet on the tops of the pillars: the height of one of the chapiters was five cubits, and the height of the other chapiter was five cubits.

‡ Or, pummels.

17 He made grates like net-work, and ‡ wreathen work like chains for the chapiters that were on the top of the pillars, even ſeven for the one chapiter, and ſeven for the other chapiter.

‡ Or, cords like chains.

18 So he made the pillars and two rows of pomegranates round about in the one grate to cover the chapiters that were upon the top. And thus did he for the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were on the top of the pillars were after [b] lily work in the porch, four cubits.

20 And the chapiters upon the two pillars had

22 And upon the top of the pillars was work of lilies: ſo was the workmanſhip of the pillars finiſhed.

23 ¶ And he made a molten [f] ſea ten cubits wide from brim to brim, round in compaſs, and five cubits high, and a line of thirty cubits did compaſs it about.

24 And under the brim of it were knops like wild cucumbers compaſſing it round about, ten in one cubit, compaſſing the ſea * round about: and the two rows of knops were caſt when it was molten.

26 It was ‡ an handbreadth thick, and the brim thereof was like the work of the brim of a cup with flowers of lilies: it contained two thouſand [g] baths.

‡ Or, a ſpan.

27 ¶ And he made ten baſes of braſs, one baſe was four cubits long, and four cubits broad, and three cubits high.

28 ¶ And the work of the baſes was on this manner, they had borders, and the borders were between the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were between the ledges, were lions, bulls and cherubims: and upon the ledges there was a baſe above: and beneath the lions and bulls were additions made of thin work.

30 And every baſe had four braſen wheels, and plates of braſs: and the four corners had † underſetters: under the cauldron were underſetters molten at the ſide of every addition.

† Heb. ſhoulders.

31 And [h] the mouth of it was within the chapiter and above to meaſure by the cubit: for the mouth thereof was round, made like a baſe, and it was a cubit and half a cubit: and alſo upon the mouth thereof were graven works, whoſe borders were four ſquare, and not round.

32 And under the borders were four wheels, and the axle-trees of the wheels joined to the baſe: and the height of a wheel was a cubit and half a cubit.

33 And the faſhion of the wheels was like the faſhion of a chariot wheel, their axle-trees, and their naves, and their ‡ felloes, and their ſpokes were all molten.

‡ Or, rings.

34 And four underſetters were upon the four corners of one baſe: and the underſetters thereof were of the baſe itſelf.

35 And in the top of the baſe was a round [i] compaſs of half a cubit high round about: and upon the top of the baſe the ledges thereof and the borders thereof were of the ſame.

Bef. Chr. 1005.

36 And upon the tables of the ledges thereof, and on the borders thereof he did grave cherubims, lions, and palm-trees, on the ſide of every one, and additions round about.

37 Thus made he the ten baſes: they had all one caſting, one meaſure, and one ſize.

38 ¶ Then made he [k] ten cauldrons of braſs, one cauldron contained forty baths: and every cauldron was four cubits, one cauldron was upon one baſe throughout the ten baſes.

39 And he ſet the baſes, five on the right ſide of the houſe, and five on the left ſide of the houſe. And he ſet the ſea on the right ſide of the [l] houſe eaſtward toward the ſouth.

40 ¶ And Hiram made cauldrons, and beſoms, and baſons, and Hiram finiſhed all the work that he made to king Solomon for the houſe of the Lord:

41 To wit, two pillars, and two bowls of the chapiters that were on the top of the two pillars, and two grates to cover the two bowls of the chapiters which were upon the top of the pillars:

42 And four hundred pomegranates for the two grates, even two rows of pomegranates for every grate to cover the two bowls of the chapiters that were on the pillars:

43 And the ten baſes, and ten cauldrons upon the baſes:

44 And the ſea, and twelve bulls under the ſea,

45 And pots, and beſoms, and baſons: and all theſe veſſels, which [m] Hiram made to king Solomon for the houſe of the Lord, were of ſhining braſs.

46 In the plain of Jordan did the king caſt them in the ‡ clay between Succoth and Zarthan.

‡ Or, thick earth.

47 And Solomon left to weigh all the veſſels, becauſe of the exceeding abundance, neither could the weight of the braſs be counted.

48 So Solomon made all the veſſels that pertained unto the houſe of the Lord, the [n] golden altar, and the golden table, whereon the ſhew-bread was.

49 And the candleſticks, five at the right ſide, and five at the left, before the oracle of pure gold, and the flowers, and the lamps, and the ſnuffers of gold,

50 And the bowls, [o] and the hooks, and the baſons, and the ſpoons, and the aſh-pans of pure gold, and the hinges of gold for the doors of the houſe within, even for the moſt holy place, and for the doors of the houſe, to wit, of the temple.

51 So was finiſhed all the work that king Solomon made for the houſe of the Lord: and Solomon brought in the things which * David his father had dedicated, the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels, and laid them among the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord.

4 The ark is borne into the temple. 10 A cloud filleth the temple. 14 The king bleſſeth the people.

* 2 Chron. 5. 2.
† Heb. Solomon.

THEN * king Solomon aſſembled the elders of Iſrael, even all the heads of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Iſrael unto † him in Jeruſalem, for to [p] bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord from the city of David, which is Zion.

2 And all the men of Iſrael aſſembled unto king Solomon at the feaſt in the month of [q] Ethanim, which is the ſeventh month.

3 And all the elders of Iſrael came, and the prieſts took the ark.

4 They bare the ark of the Lord, and they bare the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy veſſels that were in the tabernacle: thoſe did the prieſts and Levites bring up.

5 And king Solomon and all the congregation of Iſrael, that were aſſembled unto him, were with him before the ark, offering ſheep and beeves, which could not be told, nor numbered for multitude.

6 So the [r] prieſts brought the ark of the covenant of the Lord, unto his place, into the oracle of the houſe, into the moſt holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

7 For the cherubims ſtretched out their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark, and the bars thereof above.

8 And they [s] drew out the bars, that the ends of the bars might appear out of the ſanctuary before the oracle, but they were not ſeen without: and there they are unto this day.

9 Nothing was in the ark [t] ſave the two tables of ſtone, which Moſes had put there at Horeb, where the Lord made a covenant with the children of Iſrael, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

10 And when the prieſts were come out of the ſanctuary, the * cloud filled the houſe of the Lord,

11 So that the prieſts could not ſtand to miniſter, becauſe of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the houſe of the Lord.

* 2 Chron. 6. 1.

12 Then ſpake Solomon, The Lord * ſaid, that he would dwell in the dark cloud.

13 I have built thee an houſe to dwell in, an habitation for thee to abide in for [u] ever.

14 ¶ And the king turned his face, and bleſſed all the congregation of Iſrael: for all the congregation of Iſrael ſtood there.

16 Since the day that I brought my people Iſrael out of Egypt, I choſe no city of all the tribes of Iſrael, to build an houſe that my name might be there: but I have choſen * David to be over my people Iſrael.

17 And it was in the heart of David my father to build an houſe to the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

18 And the Lord ſaid unto David my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an houſe unto my name, thou didſt well that thou waſt ſo minded:

19 Nevertheleſs, thou ſhalt not build the houſe, but thy ſon that ſhall come out of thy loins, he ſhall build the houſe unto my name.

20 And the Lord hath † made good his word that he ſpake: and I am riſen up in the room of David my father, and ſit on the throne of Iſrael, as the Lord promiſed, and have built the houſe for the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

21 And I have prepared therein a place for the ark, wherein is the [w] covenant of the Lord which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

* 2 Chron. 6. 13.

22 ¶ Then Solomon ſtood before * the altar of the Lord in the ſight of all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſtretched out his hands toward heaven,

23 And ſaid, O Lord God of Iſrael, there is no god like thee in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepeſt covenant and mercy with thy ſervants that walk before thee, with [x] all their heart,

24 Thou that haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father, that thou haſt promiſed him: for thou ſpakeſt with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

* Ch. 2. 4.

25 Therefore now, Lord God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father that thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, * Thou ſhalt not want a man in my ſight to ſit upon the throne of Iſrael: ſo that thy children take heed to their way, that they walk before me, as thou haſt walked in my ſight.

26 And now, O God of Iſrael, I pray thee, let thy word be verified, which thou ſpakeſt unto thy ſervant David my father.

27 [y] Is it true indeed that God will dwell on the earth? behold, the heavens and the heavens of heavens are not able to contain thee: how much more unable is this houſe that I have built?

5 For Solomon followed * Aſhtaroth the god of the Zidonians, and [m] Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

17 Then this Hadad [s] fled, and certain other Edomites of his father's ſervants with him, to go into Egypt, Hadad being yet a little child.

18 And they aroſe out of Midian, and came to Paran, and took men with them out of Paran, and came to Egypt unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, which gave him an houſe, and appointed him victuals, and gave him land.

19 So Hadad [t] found great favour in the ſight of Pharaoh, and he gave him to wife the ſiſter of his own wife: even the ſiſter of Tahpenes the queen.

20 And the ſiſter of Tahpenes bare him Genubath his ſon, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaoh's houſe: and Genubath was in Pharaoh's houſe among the ſons of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt, that David ſlept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the hoſt was dead, Hadad ſaid to Pharaoh, Let me depart, that I may go to mine own country.

22 But Pharaoh ſaid unto him, What haſt thou lacked with me, that thou wouldeſt thus go to thine own country? And he anſwered, Nothing, but in any wiſe let me go.

24 And he gathered men unto him, and had been captain over the company, when David ſlew them. And they went to Damaſcus, and dwelt there, [w] and they made him king in Damaſcus.

25 Therefore was he an adverſary to Iſrael all the days of Solomon: beſides the evil that Hadad did, he alſo abhorred Iſrael, and reigned over Aram.

5 The altar alſo clave aſunder, and the aſhes fell out from the altar, according to the ſign which the man of God had given by the † commandment of the Lord.

6 Then the king anſwered and ſaid unto the man of God, I [x] beſeech thee, pray unto the Lord thy God, and make interceſſion for me, that mine hand may be reſtored unto me. And the man of God beſought the Lord, and the king's hand was reſtored, and became as it was afore.

7 Then the king ſaid unto the man of God, Come home with me, that thou mayeſt ‡ dine, and I will give thee a reward.

‡ Or, take ſuſtenance.

8 But the man of God ſaid unto the king, If thou wouldeſt give me half thine houſe, I would not go in with thee, neither would I eat bread, nor drink water in this place.

9 For ‡ ſo was it charged me by the word of the Lord, ſaying, [y] Eat no bread, nor drink water, nor turn again by the ſame way that thou cameſt.

‡ Or, he charged me, to wit, an angel.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 ¶ And an old prophet dwelt in Beth-el, and his ſons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el, and the words which he had ſpoken unto the king, told they their father.

12 And their father ſaid unto them, What way went he? and his ſons † ſhewed him what way the man of God went which came from Judah.

† Heb. looked.

13 And he ſaid unto his ſons, Saddle me the aſs. Who ſaddled him the aſs, and he rode thereon,

14 And went after the man of God, and found him ſitting under an oak: and he ſaid unto him, Art thou the man of God that cameſt from Judah? And he ſaid, † Yea.

‡ Heb. I am.

15 Then he ſaid unto him, [z] Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 But he anſwered, I may not return with thee, nor go in with thee, neither will I eat bread, nor drink water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the word of the Lord, ſaying, Thou ſhalt eat no bread, nor drink water there, nor turn again to go by the way that thou wenteſt.

18 And he ſaid unto him, I am a prophet alſo as thou art, and an [a] angel ſpake unto me by the word of the Lord ſaying, Bring him again with thee into thine houſe, that he may eat bread, and drink water: but he lied unto him.

19 So he went again with him, and did eat bread in his houſe, and drank water.

20 And as they ſat at the table, the word of the Lord came unto the prophet that brought him again.

21 And he cried unto the man of God that came from Judah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, [b] Becauſe thou haſt diſobeyed the mouth of the Lord, and haſt not kept the commandment which the Lord thy God commanded thee,

22 But cameſt back again, and haſt eaten bread, and drunk water in the place (whereof he did ſay unto thee, Thou ſhalt eat no bread nor drink any water) thy carcaſe ſhall not come unto the ſepulchre of thy fathers.

23 ¶ And when he had eaten bread and drunk, he ſaddled him the aſs, to wit, to the prophet whom he had brought again.

24 And when he was gone, [c] a lion met him by the way, and ſlew him, and his body was caſt in the way, and the aſs ſtood thereby: the lion ſtood by the corpſe alſo.

25 And behold, men that paſſed by ſaw the carcaſe caſt in the way, and the lion ſtanding by the corpſe: and they came and told it in the town where the old prophet dwelt.

26 And when the prophet that brought him back again from the way, heard thereof, he ſaid, It is the man of God, who hath been diſobedient unto the commandment of the Lord: therefore the Lord hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath rent him, and ſlain him, according to the word of the Lord, which he ſpake unto him.

27 ¶ And he ſpake to his ſons, ſaying, Saddle me the aſs. And they ſaddled him.

28 And he went and found his body caſt in the way, and the aſs and the lion ſtood by the corpſe: and the lion had [d] not eaten the body, nor torn the aſs.

29 And the prophet took up the body of the man of God, and laid it upon the aſs, and brought it again, and the old prophet came to the city, to lament and bury him.

30 And he laid his body in his [e] own grave, and they lamented over him, ſaying, Alas, my brother!

31 And when he had buried him, he ſpake to his ſons, ſaying, When I am dead, bury me alſo in the ſepulchre wherein the man of God is buried: lay my bones beſide his bones.

32 For that thing which he cried by the word of the Lord againſt the altar that is in Beth-el, and againſt all the houſes of the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, ſhall ſurely come to paſs.

33 Howbeit after this, Jeroboam [f] converted not from his wicked way, but turned again, and made of the loweſt of the people prieſts of the high places. Who would, might † conſecrate himſelf, and be of the prieſts of the high places.

[w] The wicked rage againſt the prophets of God, when they declare to them God's judgments.

[x] Though the wicked humble themſelves for a time, when they feel God's judgments, yet after they return to their old malice, and declare that they are but vile hypocrites.

[y] Seeing he had the expreſs word of God, he ought not to have declined therefrom, neither for the perſuaſion of man nor angel.

[z] This he did of a ſimple mind, thinking it his duty to declare friendſhip to a prophet.

[a] His fault is here double: firſt, in that he ſuffereth not the prophet to obey God's expreſs commandment: and next, that he feigneth to have a revelation to the contrary.

[b] God would reprove his folly by him, who was the occaſion to bring him into error.

[c] By this fearful example, God ſetteth forth how dangerous a thing it is for men to behave themſelves coldly or deceitfully in their charge, whereunto God hath called them.

6 Therefore when Ahijah heard the ſound of her feet as ſhe came in at the door, he ſaid, Come in, thou [k] wife of Jeroboam: why feigneſt thou thus thyſelf to be another? I am ſent to thee with heavy tidings.

7 Go, tell Jeroboam, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Foraſmuch as I have exalted [l] thee from among the people, and have made thee prince over my people Iſrael,

13 And all Iſrael ſhall mourn for him, and bury him: for he only of Jeroboam ſhall come to the grave, becauſe in him there is found [q] ſome goodneſs toward the Lord God of Iſrael in the houſe of Jeroboam.

14 Moreover, the Lord ſhall ſtir him up a king over Iſrael, which ſhall deſtroy the houſe of Jeroboam in that day: [r] what? yea, even now.

15 For the Lord ſhall ſmite Iſrael, as when a reed is ſhaken in the water, and he ſhall weed Iſrael out of this good land which he gave to their fathers, and ſhall ſcatter them beyond the [s] river, becauſe they have made them groves, provoking the Lord to anger.

CHAP. XVII.

2 Elijah forewarneth of the famine to come. 4 He is fed of ravens. 9 He is ſent to Zarephath, where he reſtoreth his hoſteſs's ſon to life.

AND Elijah the Tiſhbite one of the inhabitants of Gilead ſaid unto Ahab, * As the Lord God of Iſrael liveth, before whom I [c] ſtand, there ſhall be neither dew nor rain theſe years, but [d] according to my word.

* James 5. 16, 17.

2 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto him, ſaying,

3 Go hence, and turn thee eaſtward, and hide thyſelf in the ‡ river Cherith, that is over-againſt Jordan.

‡ Or, brook.

4 And thou ſhalt drink of the river: and I have commanded the [e] ravens to feed thee there.

5 So he went and did according unto the word of the Lord: for he went, and remained by the river Cherith that is over-againſt Jordan.

6 And the ravens brought him bread and fleſh in the morning, and bread and fleſh in the evening, and he drank of the river.

7 And after a while the river dried up, becauſe there fell no rain upon the earth.

8 ¶ And the [f] word of the Lord came unto him, ſaying,

9 * Up, and get thee to Zarephath, which is in Zidon, and remain there: behold, I have commanded a widow there to ſuſtain thee.

* Luke 4. 25, 26.

Bef. Chr. 912.

10 So he aroſe and went to Zarephath: and when he came to the gate of the city, behold, the widow was there [g] gathering ſticks: and he called her, and ſaid, Bring me, I pray thee, a little water in a veſſel, that I may drink.

11 And as ſhe was going to fetch it, he called to her, and ſaid, Bring me, I pray thee, a morſel of bread in thine hand.

12 And ſhe ſaid, As the Lord thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but even an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oil in a cruſe: and behold, I am gathering † a few ſticks for to go in and dreſs it for me and my ſon, that we may eat it, and [h] die.

† Heb. two.

13 And Elijah ſaid unto her, Fear not, come, do as thou haſt ſaid, but make me thereof a little cake firſt of all, and bring it unto me, and afterward make for thee, and thy ſon.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, [i] The meal in the barrel ſhall not be waſted, neither ſhall the oil in the cruſe be diminiſhed, unto the time that the Lord ſend rain upon the earth.

15 So ſhe went, and did as Elijah ſaid, and ſhe did eat: ſo did he and her houſe [k] for a certain time.

16 The barrel of meal waſted not, nor the oil was ſpent out of the cruſe, according to the word of the Lord, which he ſpake by the hand of Elijah.

17 ¶ And after theſe things, the ſon of the wife of the houſe fell ſick, and his ſickneſs was ſo ſore, ‡ that there was no [l] breath left in him.

‡ Or, that he died.

18 And ſhe ſaid unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my ſin to remembrance, and to ſlay my ſon?

19 And he ſaid unto her, Give me thy ſon: and he took him out of her boſom, and carried him up into a chamber, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed.

20 Then he called unto the Lord, and ſaid, O Lord my God, haſt thou [m] puniſhed alſo this widow, with whom I ſojourn, by killing her ſon?

21 And he ſtretched himſelf upon the child three times, and called unto the Lord, and ſaid, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this child's ſoul come into him again.

22 Then the Lord heard the voice of Elijah, and the ſoul of the child came into him again, and he revived.

23 And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the houſe, and delivered him unto his mother, and Elijah ſaid, Behold, thy ſon liveth.

24 And the woman ſaid unto Elijah, Now [n] I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

[g] All this was to ſtrengthen the faith of Elijah, to the intent that he ſhould look upon nothing worldly, but only truſt on God's providence.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Elijah is ſent to Ahab. 13 Obadiah hideth an hundred prophets. 40 Elijah killeth all Baal's prophets. 41 He obtaineth rain.

AFTER many days the word of the Lord came to Elijah, in the [o] third year, ſaying, Go, ſhew thyſelf unto Ahab, and I will ſend rain upon the earth.

2 And Elijah went to ſhew himſelf unto Ahab, and there was a great famine in Samaria.

3 And Ahab called Obadiah the governor of his houſe: (and Obadiah [p] feared God greatly:

4 For when Jezebel deſtroyed the prophets of the Lord, Obadiah took an hundred prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave, and he fed them with bread and water.)

5 And Ahab ſaid unto Obadiah, Go into the land, unto all the fountains of water, and unto all the rivers, if ſo be that we may find graſs to ſave the horſes and the mules alive, leſt we deprive the land of the beaſts.

6 And ſo they divided the land between them to walk thorough it. Ahab went one way by himſelf, and Obadiah went another way by himſelf.

7 ¶ And as Obadiah was in the way, behold, Elijah [q] met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and ſaid, Art not thou my lord Elijah?

8 And he anſwered him, Yea, go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

9 And he ſaid, What have I ſinned, that thou wouldſt deliver thy ſervant into the hand of Ahab, to ſlay me?

10 As the Lord thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not ſent to ſeek thee: and when they ſaid, He is not here, he took an oath of the kingdom and nation, if they had not found thee.

11 And now thou ſayeſt, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

12 And when I am gone from thee, the Spirit of the Lord ſhall carry thee into ſome place that I do not know: ſo when I come and tell Ahab, if he cannot find thee, then will he kill me: but I thy ſervant [r] fear the Lord from my youth.

13 Was it not told my lord, what I did when Jezebel ſlew the prophets of the Lord, how I hid an hundred men of the Lord's prophets by fifties in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou ſayeſt, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here, that he may ſlay me.

15 And Elijah ſaid, As the Lord of hoſts liveth, before whom I ſtand, I will ſurely ſhew [s] myſelf unto him this day.

16 ¶ So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him: and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

17 And when Ahab ſaw Elijah, Ahab ſaid unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Iſrael?

18 And he anſwered, I have not troubled Iſrael, but [t] thou, and thy father's houſe, in that ye have forſaken the commandments of the Lord, and thou haſt followed Baalim.

19 Now therefore ſend, and gather to me all Iſrael unto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, which eat at Jezebel's table.

20 ¶ So Ahab ſent unto all the children of Iſrael, and gathered the prophets together unto mount Carmel.

21 And Elijah came unto all the people, and ſaid, How long [u] halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him: but if Baal be he, then go after him. And the people anſwered him not a word.

22 Then ſaid Elijah unto the people, I only remain a prophet of the Lord: but Baal's prophets are four hundred and fifty men.

23 Let them therefore give us two bullocks, and let them chuſe the one, and cut him in pieces, and lay him on the wood, but put no fire under: and I will prepare the other bullock, and lay him on the wood, and will put no fire under.

24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of the Lord: and then the God that anſwereth [w] by fire, let him be God. And all the people anſwered, and ſaid, It is well ſpoken.

25 And Elijah ſaid unto the prophets of Baal, Chuſe you a bullock, and prepare him firſt, (for ye are many) and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire under.

26 So they took the one bullock, that was given them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal, from morning to noon, ſaying, O Baal, hear us: but there was no voice, nor any to anſwer: and they [x] leaped upon the altar that was made.

27 And at noon Elijah mocked them, and ſaid, Cry loud: for he is a [y] god: either he talketh, or purſueth his enemies, or is in his journey, or it may be that he ſleepeth, and muſt be [z] awaked.

28 And they cried loud, and cut themſelves as their manner was, with knives and lancets, till the blood guſhed out upon them.

29 And when mid-day was paſſed, and they had propheſied until the offering of the evening ſacrifice, there was neither voice, nor one to anſwer, nor any that regarded.

30 And Elijah ſaid unto all the people, Come to me. And all the people came to him. And he repaired the altar of the Lord that was broken down.

31 And Elijah took twelve ſtones, according to 32 And with the ſtones he built an altar in the name of the Lord: and he made a ditch round about the altar, as great as would contain two † meaſures of ſeed, † Heb. Sats, which ſome think contain about three pottles, and a third part, a piece.

33 And he put the wood in order, and hewed the bullock in pieces, and laid him on the wood:

34 And ſaid, Fill four barrels with water, and pour it on the burnt-offering, and on the wood. Again he ſaid, Do ſo again. And they did ſo the ſecond time. And he ſaid, Do it the third time. And they did it the third time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar: and he [a] filled the ditch with water alſo.

36 And when they ſhould offer the evening ſacrifice, Elijah the prophet came, and ſaid, Lord God of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Iſrael, let it be known this day, that thou art the God of Iſrael, and that I am thy ſervant, and that I have done all theſe things at thy commandment.

37 Hear me, O Lord, hear me, and let this people know that thou art the Lord God, and that thou haſt turned their heart again [b] at the laſt.

38 Then the fire of the Lord fell, and conſumed the burnt-offering, and the wood, and the ſtones, and the duſt, and licked up the water that was in the ditch.

39 And when all the people ſaw it, they fell on their faces, and ſaid, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Elijah ſaid unto them, Take the prophets of Baal, let not a [c] man of them eſcape. And they took them, and Elijah brought them to the brook Kiſhon, and ſlew them there.

41 ¶ And Elijah ſaid unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink, for there is a ſound of much rain.

42 So Ahab went up to eat and to drink, and Elijah went up to the top of Carmel: and he crouched unto the earth, and put his face between his knees,

43 And ſaid to his ſervant, Go up now, and look toward the way of the ſea. And he went up, and looked, and ſaid, There is nothing. Again he ſaid, Go again [d] ſeven times.

44 And at the ſeventh time he ſaid, Behold, there ariſeth a little cloud out of the ſea like a man's hand. Then he ſaid, Up, and ſay unto Ahab, Make ready thy chariot, and get thee down, that the rain ſtay thee not.

‡ Or, here and there.

45 And ‡ in the mean while the heaven was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. Then Ahab went up, and came to Jezreel.

46 And the hand of the Lord was on Elijah, and he girded up his loins, and ran [e] before Ahab till he came to Jezreel.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Elijah fleeing from Jezebel, is nouriſhed by the angel of God. 15 He is commanded to anoint Hazael, Jehu, and Eliſha.

NOW Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and how he had ſlain all the [f] prophets with the ſword.

2 Then Jezebel ſent a meſſenger unto Elijah, ſaying, [g] The gods do ſo to me and more alſo, if I make not thy life like one of their lives by to-morrow this time.

3 ¶ When he ſaw that, he aroſe, and went ‡ for his life, and came to Beer-ſheba, which is in Judah, and left his ſervant there.

‡ Or, whither his mind led him.

4 But he went a day's journey into the wilderneſs, and came and ſat down under a juniper-tree, and deſired that he might die, and ſaid, It is now enough, O Lord, [h] take my ſoul, for I am no better than my fathers.

5 And as he lay and ſlept under the juniper-tree, behold now, an angel touched him, and ſaid unto him, Up, and eat.

6 And when he looked about, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a pot of water at his head: ſo he did eat and drink, and returned and ſlept.

7 And the angel of the Lord came again the ſecond time, and touched him, and ſaid, Up, and eat: for [i] thou haſt a great journey.

8 ¶ Then he aroſe, and did eat and drink, and walked in the ſtrength of that meat forty days and forty nights, unto Horeb the mount of God.

9 And there he entered into a cave, and lodged there: and behold, the Lord ſpake to him, and ſaid unto him, What doſt thou here, Elijah?

10 And he anſwered, I [k] have been very jealous for the Lord God of hoſts: for the children of Iſrael have forſaken thy covenant, broken down thine altars, and ſlain thy prophets with the ſword, * and I only am left, and they ſeek my life to take it away.

* Rom. 11. 3.

11 And he ſaid, Come out, and ſtand upon the mount before the Lord. And behold, the Lord went by, and a mighty ſtrong wind rent the mountains, and brake the rocks before the Lord: but the Lord was [l] not in the wind: and after the wind came an earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake came fire: but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire came a ſtill and ſoft voice.

[a] Hereby he declared the excellent power of God, who contrary to nature could make the fire burn even in the water, to the intent they ſhould have none occaſion to doubt that he is the only God.

[b] Though God ſuffer his to run in blindneſs and error for a time, yet at the length he calleth them home to him by ſome notorious ſign and work.

[c] He commanded them, that as they were truly perſuaded to confeſs the only God: ſo they would ſerve him with all their power, and deſtroy the idolaters his enemies.

[d] As God's Spirit moved him to pray, ſo was he ſtrengthened by the ſame, that he did not faint, but continued ſtill till he had obtained.

[e] He was ſo ſtrengthened with God's Spirit, that he ran faſter than the chariot was able to run.

[f] To wit, of Baal.

[g] Though the wicked rage againſt God's children, yet he holdeth them back that they cannot execute their malice.

[h] So hard a thing it is to bridle our impatience in affliction, that the ſaints could not overcome the ſame.

[i] He deelareth that except God had nouriſhed him miraculouſly, it had not been poſſible for him to have gone this journey.

[k] He complaineth, that the more zealous that he ſhewed himſelf to maintain God's glory, the more cruelly was he perſecuted.

[l] For the nature of man is not able to come near unto God, if he ſhould appear in his ſtrength and full majeſty, and therefore of his mercy he ſubmitteth himſelf to our capacity.

Bef. Chr. 906.

13 And when Elijah heard it, he covered his face with his mantle, and went out, and ſtood in the entering of the cave: and behold, there came a voice unto him, and ſaid, What doſt thou here, Elijah?

14 And he anſwered, I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hoſts, [l] becauſe the children of Iſrael have forſaken thy covenant, caſt down thine altars, and ſlain thy prophets with the ſword, and I only am left, and they ſeek my life to take it away.

15 And the Lord ſaid unto him, Go, return by the wilderneſs unto Damaſcus, and when thou comeſt there, anoint Hazael king over ‡ Aram.

17 And * him that eſcapeth from the ſword of Hazael, ſhall Jehu ſlay: and him that eſcapeth from the ſword of Jehu, ſhall Eliſha ſlay.

18 Yet will * I leave ſeven thouſand in Iſrael, even [m] all the knees that have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth that hath not kiſſed him.

19 ¶ So he departed thence, and found Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and was with the twelfth: and Elijah went towards him, and caſt his mantle upon him.

20 And he left the oxen, and ran after Elijah, and ſaid, [n] Let me, I pray thee, kiſs my father and mother, and then I will follow thee. Who anſwered him, Go, return: for what have I done to thee?

21 And when he went back again from him, he took a couple of oxen, and ſlew them, and ſod their fleſh with the [o] inſtruments of the oxen, and gave unto the people, and they did eat: then he aroſe and went after Elijah, and miniſtered unto him.

CHAP. XX.

1 Samaria is beſieged. 13 The Lord promiſeth the victory to Ahab by a prophet. 31 The king of Iſrael made peace with Ben-hadad, and is reproved therefore by the prophet.

‡ Or, Syria.
‡ Or, Shomeron.

THEN Ben-hadad the king of ‡ Aram aſſembled all his army, and two and thirty [p] kings with him, with horſes, and chariots, and went up and beſieged ‡ Samaria, and fought againſt it.

2 And he ſent meſſengers to Ahab king of Iſrael, into the city,

3 And ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Ben-hadad, Thy ſilver and thy gold is mine: alſo thy women, and thy fair children are mine.

4 And the king of Iſrael anſwered, and ſaid, My lord king, according to thy ſaying, [q] I am thine, and all that I have.

Bef. Chr. 901.

5 And when the meſſengers came again, they ſaid, Thus commandeth Ben-hadad, and ſaith, When I ſhall ſend unto thee, and command, thou ſhalt deliver me thy ſilver and thy gold, and thy women, and thy children,

6 [r] Or elſe I will ſend my ſervants unto thee by to morrow this time: and they ſhall ſearch thine houſe and the houſes of thy ſervants: and whatſoever is pleaſant in thine eyes, they ſhall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the king of Iſrael ſent for all the elders of the land, and ſaid, Take heed, I pray you, and ſee how he ſeeketh miſchief: for he ſent unto me for my wives, and for my children, and for my ſilver, and for my gold, and I denied him not.

8 And all the elders, and all the people ſaid to him, Hearken [s] not unto him, nor conſent.

9 Wherefore he ſaid unto the meſſengers of Ben-hadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou didſt ſend for to thy ſervant at the firſt time, that I will do, but this thing I may not do. And the meſſengers departed and brought him an anſwer.

10 And Ben-hadad ſent unto him, and ſaid, The gods do ſo to me and more alſo, if the [t] duſt of Samaria be enough to all the people that follow me, for every man an handful.

11 And the king of Iſrael anſwered, and ſaid, Tell him, Let not him that girdeth his harneſs, boaſt himſelf, as he that [u] putteth it off.

12 And when he heard that tidings, as he was with the kings drinking in the pavilions, he ſaid unto his ſervants, ‡ Bring forth your engines. And they ſet them againſt the city.

‡ Or, put yourſelves in order.

13 ¶ And behold, there came a prophet unto Ahab king of Iſrael, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Haſt thou ſeen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day, that thou mayeſt know, [w] that I am the Lord.

14 And Ahab ſaid, By whom? And he ſaid, Thus ſaith the Lord, By the ſervants of the princes of the provinces. He ſaid again, Who ſhall order the battle? And he anſwered, Thou.

15 ¶ Then he numbered the ſervants of the princes of the provinces, and they were two hundred, two and thirty: and after them he numbered the whole people of all the children of Iſrael, even ſeven thouſand.

16 And they went out at noon: but Ben-hadad did drink till he was drunken, in the tents, both he and the kings: for two and thirty kings helped him.

17 So the [x] ſervants of the princes of the provinces went out firſt: and Ben-hadad ſent out, and they ſhewed him, ſaying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he ſaid, Whether they be come out for peace, take them alive: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet alive.

21 And the king of Iſrael went out, and ſmote the horſes and chariots, and with a great ſlaughter ſlew he the Aramites.

22 (For there had come a prophet to the king of Iſrael, and had ſaid unto him, Go, be of good courage, and conſider, and take heed what thou doeſt: for when the year is gone about, the king of Aram will come up againſt thee.)

23 ¶ Then the ſervants of the king of Aram ſaid unto him, Their [a] gods are gods of the mountains, and therefore they overcame us: but let us fight againſt them in the plain, and doubtleſs we ſhall overcome them.

24 And this do, Take the kings away, every one out of his place, and place captains for them.

25 And number thyſelf an army, like the army that thou haſt loſt, with ſuch horſes and ſuch chariots, and we will fight againſt them in the plain, and doubtleſs we ſhall overcome them: and he hearkened unto their voice, and did ſo.

26 And after the year was gone about, Ben-hadad numbered the Aramites, and went up to Aphek to fight againſt Iſrael.

27 And the children of Iſrael were numbered, and were all [b] aſſembled and went againſt them, and the children of Iſrael pitched before them, like two little flocks of kids: but the Aramites filled the country.

28 And there came a man of God, and ſpake unto the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Becauſe the Aramites have ſaid, The Lord is the God of the mountains, and not God of the vallies, therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye ſhall know that I [c] am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one over-againſt the other ſeven days, and in the ſeventh day the battle was joined: and the children of Iſrael ſlew of the Aramites an hundred thouſand footmen in one day.

30 But the reſt fled to Aphek into the city: and there fell a wall upon ſeven and twenty thouſand men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled into the city, and came † into a ſecret chamber.

32 Then they girded ſackloth about their loins, and put ropes about their heads, and came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, Thy ſervant Ben-hadad ſaith, I pray thee let me live: and he ſaid, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.

‡ Or, and caught it of him.

33 Now the men took diligent heed, ‡ if they could catch any thing of him, and made haſte, and ſaid, Thy brother [e] Ben-hadad. And he ſaid, Go, bring him. So Ben-hadad came out unto him, and he cauſed him to come up into the chariot.

34 And Ben-hadad ſaid unto him, The cities which my father took from thy father, I will reſtore, and thou ſhalt make ſtreets for thee in [f] Damaſcus, as my father did in Samaria. Then ſaid Ahab, I will let thee go with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and let him go.

AFTER ‡ theſe things Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard in Jezreel, hard by the place of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 And Ahab ſpake unto Naboth, ſaying, [k] Give me thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbs thereof, becauſe it is near by mine houſe: and I will give thee for it a better vineyard than it is: or if it pleaſe thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth ſaid to Ahab, The Lord keep me from giving the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.

4 Then Ahab came into his houſe heavy and in diſpleaſure, becauſe of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had ſpoken unto him. For he had ſaid, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he [l] lay upon his bed, and turned his face, and would eat no bread.

5 Then Jezebel his wife came to him, and ſaid unto him, Why is thy ſpirit ſo ſad that thou eateſt no bread?

6 And he ſaid unto her, Becauſe I ſpake unto Naboth the Jezreelite, and ſaid unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money, or if it pleaſe thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: but he anſwered, I will not give thee my vineyard.

7 Then Jezebel his wife ſaid unto him, [m] Doſt thou now govern the kingdom of Iſrael? Up, eat bread, and † be of good cheer, I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

† Heb. let thine heart be merry.

8 ¶ So ſhe wrote letters in Ahab's name, and ſealed them with his ſeal, and ſent the letters unto the elders, and to the nobles that were in his city dwelling with Naboth.

9 And ſhe wrote in the letters, ſaying, Proclaim a [n] faſt, and ſet Naboth among the chief of the people.

10 And ſet two wicked men before him, and let them witneſs againſt him, ſaying, Thou didſt blaſpheme God and the king: then carry him out, and ſtone him that he may die.

11 And the [o] men of his city, even the elders and governors which dwelt in his city, did as Jezebel had ſent unto them: as it was written in the letters which ſhe had ſent unto them.

12 They proclaimed a faſt, and ſet Naboth among the chief of the people.

13 And there came two wicked men, and ſat before him: and the wicked men witneſſed againſt Naboth in the preſence of the people, ſaying, Naboth did † blaſpheme God and the king. Then they carried him away out of the city, and ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died.

14 Then they ſent to Jezebel, ſaying, Naboth is ſtoned and is dead.

15 ¶ And when Jezebel heard that Naboth was ſtoned and was dead, Jezebel ſaid to Ahab, [p] Up, and take poſſeſſion of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refuſed to give thee for money: for Naboth is not alive, but is dead.

Bef. Chr. 899.

16 And when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, he roſe to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take poſſeſſion of it.

17 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying,

20 And Ahab ſaid to Elijah, Haſt thou found me, O mine enemy? And he anſwered, I have found thee: for thou haſt ſold thyſelf to work wickedneſs in the ſight of the Lord.

The Second Book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

This ſecond book containeth the acts of the kings of Judah and Iſrael: to wit, of Iſrael from the death of Ahab unto the laſt king Hoſea, who was impriſoned by the king of Aſſyria, and his city Samaria taken, and the ten tribes by the juſt plague of God for their idolatry and diſobedience to God led into captivity. And alſo of Judah, from the reign of Jehoram ſon of Jehoſhaphat unto Zedekiah, who for contemning the Lord's commandment by his prophets, and neglecting his ſundry admonitions by famine and other means, was taken by his enemies, ſaw his ſons moſt cruelly ſlain before his face, and his own eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his prophet Jeremy: and alſo by the juſt vengeance of God for contempt of his word, Jeruſalem was deſtroyed, the temple burnt, and he and all his people were led away captives into Babylon. In this book are notable examples of God's favour towards thoſe rulers and people which obey his prophets, and embrace his word: and contrariwiſe, of his plagues towards thoſe commonweals which neglect his miniſters, and do not obey his commandments.

4 Again Elijah ſaid unto him, Eliſha, tarry here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath ſent me to Jericho. But he ſaid, As the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho.

5 And the children of the prophets that were at [s] Jericho came to Eliſha, and ſaid unto him, Knoweſt thou that the Lord will take thy maſter from thine head this day? And he ſaid, Yea, I know it: hold ye your peace. Bef. Chr. 896.

6 Moreover Elijah ſaid unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hath ſent me to Jordan. But he ſaid, As the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went both together.

7 And fifty men of the ſons of the prophets went and ſtood on the other ſide afar off, and they two ſtood by Jordan.

8 ¶ Then Elijah took his cloak, and wrapt it together, and ſmote the [t] waters, and they were divided hither and thither, and they twain went over on the dry land.

9 Now when they were paſſed over, Elijah ſaid unto Eliſha, Aſk what I ſhall do for thee, before I be taken from thee. And Eliſha ſaid, I pray thee, let thy ſpirit [u] be double upon me.

10 And he ſaid, Thou haſt aſked an hard thing: yet if thou ſee me when I am taken from thee, thou ſhalt have it ſo: and if not, it ſhall not be.

11 And as they went walking and talking, behold, there appeared a chariot of fire, and horſes of fire, and did ſeparate them twain. So Elijah went up by a whirlwind into [w] heaven.

12 And Eliſha ſaw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariot of Iſrael, and the horſemen thereof: and he ſaw him no more: and he took his own cloaths, and rent them in two pieces.

13 ¶ He took up alſo the cloak of Elijah that fell from him, and returned, and ſtood by the bank of Jordan.

14 After, he took the cloak of Elijah, that fell from him, and ſmote the waters, and ſaid, Where is the Lord God of Elijah? and ſo he alſo, after he had ſtricken the waters, ſo that they were divided this way and that way, went over, even Eliſha.

15 And when the children of the prophets, which were at Jericho, ſaw him on the other ſide, they ſaid, [x] The ſpirit of Elijah doth reſt on Eliſha: and they came to meet him, and fell to the ground before him,

16 And ſaid unto him, Behold now, there be with thy ſervants fifty ſtrong men: let them go, we pray thee, and ſeek thy [y] maſter, if ſo be the Spirit of the Lord hath taken him up, and caſt him upon ſome mountain, or into ſome valley. But he ſaid, [z] Ye ſhall not ſend.

[n] Jehoſhaphat going to battle againſt the Syrians, made his ſon Jehoram king in the ſeventeenth year of his reign, and in the eighteenth year, which was the two years of his ſon, Jehoram the ſon of Ahab reigned in Iſrael: and in the fifth year of this Jehoram, Jehoſhaphat died, and the kingdom of Judah was confirmed to his ſon.

18 Therefore they returned to him, (for he tarried at Jericho) and he ſaid unto them, Did not I ſay unto you, Go not?

19 ¶ And the men of the city ſaid unto Eliſha, Behold, we pray thee: the ſituation of this city is pleaſant, as thou, my lord, ſeeſt, but the water is naught, and the grounp ‡ barren.

‡ Or, killeth the inhabitants.

20 Then he ſaid, Bring me a new cruſe, and put ſalt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went unto the ſpring of the waters, and caſt there [a] the ſalt, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the Lord, I have healed this water: death ſhall no more come thereof, neither barrenneſs to the ground.

22 So the waters were healed until this day, according to the word of Eliſha which he had ſpoken.

23 ¶ And he went up from thence unto Bethel. And as he was going up the way, little children came out of the city, and mocked him, and ſaid unto him, Come up, thou bald head, come up, thou bald head.

24 And he turned back, and looked on them, and [b] curſed them in the name of the Lord. And two bears came out of the foreſt, and tore in pieces two and forty children of them.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

1 The reign of Jehoram. 6 He and Jehoſhaphat go to war againſt Moab, which rebelled. 13 Eliſha reproveth him, 17 and giveth their hoſt water. 25 The Moabites are overcome. 27 Their king ſacrificeth his ſon.

NOW Jehoram the ſon of Ahab began to reign over Iſrael in Samaria, the [c] eighteenth year of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, and reigned twelve years.

2 And he wrought evil in the ſight of the Lord, but not like his father, nor like his mother: for he took away the image of Baal that his father had made.

3 Nevertheleſs, he cleaved unto [d] the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſin, and departed not therefrom.

4 ¶ Then [e] Meſha king of Moab had ſtore of ſheep, and rendered unto the king of Iſrael an hundred thouſand lambs, and an hundred thouſand rams with the wool.

5 But when Ahab was dead, the king of Moab rebelled againſt the king of Iſrael.

6 Therefore king Jehoram went out of Samaria the ſame ſeaſon, and numbered all Iſrael,

7 And went, and ſent to Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, ſaying, The king of Moab hath rebelled againſt me: wilt thou go with me to battle againſt Moab? And he anſwered, I will go up: for [f] I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and mine horſes as thine horſes.

Bef. Chr. 895.

8 Then ſaid he, What way ſhall we go up? And he anſwered, The way of the wilderneſs of Edom.

9 ¶ So went the king of Iſrael, and the king of Judah, and the [g] king of Edom, and when they had compaſſed the way ſeven days, they had no water for the hoſt, nor for the cattle that † followed them.

† Heb. that were at their feet.

10 Therefore the king of Iſrael ſaid, Alas, that the Lord hath called theſe three kings, to give them into the hand of Moab.

11 But Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lord by him? And one of the king of Iſrael's ſervants anſwered, and ſaid, Here is Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat, which [h] poured water on the the hands of Elijah.

12 Then Jehoſhaphat ſaid, [i] The word of the Lord is with him. Therefore the king of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat, and the king of Edom went down to him.

13 And Eliſha ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, [k] What have I to do with thee? get thee to the prophets of thy father, and to the prophets of thy mother. And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto him, [l] Nay: for the Lord hath called theſe three kings, to give them into the hand of Moab.

14 Then Eliſha ſaid, As the Lord of hoſts liveth, in whoſe ſight I ſtand, if it were not that I regard the preſence of Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah, I would [m] not have looked toward thee, nor ſeen thee.

15 But now bring me a minſtrel. And when the minſtrel [n] played, the hand of the Lord came upon him.

16 And he ſaid, Thus ſaith the Lord, Make this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus ſaith the Lord, Ye ſhall neither ſee wind nor rain, yet the valley ſhall be filled with water, that ye may drink, both ye and your cattle, and your beaſts.

18 But this is a [o] ſmall thing in the ſight of the Lord: for he will give Moab into your hand.

19 And ye ſhall ſmite every ſtrong town, and every chief city, and ſhall fell every fair tree, and ſhall ſtop all the fountains of water, and [p] mar every good field with ſtones.

20 And in the morning when the meat-offering was offered, behold, there came water by the way of Edom: and the country was filled with water.

24 And when they came to the hoſt of Iſrael, the Iſraelites aroſe up, and ſmote the Moabites, ſo that they fled before them, but they [r] invaded them, and ſmote Moab.

25 And they deſtroyed the cities: and on all the good fields every man caſt his ſtone, and filled them, and they ſtopped all the fountains of water, and felled all the good trees: only in [s] Kir-haraſeth left they the ſtones thereof: howbeit they went about it with ſlings, and ſmote it.

26 And when the king of Moab ſaw that the battle was too ſore for him, he took with him ſeven hundred men that drew the ſword, to break through unto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his eldeſt ſon, that ſhould have reigned in his ſtead, and [t] offered him for a burnt-offering upon the wall: ſo that Iſrael was ſore grieved, and they departed from him, and returned to their country.

2 Then Eliſha ſaid unto her, What ſhall I do for thee? tell me, what haſt thou at home? And ſhe ſaid, Thine handmaid hath nothing at home, ſave a [y] pitcher of oil.

3 And he ſaid, Go, and borrow thee veſſels abroad of all thy neighbours, empty veſſels, and ſpare not.

4 And when thou art come in, thou ſhalt ſhut the door upon thee and upon thy ſons, and pour out into [z] all thoſe veſſels, and ſet aſide thoſe that are full.

8 ¶ And on a time Eliſha came to Shunem, and there a woman of great eſtimation conſtrained him to eat bread: and as he paſſed by, he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And ſhe ſaid unto her huſband, Behold, I know now, that this is an holy man of God that paſſeth by us continually.

10 Let us make [c] him a little chamber, I pray thee, with walls, and let us ſet him there a bed, and a table, and a ſtool, and a candleſtick, that he may turn in thither when he cometh to us.

11 ¶ And on a day, he came thither and turned into the chamber, and lay therein,

12 And ſaid to Gehazi his ſervant, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, ſhe ſtood before him.

13 Then he ſaid unto him, Say unto her now, Behold, thou haſt had all this great care for us, [d] what ſhall we do for thee? Is there any thing to be ſpoken for thee to the king, or to the captain of the hoſt? And ſhe anſwered, I [e] dwell among mine own people.

14 Again he ſaid, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi anſwered, Indeed ſhe hath [f] no ſon, and her huſband is old.

15 Then ſaid he, Call her. And he called her, and ſhe ſtood in the door.

16 And he ſaid, * At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou ſhalt embrace a ſon. And ſhe ſaid, Oh my lord, thou man of God, do not lye unto thine handmaid.

24 Then ſhe ſaddled an aſs, and ſaid to her ſervant, Drive, and go forward: ſtay not for me to get up, except I bid thee.

28 Then ſhe ſaid, Did I deſire a ſon of my lord? did I not ſay, Deceive me not?

29 Then he ſaid to Gehazi, Gird thy loins, and take my ſtaff in thine hand, and go thy way: [k] if thou meet any, ſalute him not: and if any ſalute thee, anſwer him not: and lay my ſtaff upon the face of the child.

30 And the mother of the child ſaid, As the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. Therefore he aroſe, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before them, and had laid the ſtaff upon the face of the child, but he neither ſpake nor heard: wherefore he returned to meet him, and told him, ſaying, The child is not waken.

32 ¶ Then came Eliſha into the houſe, and behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and ſhut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the Lord.

34 After he went up, and [l] lay upon the child, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands, and ſtretched himſelf upon him, and the fleſh of the child waxed warm.

35 And he went from him, and walked up and down in the houſe, and went up, and ſpread himſelf upon him: then the child ſneeſed [m] ſeven times, and opened his eyes.

36 Then he called Gehazi, and ſaid, Call this Shunammite. So he called her, which came in unto him. And he ſaid unto her, Take thy ſon.

37 And ſhe came, and fell at his feet, and bowed herſelf to the ground, and took up her ſon, and went out.

38 Afterward Eliſha returned to Gilgal, and a famine was in the [n] land, and the children of the prophets dwelt with him. And he ſaid unto his ſervant, Set on the great pot, and ſeethe pottage for the children of the prophets.

39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found as it were a wild vine, and gathered thereof [o] wild gourds his garment full, and came, and ſhred them into the pot of pottage: for they knew it not.

40 So they poured out for the men to eat: and when they did eat of the pottage, they cried out, and ſaid, O thou man of God, [p] death is in the pot: and they could not eat thereof.

41 Then he ſaid, Bring meal. And he caſt it into the pot, and ſaid, Pour out for the people, that they may eat: and there was no evil in the pot.

42 ¶ Then came a man from Baal-ſhaliſha, and brought the man of God bread of the firſt fruits, even twenty loaves of barley, and full ears of corn in the huſk. And he ſaid, Give unto the people, that they may eat.

43 And his ſervant anſwered, How ſhould I ſet this before an hundred men? He ſaid again, Give it unto the people, that they may eat: for thus ſaith the Lord, They ſhall eat, and there [q] ſhall remain.

44 So he ſet it before them, and they did eat, and left over, according to the word of the Lord.

[w] The prophet rebuketh the king, becauſe he did not conſider that God was true in his promiſe, and therefore would not leave his church deſtitute of a prophet, whoſe prayers he would hear, and to whom other ſhould have recourſe for comfort.

[x] Man's reaſon murmureth, when it conſidereth only the ſigns and outward things, and hath not regard to the word of God, which is there contained.

[y] This declareth that ſervants ought to reverence and love their maſters, as children their fathers, and likewiſe maſters toward their ſervants muſt be affectioned as toward their children.

[z] So the Lord commandeth that they that receive freely ſhould give alſo freely.

[a] He feeleth his conſcience wounded in being preſent at idols ſervice, and therefore deſireth God to forgive him, leſt others by his example might fall to idolatry: for as for his own part he confeſſeth that he will never ſerve any but the true God.

[b] The prophet did not approve his act, but after the common manner of ſpeech he biddeth him farewel.

[c] Declaring thereby what honour and affection he bare to the prophet his maſter.

[d] Naaman's ſervants.

[e] Was not I preſent with thee in ſpirit?

[f] That is, money to buy poſſeſſions with: meaning, that it is deteſtable in the ſervants of God to have covetous minds.

[g] To be an example to all ſuch as by whoſe covetouſneſs God's word might be ſlandered.

2 Let us now go to Jordan, that we may take thence every man a [h] beam, and make us a place to dwell in. And he anſwered, Go.

3 And one ſaid, Vouchſafe, I pray thee, to go with thy ſervants. And he anſwered, I will go.

4 So he went with them, and when they came to Jordan, they cut down wood.

‡ Or, the ax head.

5 And as one was felling of a tree, the ‡ iron fell into the water: then he cried, and ſaid, Alas, maſter, it was but borrowed.

6 And the man of God ſaid, Where fell it? And he ſhewed him the place. Then he cut down a piece of wood, and caſt in thither, and he cauſed the iron to [i] ſwim.

7 Then he ſaid, Take it up to thee. And he ſtretched out his hand, and took it.

8 ¶ Then the king of Aram warred againſt Iſrael, and took counſel with his ſervants, and ſaid, In [k] ſuch and ſuch a place ſhall be my camp.

9 Therefore the man of God ſent unto the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Beware thou go not over to ſuch a place: for there the Aramites are come down.

10 So the king of Iſrael ſent to the place which the man of God told him, and warned him of, and [l] ſaved himſelf from thence, not once nor twice.

11 And the heart of the king of Aram was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his ſervants, and ſaid unto them, Will ye not ſhew me, which of us betrayeth our counſel to the king of Iſrael?

12 Then one of his ſervants ſaid, None, my lord, O king: but Eliſha the prohpet, that is in Iſrael, telleth the king of Iſrael even the words that thou ſpeakeſt in thy [m] privy-chamber.

13 And he ſaid, Go, and eſpy where he is, that I may ſend and fetch him. And one told him, ſaying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 ¶ So he ſent thither horſes, and chariots, and a [n] mighty hoſt: and they came by night, and compaſſed the city.

15 And when the ſervants of the man of God aroſe early to go out, behold, an hoſt compaſſed the city with horſes and chariots. Then his ſervant ſaid unto him, Alas, maſter, how ſhall we do?

* 2 Chron. 32. 7.

16 And he anſwered, [o] Fear not: * for they that be with us are more than they that be with them.

17 Then Eliſha prayed, and ſaid, Lord, I beſeech thee, open his eyes, [p] that he may ſee. And the Lord opened the eyes of the ſervant, and he looked, and behold, the mountain was full of horſes, and chariots of fire round about Eliſha.

18 So [q] they came down to him, but Eliſha prayed unto the Lord, and ſaid, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindneſs. And he ſmote them with blindneſs, according to the word of Eliſha.

19 And Eliſha ſaid unto them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: follow me, and I will lead you to the man whom ye ſeek. But he [r] led them to Samaria.

20 And when they were come to Samaria, Eliſha ſaid, Lord, open their eyes that they may ſee. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they ſaw, and behold, they were in the midſt of Samaria.

21 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Eliſha when he ſaw them, [s] My father, ſhall I ſmite them, ſhall I ſmite them?

22 And he anſwered, Thou ſhalt not ſmite them: doſt thou not ſmite them that thou haſt taken with thy ſword, and with thy bow? but ſet bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their maſter.

23 And he made great preparation for them: and when they had eaten and drunken, he ſent them away: and they went to their maſter. So the bands of Aram came [t] no more into the land of Iſrael.

24 But afterward Ben-hadad king of Aram gathered all his hoſt, and went up, and beſieged Samaria.

25 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for lo, they beſieged it, until an aſs's head was at fourſcore pieces of ſilver, and the fourth part of a cab of [u] doves dung at five pieces of ſilver.

26 And as the king of Iſrael was going upon the wall, there cried a woman unto him, ſaying, Help, my lord, O king.

27 And he ſaid, Seeing the Lord doth not ſuccour thee, how ſhould I help thee with the [w] barn, or with the wine-preſs?

28 Alſo the king ſaid unto her, What aileth thee? And ſhe anſwered, This woman ſaid unto me, Give thy ſon, that we may eat him to-day, and we will eat my ſon to-morrow.

* Deut. 28. 53, 57.

29 * So we ſod my ſon, and did eat him: and I ſaid to her the day after, Give thy ſon, that we may eat him, but ſhe hath hid her ſon.

30 And when the king had heard the words of the woman, he rent his cloaths, (and as he went upon the wall, the people looked, and behold, he had ſackcloth ‡ within [x] upon his fleſh.)

‡ Or, under his cloaths.

[h] Or, a piece of wood fit to build with.

[i] God wrought this miraculouſly, to confirm the authority of Eliſha, to whom he had given ſuch abundance of his Spirit.

[k] Meaning, that he would lie in ambuſh, and take the Iſraelites at unawares.

[l] The wicked conſpire nothing ſo craftily, but God can reveal it to his ſervants, and cauſe their counſel to be diſcloſed.

[m] There is nothing ſo ſecret that thou canſt go about, but he knoweth it, and diſcovereth it unto his king.

[n] Though it had been nothing in man's judgement to have taken Eliſha, yet the wicked ever doubt and think, they are never able to prepare power enough, though it be but againſt one, or a few.

[o] For he was aſſured of God's help, and that millions of angels camped about the godly to deliver them.

[p] That he may behold how thou haſt prepared an army to reſcue us.

[q] Meaning, the Syrians his enemies, which came down, thinking themſelves ſure of him.

[r] Thus he did being led by the Spirit of God, and not becauſe he ſought his own revengeance, but only to ſet forth the glory of God.

[s] The wicked uſe reverent and grave words towards the ſervants of God, when they think to have any commodity by them, though in their heart they cannot abide them.

[t] For this gentle intreaty and the miracle wrought by the prophet, did more prevail for common quietneſs, than if they had been overcome in battle: for they returned no more at that time to fight againſt Iſrael, or in that king's days.

[u] The Hebrews write, that they burned it in the ſiege for lack of wood.

[w] Meaning any kind of victuals, as corn and wine, &c.

[x] Thus hypocrites, when they feel God's judgments, think to pleaſe him with outward ceremonies, whom in proſperity they will not know.

Bef. Chr. 892.

31 And he ſaid, God do ſo to me, and more alſo, if the head of Eliſha the ſon of Shaphat ſhall ſtand on him this day.

32 (Now Eliſha ſat in his houſe, and the elders ſat with him.) And the king ſent a man before him: but before the meſſenger came to him, he ſaid to the elders, See ye not how this [y] murderer's ſon hath ſent to take away mine head? take heed when the meſſenger cometh, and ſhut the door, and handle him roughly at the door: is not the ſound of his maſter's feet behind him?

33 While he yet talked with them, behold, the meſſenger came down unto him, and ſaid, Behold, this evil cometh of the Lord: [z] ſhould I attend on the Lord any longer?

CHAP. VII.

1 Eliſha propheſieth plenty of victuals, and other things to Samaria. 6 The Syrians run away, and have no man following them. 17 The prince that would not believe the word of Eliſha, is trodden to death.

THEN Eliſha ſaid, Hear ye the word of the Lord, [a] To-morrow this time a meaſure of fine flour ſhall be ſold for a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whoſe hand the king [b] leaned, anſwered the man of God, and ſaid, Though the Lord would make [c] windows in the heaven, could this thing come to paſs? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but thou ſhalt not [d] eat thereof.

3 Now there were four leprous men at the [e] entering in of the gate: and they ſaid one to another, Why ſit we here until we die?

4 If we ſay, We will enter into the city, the famine is in the city, and we ſhall die there: and if we ſit here, we die alſo. Now therefore come, and let us fall into the camp of the Aramites: if they ſave our lives, we ſhall live: and if they kill us, we are but dead.

5 So they roſe up in the twilight to go to the camp of the Aramites: and when they were come to the utmoſt part of the camp of the Aramites, lo, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had cauſed the camp of the Aramites to hear a [f] noiſe of chariots, and a noiſe of horſes, and a noiſe of a great army, ſo that they ſaid one to another, Behold, the king of Iſrael hath hired againſt us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians to come upon us.

7 Wherefore they aroſe, and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horſes, and their aſſes, even the camp as it was, and [g] fled for their lives.

8 And when theſe lepers came to the utmoſt part of the camp, they entered into one tent, and did eat and drink, and carried thence ſilver and gold and raiment, and went and hid it: after, they returned, and entered into another tent, and carried thence alſo, and went and hid it.

9 Then ſaid one to another, We do not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace: if we tarry till day-light, ſome ‡ miſchief will come upon us. Now therefore, come, let us go, and tell the king's houſhold.

‡ Or, we ſhall be puniſhed for our fault.

10 So they came, and called unto the porters of the city, and told them, ſaying, We came to the camp of the Aramites, and lo, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horſes tied, and aſſes tied: and the tents are as they were.

11 And the porters cried, and declared to the king's houſe within.

12 Then the king aroſe in the night, and ſaid unto his ſervants, [h] I will ſhew you now, what the Aramites have done unto us. They know that we are affamiſhed, therefore they are gone out of the camp to hide themſelves in the field, ſaying, When they come out of the city, we ſhall catch them alive, and get into the city.

13 And one of his ſervants anſwered, and ſaid, Let men take now five of the horſes that remain, and are left in the city, (behold, they are even as all the multitude of Iſrael that are left therein: behold, I ſay, they are as the [i] multitude of the Iſraelites that are conſumed) and we will ſend to ſee.

14 So they took ‡ two chariots of horſes, and the king ſent after the hoſt of the Aramites, ſaying, Go and ſee.

‡ Or, two horſes of the chariot, which were accuſtomed to draw in the chariot.

15 And they went after them unto Jordan, and lo, all the way was full of cloaths and veſſels which the Aramites had caſt from them in their haſte: and the meſſengers returned, and told the king.

16 Then the people went out and ſpoiled the camp of the Aramites: ſo a meaſure of fine flour was at a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley at a ſhekel [k] according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king gave the prince (on whoſe hand he leaned) the charge of the gate, and the people [l] trod upon him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had ſaid, which ſpake it, when the king came down to him.

18 And it came to paſs as the man of God had ſpoken to the king, ſaying, Two meaſures of barley at a ſhekel, and a meaſure of fine flour ſhall be at a ſhekel, to-morrow about this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 But the prince had anſwered the man of God, and ſaid, Though the Lord would make windows in heaven, could it come ſo to paſs? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but thou ſhalt not eat thereof.

[f] Thus God needeth no great preparation to deſtroy the wicked, though they be never ſo many: for he can ſcatter them with a ſmall noiſe, or ſhaking of a leaf.

[g] The wicked need no greater enemy than their own conſcience to purſue them.

[h] He miſtruſted the prophet's words, and therefore could believe nothing, as they which are more politic than godly, ever caſt more perils than needeth.

[i] There are no more left but they, or the reſt are conſumed with the famine, as the reſt of the people.

THEN ſpake Eliſha unto the woman, * whoſe ſon he had reſtored to life, ſaying, Up, and go, thou, and thine houſe, and ſojourn where thou [m] canſt ſojourn: for the Lord hath called for a famine, and it cometh alſo upon the land ſeven years. * Ch. 4. 35.

2 And the woman aroſe, and did after the ſaying of the man of God, and went both ſhe and her houſhold, and ſojourned in the land of the Philiſtines ſeven years.

3 ¶ And at the ſeven years end, the woman returned out of the land of the Philiſtines, and went out [n] to call upon the king for her houſe and for her land.

4 And the king talked with Gehazi the ſervant of the man of God, ſaying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great acts that Eliſha hath done.

5 And as he told the [o] king, how he had reſtored one dead to life, behold, the woman, whoſe ſon he had raiſed to life, called upon the king for her houſe, and for her land. Then Gehazi ſaid, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her ſon, whom Eliſha reſtored to life.

6 And when the king aſked the woman, ſhe told him: ſo the king appointed her an eunuch, ſaying, Reſtore thou all that are hers, and all the [p] fruits of her lands ſince the day that ſhe left the land, even until this time.

7 ¶ Then Eliſha came to Damaſcus, and Ben-hadad the king of Aram was ſick: and one told him, ſaying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king ſaid unto Hazael, Take a preſent in thine hand, and go meet the man of God, that thou mayeſt enquire of the Lord by him, ſaying, Shall I recover of this diſeaſe?

9 ¶ So Hazael went to meet him, and took the preſent in his hand, and of every [q] good thing of Damaſcus, even the burden of forty camels, and came and ſtood before him, and ſaid, Thy ſon Ben-hadad king of Aram hath ſent me to thee, ſaying, Shall I recover of this diſeaſe?

10 And Eliſha ſaid to him, Go, and ſay unto him, Thou ſhalt [r] recover: howbeit the Lord hath ſhewed me, that he ſhall ſurely die.

11 And he looked upon him ſtedfaſtly, till Hazael was aſhamed, and the man of God wept. Bef. Chr. 885.

12 And Hazael ſaid, Why weepeth my lord? And he anſwered, Becauſe I know the evil that thou ſhalt do unto the children of Iſrael: for their ſtrong cities ſhalt thou ſet on fire, and their young men ſhalt thou ſlay with the ſword, and ſhalt daſh their infants againſt the ſtones, and rend in pieces their women with child.

13 Then Hazael ſaid, What? is thy ſervant [s] a dog, that I ſhould do this great thing? And Eliſha anſwered, The Lord hath ſhewed me, that thou ſhalt be king of Aram.

14 ¶ So he departed from Eliſha, and came to his maſter, who ſaid to him, What ſaid Eliſha to thee? And he anſwered, He told me that thou ſhouldſt recover.

15 And on the morrow he took a thick cloth and dipt it in water, and [t] ſpread it on his face, and he died: and Hazael reigned in his ſtead.

16 ¶ * Now in the fifth year of Jehoram the ſon of Ahab king of Iſrael, and of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, [u] Jehoram the ſon of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah began [w] to reign. * 2 Chron. 21. 4.

17 He was two and thirty years old when he began to reign: and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

18 And he walked in the ways of the kings of Iſrael, as did the houſe of Ahab: for [x] the daughter of Ahab was his wife, and he did evil in the ſight of the Lord.

19 Yet the Lord would not deſtroy Judah, for David his ſervant's ſake, * as he had promiſed him to give him a light, and to his children for ever. * 2 Sam. 7. 13.

20 ¶ In thoſe days Edom [y] rebelled from under the hand of Judah, and made a king over themſelves.

21 Therefore Jehoram went to Zair, and all his chariots with him, and he aroſe by night, and ſmote the Edomites which were about him, with the captains of the chariots, and the people fled into their tents.

22 So Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah unto this day: then [z] Libnah rebelled at that ſame time.

23 Concerning the reſt of the acts of Jehoram, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

12 And they ſaid, It is falſe, tell us it now. Then he ſaid, Thus and thus ſpake he to me, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, I have anointed thee for king over Iſrael.

13 Then they made haſte, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the ſtairs, and blew the trumpet, ſaying, Jehu is king.

14 So Jehu the ſon of Jehoſhaphat the ſon of Nimſhi conſpired againſt Jehoram: (Now Jehoram kept Ramoth-Gilead, he and all Iſrael, becauſe of Hazael king of Aram.

15 * And king Jheoram returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds which the Aramites had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Aram) and Jehu ſaid, If it be your minds, let no man depart and eſcape out of the city, to go and tell it in Jezreel.

16 So Jehu got up into a chariot, and went to Jezreel: for Jehoram lay there, and [h] Ahaziah king of Judah was come down to ſee Jehoram.

[f] That is, the reſt of the army, whom he called before his brethren, ver. 2.

[g] In this eſtimation the world hath the miniſters of God: notwithſtanding foraſmuch as the world hath ever ſlandered the children of God (yea they called the ſon of God a deceiver, and ſaid he had the devil:) therefore they ought not to be diſcouraged.

[h] God had thus ordained, as is read, 2 Chron. 22. 7. that this wicked and idolatrous king, who was more ready to gratify wicked Jehoram, than to obey the will of God, ſhould periſh with him, by whoſe means he thought to have been ſtronger.

[i] As one that went earneſtly about his enterpriſe.

[k] Meaning, that foraſmuch as God is their enemy becauſe of their ſins, that he will ever ſtir up ſome to revenge his cauſe.

Bef. Chr. 884.

ſmote Jehoram between the ſhoulders, that the arrow went through his heart: and he fell down in his chariot.

25 Then ſaid Jehu to Bidkar a captain, Take and caſt him in ſome place of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Lord ‡ laid this burden upon him:

‡ Or, ſpake this propheſy againſt him.

26 * Surely I have ſeen yeſterday the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his [l] ſons, ſaid the Lord, and I will render it thee in this field, ſaith the Lord: now therefore take and caſt him in the field, according to the word of the Lord.

* 1 Kings 21. 29.

27 But when Ahaziah the king of Judah ſaw this, he fled by the way of the garden houſe: And Jehu purſued after him, and ſaid, Smite him alſo in the chariot: and they ſmote him in the going up to Gur, which is by Ibleam. And he fled to [m] Megiddo, and there died.

28 And his ſervants carried him in a chariot to Jeruſalem, and buried him in his ſepulchre with his fathers in the city of David.

29 ¶ And in the [n] eleventh year of Jehoram the ſon of Ahab, began Ahaziah to reign over Judah.

30 And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it, and painted her face, and tired her head, and looked [o] out at a window.

31 And as Jehu entered at the gate, ſhe ſaid, Had [p] Zimri peace which ſlew his maſter?

32 And he lift up his eyes to the window, and ſaid, Who is on my ſide, who? Then two or three of her ‡ eunuchs looked unto him.

‡ Or, chief ſervants.

33 And he ſaid, Caſt her down: and they caſt her down,[q] and he ſprinkled of her blood upon the wall, and upon the horſes, and he trod her under foot.

34 And when he was come in, he did eat and drink, and ſaid, Viſit now yonder curſed woman, and bury her: for ſhe is a [r] king's daughter.

35 And they went to bury her, but they found no more of her than the ſkull and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came again and told him. And he ſaid, This is the word of the Lord which he ſpake † by his ſervant Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying, * In the field of Jezreel ſhall the dogs eat the fleſh of Jezebel.

† Heb. by the hand of.
* 1 Kings 21. 23.

37 And the carcaſe of Jezebel ſhall be as dung upon the ground in the field of Jezreel, ſo that none ſhall ſay, [s] This is Jezebel.

CHAP. X.

6 Jehu cauſeth the ſeventy ſons of Ahab to be ſlain. 14 And after that, forty and two of Ahaziah's brethren. 25 He killeth alſo all the prieſts of Baal. 35 After his death, his ſon reigneth in his ſtead.

AHAB had now ſeventy [t] ſons in Samaria. And Jehu wrote letters, and ſent to Samaria unto the rulers of Jezreel, and to the elders, and to the bringers-up of Ahab's children, to this effect,

2 Now when this letter cometh to you; (for ye have with you your maſter's ſons, ye have with you both chariots and horſes, and a defenced city, and armour)

3 Conſider therefore which of your maſter's ſons is beſt and moſt meet, and [u] ſet him on his father's throne, and fight for your maſter's houſe.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and ſaid, Behold, two kings could not ſtand before him, how ſhall we then ſtand?

5 And he that was governor of Ahab's houſe, and he that ruled the city, and the elders, and the bringers-up of the children, ſent to Jehu, ſaying, We are thy ſervants, and will do all that thou ſhalt bid us: we will make no king: do what ſeemeth good to thee.

6 ¶ Then he wrote another letter to them, ſaying, If ye be mine, and will obey my voice, [w] take the heads of the men that are your maſter's ſons, and come to me to Jezreel by to-morrow this time. (Now the king's ſons, even ſeventy perſons, were with the great men of the city, which brought them up)

7 And when the letter came to them, they took the king's ſons, and ſlew the ſeventy perſons, and laid their heads in baſkets, and ſent them unto him to Jezreel.

8 ¶ Then there came a meſſenger and told him, ſaying, They have brought the heads of the king's ſons. And he ſaid, Let them lay them on two heaps at the entering in of the gate until the morning.

9 And when it was day, he went out, and ſtood and ſaid to all the people, Ye be [x] righteous: behold, I conſpired againſt my maſter, and ſlew him: but who ſlew all theſe?

10 Know now that there ſhall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the Lord, which the Lord ſpake concerning the houſe of Ahab: for the Lord hath brought to paſs the things that he ſpake † by his ſervant * Elijah.

† Heb. by the hand of.
* 1 Kings 21. 29.

11 So Jehu ſlew all that remained of the houſe of Ahab in Jezreel, and all that were great with him, and his familiars, and his [y] prieſts, ſo that he let none of his remain.

12 ¶ And he aroſe, and departed and came to Samaria. And as Jehu was in the way by an houſe where the ſhepherds did ſhear,

13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziah king of Judah, and ſaid, Who are ye? And they anſwered, We are the brethren of Ahaziah, and go down to ſalute the children of the king, and the children of the queen.

14 And he ſaid, Take them alive. And they took them alive, and ſlew them at the well beſide the houſe where the ſheep are ſhorn, even two and forty men, and he [z] left not one of them.

[l] By this place it is evident, that Jezebel cauſed both Naboth and his ſons to be put to death, that Ahab might enjoy his vineyard more quietly: for elſe his children might have claimed poſſeſſion.

[m] After that he was wounded in Samaria, he fled to Megiddo, which was a city of Judah.

[n] That is, eleven whole years: for chap. 8. 25. before when he ſaid that he began to reign the twelfth year of Jehoram, he taketh part of the year for the whole.

[o] Being of an haughty and cruel nature, ſhe would ſtill retain her princely ſtate and dignity.

[p] As though ſhe would ſay, Can any traitor, or any that riſeth againſt his ſuperior, have good ſucceſs? read 1 Kings 16. 10.

[q] This he did by the motion of the Spirit of God, that her blood ſhould be ſhed, that had ſhed the blood of innocents, to be a ſpectacle and example of God's judgments to all tyrants.

[r] To wit, of the king of Zidon, 1 Kings 16. 31.

[s] Thus God's judgments appear even in this world, againſt them that ſuppreſs his word, and perſecute his ſervants.

[t] The ſcripture uſeth to call them ſons, which are either children, or nephews.

[u] He wrote this, to prove them, whether they would take his part or no.

[w] God, as a juſt judge, puniſheth the wicked children of wicked parents, unto the third and fourth generation.

[x] Ye cannot juſtly condemn me for the king's death, ſeeing ye have done the like to his poſterity: for the Lord commanded me, and moved you to execute this his judgment.

[y] Meaning, which were the idolatrous prieſts.

[z] Thus God's vengeance is upon them that have any part or familiarity with the wicked.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he met with Jehonadab the ſon of Rechab coming to meet him, and he bleſſed [a] ‡ him, and ſaid to him, Is thine heart upright, as mine heart is toward thine? And Jehonadab anſwered, Yea, doubtleſs. Then give me thine hand. And when he had given him his hand, he took him up to him into the chariot.

‡ Or, praiſed God for him.

16 And he ſaid, Come with me, and ſee the zeal that I have for the Lord: ſo they made him ride in his chariot.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he ſlew all that remained unto Ahab in Samaria, till he had deſtroyed him, according to the word of the Lord which he ſpake to Elijah.

18 Then Jehu aſſembled all the people, and ſaid unto them, Ahab ſerved [b] Baal a little, but Jehu ſhall ſerve him much more.

19 Now therefore call unto me all the prophets of Baal, all his ſervants, and all his prieſts, and let not a man be lacking: for I have a great ſacrifice for Baal: whoſoever is lacking, he ſhall not live. But Jehu did it by a ſubtlety to deſtroy the ſervants of Baal.

20 And Jehu ſaid, † Proclaim a ſolemn aſſembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

† Heb. ſanctiſy.

21 So Jehu ſent unto all Iſrael, and all the ſervants of Baal came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the houſe of Baal, and the houſe of Baal was full from end to end.

22 Then he ſaid unto him that had the charge of the veſtry, Bring forth veſtments for all the ſervants of Baal. And he brought them out veſtments.
